Chapter 171 Sweet March

She jumped happily to his back, hands tightly around his neck. She smelled light male fragrance from his body, which was clear and refreshing that she liked very much.

He held her buttocks and lifted them up. Her soft body was close to his back. With such a beautiful girl on his back, he felt hot and a little manic. But his neck was held by her hands too tightly, which made him uncomfortable. "Just loosen a little your hands on my neck, or I will be strangled."

Olive smiled and patted him on the shoulder, "Run, little horse, run."

Then he really ran for several tens of meters as quickly as he was flying.

It seemed that they have forgotten the unhappiness in the past. They were like a couple of lovers in their first love. They were just having fun unrestrainedly in this strange city, no matter how other strangers looked them.

She put her chin on his shoulder, "Alan, will you treat me like this all the time?"

"Of course, except you, I will love nobody else." He answered without any hesitation.

Olive pouted and hummed, "But you said you would be bad to me this morning."

Olive reached out and pinched him. Well, even she herself didn't know why she just easily fell in love with him.

His physical strength was really good. He didn't even pant after walking two miles with Olive on his back. However, she was worried that he would be tired, so she asked him to let her down.

He bent down and put her down very lightly. Holding her hand, he felt a little cold. When they came out, they didn't wear thick clothes. The temperature of Jinjiang was two or three degrees lower than that of Luo city.

The waiter said, "It's very nice for Miss to put on this dress. Sir, you have a good taste."

It was impossible for him to have a bad taste. Alan said with a smile, "OK, that's it."

They paid the bill, walked out, took a turn, and arrived at the walking street of Jinjiang. In the evening, there were many people shopping. He held her hand tightly for fear that she might lose.

His hand was so big that it almost wrapped her whole little hand. Being held by him, Olive felt very relieved and walked with him leisurely, without any destination.

There was a group of people in front of her. She looked in curiously. It was a street art performance. The actor dressed as snow white. As long as she put a coin in her basket, she would dance for a little while, and then she would stand still with the last movement until the next coin was put in.

Olive has only seen this kind of performance on TV. It was the first time for her to see closely. But there were too many people. She only saw a little.

Suddenly, she was held up. He let her higher than anyone in the crowd, and finally saw everything.

"She is beautiful." Beautiful dress, beautiful girl.

"Not as good as you." He said faintly.

Olive grinned. Alan, how can you say love words so sweaty?

"Let me dry your hair." Five years ago, she took care of all his food and living, and five years later, it was his turn to take care of her.

"OK." Olive was on the bed and fell down.

Alan went to the bathroom to get the hairdryer, which was used by him carefully.

"You have a good hair."

"I almost cut it."

"Don't cut. Long hair looks good."

"It is said that thousands hairs mean thousands worries?"

"What's your worries?"

"You."

"Huh?"

"On the eighth day of the lunar new year, I was going to have my hair cut, but I fell and hurt my foot. Ivy sent me to the hospital. I can't let Ivy accompany me to have my hair cut."

Alan was stunned. This silly girl was really stupid. Even if she cut her hair, she would still have worries.

The Hoyle Group took a turn for the better with the help of the Meyer family, how could the Meyer family endure such humiliation? The Alan's mother wouldn't watch her son offend the Meyer family for acting absurdly, Alan's future road must not be easy.

She saw the time, which was more than 40 minutes later than expected time, it was almost one o'clock in the afternoon. She could not help but quicken her pace, she didn't want to make him starve to death in bed.

But the man sitting next to her at the exchange meeting caught up with her pace, she remembered that when this man introduced himself, it seemed that his name was Qin Ling and he also came from Luo city, who was young master of the owner of WANDA Hotels, a master born with a golden key.

"Miss Steele, please stay."

"What's the matter?"

"I don't know if I can favour Miss Steele with a meal so that we can exchange the experience of hotel management together." The man's speaking style was urbane.

It was just that she didn't like this kind of chatting up, "This.....I'm sorry, I've just entered the hotel business, I'm still a rookie, not to mention experience."

Her experience started from scratch and she explored her way carefully. Mr. Geve actually dared to rest assured! He was not afraid that she would make his hotel bankrupt.

The man didn't seem to recognize her refusal from her words and said with smiling, "Miss Steele, you are so modest. I just graduated from Harvard and have only theory and no practice. I know that a few special dishes of this hotel are very delicious."

Olive rolled her eyes at him quietly, Harvard? She thought he was like a pug, "Sorry, I have had an appointment with my child's father."

"As for me, I happen to know the landlord of this wine-shop, and I have some acquaintance with him; so if you will go out with me, I shall introduce him to you some day for some information and put the matter of tying me up last night behind me. If you don't, I'll keep you in the bed for the next few days." Alan sent food to his mouth leisurely.

"Look at you now" Olive said it angrily, well, she was threatened, it absolutely was a threat, she was too timid to be frightened by his threats and he succeed, "so where are we going to?"

Oliver wanted to prick him with a fork. "if you have no idea then why you say take me out."

"Go anywhere. Didn't you have a good time last night?"

Five years ago, she said after his eyes were recovered, he had to accompany her for shopping once a month. She also said that she knew that men hate shopping with women, so she did not force him to go shopping with her every week, just once a month. He owed her sixty times in five years.

He can't see at that time, but he had a wonderful memory. For her voice, at first hearing it five years later, it startled him into thinking he was dreaming. The sound of dreaming, he even wondered if his ears were hallucinating at that moment.

After dinner, she did not know where he got a car and he took her to an unknown direction.

"I want to go to the supermarket to buy something." Although there was an internal supermarket in the hotel, they had come out, otherwise they did not know where to go, so it's a good idea to go to the supermarket.

Alan parked the car in front of a large shopping center and led her into the crowd with her hand.

At the entrance of the supermarket, he pushed a shopping cart.

Oliver said. "I won't buy a lot of things. There is no need for this" can sit in it."

There were only two floors of the supermarket, but it costed them for several hours. It should be a boring thing. However, his little girl looked at everything as if with relish, which made him find something interesting in it.

In fact, in addition to the two packages of things, she did not buy anything, the rest of the shopping cart were all chosen by him. The snacks are the girl's favorite, right? Although she rarely bought snacks those five years, he knew it was to save money for his eyes.

What a silly girl she was, didn't she afraid that he would leave her after he recovered?

By the time he checked out, Oliver had already jumped out of the cart. There were many people lining up to check out. Fortunately, he had good temper to wait.

Looking at the family planning items on the shelf in front of the cash register, she pulled Alan and whispered, "get that box."

"Which one?"

"Contraception" she gnashed her teeth to say this word. What he knew was only making love with her but never thought of contraception. Men were impulsive animals, they only desired happiness.

Alan glanced at her dimly. "no, you may have my kid in your belly now."

"I took the medicine." She whispered, but later, she felt his displeasure instantly, but she could do nothing. Things had not settled down, and she did not want to risk another child.

Alan looked at her coldly. She was always considerate. However, he seemed to have no right to accuse her, she had her concerns, because she had gone through so much, he must put himself in her shoes.

"I asked Dave Harrod to send it." Alan did not deny it.

Now she understood why she had found the address was in Jiangcheng. At that time, he had arranged for Dave Harrod to take over Hengdu.

"Have you known at that time that Annie is your own daughter?"

"I don't know, but I know you're that girl. It's true. It's just that a lot of original ideas couldn't be figured out by me at that time."

Olive was stunned. How persistent he was! After she had denied again and again, he still insisted on his belief.

"Then how did you figure it out later?" She was somewhat curious.

Alan pretended to be mysterious and said, "It's a secret."

He promised Xenia not to give her out. He also knew what Xenia thought. She was afraid to be known by that man. If that man knew, he would hate her. In fact, Alan really thought it would be good if Xenia could be able to catch up with the man, so that he would not be around Olive like a fly.

"You are so bad." In fact, it didn't matter how he knew it. She had already explained those things to him, "Well, how did you think of sending a gift to Annie at that time? I never thought you are so generous."

On the other side of the phone, there was a slight, thin sobbing, like a ghost in the middle of the night, and she did not speak a word but cried.

Alan's eyes were cold. He had no patience. All his patience was given to the woman in bed. He hung off the call and set the mobile phone to vibrate, he put it on the bedside table and went back to bed with his beloved woman in his arms. It was a critical time. If it wasn't for the fear of missing an important call, he really wanted to turn it off.

But it wasn't long after the woman made another persistent call, and he caught it in a rage. "what do you want"

The person called him just sobbed, she finally willing to speak, she grumbled, "Alan, Are you so impatient to connect my phone?"

"I don't want to disturb Oliver's sleep if nothing's wrong." Alan said it coolly, he thought he could never be mistaken in his judgment, but what had happened just slapped him twice in the face.

"Alan, is she really so good? We are friends from childhood, it's over 20 years, you just meet her for one year, is our friendship worse than hers? Tell me, what is she better than me?"

Chapter 180: Come Back and Pick Me up

There was always a kind of woman in the world who used tears as a weapon to gain men's pity, but he was immune to these things. Except for one person, he looked back and saw that person was sleeping there quietly, accompanying him in the place where he could see. His heart that has been empty for five years was finally filled.

Ophelia stared at the phone that has been hung up. She couldn't get through any more. The tears on her face was soon dried up. In the past, as long as she cried, even if he was busy with his work, he would put his work in his hands aside to coax her.

But at the time, he told her that she asked for this and she could not blame him. With a few words, he denied all her efforts.

He was right. She was not reconciled. How could she be reconciled? She could get what she wanted all the time, and even if she could not, she would never allow others to get it.

She met him at the age of three and expressed her feelings to him at the age of eighteen. He only thought that she was drunk and reckless. He never cared about the arranged marriage and only thought she was his sister. He said that she and Junling were both his sisters, but he was more close to Junling. She mistakenly thought that he was not good at expressing, but later she knew that he thought her health was not very well. The hell with her health. She just wanted him to care more about her. But when he took care of her, he always had a sense of propriety and never did something intimately. She hated his rational and lustless appearance. The more indifferent he was to her, the more she wanted him, and the more reluctant she was to see that woman took him away.

When the door of the room was pushed open, father Meyer saw his daughter sitting in front of the window and being depressed. He sighed deeply and went to her, said, "Why haven't you slept so late?"

"Dad." Ophelia reached out and hugged her father. Her voice was muffled. "Why doesn't Alan love me? Why can't I compare with that woman? What did that woman do to confuse him and let he hurt me like this?"
