Chapter 241 The most romantic thing

"I'm thinking is there such a beautiful 'ugly girl' like you?" He thought of the thing that she lied she was extremely ugly and asked him to think twice whether to be with her. Imagining her expressions of teasing him, he wanted to laugh.

"Then Mr. handsome, before meeting me, what kind of image of I in your mind?" Olive was interested in that. They two sat opposite before, but now she moved bit by bit to him, "Come on, tell me it."

"Never think about it." Said Alan.

Being disappointed, Olive stuff her mouth rice.

Alan felt her funny after seeing her look, "That's because no matter what you look like, I wouldn't let you go."

Olive groaned, "Liar! If I'm an ugly girl, I think you have already escaped. Don't try to coax me!"

"Am I that kind of person?" Alan flipped on her head.

He had seen many women who were more beautiful than her. But they were not her, no matter how gorgeous and how sexy they were, his heart would not beat for them. However, he didn't expect that he was such a image in her heart. He had strong desires to beat her or open her head to see what stuff inside.

Olive felt a chill rise from feet. Turning around, she found his face being closer while his hot breath had sprayed on his face.

"Come on, I'm just kidding. Man should not be so mean. Your cold face seemed have frozen me."

She bit her lower lip subconsciously, which lured him to get closer. She had the most softest lips. He thought. Tossing about on her lips, he moved his tongue along the shape of her lips. When she leaned back and was about to fall down, he stretched out and picked her up.

Until she nearly lost her breath, he let her go reluctantly. His bright eyes were shining like the stars, "No such kidding, understand? Or I will teach you!"

"You're already home."

When would she consciously realize that this was not the hotel, but the place where he wished to have a family with her. Even if it were not convenient for her to live in here every day, he would welcome her with an opened door.

"I mean I want to go back to the Orange Garden." of course, she could understand what he meant.

"Could you stay with me tonight, okay?" he bent over her neck and breathed, "Come on."

He asked twice, which was like a child asking for candy. Then Olive Steele promised. He followed her gaze and saw that the streetlights along the lake lit up the neighborhood through the glass walls. The glass was the one-sided line of sight, so she did not have to worry about the problem of peeping. He kissed her face, "Don't worry, no one can see inside."

"I'll not live here." Olive Steele pushed him away and ran upstairs. Then she looked back and smiled, which was the most beautiful smile for him.

"You should not have hidden something from me, I'm your wife and I can face everything with you." Iory Ted cut the apple into small pieces and fed it into his mouth. Her eyes were still red and swollen, which was the mark of crying. It had only been a day and a night since she had heard that her husband was terminally ill and then cried bitterly in his arms, now she had accepted it with equanimity.

Life and death were decreed by fate and we could not give up any hope. Every time Norton Geve went on a business trip, he would take Iory Ted with him. Now Iory finally understood why he had been in a hurry on business trips last year and did not even have time to pack his bags home. It turned out that he had been to the hospital. She was his wife and it was he had held up one day for her all these years, she depended on him and now she could not give up even if he was down. she wanted to take care of him as long as she lived even if he died first and wanted him to see that she was strong enough and let him go at ease.

"I'm sorry." Norton Geve apologized, which was like a child who had made mistakes.

Olive Steele stood at the door and looked at them, not knowing what to do. It was lory Ted noticed them at first and she remembered Olive and the man next to her but just was stunned to see Alan Hoyle's hand on Olive's waist. If she remembered correctly, Alan had been engaged to another woman and had announced their marriage, but why was Olive with him? lory was going to ask Norton who seemed to know something about them.

Olive Steele put the flowers in the case on the table, "Are you feeling better, Mr. Geve?"

Norton Geve felt much better than the night before and said powerfully, "Very good. Don't treat me as a severe patient and I can show up in the company tomorrow to admonish all of you."

Alan made a complaint against, "You promised to leave after the dinner!"

"Come on, be good. How about this? I come to you tomorrow night. Don't be jealous of your daughter." Olive kissed on his cheek, like coaxing a baby.

Alan murmured, "I'll be at the plane tomorrow night."

"What? You have a business trip?" It was a piece of sudden news. He didn't mention about it before. But it was a common thing for him to fly here and there with his current identity.

"Yes. Paris, for a week." Except for work, there was another important thing related to her to deal with. However, he had to keep it secret now and wanted to make it as a surprise.

"A week? It's so long." Someone said lovers spent the time much slower than common people when they were apart.

"Yes. Are you sure not to be with me longer since we would not meet for a week?" Alan lured her. He had already had this pain to leave her here tonight.

"But there is still e-mail and phone, or you can call me an overseas video." She said.

Fine. He had no other excuses. What she wanted was to let him drive her home. Anyway, the one robbed her away was her baby, and also his baby.

The moment Olive opened her door, she saw Aoba sitting on sofa with Korean dress up and a hat. So startled she was that the key fell down.

Aoba smiled and said, "Relax, my sister-in-law. I'm just here to see my little niece. But I don't dare to give her any meeting gifts for fear of causing troubles to you. I will make up when it's appropriate."

"Then what's the matter between you and Chloe Malan." Olive was very curious about how they knew each other.

"This is a long story, but I have told my brother about it. If you want to know, you can ask him."

As soon as the elevator door opened, Aoba smiled and walked away.

It was the night, when the Steeles and Annie were asleep, and Chloe Malan had not returned from work, Olive slipped out of the house quietly.

At this time, there were few pedestrians in the downtown area, and only in this feasting place, there were still people partying. The whole city was half asleep.

The car crossed the street and finally drove into Minghu Villa.

When she said goodbye to him downstairs in the community, his disappointed expression made her feel soft, which caused the scene that a woman rushing at midnight at this time.

\Well, although it was only seven days, she still thought it was a long period.

He gave her the key to the villa, so she went in smoothly. She wanted to give him a little surprise. She looked up from downstairs and saw a house standing in the dark with no light.

Was he already asleep?

Also, it was late, and he had to catch a plane tomorrow.

With the light from the moonlight and street lamps, she went upstairs quietly, gently opened the bedroom door, and turned on the lights. Surprisingly, he was not in the bed, and the quilt was the same as she folded when she got up.

She went to the study, but there was still no

Olive shrank on his chest for a while, and gradually became sleepy, and fell asleep in such a daze. In half-asleep, she felt that his heart was beating firmly and forcefully.

Alan waited until her breathing was steady, and after a while, he called her, but without any response, and then gently pulled her out of the quilt and hugged her in his arms. His girl would sneak out of the house in the middle of the night to see him, which was that he didn't expect.

He just felt that there was no woman in the world who was stupid and more impulsive than his girl.

"Girl, at most three months, I have to marry you." He whispered in her ear.

Before the dawn, she rolled over and got out of his embrace. He was awakened and hugged her back, but she wasn't awaken and was still sleeping soundly.

He stretched out two fingers to pinch her nostrils. Having troubles in breathing, Olive opened her small mouth slowly, snoring without even moving her body. He lowered his head and kissed her mouth until she flushed with breathlessness. Olive opened her sleepy eyes, and stretched out her soft hands on his shoulders.

Olive's face rubbed lightly on his chest, then turned the other side, not looking at him.

Alan laughed lowly. She was already a mother, but was still so shy. His girl was a complex of contradictions, sometimes open and sometimes shy.

"Hmm..." he took a sip of wine and whispered vaguely in her ear, "Do unfamiliar people sleep together? I have intimate pictures of us, would you like to have a look?"

Fortunately, his loud voice was muffled by the music in the bar and only she could hear him clearly. But despite this, her hand still trembled as she held the glass, "What the hell do you want?"

He had an idea of her and she knew that what he said was an intimate picture of them lying head to head on a bed, which had been taken by him. But there would be rumor if the picture had been kept by someone else.

She had no interest in robbing the cradle.

Seeing her succeed in being exasperated by him, Aoba Hoyle said innocently, "Nothing. Uh...Just to remind you to cut down on your drinking to avoid hurting your throat. You sing fairly well."

No matter how fast or slow the tempo was, she could sing well. However, she was scornful of his praise, "None of your business!"

In fact, she was startled by herself when she slapped him, for fear of annoying that bloody guy.

She never regarded him as a kind man.

When she got home, she entered in quietly as usual, trying not to disturb the Steeles who were in sleep. This home was the only place for Chloe to make her peaceful.

Olive slept late tonight. She held her cup and came out for water, happening to meet Chloe who came home.

"You're back."

"Haven't you slept yet?"

"I come back with some work. I'm ready to sleep now." The voices of the two were both low. Olive noticed that Chloe didn't look well. She touched Chole's forehead, "What? Do you feel sick?"

"I'm fine, just need a little relax."

Olive put her hand on Chloe's lip which is broken, "Are you bullied by someone?"

Chloe turned her head away quickly, "Nothing. I was just bit by a mad dog."

Aunt Qi's son had also been divorced, in his early thirties, with glasses, but also so gentle and refined in manner, and his ex-wife ran off with a blonde foreigner, leaving a three-year-old son to him, which Olive learned from her mother, who once asked her if she would like to meet him. At that time she refused without even thinking about it, and then her mother had never mentioned it again. She didn't expect that her mother had already arranged for it..

Olive was somewhat helpless.

"Olive, you don't have a boyfriend yet, right? How about Qi Rui? Do you think that he is a good boy? " Aunt Qi took her hand and asked enthusiastically.

"Sorry, I have had a boyfriend recently. " She didn't lie, but Aunt Qi didn't believe it, even her mother despised her for lying.

Aunt Qi was a little angry, "Hey, you are not so honest. If you really had a boyfriend, why do not you take him back to let us have a look? "

Olive smiled, "Sorry, Aunt Qi. We have just been in the relationship so we didn't want to let many people know it. Your son is so good, graduated with a doctorate, and I still have a five-year-old daughter, so I don't think that we are suitable for each other. Aunt Qi, I think that your son is able to find a better woman than I. "

"You are worried about Annie? We two families have long been friends, and as long as you are willing to marry my son, our family will not dislike Annie, and we will treat her as our own granddaughter. " Aunt Qi patted her chest and promised, as if everything was ready, just waiting for her to nod her head.

Qi Rui sat silent on the side, not sure if he was forced out, or if he always didn't like to talk much, but anyway, his mood wasn't very high.

After five minutes, his message came again, "One hundred and ten times, not asleep at all, your method isn't working, so you have to keep talking with me. "

Olive thought that it's hard to believe that he really counted. It's weird if he counted, and he must have gone to do something else.

"What do you wanna talk about with me? "

"Whatever " As long as it's what she said, even if it's just a simple expression, he would feel satisfied.

"A blind date?"

"Uh-huh."

"You?"

"Or else who? " She said deliberately.

"Hey girl, with me, how dare you go on a blind date? " He knew, of course, that she couldn't have taken the initiative to go on any blind date.
