Chapter 431 Draw the Net

Olive looked at him seriously. He didn't go on, but lowered his head and stroked her face, "Girl, we will go back to Jiangcheng next month."

It was not a negotiating tone, and he was not forcing her. She once told him that if his mother didn't accept her, she wouldn't go to Jiangcheng with him. She didn't want to be humiliated again. However, Mrs. Hoyle took the initiative to come to Luo city.

Alan said that with certainty and determination.

So, if they were not there to see Mrs. Hoyle, they were there for something very important.

"Are you ready to draw the net?"

"You are so smart." Alan scraped her nose affectionately. It was time to end it all.

"Are you sure of winning?" Olive knew that she should trust her man. With Kent's help, Alan's had a greater chance to win. However, she was still worried, fearing that unexpected things would pop up.

Alan lay down next to her, with one arm around her, smiling with a bit of sarcasm and confidence, "Don't worry, once I take action against those people, they will have no chance to escape."

After enduring humiliation for so many years, he had got enough evidence to convict Xiao Qutang. He wouldn't give him any chance to stage a comeback. He wanted to cut off all the wings of Xiao Qutang and the possibility to rise from the ashes.

It was said that good and evil must at last have their reward. It was the time for Xiao Qutang to be punished.

"You are amazing." Olive praised him.

Alan was pleased and his desire was stirred up, "Do you want to see something more amazing?"

Chapter 433 He was going to be crazy

It was said that women were narrow-minded, but Olive found that this man was much more narrow-minded than her.

Well, it was she who made him unhappy, so she'd better apologize to him. This childish man would always make her headache.

"Honey, I didn't mean that."

"Then what do you mean?"

"Honey, please don't be so mean to me. I won't do it again. "

"You won't do what?"

"I won't keep any things from you from now on."

"What else?"

"Besides, you will be the first man I ask help for. Without your permission, I won't go to others." Seeing that his expression softened, Olive continued to work hard, "honey, don't be angry, okay? It's not good to your health."

Alan snorted and pointed at his chest. "It hurts."

He admitted he made a fuss about it.

"Honey, calm down."

"I can't! It hurts a lot." Alan sighed slightly and sped up.

"Slow down." Olive shouted.

Gosh! It was more difficult to coax an angry man than a woman.

When they got home, Ada had already been here with Annie for a while. And she succeed in winning father Hoyle and mother Hoyle's hearts. She was now working on a fighting for the territory with Aoba.

Chapter 434 Do you need a reason to like someone?

After getting along with Chloe for a while, she found Chloe was neither hostile nor friendly. She was always quiet, watching them like an outsider.

However, she knew years later Chloe was just judging who she supported. If she supported her mother, Chloe would drive her out at anytime. What was more, Chloe even prepared the broom and it was just placed behind the door.

What a tough woman!

Aoba sat up suddenly. He cried out, "That woman downstairs? Come on, she has her name---Chloe Malan. And someday, she will have my surname!"

"Why do you like her? Cuz she is pretty?" In the point of Ada, Chloe was pretty, but she was not as excellent as Olive.

Rolling his eyes, Aoba said, "I have seen much who are prettier than her, okay?"

"Then why do you like her?" Ada asked again, curiously.

"Do you need a reason to like someone?" Asked Aoba Hoyle.

At the beginning, he couldn't bear to see her suffer and wanted to protect her. Later, he became more attracted to her. Even if she had a bad temper, he felt she was adorable. Sometimes he doubted whether he had the tendency of being abused.

The more she abused him, the more happy he was. If she ignored him, he would be completely depressed, as if being abandoned by the whole world.

"Well, forget it." Unable to get the answer she wanted, Ada Hoyle got up lightly and said, "I'm gonna sleep, stop screaming and shut up! I was nearly scared to death just now!"

Olive turned around slowly and quietly said, "I want to eat human flesh barbecued bun. Should I cut it from your body?"

This girl. Alan chuckled, pulled out a kitchen knife from the shelf and gestured on his bare arm. "Would you like to eat forearm meat or hind leg meat? Or the belly? Up to you."

Olive's face changed a little. Although she knew he was joking, she was really afraid that he would hurt himself accidentally with the sharp knife flashing. That wasn't fun. But her little resentment wasn't easy to be dissipated. Her mouth twitched, "The fat is too greasy, the lean meat is too thick. I like belly meat the most, but it depends on your muscles. If it's not enough to bite, then forget it."

Alan put the knife back where it was and smiled, "Just say it if you don't have the heart. So many excuses."

"Says who? Your meat is too old and hard. I'm afraid it'll knock my teeth, okay?" Olive snorted. She turned to look for food as she was hungry. Even though she had eaten until so full last night, she was squeezed out by him in the end.

But why was there nothing in the fridge except raw meat, vegetables, and a few cans of drinks. The pot was also empty.

Dear mother, had you forgotten your daughter after you had a son-in-law?

Alan warmed a glass of milk for her and said, "Drink this first to stuff your belly a little. After you change your clothes, I'll take you out for a meal to nourish your health."

The word 'nourish' reflected her serious injury. Olive glared at him fiercely. Whose fault was it? Wasn't it him who was the main offender.

"Don't glare me. Your eyeballs are about to fall out. You won't be pretty if they do. Good girl. Let's go out after you drink this. I don't want my baby to starve."

"Baby my ass. Didn't you ignore me last night?" Olive said unkindly. She suffered a lot. She was even sucked dry and exhausted by him until she almost couldn't get up from bed.

"Stupid. I was teasing you."

"Is there anyone teasing like you?" Olive complained, grabbed the glass and drank it straight after a few sips. But when on the last gulp, she accidentally choked on milk and it got into her nose. It was uncomfortable that tears almost slipped out.

Was this what people often said? When someone was being unlucky, they would chocked on water.

Alan hurriedly stroked her back, "Look at you, an adult, yet you're still being rash. No one is stealing it from you."

"Ah!" Olive suddenly shouted as if just thought of something.

Most customers they encountered would calm down when they saw the sincere attitude. But obviously this woman didn't today and her attitude was a bit arrogant, "No. Ask your manager to come out and explain to me."

The other woman who accompanied her also agreed, "I've eaten in so many five-star hotels, and I've never seen anything like yours. Call your manager out now."

There was no room for discussion which attracted the others' attention in the restaurant.

Olive was about to get up, but was held down by Alan. He whispered, "Let's watch first."

Wang Shengsi was alerted right away. A new freshly made food was in his hand, followed by a waiter with a dessert and a fruit. He truly couldn't understand how the catering department, which had always implemented strict standard, would be complained by customers of such low-level errors on after another.

Two arrogant young masters had been sent away, then two spoiled princesses came today. Did he already reached the end for being a restaurant manager and it was time for him to retire?

"I'm really sorry. Due to our mistake, we have made you unhappy. This is our fault. I deeply apologize to both of you. This is a new one and your meal is free for today in addition with fruit and dessert. Will you be satisfied?"

Logically, this measure after the event mainly could calm the guests' anger. But that woman was obviously not the same. She put her hands around her chest and arrogantly said, "What if I say that I'm not satisfied?"

"Then, what do you think we should do?" Wang Shengsi asked back. He was thinking whether he should go to pray. Why did he keep running into such things recently?

The woman in white next to her answered, "Manager, do you think that every time something like this happens, you just use a set of free meal to get rid of the problem? We're not short of money. We spend our money for your absolute standard service. Since you can't meet the five-star standard, don't put on the five stars. This kind of thing has happened one after another, which is really embarrassing."

Of course Wang Shengsi knew that they weren't short of money. Who would come to such luxury place to spend money when they didn't have the money?

These two were obviously not good at doing their things either and deliberately took the chance to cause trouble.

As for this chance, it was the fault of the hotel kitchen itself or it had been touched, but it was worth the scrutiny.

Wang Shengsi naturally could see the problem and Olive could hear it. She even noticed when the red-dressed woman turned her head by accident, her face looked seemingly familiar. But she couldn't instantly think where she had ever seen it.

"When will that be?"

"Soon. Trust dad."

Chloe and Olive's parents were sitting at the back and couldn't help but asked, "Olive, are you really going to Jiangcheng with Alan?"

Olive laughed, "Yes. Why not?"

“You’re looking for a suffering. Alan, being filial is important, I can’t stop you from going back to see your father. Until you haven’t dealt with your mother, can you not pull in Olive and the child? They’ve suffered enough for you and they need to go to your house to be humiliated?” Chloe sounded a little emotion when she was saying this.

Alan said, “I think you should go with Aoba to witness something together.”

“What do you mean?” Chloe didn’t react for a short while.

Olive’s parents also looked at him nervously.

He casually said, “Good will be rewarded with good, and evil with evil, if the reward isn’t forthcoming, it’s because the time hasn’t come yet, when the time comes, no one can escape.”

At this moment, Olive’s phone rang. She glanced at the caller Id, then turned to hand it to Chloe, “It’s Aoba, must be for you.”

“Too lazy to answer.” Her own phone was turned off because she knew he would be looking for her. She didn’t want to see him now, she wanted to fight with him when she saw him. In order to avoid it, she had to avoid seeing him.

Olive reluctantly had to put her phone next to her ear, “What’s wrong, Aoba?”

On the other end of the phone, Aoba’s anxious voice came, “Sis-in-law, is Chloe with you guys?”

“Yes. Don’t worry. We’re on the way home now.”

Hearing that she was with them, Aoba felt a little relieved, “Is she really upset?”

Olive smiled, “Not really. Just flatter her with a few words when you come back.”

Chloe glared at her, “Olive, I won’t let you go if you say one more thing.”

Olive made a gesture of surrender, “Okay, I’m not talking with you anymore. If not, someone will kill me and I still cherish my life.”

Ada walked out of the show and saw a wandering figure on the side of the road. She skipped over and patted him on the shoulder, “Why didn’t you chase your woman?”

"When will that be?"

"Soon. Trust dad."

Chloe and Olive's parents were sitting at the back and couldn't help but asked, "Olive, are you really going to Jiangcheng with Alan?"

Olive laughed, "Yes. Why not?"

"You're looking for a suffering. Alan, being filial is important, I can't stop you from going back to see your father. Until you haven't dealt with your mother, can you not pull in Olive and the child? They've suffered enough for you and they need to go to your house to be humiliated?" Chloe sounded a little emotion when she was saying this.

Alan said, "I think you should go with Aoba to witness something together."

"What do you mean?" Chloe didn't react for a short while.

Olive's parents also looked at him nervously.

He casually said, "Good will be rewarded with good, and evil with evil, if the reward isn't forthcoming, it's because the time hasn't come yet, when the time comes, no one can escape."

At this moment, Olive's phone rang. She glanced at the caller Id, then turned to hand it to Chloe, "It's Aoba, must be for you."

"Too lazy to answer." Her own phone was turned off because she knew he would be looking for her. She didn't want to see him now, she wanted to fight with him when she saw him. In order to avoid it, she had to avoid seeing him.

Olive reluctantly had to put her phone next to her ear, "What's wrong, Aoba?"

On the other end of the phone, Aoba's anxious voice came, "Sis-in-law, is Chloe with you guys?"

"Yes. Don't worry. We're on the way home now."

Hearing that she was with them, Aoba felt a little relieved, "Is she really upset?"

Olive smiled, "Not really. Just flatter her with a few words when you come back."

Chloe glared at her, "Olive, I won't let you go if you say one more thing."

Olive made a gesture of surrender, "Okay, I'm not talking with you anymore. If not, someone will kill me and I still cherish my life."

Ada walked out of the show and saw a wandering figure on the side of the road. She skipped over and patted him on the shoulder, "Why didn't you chase your woman?"

Aoba didn't answer her, "You're done?"

"Almost. I could leave the

He took the chance to pull her and let her fall into his embrace, "If I'm a ghost, then you're Mrs. Ghost."

Chloe struggled, "You want to report to Hades, but I still don't want to go. Get up, your sister is looking for you."

Aoba refused to let go, leaning on her skin, "You don't?"

He had laid on the hard floor all night that his back ached.

“Okay, okay. I’m looking for you. I’m looking for you to go down for breakfast.” Chloe was rarely being patient. She was being nice after seeing him protecting her before his mom yesterday and being pitiful, waiting for nothing all night at the roof.

Knowing that she did it to just satisfy her, Aoba still felt happy and followed her downstairs. As soon as he entered the Steele’s house, he saw his sister kissing up to their eldest brother to design a wedding dress for sister-in-law.

“I promise that the wedding dress I design will satisfy you both and it’s free.”

In order to achieve this goal, Ada raised her hand and swore, but Alan obviously didn’t care show consideration for his younger sister’s business.

“Just say it, you want to use our wedding to promote your brand. What a good planning.”

Ada tee-heed and didn’t deny her little idea. Instead of spending manpower, material and financial resources to advertise her own brand, it was better to let this pair of living signboard lovers who were finally together after hard work wear her company’s wedding dress.

She didn’t think her eldest brother would cause sis-in-law to feel wronged. At that time, it would be the most luxurious wedding of the century and they were a well-known couple, so the wedding dress she designed would certainly be popular too.

But these weren’t all the reasons. More importantly, she wanted to give them a gift.

Her eldest brother didn’t lack anything. As long as it was anything he could buy with money, so long it was what he wanted, there was nothing he couldn’t get. So, rare and exotic treasures were not worth mentioning to him. After thinking about it, she could only give full play to her own specialty, personally designing and sewing wedding gown to present it for sister-in-law who brought laughter to her brother.

But obviously, her brother underestimated her skills.
