

Innocent Wife 26

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 26: Have We Met Before?

After the meal, Chole rushed to clean the dishes, and Olive followed her to the kitchen and said: "Kung Pow Chicken is delicious."

Chole gave Olive a gentle smile, and said with a fascinating voice, "Thank you for praise."

Olive turned a blank eye to Chole, and then she picked out the fruit to wash.

Chole washed the dishes and said, "Well, I decided to go to Ivy's bar to work."

"Actually, you don't have to worry so much." Although there is no big and expensive life here, at least there was food and shelter, and seriously, it is not a burden for Olive.

"I have already been a worm in the Lynn family for a few years. I can't get here and be a lazy guy, can I? Besides, I can't be looked down by other people. I believe I can live happily even without them."

Olive nodded and said: "It's really nice of you to think in this way. The past life is the price and the lesson of your youth, and we should let it go."

Chole coveted and sighed. "But this lesson is too expensive."

"So, when you look for a boyfriend in the future again, you have to look with your eyes open, and learn to pass bad men." Bad men couldn't guarantee anything even the most basic loyalty, so we didn't need them.

Chole touched Olive with her elbow, and her eyes glanced at the living room and lowered her voice. "Hey, Annie is four years old. Didn't she ask you, who is her father?"

Olive was silent. Annie had asked, of some forced reasons, Mommy must leave tilted her head. The four-year-old girl apparently couldn't fully understand the words, but the word "love Annie" was still comforting her

"Of course." Olive replied steadily.

Daddy come back to find Mommy and

"Yes, but when Mommy left, I forgot to tell Daddy where I would take Annie, so it would take some will very cherish when he finds us."

Who said that a single-parent child had a personality defect, fever when she got up the next day, accompanied by a cough.

same way she used to deal with her cold and fever. She did not care about a bit serious. It was because most time she was sleeping in the staff lounge, and the room was cold. When she woke up, she felt that she was a top-heavy person and could not afford the body. After eating a little during lunch fell asleep

Until the sound of finger tapping on the desktop, she looked up and saw the coming person, and got up in a hurry, "Mr. Hoyle."

"Come to my office." Alan was shocked, it was more than three o'clock, and the afternoon work time had passed. Looking at the few female colleagues who were busy with the incumbent, there was no one to wake her up.

behind him. Olive was secretly worried in her heart, and she had to force her to follow him into the office, with laughter behind sleep. He took off his coat and went to the chair. The action was fluent.

Rich people didn't wear much clothes in winter., because they were surrounded by heating.