Chapter 331 Master Came to Make a Fuss

Ellison actually was so unsure, and he also knew that he alone couldn't shake Alan and Olive in the angel's position, but his heart was full hatred and he was unwilling to just accept the fact.

Olive used to be just an employee under of him and had to take her cue from him when working. And she was now in a position where he should be, so he couldn't understand why she could sit on it. Even if Hengdu was sold, everything in the Geve family belonged to him, so why could she, an outsider, get a share while he had nothing now?

Isn't it just that she had the help from Alan? Even if he couldn't get anything, he couldn't let them live comfortably, and he would stir them up.

"I have a recording here, and I guess Mr. Geve should be familiar with it."

Ellison smiled wryly, holding a tape recorder in his hand, somehow causing some anxiety to well up in Olive's heart. Alan took her hand in his, and his warm palm seemed to be telling her not to worry.

"I don't mind if you play it for everyone to listen. " Alan was calm and relaxed, as if he was not afraid of it at all.

"I am sure that you will regret it." Ellison pressed the button.

The meeting was silent, and everyone was listening carefully in case they missed some crucial detail.

The Hoyle family has been able to get where it is today thanks to the support of the Meyer family. But what did Alan do? He not only was ungrateful, but also burned the bridge after crossing it. Olive Steele caressed Norton Geve's back until his face softened, "I don't care what Ellison Geve and Alan Hoyle are about to do with Angel. I'm not interested, but thank you, Norton, for being my patron so that I can stay in Angel to watch the place for him. If one day you decide to straighten up, I will always welcome you here to take over my position."

Ellison Geve didn't expect that she would say this. He paused and snorted coldly, "You don't have to be so kind."

Olive Steele shrugged her shoulders, "I can't help it."

Norton Geve looked at his son sadly, "You're hopeless."

The farce started by Ellison Geve was sorted out by Norton Geve. However, Olive Steele still got a headache thinking how the media would roast them tomorrow. She didn't know how to cope living in the eye of the storm every day.

Sometimes, people simply didn't have any choice. From the moment she decided to stand side by side with Alan Hoyle, she knew that her life wouldn't be peaceful.

Poor Mr. and Mrs. Geve. Parents were naturally worried about their children.

Ellison Geve's face finally showed an expression, "I—"

"You what? People are talking about you, so you plan to go back to see if I'm dead, don't you? See how much money you can squander, don't you? Listen, expect for your treatment expense, I will not give you a penny! You're a 30 years old man! Look at you! You're not even half better than the girls! Some of the girls even have to support their family at this very age. What about you? What can you do besides giving me trouble? I'm an old, dying man. I can't take care of you anymore. Do whatever you want, but you can get your mind off Angel because I swear I will never give it to you!"

Norton Geve might be sick, but his each and every word was crystal clear. After he finished, he didn't even bother looking at his adoptive son. He rolled his wheelchair to the door. He worked hard for a comfortable life, but he never expected that it would all be ruined by this scumbag.

Lory Ted quickly followed.

"Master Geve, take care." Lawyer Wang sighed. He took a sympathetic look at Ellison Geve as he got up and left.

Zizhong He approached Ellison Geve. Suddenly, he stretched out his hand and swung his fist to Ellison Geve's face. His eyes were starry, the corner of his mouth was bleeding, and he fell to the ground, "A punch is too kind for you. You really don't deserve to be President Geve's son."

Olive Steele felt that the punch wasn't that hard, but she still took a piece of paper towel and crouched down before him.

Ellison Geve didn't took it. He looked at her coldly, "It must feel good for you to see me as a laughingstock."

"Uncle, I want to eat ice cream." Olive Steele wouldn't let her eat ice cream until summer, so, she could only ask her uncle.

Alan Hoyle picked up his daughter and said, "Fine, I'll buy you ice cream. However, you're only allowed to eat a little, okay? If you eat too much you will have a stomachache and Mommy will be sad."

"Well, I'll have strawberry and chocolate." Annie reluctantly agreed. A small portion ice cream was better than nothing at all.

Olive Steele looked at them two. She felt funny. When they were about to leave, she saw a headmistress took the female teacher from the other day.

"Mr. Hoyle. Mr. Hoyle."

The kindergarten was originally established by the headmistress and the female teacher was just taking advantage of the fact that the kindergarten was owned by her aunt. Now, with a flip of a hand, Alan Hoyle transferred the ownership of the kindergarten. It happened that the kindergarten was now owned by a little girl she once looked down upon.

A five years old girl became her boss. What sorcery was that? But, at this time, she could only stand with her head lowered so that her aunt could speak on her behalf and let her end the contract with the school early.

Only after the end of the year, Annie was on the higher grade and the head teacher was replaced by the present one. Her professional ethic was far worse than the previous one. Olive Steele used to hear Annie praised her teacher, but this year, Annie seemed not to like her teacher very much.

Alan Hoyle asked, "Olive, don't you think unhealthy practices like this should be banned?"

"Somehow, I feel that you're bullying the weak, not much different from that lady." Olive Steele didn't want her daughter to do whatever she wanted with her privilege and backing.

"I don't bully the weak. I bully the evil." Alan Hoyle grinned and asked her daughter, "Right, Baby?"

Annie nodded after thinking about it, "Well, we don't bully the weak. We bully the evil."

Olive Steele was completely defeated by the duo.

It was rare for her daughter to stand on her own line. Alan Hoyle stroked her little head lovingly, "Baby, do you have fun at school today?"

"Yes, I'm having fun! Today, we stole more than a dozen of vouchers from Teacher Yang's drawer and threw them to the toilet. Then, we coated the toilet with superglue. If she touched it, she would be stuck. After we flushed the toilet, the vouchers were all gone. Her new dress was stained with glue and it was torn. Her plan to seduce Teacher Zhou was flopped. Teacher Zhou and Teacher Lin was originally a good couple. She ruined their relationship and bullied Teacher Lin. I don't like her at all."

Teacher Lin was Annie's former head teacher. She was a gentle woman. When she laughed, the dimples on her cheek showed. The students liked her very much.

The pranks made Olive Steele laughed and angry at the same time. Children could be very naughty sometimes.

Alan Hoyle laughed, "It's good to seek revenge. My baby is the greatest."

"Dave Chou." Alan Hoyle gritted his teeth.

“Oh, you mean the snake today.” Dave Chou said and smiled, “It’s a non-poisonous cauliflower snake. Don’t worry, Sir. Your daughter is beyond your imagination. She’s the bravest girl I have ever seen. I like her. She’s just as cunning as her male friends.”

“I don’t care if it’s poisonous, Dave Chou. I warn you, if you dare to encourage my daughter to play such dangerous thing again, I will end you.” if it wasn’t for making her daughter a strong girl, Alan Hoyle was not willing to let Annie learn any mischief from this man.

“Oh, I’m scared. Will you fancy a drink at waittingbar tonight?” Dave Chou asked informally. He was deliberately teasing him.

“What time?” Alan Hoyle snorted coldly.

In order not to affect the normal business hour of the bar, they decorated the place first and tore the partition wall down later. There was also a slight change in the pattern.

Chloe Malan’s new song successfully captured the heart of the guests. Some of them even approached her and asked which song it was. She said that she and her partner wrote it.

Colbert smiled and said, "Sister Chloe, you and Brother Summer make a cute couple."

This made Aoba Hoyle unhappy. She wrote some songs. What was so special about it? He could paint.

There were only a few painters like him in the country, but there were a lot of people who could write bad songs like she did. What's the big deal?

He hated to admit that when Chloe Malan was singing on the stage looking fierce, the mysterious aura she gave off captivated him. His heart skipped a beat.

Chloe Malan, these past two days, no one knew whether it was Alan Hoyle's words who got under her nerve or that Olive Steele woke her up, she no longer persistently approached Aoba Hoyle. Her attitude was now cold and distant. She didn't care much about him. Wherever she wanted to go, he would drive his car toward her. Chloe Malan wouldn't refuse. She even regarded him as a full time driver.

This kind of person was called masochist. The more he was abused, the happier he would be. He would be uncomfortable if he was not abused. Aoba Hoyle belonged to this category.

Therefore, he sought comfort in constant abuse and lived happily with it. He paid more attention this way. Soon she came to power, he would come banging with a bouquet of roses.

Olive Steele felt that he was holding her hand tightly. A possessive men were sometime like children. He was jealous while he knew that she didn't mean that to Ivy Aldington. He declared his ownership and it was awkward.

Stingy would always be stingy. If he was to be coveted by another woman, she wouldn't be happy too.

She looked around the bar and saw no Dave Chou. Instead she saw Ivy Aldington sitting at the bar chatting with a strange man.

"Ivy, aren't you coming with Dave Chou?" she asked.

The man next to him turned around and smiled, "Little Sister, don't you know me after I dress up a little? You're hurting my self-esteem."

Olive Steele was stunned. Wasn't it Dave Chou's voice, "Where is your beard?"

Dave Chou's most iconic feature was his unshaved beard which covered his entire chin and down several centimeters long. He looked bold, like a Han tribe of the Northwest. This clean shaved man in front of her looked handsome. His tan skin complimented his new features.

"Well, Alan, you better not make a scene here. Accept my invitation and let's get wasted." Dave Chou despised hypocrisy. He talked straight to the point.

"What about a bottle of wine?" Alan Hoyle laughed.

"Let's go." Dave Chou invited Ivy Aldington along.

He got up and went inside.

Olive Steele watched three of them entering the private lounge.

Aoba Hoyle pouted, "Hi, sister-in-law, I heard that man likes you."

"Don't talk about me. Let's talk about you." she came here to ask him about Chloe Malan. Alan Hoyle told her to stay out of it. It was true that feelings were personal, but she couldn't help feeling anxious looking at both of them.

"Don't talk about this. Besides, my brother is not here, so I won't tell." said Aoba Hoyle.

"It's no longer a secret. You don't have to be discreet. Come on, tell me, how do you feel about Chloe Malan?" she didn't want to beat around the bush with him. Also, she didn't what the three men inside the private lounge could talk about.

Olive Steele sighed, "Sometimes, what women want is not your courage to put all your eggs in one basket."

"What does that mean?" Aoba Hoyle was puzzled. Didn't woman like men to do anything for her?

"Think about it by yourself." Olive Steele gave him a look and got up.

"Sister-in-law, you can't leave me hanging—"

Olive Steele acted like she didn't hear it. When she walked out of the cubicle, someone approached and called out, "Olive."

The voice sounded cautious.

Olive Steele turned around and saw Xenia Boswell standing behind her. She smiled, "Would you fancy a drink with me?"

Xenia Boswell nodded.

They went to the bar. The bartender handed them two glasses of brandy.
