

Innocent Wife 131

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 131: We Met Five Years Ago

"Shut up." Alan said to him.

"Sorry, you always have a bad temper, are you afraid that your little girl whom you don't know where she is hiding will misunderstand that you are gay? If so, it's really funny." The man laughed madly.

Alan hung up impatiently.

Olive hugged herself and walked for a long time in the cold snow, her whole body was numb with cold.

The security guard looked at her with strange eyes as she passed the Guard Room, perhaps it was her dress that seemed a little cool on such a snowy night so that she was thought that she just wanted to show beauty and didn't care about the temperature.

She didn't care how passers-by look at her, she only felt heavily uncomfortable in her heart. The cold wind blew into her body through her sweater, she felt biting cold. It was not easy for her to walk to the curbside where people could wait for the buses, she contracted her body and hid in the back of the bus stop sign.

The black car was like the ghost of the night, quietly stopping at her side. Two men with the burly figure came down from the car, approached her suddenly, covered her mouth from behind and dragged her into the car.

Olive was frightened by the sudden scene and struggled wildly, the word "kidnapping" jumped into her mind, but she couldn't make a sound when she wanted to call for help.

bodies, came and went in haste and did not look sideways. The vehicles on the road passed was fiercely crammed into the car, two men detained her she shouted loudly, "Who are you? Why did you voice reached her ears, then the yellow light in the car was turned on.

Only then did Olive realize that there was still a person sitting opposite her, he was over fifty years old, he was dressed in black, hid in dark light, did you kidnap me? Where will you take me?" She could see the scenery outside the window moving, the neon lights shone in the car through the window from time to time. In turning dim and bright, she had a familiar feeling about the

"We met five years ago." The man reminded was that five years ago again, "You are Steele has a good memory."

found her, this loyal housekeeper just stood beside Mrs. Hoyle.

Housekeeper Dcbo want to see me?" Naturally, Olive would not think that something good would happen to her. She had witnessed too many dirty things in the still found you. Why....."He seemed to be in the infinite from it and looked at him defensively, "Housekeeper Dcbo, if you have anything to say, just say it directly. You a hint with eyes, the two men loosened their constraint on her, pushed the door open to get off, got into the front seats and raised the narrow

Chapter 132: Bruce's Revenge

"Miss Steele can have this idea, that is the best." Minh nodded with satisfaction.

They made Olive get off as the car passed downtown, the neon lights illuminated the snow-white world, it was all very cold. She saw the car leave quickly, it had no temperature at all.

That weirdo always said that it was lonely at the top, that the high-class Hoyle home was really a place like an ice cave, suddenly she took a little pity on Alan.

She took a taxi. Fortunately, when she left the Minghu villa, she still had her handbag with her so that she could afford the fare.

"Where is miss going?" The driver asked.

Olive gave a long sigh, "Go to the Waittingbar."

The Waittingbar was in a mess, the tables, chairs, wine glasses were laid out like corpses. Even if she had mental preparation, she still could not help being shocked when she walked in. The people of making trouble had already left, the waiters and band members were cleaning up the scene.

Olive bypassed the obstructions and saw that Xenia was dressing Ivy's wound, Chloe got the bruise on her forehead, others were battered and exhausted, their faces were injured.

Chloe saw her, she said in a little surprise, "Olive, why are you here?"

my phone number, I couldn't hear you, but I heard a noise. I was worried about you, the cell phone and stunned, "It's

"What kind of people the table, "It must be Bruce that bastard's revenge, I'll go to find him.

evidences and don't know

last time you hit him, he must harbor hateful feelings, allow the people who dared to smash Waittingbar feel stunned. When she looked at him again, he looked very fiercely. Olive thought Chloe's words also made sense. After all, Bruce said the threatening words that just that she couldn't make the matter worse in front of this out-of-control woman. Ivy might also know who plotted it in secret, he looked like that he had have a way to deal with it.

man who took the lead in smashing the bar would have a hard time in the future, she didn't think Ivy was such a cowardly criminal syndicate, they are all desperadoes, what do you take to fight assured, the people in the mountain have their own ingenuity." Ivy patted her on

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 133: Annie Looks a Little like Alan

Although Ivy felt that there was something wrong with her look, he still did not ask much. The weather was very cold, he just urged those women to get in the car quickly and turned the heating to the maximum.

Xenia took the co-driver's seat first. Originally, Olive was concerned about the wound on Ivy's hand, when she saw Xenia doing this, whether she was intentional or unintentional, she was a bit embarrassed to say let her drive.

Instead, Chloe dragged Ivy out of the car without thinking, "You're in need of special care now, your arm is injured and it's not convenient for you to drive, sit in the back seat and I'll drive."

Ivy glanced at his injured arm, "It's just a skin injury, not a disability, don't make such a fuss. What's more, after driving you home, I have to drive back by myself."

"Shall I drive? Anyway, I live with Brother Ivy." Xenia also followed to get out of the car, stood beside it and said.

They all jostled to be the driver.

Chloe waved, "I will drive. Xenia, you have just arrived in Luo city and are not familiar with the roads. You can drive later, let Ivy guide you to go back."

"It may not be a bad idea." Ivy agreed and obediently got into the back of the car.

Chloe succeeded in seeing Xenia's look change a little. She just didn't like that others robbed Olive's boyfriend, although Olive was still only staying on simple friendship with Ivy at present, but time was an uncertain thing, maybe someday Olive would come around. In her opinion, Ivy was the most suitable man for Olive.

to ask Olive, but Olive set out early and returned late, she set out late and returned early, they didn't have much time to meet each other, she never found the right opportunity.

Olive, but bacuse they had just experienced the incident of the bar and Xenia was in the car, it was also unsuited to talk about this topic, him and her, it was just that one party had intention but the other had no intention. He had a mind to care for her and her daughter, but her heart would not open for him. Ivy felt gloomy in his heart, but he but he was afraid of offending her, he had been waiting for Chloe's news, followed to get off the car, took off his coat and wanted to her sad and rancorous eyes as if Olive had done some unpardonable things, Olive quickly refused and turned her head to say to a far-fetched

the elevator, she saw Olive hugging herself, she robbed her and said, "Hey, why didn't you take that coat love affairs would have to be destroyed by me, I don't want to be such a villain."

not like her." Chloe fiercely gave her a contemptuous look, with a my best friend like you. Bro, so, please, don't disorderly make a match between I and came up to her at this moment and stared at her fully, "You tell me honestly, is there really anything between you know if it was the cold air or this woman's stimulation, Olive suddenly sneezed loudly, the door of the elevator also opened at this moment, she grinned so stiffly, "Have you been too idle recently? If I say I don't like Ivy, then I out of the elevator, Chloe still did not give up and be careful to wake up my parents." Olive opened the door and gestured 'Sh' round her opinion, her figure pretending to be calm became more suspicious.

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 134: The Sparrow Can't Fly on a Branch and Become the Phoenix

Even if Olive felt disappointed in her heart, she also knew it was the result, but she said in light tone, "Does this have anything to do with me?"

"Olive, although I can not get Mr. Hoyle's favor, you, this sparrow can't fly on a branch and become a phoenix, either." Susie said fiercely, crumpled the envelope with money that Ted had just returned to her into a ball and laughed secretly, even if you were smart, you only had the chance to go on errands for Miss Meyer.

Naturally, Olive had no mind and no interest in talking to this woman. There was such a kind of person in the world who took pleasure in attacking others and wanted to win others everywhere, in fact, that kind of person felt so inferior in their hearts, they only had to use every means to win others to prove their strength and excellence. Olive hung up directly, she never thought about being a phoenix, nor did she want to explain more.

But Susie seemed unwilling to put the matter down and called again, Olive let the cell phone ring. When she got tired of calling, she naturally stopped. But Olive really underestimated this woman's indefatigable perseverance, she made several calls in succession and had the momentum that she would not stop unless Olive answered the call.

Olive had no choice but to power off her cell phone decisively so that had peace for her ears.

But Susie was shrewd, Olive didn't expect that she would call the landline telephone in the office, she thought it was a call about work, when she answered the call, she heard her angry voice, "Why did you hang up on me and power off your cell phone?"

neither my boss nor my colleague, nor my friend now. I don't think I have anything to say to you. If you call to find the psychological balance, I'm sorry, you've got the wrong person. If your call has nothing to

she could ignore or fight back without fear, but to the people of the Hoyle and Meyer family, she had no such courage. Was this what people often say about bullying the weak and fearing the strong? Although Susie was not necessarily a weak and incompetent woman, but compared to the just got a little appreciation from Mr. Geve, what are you arrogant about?" In fact, there was a reason why Susie cared. When she was with the young master of the Geve family, Norton clearly expressed put the microphone on the table, out of the office and left her alone to talk there. Anyway, she didn't need to pay for

Then she arrived at the door of the chairman's office, knocked twice and heard a voice inside, "Come door and saw Mr. Geve's body deeply sinking into the soft chair with the real leather and facing out of the french window. She couldn't see his expression, but she saw a jade pendant in his hand that had just been put into his pocket, the chair around and saw that it was her, his demure face

read and sign." Olive opened the folder and handed it as he picked up the pen, without them all at once?"

asked in reply, "Do I still have to doubt that you have played a trick in them?"

he finished signing, she closed the folder and hugged it in her

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 135: Lend Me a Coat to Wear

The girl was too dishonest. If Alan hadn't come to see him once, he might believe that the man she introduced was her boyfriend. He thought it might not be that simple. The undercurrent of the party that night was invisible to others. But he was not blind.

Olive dryly said with a smile, "Mr. Geve, you play jokes on me again."

"Olive, you are having trouble, right? If it is convenient, you can talk to me and if there's anything I can do to help, let me know." Mr. Geve's eyes were full of kindness. She seemed to be preoccupied by some troubles. He was really afraid she would suffer losses. If he had such a big daughter, as a father, how could he see her being wronged.

It was a pity that his own child had never been heard of so far. He did not know whether she had married or had children, whether her husband was good to her, whether her family would see her as their own child, and did not know whether she was happy or not.

If he found her one day, he did not know whether she would forgive him for his selfish behavior and call him father.

"Thanks for your concern. I'm fine." Olive naturally didn't know what Mr. Geve was thinking. She would like to see the jade pendant. She could not see the shape of the pendant clearly enough. It was just that she also had one, which her mother said she found it from the swaddling clothes when she picked her up. So it might have been a clue to her past.

But she had never thought of looking for her parents. Since the person who gave birth to her abandoned her, they lost the qualification to ask her to admit their relationship. What's more, her present parents brought her up with all kinds of hardships, she could not be sorry for them.

she returned to her office, Susie stopped as expected. The line was busy, and Olive put it on, reopening the phone and there was no

The world finally a call from Dave when he got off the

"Alan, the person who made trouble at was obvious at a glance that he was a narrow-minded and revengeful villain. However, Alan hoped anyone else did it, so that he could find some clues about the details of the man named Ivy.

in the world who could cover the sky with one hand and

Dave asked, "Are you going to intervene in this thing?"

He would like to see what a small bar boss can do to fight might not be able to support half of Luo city, but Bruce was a central person who had a bit of influence in illegal and believed that Dave was smart enough to understand what he was saying and know how to do it. Whatever Bruce did was okay as long as it was he always unable to give empty in her heart. If he had never appeared, she would have spent all these years. But he suddenly appeared again and again, even they were from work, Chloe ran up to her, smiling and shaking her arm, "Olive, lend me a coat she had brought when she married, she just brought herself out. She didn't take any of the

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 136: I Don't Play with You

It wasn't until dinner time at the table that Olive suddenly remembered that waiting bar wasn't open for the last few days. It was smashed like that and it took time to redecorate. She elbowed Chloe, "You have an important date tomorrow, don't you?"

Otherwise, what did she dress up for?

"Several college students are going to hold a party. It's not particularly important, just that a few women were incompatible with me. I am divorced now, and they will definitely laugh at me with abandon." Chloe poked the rice in the bowl.

"Then don't go." Olive curled her lips. What's the point of going to a party like this? This was the way she thought. Try to avoid people and situations that make her uncomfortable.

But Chloe was different. The more people look down on her, the more she has to dress nicely to meet them. "I'm going. Why not? And I'll dress up beautifully. I was just abandoned by a man. I still live very well without man. I don't want to be looked down upon."

Olive opened her mouth but said nothing. Live your life, you don't have to care what other people think. But it was good to be like her. Although it was for pique, it was better than living decadently.

Maybe people live just to fight for honor.

was surprised to know from the newspaper that Bruce's company was in financial crisis and the share price plummeted.

it in the felt something was wrong. She called Ivy: "What happened to smiled slightly and didn't deny felt that this man was not simple, but she did not know exactly his abilities. When he helped Hengdu solve the computer big troubles she was already surprised. This time he even challenged Lynn family and took the upper hand. How much she didn't know about him on earth?

let my friend add fuel to the flames." Ivy said

Ivy did great. It was good to dispel the arrogance of that person. Let him know that if he wants others to respect him, he must respect too much, just

In fact, she still had a word that she didn't say. She hoped that the Lynn family of person who if others treat her a bit better, she will seriously repay, but if she hates someone, she can was disappointed with them, she had kept thought she was unfilial, but Olive knew how much she had to make money before marriage, and treated her as a cash cow after marriage. After the divorce, she did not give them alimony, they scolded her a loser. They even told her to go as far as she could. Now she starts to have income and they find her again. Are these real parents and Olive couldn't sympathize with those people.

Chapter 137: This Gentleman Wants to See You

"My mother said OK, do you have any question?" Annie smiled and clapped her little hands.

Chloe was sad, "Godmother is really not as good as mother, you ungrateful little girl, I'll have a baby of my own, hum."

"You have a little boy, I will play with little brother." Her big eyes twinkled with anticipation.

"Why does it have to be a little brother? Not a little sister?" Chloe tickled her.

Annie thought carefully, "Little sister is ok, but she will grab beautiful clothes with me."

Chloe poked her cheeks, "You smart girl."

At this time, Mother Steele took out a small scarf and put it on Annie, "It's not a good place to bring Annie to."

Chloe was going to nod, but Olive said, "It doesn't matter, we won't play too late."

The snow on the road had melted away, and many places showed its original color, with the smell of cold and wet.

time flies!" Chloe held Annie in the co-driver position and sighed

I was young, I used to think a year was so long, but when I grew up, it seemed like there weren't twenty-four hours in a are getting old with each passing year." Chloe looked a bit lonely.

Olive pushed her side face, "Well, I'm older than you. You're still years hand off. She looked here and up when she touched Annie's angelic face. She bent down

Annie. "Annie had a sweet voice which was very unnatural. She actually wanted to see Olive as a friend. When they were in Sanya, she didn't think Olive and Ivy was a couple. But when she got away from the family marriage and made her way to Luo coty, Olive hit her with a blow that made her feel betrayed.

not be

"My daughter." Olive smiled.

"Your daughter?" Xenia was surprised. It was a at waittingbar and her scream did not attract many onlookers.

eyes were attracted by Chole's beautiful appearance on the stage. She ran a few steps by her short little the favor of the band members, and the young voice soon filled the Olive laughed, this girl was not nervous at all. Holding a microphone standing on the stage Xenia leisurely, "Annie is also the daughter of Ivy." in breaking down the girl's expression, which was mixed with sadness and disappointment.

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 138: Send It Back to You

Dave said to give her something, but there was no movement. She understood and stood up judiciously, "If you got something to talk about, I'll go first. What would this gentleman like to drink?"

"No, thank you!" Dave replied with a light smile and watched her leave before handing the bag to Olive.

Olive took a look inside and was surprised to see the coat she left at the Minghu villa. Alan asked Dave to bring it to her, what exactly did it mean?

She looked up at Dave, just as he was looking at her, his eyes were heavy with meaning.

"Mr. Hoyle is getting married, Olive, don't you have any idea?"

Olive smiled softly, "What do you think I should have, Mr. Harrod?"

or she was unwilling to think about it is very cute." Dave changed the subject. He had been watching, thinking it was a pity that the little angelic girl was not Alan's child. If he could tell the truth, he did not like the princess Ophelia, for no reason at all.

had better be nothing. If Alan had been destined to be one of the unattainable dreams of her life, she would never want own daughter. Why did you lie to me about it? You said she not honorable to have a baby before marriage."

taboo in her expression. Dave suddenly felt that he had never understood the

the child's feel extremely alienated, "All I can tell you is that neither my parents nor my best friend knows the a secret she had Alan. If it was another woman, she must throw herself on Alan. Not to inwardly complained. He asked for a snub, thinking that she even hid it from her parents, it was impossible for him to so much and even asked Dave to send it back. Originally, he bought it for her, she wore it for a while, and he was considered to

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 139: Alan Is Annie's Biological Father

In fact, the worry put for a long time would be moldy, she also needed to take a breath. She was struggling to say it or not. If she said it, she did not know what kind of storm would be brought. If she didn't say it, things would stop here. Alan said he didn't want to see her again.

Chloe shook her body, anger made her out of breath, "You tell me, was it him? Did he bully you? Did he discard you? Olive, don't pretend to be dumb ok? I am almost worried to death by you. Tell me if there's any grievance, I'll help you to vent."

Olive gave a bitter smile, Chloe's own life was a mess. What could she do to help her?

Ivy who had been silent also opened his mouth at this time, "Olive, Christmas night, you found me to pretend to be your boyfriend. It was true to deal with your boss, but it was also because of him, wasn't it?"

He didn't say Alan's name because it made him uncomfortable.

Olive rubbed her forehead and sighed, "Alan is Annie's biological father."

in love like this. She was, so was Olive. But Chloe felt that she had jumped out of the shadow looked down and her eyes good men." Chloe didn't realize that this sentence had even brought Ivy in, and she was still indignant, "Eating from the bowl while looking at the pot, women surrounded, lower body thinking just relieving her anger. Just thinking about Olive's former man was Alan, he was unhappy. If this man was replaced by any other over the years, and shunned men who pursued her. It was possible that he did not express his love for her in a hurry, so he was safely on her list of friends for the time being.

got angry at her words, "What the hell is going on, tell me clearly. Your ability to keep secrets is really unprecedented which have reached the peak, I worship you as a teacher."

a big thing from her for five years. If Alan didn't show up in Luo city, she happened to meet him several times. She kept an eye on him and found out something, or else she was afraid that this woman stinky Olive, you really addicted in escaping. If she didn't care Olive, she needed not to spy on her, Chloe stared at her, "Where are you suffering from delusional persecution, feeling that if she was not careful, someone in the won't get lost and will be fine." Chloe grabbed her and

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 140: I Have Seen Him Once Before

Olive can still remember the scene he was badly mutilated for falling down at that time. She was scared and almost thought he was dead.

Until then, Alan was interested in racing and played drift and formula games abroad. And he was very nimble and responsive. Maybe those people thought that he would not think that they would rig the game in the field he is familiar with and he would be careless for a while, but they were afraid of this at the same time. They felt that ordinary brakes can't resist him, but the winding road from top to bottom was the road that he was not familiar with was another matter.

"He didn't fall to death, it was really his fate." Chloe was flat mouth to thought that their knowing just was nothing more than some inexplicit encounters. After all, Alan was a handsome man. Few women could withstand his charm. No one thought that it was not the hero to save a beauty. Instead, the beauty saved the hero.

Of course, in her eyes, Olive is a big beauty, but Alan is not a hero. Maybe he was a bastard who has abandoned a woman.

Olive said, "Although there is no arms and broken legs broken, his head was hit so seriously that his eyes were hurt to be blind."

Chloe heard this, her palm slammed on the thigh. "Fuck! You're not telling me you borrowed money from me to cure the bastard's eyes in the past."

did not deny it.

He is supposed to be more grateful to you. How do you turn it to pledge to marry him?

Olive's family couldn't was not rich, but her parents never let her worry about money. She suddenly said that she needed to borrow money, even if she had doubts, she quickly took out a small amount of savings, and found some other friends to borrow some to send her. Everyone would have an urgent matter, it was her own thought at the time. But she did not expect that the use of money was actually like this. Olive done some bad things to Olive, or the sofa and immersed in the memory.

school onto the stage, elegant appearance was extraordinary among a group of potbellied leaders. Originally, she didn't like those rich young men. The school asked them to come and said that they were alumni. It's not that so-called win-win, nothing more than this.

coming, there were several people like him who made a fuss. But when he came to the stage, his speech was streamlined and humorous, kind of people. But she never thought about was selected as a student representative to accompany guests and was arranged to sit next to him. It is unavoidable to toast each other.