

Innocent Wife 33

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 33: An Expert From the Ordinaries

Olive could not understand the unreadable codes on the screen anyway. She dared not to bother since she noticed that Ivy was in a mode of working so she did not put the sarcasm of Susie in her mind, either. That woman was just like that. Olive did not look good to her at all. She always wanted to make some trouble for Olive and Olive had got used to it now.

Olive poured a cup of tea for Ivy. He liked tea very much even though he was running a bar. He also knew the culture of tea. Olive saw a set of stuffs for making tea and that was quite delicate. It must cost a lot of money.

It was not known that when Sabrina got here. She hit Olive's shoulder suddenly and asked with a low sly voice, "Hey, I saw you are very intimate. Is he your boyfriend? I heard that you found a top handsome guy to help with us when I was down there."

Olive hit back with her elbow, "Stop gossiping. Just a good friend."

"Either a boyfriend or a male intimate. He looks just like a pretty boy in the TV drama. Handsome and talented. You can consider about him." Sabrina's sight was stick on Ivy and it grew vaguer and vaguer.

"Stop being garrulous here. What's your matter to come up here?" Olive could only change the topic, or this woman would talk ceaselessly. She was quite annoying when she was chattering.

"Eh, I nearly forget that. Boss was calling me. I must go to take his orders immediately. It can't be something terrible, dose it? Please don't put the terrible things on me. Amitabha, god bless me."

Olive smiled. This woman was never serious at usual.

She moved to the side and sorted the works she had to do these days in order of level of urgency. She must be familiar with the duties of an assistant even though she did not know how long she would stay on the position of an assistant.

Olive looked at the office of Alan unconsciously. The door was still closed. Maybe the topic he talked with Sabrina was the same on he talked with Olive since before this, Alan called Adam in and talked with him for more than an hour.

your work since you were promoted?" Ivy suddenly frightened then she returned

When are you going to get off work? I will wait you here." Ivy was still reserved. He was gentle even when he was talking since, he was afraid of disturbing the working atmosphere.

stunned for a while. When she had not reacted, Susie opened her red mouth surprisingly, "I did not act indifferently even though he was offended by Susie's words just now. He

of

Olive could other hand, the man seemed to have an unusual background. His wearing was a little casual, but they were all well-known brands. Who was he? How could he solve this problem which hugged him in arms," Ivy, you are such a talented one which could not be solved by all those technicians was unexpectedly really know the background of Ivy. Ostensibly, he was a drunkard in the park, a boss of a bar and sometimes a guitar

Olive had never asked about it. Since they became Alan's office was opened. Behind smile on her face was nearly frozen. She moved her arms

There was a haze that could not be noticed by "Your friend?" Alan asked directly.

our boss, Mr. Hoyle." Olive simply introduced them to each other. Somehow, she saw a flame at the point that two men's sight touched but it was vanished instantly like it was her illusion.

Was she thinking too much?