Chapter 341 Men's Problem

I pulled up the thick curtain and saw three of them sitting on the sofa looking up.

Alan Hoyle seemed to drink a little too much. With reddened eyes, he waved, "Honey, you're here."

Olive Steele walked closer and was dragged into his arms. He was reeked of wine. On the table, there were a few empty bottles of wine. They were of high qualities and high concentration of alcohol. People got drunk easier on mulled wine and she didn't know how much he drank. She was not allowed to drink and he got wasted here instead. How selfish.

She got up a little embarrassed. This man definitely did it on purpose. She stared at him and pinched him on the waist. When he put on a silly smile, her heart softened. He sat down next to him and caught a glimpse of Ivy Aldington. He was looking another way.

Perhaps, she was greedy. She didn't want to lose anyone. However, she broke Ivy Aldington's heart and she didn't know how to deal with it.

Dave Chou groaned, "Look at your face. You look like as if we bullied him."

"That's possible." She didn't know what they were talking about. She always felt weird for her own man to sit down and drink with a man who liked her and a man who was hostile to him. Even more bizarre, Dave Chou paid for the drinks.

She wanted to listen what they were talking about, but she felt that it was embarrassing for her to be here. She gave up and gave them space instead.

Dave Chou laughed, "I'm not chasing you. Did you offend you?"

Ivy Aldington smiled, "Relax, I won't disturb you again. We are just friends now, just like before. Maybe one day, time will fade my love away, just like my love for my ex. But before that, I hope you won't avoid me. It will make me feel sad, and I will think that you have abandoned me."

Olive Steele could not refuse this request, so she smiled and agreed, "Okay!"

Ivy Aldington slowly got up from the sofa, touched his forehead, he seemed to be drunk, "Can you send me home? I can't drive now."

Olive Steele smiled slightly, "Why not."

Although this would make Alan Hoyle unhappy, she really couldn't refuse him again.

Ivy walked in front of her and his step was unsteady, she wanted to support him, but she didn't. She knew she should keep some distance from him. Because Alan would be jealous if he saw it.

Although it was late at night, the bar was still very lively. Dave Chou had disappeared with Xenia.

Thinking about this again, why would Dave Chou want to talk to Alan Hoyle was because he wanted to make a chance for Ivy and her, he knew they need a talk. Olive was confused, she can't figure it out that Dave was a kind guy or not.

When Olive woke up in the morning, she got up quietly, went downstairs, and directed to the kitchen. There's nothing in the refrigerator.

She wanted to make him breakfast, but the supermarket was not open at this time, so she found the nearest market.

The market was overcrowded, and her car was parked outside. When she got off the car, she attracted a lot of attention. The young woman in slippers drove a beautiful car to the market early in the morning, which can be regarded as a scene.

The phone rang at this moment, Olive Steele took out her phone and checked it. This guy, he woke up as soon as she left.

"Honey, where are you?"

Olive can imagine that he must go all over the room and look for her, she was happy, "I'm in the market."

"Why do you go there?" She didn't call him when she got up, which made him look for her in the house for a while.

"I want to make breakfast for you." She answered softly.

Alan Hoyle felt warm, "My sweetheart, I love you so much."

"Then what do you want to eat?" She asked.

The curtain in front of the floor-to-ceiling window had been opened, and the lady with delicate makeup was sitting on the sofa in front of the window, she's holding a newspaper.

There's a cup of coffee at the table had not moved. Hearing the sound, the lady raised her head, and the corner of her mouth showed a strange smile.

"Mrs. Hoyle." Olive Steele walked up to her and greeted her, even though she wanted to call her mom.
She married Alan Hoyle, then she would be her mother-in-law. But she knew that it would only make her unhappy and disgusted. She wanted to live with this woman together peacefully, but if she must put down her self-esteem and please her, she can't do that.

Everyone had their bottom line.

"I haven't seen you for five years. Miss. Steele, you are so amazing. You've taken the position of general manager of the Angel, holding 10% of the shares, and asked my son to get a marriage certificate with you. It seems that I am I looked down upon you." Mrs. Hoyle sneered and threw the newspaper on the table.

Olive Steele smiled and sat down opposite her, "Mrs. Hoyle, you are getting younger and more beautiful, but you are still domineering."

"I didn't expect that my infatuated son would give up the company because of you, and he willingly stays in this small city, guarding Hengdu and invests money into it."

"I can't do that, because I can't do such a bad thing. But I warn you, once my family suffers anything, I might fight back."

"Are you threatening me?" Mrs. Hoyle looked at her in disbelief, "Do you think that now that you are powerful enough and someone is supporting you, no one can make you afraid?"

"How dare I threaten you. You are an elder and you are Alan's mother. I should respect you, but I don't like to be threatened too. I especially don't like someone holding my family to threaten me. I want to give you a warning. That's it. Mrs. Hoyle, I know why you are coming today. Even if you don't come here, I know very well that your family doesn't like me. I already know this. You can rest assured that I will not go to the Hoyle family in the future."

I just let Alan Hoyle stay in my home. If Mrs. Hoyle knew about this, would she go crazy? For the sake of her health, Olive Steele still endured it and didn't say anything.

The conversation naturally broke up, and Mrs. Hoyle left in anger.

A stubborn mother always wanted to put her child into the route she designed.

Olive Steele sighed softly and heard a knock on the door.

"Come in."

It's Ted Dulles.

"Olive, are you okay?"

"Do you think I look bad?"

"Emmm, Mrs. Hoyle, she stays in our hotel."

Fine, that's falling beyond her expectations, it seemed that a protracted battle was about to begin.

"Fine, you just treat her as treat our normal guests, if you have any questions, just let me know."

She can't avoid the problem, and it's useless to avoid it, presumably Mrs. Hoyle didn't need her special care at this moment. Olive would feel lucky if this old woman wouldn't make trouble for her.

Not long after eleven o'clock, Alan Hoyle called, "Honey, are you busy with work today?"

Alan Hoyle walked to Olive Steele, he held his mobile phone and smiled at her, "You can be rewarded, but only I can enjoy what my wife cooked. If you want to have a warm meal, you can let your girlfriend do that for you ."

"Aren't you deliberately irritating me?" The woman's cooking skill was a shit, it smelled worse than his own.

He once asked her to cook for him for the first time, and she almost poisoned him, and Kent never dared to expect her to go to the kitchen. He doesn't know why would he fall in love with such a woman, he wondered if he was cursed.

When Kent was angry, and here Alan Hoyle had embraced Olive Steele and went downstairs, "I gotta go, the fresh meal is waiting for me, good luck."

"Don't worry, my luck has always been good, and this time won't be different." Kent Bai hummed, he didn't believe that he could not deal with a woman.

After hanging up the phone, Olive Steele couldn't help but ask, "Kent Bai?"

Except for that guy, she couldn't think of anyone else. Alan Hoyle didn't have many friends, and Kent Bai was one of them.

Alan Hoyle nodded.

Kent Bai had so many girlfriends for so many years, and now he is trapped by a little girl who has not been involved in the world. It should be regarded as retribution." Alan

Olive Steele expressed serious doubts, that man, wouldn't it be playing with that little girl,

"Honey, do you know how to play mahjong?"

Olive Steele was stunned, Mahjong? He was also interested in this popular national quintessence?

"A little bit, but not proficient." Besides, she didn't have time to play that stuff. "Why did you ask about this?"

"Kent Bai said that he wants to take his girlfriend here and have a fight against us, I am thinking, should I train you first? I don't want to lose to that guy."

"Mr. Hoyle, you are boring." Olive Steele grinned. It was an entertainment activity. The two men had to make it as a competition.

However, the woman who can make Kent Bai confused, she was curious about that. She was thinking about whether to develop the girl into her ally and found an opportunity to teach Kent Bai a lesson. He had once teased her, Olive still had remembered that.

After hanging up, Olive Steele looked at the time, "Mrs. Qin, it's just three o'clock, and you still have an hour to arrive at Hengdu. Remember, Alan will wait for you until four o'clock. If you're late, it's done. "

Naturally, Mrs. Qin couldn't wait to rush over, and she forgot to say thank you to her.

Olive Steele didn't care about this. Even if she said the so-called thank you, it was hypocritical. She just breathed a sigh of relief and finally sent the woman away. She didn't know what Alan Hoyle would do. Although the Qin family was not kind, there was no need to push them into desperation.

However, she thought that he did this must for some reason.

As she was about to walk to the elevator, she looked up and saw Mrs. Hoyle standing in front, looking at her indifferently.

"You are pretty good, you can let my son clean up those people who have offended you. It seems that I have to be careful too, I'm not sure when will you let my son do the same thing to me."

Olive Steele had a headache. What's going on here? It seemed that she was the kind of vicious maiden who had revenge.

"Mrs. Hoyle, you can rest assured that your conjectures will never come true." She smiled, crossed Mrs. Hoyle, entered the elevator, and her bitter smile was reflected in the bright mirror.

She wanted to have a relationship with this mother-in-law. She didn't expect to be as close as the normal parents, but at least they could be like an ordinary a mother-in-law and a daughter-in-law, she wanted that there could be some peaceful times when they met. Chloe was so angry and regretted letting this woman in to humiliate Olive's parents like this, "Hey you old witch, you had better pay attention to your words and attitude! If Steele family have ever had any bad intentions to your family, I will immediately ask Olive to break up with you son! Don't think that everyone is as dirty as you or everyone places interest first. "

Called old witch, Mrs. Hoyle's face became extremely gloomy, "Oh you such an uncouth bitch, how can you interrupt when someone else is speaking? "

"I don't need to show my good manners to those assholes, and you're not more educated than me. Don't think that you can play the gangster as long as you have money! " Chloe spat, and her saliva exactly landed on Mrs. Hoyle's face.

Mrs. Hoyle had never been treated like this, so she raised her hand and wanted to slap Chloe.

Although Mr. Steele was crippled, he still reacted quickly at this time. He used his arm to stop Mrs. Hoyle's slap, "Mrs. Hoyle, we are rural guys and were not well-educated, but you are a noble lady, so you had better pay attention to your behavior and words. "

Mrs. Hoyle coldly put her hand down, "Mr. and Mrs. Steele, I will definitely take Alan, and I can't let him stay in this small place all the time, which will ruin his whole life."

Mrs. Steele said, "Mrs. Hoyle, if you want to take your son, we have no objection to that, but please go directly to your son and you don't have to ask us for permission."

"Well, since ten million is too little for you, I can add more, and after you guys leave Luo city, I can also buy you a bigger house than this for you to live in comfortably, and there will be no shortage of cars. " Mrs. Hoyle didn't mean to leave and sat back down comfortably. She believed that no one could resist the temptation of money, and it's just a matter of whether the money you give is enough or not.

"Mom, Chloe is not uneducated or rude, and instead, she lives more authentically than any other woman I've ever met, and so does my sister-in-law. Mom, you should let go of the preconceptions in your mind and get to know them. I haven't seen my brother smile so happily and sincerely for the past five years, but here, with Olive, with his child, he's happy, so why do you have to be so stubborn to break them up? Is Ophelia really that good? She pleases you, but she's hypocritical, unscrupulous and mean-spirited in nature, but sister-in-law and Chloe are kind-hearted, they make their living on their own, they're strong and independent, and I just appreciate them so much. Mom, I'm sorry, I will stand for my brother this time." Aoba spoke his heart out loud this time. Before, he always concerned about his mother's illness, so even if he did not agree with some of her words and actions, he did not dare to confront her directly.

But love was right here and he didn't want to miss it this time.

"I think you've been brainwashed by your brother and those two women! Do you think that if your brother is with that woman, there's hope for you to marry this woman, Chloe?" Mrs. Hoyle covered her chest and questioned him, it really didn't feel good to be betrayed by her son.

"Mom, no matter what, I just want to be with her and marry her. I've been obedient to you for more than twenty years, but this time, I'm going to decide for myself, and I don't want my whole life's marriage to be manipulated by you." Aoba was firm and adamant.

After Mr. Hoyle left, Mr. Steele and Mrs. Steele both sighed, "How troublesome."
