

Chapter 7

Ashley began to sob when she saw the two men coming.

Then she said to them, "Please don't blame Valeria. She's in a bad mood, so it's okay. Dad, please talk to her. She won't go home because she thinks we're gross."

Ashley was wickedly wicked. She framed Valeria again.

Sure enough, Ronald was disappointed at Ashley's words.

"Valeria, I didn't expect you were so narrow-minded. Since you don't want to go home, don't go back for life!"

Mason was angry as well when he saw the fingerprints on Ashley's face.

"How many times do I have to tell you, Valeria? I fell in love with Ashley first. She didn't do anything wrong. You can't do anything about it!"

This was the first time that they had met each other since Valeria found out about Ashley and Mason's affair. Valeria was hurt and resentful at Mason's earnest defense of Ashley. ²

After all, she and Mason had been together for four years, quite a long time.

At that time, Valeria took care of Mason day and night after his leg was badly hurt in a car accident, even though people around all thought he would become a cripple.

She employed the best doctor, made nutritious meals for him and accompanied him in rehabilitation training every day during his recovery.

Now he was fully recovered but remembered nothing about Valeria's efforts. Instead, he betrayed her and hooked up with Ashley.

Mason was an ungrateful b*stard.

Their four-year relationship was in vain and Valeria felt sorry for herself.

She wanted to retort fiercely and indicated that she didn't care about him at all. But she was so angry that she could not say a word, only shivering.

What had happened in the lobby was seen by William, who just walked in. He noticed Valeria's pitiful expression as she fought back tears and felt sorry for her.

Then he looked at the bodyguard behind him expressionlessly and said, "I don't want to see those people appear here again!"

The bodyguard knew what to do and made a phone call immediately. After a while, the manager came in a hurry with several security guards.

He went straight to Mason and Ronald and told them, "You're making noises in the lobby, which has seriously affected our guests. So you're not welcome here. Please leave right now!"

"What? We're here for dinner, and we're all your VIP. How can you treat us like this?"

Mason was furious for it was the first time that he had been asked to leave in such a direct way.

"Wolf Hotel does not welcome the bad-mannered guests. And your VIP status has been canceled. Please leave here right now!" The manager replied resolutely. 1

After that, he pointed at Julie and asked, "How did she get in? How could you let this kind of person enter our hotel?"

Valeria felt a little relieved to see the manager being so mean to them.

She knew that Wolf Hotel was an extraordinary place in B City. Since the guests like Mason and Ronald were driven out, obviously she was not qualified to stay here either.

So she turned around and was about to leave, but soon she was stopped by the manager.

"Miss Brown, dinner in Moonlight Private Room is ready for you. Please come with me!"

Mason and Ronald were stunned for the manager's attitude.

Ashley couldn't stand it anymore and questioned, "She also made noise here just now. Why don't you drive her out?"

"Why is that? Because she's the one our boss asked us to take care of," the manager looked at Ashley with disdain. "Who do you think you are? How dare you question our boss's decision?" 2

The boss? Mason and Ronald looked at each other speechlessly, wondering why the boss of Wolf Hotel targeted against them while they had never offended him before. For a long time, they had only heard about him but never met each other.

And how did Valeria know him?

They could not figure it out, and finally left with Julie and Ashley in disgrace.

When they walked to the gate, they heard the Manager giving orders to the security guards.

"We only receive the decent men and our boss has ordered that they are no longer allowed to come here. Copy that?"

Mason was so incensed when he heard what the manager had said. However, he could do nothing about it.

Because the boss of Wolf Group was the one they could not afford to offend.

Ashley had not expected such a change either. What made such a big shot help Valeria?

The manager said they had prepared dinner in Moonlight Private Room. Although she had never been there, she knew it was the most expensive and luxurious private room in Wolf Hotel.

"Valeria, the little b*tch, was so lucky," Ashley thought.
