

Innocent Wife 471

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 471: The Counterfeiter

When Kim smiled like this, other Kent's subordinates also laughed with joy, looking at this man named Brother Kevin sympathetically. This was the end of the world for Kevin because he dared to do bad things in public by ruining Boss Bai's reputation.

Kevin felt scared because of their laughter. "What are you laughing at?"

Kent snorted coldly. "They're laughing at the fact that you've overreached yourself and you dared to ruin my reputation."

Kevin gasped. "I ruined your reputation? You..."

Kim said scornfully to Kevin. "Look at such a short-sighted man as you, and you even pretended to be one of the Boss's subordinates, while we don't have any stupid Brothers like you."

"Exactly." Other Kent's subordinates looked down on Kevin as they didn't take him seriously.

"You've ruined Boss's reputation, so please watch how he will punish you."

Unexpectedly, Kevin didn't believe them. Instead, he asked. "If you are Boss Bai, how can you prove yourself? Don't think you have a lot of subordinates, so you can say things like that on purpose to fool me since I don't get fooled as easily as a three-year-old."

"Did I deceive you on purpose? You're so stubborn, and I'm not going to prove it to you now." When Kent said these words with a sneer, a kernel popped up between his fingers and hit Kevin between his eyebrows. Kevin felt pain, frowning, and then he involuntarily touched where he's been hit with his hand.

"Who the fuck hit me." Kevin snarled.

Kent had a gun in his hand, and he twirled the gun skillfully with his finger. "I hit you. Why, are you also trying to hit me?"

Kevin pulled a gun out of his pocket, shot it quickly through the ceiling, and pointed the gun at Kent. "Do you think you're the only one with the gun?"

The boss of KTV let out a cold sweat because the gun was really capable of killing people, so if Kevin accidentally shot someone in the body with the gun, his KTV would not be able to continue its business. What bad luck did he have today? He's ready to cry.

If he was to run such a place and keep the KTV safely open, he would need reliable contacts in both the government and the Mafia, while the boss of KTV had reliable contacts, but it's nothing compared to Kent or Alan's power.

Kevin was no match for Kent or Alan, but Kevin just didn't realize this. Perhaps Kevin already knew, but he was too proud to admit it, and he was only pretending as best he could.

had a gun, how could he beat the huge power behind Kent? Therefore, Kevin seriously even though Kevin had a gun. Kent smiled, but his eyes seemed to shoot sharply at Kevin. "Tell me, is your gun faster, or is my of the man in front of him, while he felt as if he was cold all over his body. Kent looked like before him really be huge influence in every corner, Boss Bai couldn't manage every detail. That was why Kevin dared to pretend to be the subordinate of Boss Bai, so he could bluff and bully others by using Boss Bai's him, so he thought he was lucky enough and told himself not to panic but to be calm. Maybe the gun in Kent's hand was a fake since Kent was just handle of the gun. He was even more scared than before, so between his fingers, disdainful of Kevin's threatening words. "Are you so confident?"

a sinister gang

the sinister gang, and you're not going to survive, while I advise you to get out when I'm still in a good

Boss Bai is never so easy to reveal his identity to others, and Boss Bai is never you." Alan came out of the shadows because he had no patience to watch Kent play with his face was familiar to Kevin.

The news about the Hoyle family and the Meyer family as well as the relationship between Alan and Kent were all hot. It's so his face was pale, while he told himself that he was as blind as a bat. There were so many people in the private box that he didn't see one dared to act recklessly, except Kent, who dared to act recklessly in he accidentally put himself in a dilemma, and now he knew why the boss of KTV kept winking at eagerly, and worked seamlessly together. Alan's face was familiar to almost every gangster here, so there was a look of horror on almost who were as blind as a bat. They're stupid, so they're the ones who sent Kevin to hell.

to him but did not go of the topic, but their voices were a little evasive, while they dared out of fear, so they defected immediately. These gangsters began to appear to be righteous and spoke.

"Brother Kevin, we were willing to

"Yes, that's right..."

didn't really mean honor to meet you and called was Kent. Kevin's face was pale since more and more gangsters were turning against that these flatterers were just afraid that he might kill them. They were always reminding you as he was with good intentions, but you still ignored the boss of KTV? It's not a good thing that you're too cocky and you can't just rely on a gun

Chapter 473: Jealousy

The present that Olive had prepared for Kent was actually very simple, which was Janetta Wen.

While in the state of being drunk, she went to the bathroom again with the excuse of her stomach swelling with alcohol. She quietly called Janetta, which seemed to be effective.

She asked Janetta whether she knew that today was Kent's birthday. Janetta said she didn't know and Olive had a right guess.

Kent was a low-profile person and didn't like to show his true self in public, but getting to know him better, she found that he was actually quite arrogant, yet he was still somewhat restrained in front of Janetta.

It was probably like: every item had a weakness.

Janetta said to her, "Olive, before I knew you, I thought he wasn't a good person, so I rejected him. After I knew you, I tried to understand him and be not so resistant in his approaching. I found that he does have his charm and I'm attracted to him. But, in the past two days, there's rumor that his identity and background are high. It's simply out of reach from my life. A person like him has met countless people and seen thousands of beautiful women. I don't understand why he likes me—I'm neither beautiful nor do I have a good body. I'm the kind of person who will be drowned when thrown into a crowd. He can find a more compatible woman. For a person like him, won't it be better to find a woman who is helpful to his career? To him, I'm nothing and unhelpful. I can't figure out why he still likes me when it's such an obvious disadvantage."

Olive chuckled after listening to her. It turned out that this lady was frightened by his identity and lost her confidence.

Actually, it was unavoidable. There were always times to worry about personal gains and losses in love. There was too much odds between the two, which made people feel that what they had wasn't that real. For example, her former self.

"At first, my man didn't even know what I looked like, but he still looked for me for five years. So, feelings aren't based on appearance and birth conditions, but on whether it touches your heart. If it touches, he can't stop himself. You have to believe that no matter how ordinary a person is, they're still shining. You must have touched his heart, or he won't be so hard chasing after you. A man like him no longer needs a woman to increase his worth. For him, your existence has the effect of peace and honesty of mind. We're celebrating his birthday now, but he keeps mentioning you that it almost annoys me. He said I keep giving you a lot of works that you don't even have time to date. See how unjust he treats me."

Janetta shyly said, "I'm the one who asked for overtime."

"Trust me, his feelings for you are real. If talking about status gap, Alan and I aren't so far off." When a person is in doubt, they actually needed an advice from others, or Janetta would talk to her this much.

Perhaps these words worked. After Towhead broke into the private room and made a mess, and while waiting for Kevin Reed, Olive received a message after three missed calls due to the noise in the private room.

Janetta wrote, "Olive, I want to meet him, but I can't get through his phone. Where are you guys?"

They were far. Not to mention thousands of miles, but it also took time. It wasn't as simple as in Luo City.

But it wasn't that difficult. Wasn't she had someone who was capable of anything next to her? She could just look for him.

to Jiangcheng. In the early morning, she stood at the front door of to Hoyle's residence early in the morning to pick up his baby girl to Disney, everyone didn't plan to go back to the villa on the mountain and his mother and wouldn't enter his home. Sometimes she couldn't bear it, but her man asked her to so that everyone could be happy. Not only they could save themselves, she was being patient to be a savior. She couldn't bear to be in the top.

Janetta was acting hesitant in front of the door. She stretched out her hand a few times and it fell down before reaching the door. After and it was only six. He woke up in displeased and walked towards the door with half-squinted eyes. He didn't even have a shirt on, only wearing a pair of boxer. "Are you guys excited or something? Why do you guys see the person in front of him clearly, Kent was didn't know that Tiana was rubbing her eyes and staggered out from behind him. Her messy long hair and red face caused Janetta's head to that he would do herself into his arms and stared at him blankly for several seconds. With sorrow open arms fell down. He still didn't know what happened and the woman who had haunted his dream all night suddenly appeared and ran away again, not a tiger and he didn't know how Janetta came to Jiangcheng, he understood what mysterious present Olive said last night. His strong heart was indeed pleasantly surprised. But what greeted him next was Janetta's angry me personally came to look for him, there was no way he would let go. His two arms hugged her tightly and he kissed her forehead, "I won't."

"Janetta!"

him. In fit of anger, she lowered

But with all her strength, she bit his muscle like she was about to tear it and he finally had to let go.

was afraid of the pain, but afraid that she would break her teeth if she continued to do so.

at this magnificent room. Still in a dazed state for a while, she stared at the back of a strange man in front of her and absentmindedly asked, "Where... is this?"

her. He understood and was happy for a moment. But when he looked back, Janetta had already run far explanation, he able to bring his girlfriend too and flaunted happiness elevator. He just missed for a second, but she already her to run away. With she was stopped. "Ms. Janetta Wen, please

Two men. Each of them held on to that this was Kent's antics. His power was far greater than her imagination, as if he

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 474: His Best Friend's Betrayal

Children from the Hoyle Family had their own talents. For example, Alan was good at business, Aoba could draw without a teacher, and when Ada was twelve, she knew how to design a beautiful little dress for herself.

And Annie seemed to be an all-rounder. As long as it was something she wanted to learn, there was nothing she couldn't do. Except for ABCD.

She said, "I haven't study Chinese well yet, so why ask me to study English?"

Olive was an easygoing person. If her daughter wasn't interested, she wouldn't force her. She thought that the child was still too young and her temperament was unstable. Happiness is the most important. Children's interests would change as they watched. What you hated now didn't mean you wouldn't like it in the future.

But Alan was a little worried. He wanted to pass on his business to this child. It wouldn't work if she didn't master a few foreign languages. It seemed that she needed more guidance.

Return to Kent Bai who locked Janetta in a room. This time, wrapped in a robe, he heard the sound of smashing things inside when he walked to the door. He couldn't help but laughed. This girl usually always acted gentle with others, but she was so emotional with him.

What Janetta was thinking was this hotel belonged to that bastard anyway and she had kindly come in overnight to celebrate his birthday, but looked at him, he had a night out with other woman instead. Anyways, these were his things. It would be a shame not to break them. Who asked him to lock her here.

Kent stood outside the door and let her smash things. He only walked in after she vented to the point her energy was drained and her movement stopped.

"Are you happy now?"

Janetta leaned against the window, trying to climb over it. "Don't come over."

Kent's face shifted slightly, "Janetta, let me explain."

Janetta covered her ears and shook her head, "I don't want to, I don't want to."

"Janetta, you're jealous," Kent said confidently, smiling like a victory.

"Don't call my name. You're disgusting." Janetta glared at him. She admitted that she was a little jealous, but she was hurt more. She felt like she was cheated by this bastard.

"Janetta, you've misunderstood me. I have completely no relationship with that woman. If there is, it was because someone wanted to drug her last night and I just saved her. Liam likes her and I just want to bring them together. I definitely didn't do anything." Whether she listened or not, this explanation was necessary. And he believed that she didn't really close her ears.

Women liked to say anything, but meant another. Sometimes he found it cute.

"I don't believe you," she pressed each word.

their boss? Don't I even have this moral?" This woman didn't believe him

"Don't talk with me about moral. You're the most immoral person in the world. In order to get what you want, you use all kinds of despicable methods to force others doing things you don't bias

your man fell for that woman, so you gave her to your man as you wish. Did you ask her if she was willing? What else can you do besides forcing people?"

to her amidst Janetta's emotional outburst and hugged her with a pull, "Janetta, from what you just said, I flattery or couldn't get scoundrel, you

Janetta didn't answer him and twisted her body vigorously around his arms,

Early in the morning was when a man's hormone was at its peak. The warm sensation of touched skin sparked a reaction out of his "Use your words and don't move."

of alcohol which hadn't completely dissipated from last night. She felt something hard pressing against her abdomen. At became much more honest, but she still refused to face him. Kent took a deep of gravity and subconsciously hold on his Kent smiled and said, "Of course to down," Janetta kicked the air.

do that." Kent used brute force to hold her down. Her strength when she exploded wasn't like I don't have my hands and feet. I can walk by myself."

hugging her and refused to put her down. He kept carrying her back to his room.

whole sequence. She was lucky she was rescued by good people from a group of hooligans, otherwise she didn't to disrespect her. Her fiancé sat next to her and a man usually would come forward at this moment, but this man, who said he she married such man, she would have no sense of security in the future. Her named Liam once said to her, "Drew Martin isn't

She never thought she would be this unfortunate.

about Drew's hidden inferiority, but she just refused to admit it. Now that she thought about it, her parents' opposition from the beginning may had been because they already saw through that Drew Martin wasn't a reliable person.

up was inevitable.

the knife for her on the plane and bandaged her wound, suddenly appeared in front of her. Before she could say anything about this surprise, the you like. It's up to you whether you can seize the chance."

said that, he turned around end of his ears. He hadn't even sure yet with his feelings, but his boss had always talks like that, don't mind him. I know you have a boyfriend. Don't worry, I won't do anything to you. That time on the plane, you were braver than any other women, even

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 475: The Door Has Ears

If a look could kill people, Kent really wanted to kill Alan with his eyes and sew his mouth. What kind of brother was he who screwed him up in critical moment?

“Hey, are you trying to help me or kill me?”

“I just kindly remind you, don’t leave a woman in your own place easily, lest you’re really innocent, but still let another woman misunderstand you. This is a love taboo. You even said you want to match your men and built a marriage company. You’re an unqualified boss. If to reach 100 points in love, you can’t even handle the woman you like and come to bother me early in the morning—you don’t even get 50 points. Don’t be embarrassing here. Get out.”

Alan yelled and slammed the door shut, but behind the door, an intrigued smile appeared at the corner of his mouth.

The ear-piercing voice frightened Janetta. She hadn’t fully digested the meaning of his words, and her head was in a state of confused.

And behind her, Tiana, who was accompanied by Liam, stood one meter away. “Ms. Janetta, don’t take this wrong. Mr. Bai is a good person. I was drugged by bad guys last night, I’m afraid it would be impossible for me to escape if it wasn’t for Mr Bai, and Mr. Mrs. Hoyle. Mr. Bai did take me in, but I can guarantee that nothing happened last night. We slept in our own room. Really.”

Janetta turned and stared at the woman in front of her. She was much prettier than her. She was the type of woman who would ask her to quickly leave Kent Bai. “It’s not that I don’t believe you, but I don’t believe him.”

“Are you contradicting yourself?” Kent sighed inwardly. It was really hard to understand a woman’s mind. How could he not notice before?

In the past, he only thought that they were simple creatures. Their eyes turned green seeing money, branded clothes, all kinds of jewelry and bags. They weren’t ambitious and daydreamed, and they had to ask men to give them things.

Since Olive Steele appeared, then Janetta Wen broke into his world. His view and valued had gradually subverted.

Janetta Wen was a temperamental woman. In front of him, she looked more like an untamable little wild cat.

At first, he was thinking to tame her down, then he thought for a while. Wasn’t it because of her personality now that he became attracted towards this woman who was neither beautiful nor gentle? So, he felt that he was actually quite permissive to her many times. A treatment that those women in the past never had.

He used to think that Alan spoiled his wife and daughter too much. He didn't act like a man. Now thinking about it, it was actually quite a happy moment to spoil the woman you liked. At least, his intention made her take the initiative to look for him. That was a pleasant surprise, wasn't it?

Although this surprise instantly turned into a misunderstanding, after a double explanation, this little wildcat still ignored him. She even stomped his feet hard and glared at him, "Shut your mouth.

her mouth in delight. Ever since the day Kent Bai became Boss your clothes. I've squeezed the toothpaste for you ears pressing to the door and refused to leave, listen?" Alan turned and rubbed her face with his stubble that had Olive shrank and dodged, "Stop. It tickles."

to

she

her face slowly turning red, then satisfyingly let go

I'm going." Olive slipped out from Alan followed her until the bathroom with a bright smile. She washed and brushed her teeth while he door, it was up to them to clear it themselves. Loyalty and trust were necessary in love. If these two couldn't be achieved, even if two people were together, they would face made Olive can't help to stand on her tiptoes and put her foamy lips on his why are you

"Is it bad?" Alan burst with joy from being praised by his own wife.

around his neck and pretended to be thinking, "I was thinking... Was I just bewitched by your face back then? I didn't know anything about you, so how didn't know what your name was, where you lived, and I just fell into your little fox's vixen?" Olive reached out to pinch her her hands off and smiled, "I mean, we're soulmates. We can still be together after being apart for so many years. I'm very lucky and eyes at him, wiped her face with a washcloth, lucky and happy. Not everyone could be that playful. Telling her to come here, thousands of miles only be either Kent had Olive's backing and pretending to be refined or it was just a misunderstanding this order to save himself. At that moment, I wanted to die. But I can't. I tell myself that I need to live on, escaping the devil's clutches. Fortunately, I met Mr. Bai at that time and they saved me, otherwise my life would be ruined. Mr. Bai is a good man and he didn't take advantage of me. I'll say something and don't let it get to your heard—from outside, I admit that I'm prettier than you, but Mr. Bai hasn't glanced at me since the beginning. That's because you live

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 476: Unloading Her Heart

At first, she dodged, trying to break free of his hold, but she still broke into laughter in the end after his attack that she had to ask for mercy, "Tickle, hahaha. Kent Bai, stop, please. Hahaha..."

Kent stopped temporarily, but his fingers were ready for next round of attack. He threatened, "Say you believe me and I'll let you go. If not, I'll tie you to the headboard and make you laugh until nightfall."

Janetta snorted, "Why should I believe you? Don't think you can get rid of your suspicion after you have two back-ups."

There was certainly a good distance between their faces, but he suddenly leaned down, leaving a few millimeters. Hot breath hit her face. Kent smiled and said, "Why do I hear like you actually care about me?"

Her mind was being poked and Janetta was stunned. Her hands were still locked and she wasn't able to move or avoid his face. She could only turn her face away and purposely didn't look at him, "Don't be so narcissistic here."

"I am because I'm confident that I can get into your heart."

"Of course, 'cause you're a womanizer. From ten-year-old girls to eighteen-year-old teenagers, to young women in their aunties, to aunties in their fifty, and old women in their eighties—they all worship you."

"Oh, my." Kent let go of her hands and dropped next to her, lying on his side and sniffing hard on her neck. He was smiling like a succeeded fox, "Why do I smell something like jealousy? Can you smell it?"

"Your nose is broken." After regaining her freedom, she immediately bounced away, trying to keep a safe distance from him.

Unexpectedly, his arm shot out faster than she could escape. She was pulled back to him in an instant with one leg tightly pressed hers.

Kent buried his head deep into her neck, "Girl, hurry up and say that you believe this old man, or this old man will reward you with ten fingers magic."

"What's the use forcing me to say that? It's because you're like this that I still can't fully trust you yet."

threaten her to leave him. They would even corner her in an alley with their friends. It could be seen how absurd his life that they hadn't reached his temper and stared at her with a dangerous gaze. "It seems that my little Janetta really wants to taste my ten fingers magic."

turned over again. Janetta felt something and couldn't avoid his fingers no matter where stop. I freaking hate into love. Say you believe me and I may think around on the bed, but couldn't escape

"Then I have to work harder..." Kent dragged, showing his teeth and she hid to the wrong direction. She buried her head this continued, she was either laughing to death or tickled to death that her stomach hurt.

Kent didn't let her go because of this and started to creep into her sensitive areas more, "I feel no sincerity there."

without tears, shrinking and hiding deeper in his arms. She finally hugged believe you, okay?" Janetta gasped. She wanted both laugh and not, both cry and not. Even her voice had changed.

and Kent Bai looked at her seriously, "Truly?"

she was willing to try,

Janetta turned over and laid on her back, breathing heavily. "I finally make decision. Fine if you don't believe me."

hand reached to push away her messy hair on her cheek. "I really don't know what to do with you."

covered with beads of sweat, soaking the tips of her hair. She wasn't fair-skinned, being quiet and still, as if the tug-of-war just now consumed her energy too much. She just stared at him with a pair of bright eyes.

sound. His legs still pressed against her, even angling her body in his lingered by her side since the day they met. It was like a nightmare, but at this moment, she suddenly felt

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 477: Kent Bai's Past

Janetta shook her head and squeezed out a bitter smile, "I'm not saying this to make you sympathize me and be my charity. I just want to tell you that I don't want an unfaithful man and take my mother's old path. Maybe, I have what they called a love phobia."

Kent's face changed slightly and his brows were furrowed. She just said that she would try to trust him and he had been making changes for her. How could it changed in an instant?

"Then you mean, you still don't want to be with me?"

"If I don't, will you let me go?"

answered easily.

your question changes I've made for you." Even if Alan Hoyle was laughing at him, the love

So I'm willing family after marriage. And a man who followed the rules before marriage wasn't it. Those who have done bad things are extremely valuable after changing. Janetta, touched. "Don't say that too early and too full of yourself. An oath is just a light words, and people's hearts are easily changing. Back then, that man had vowed to grow old with my mother, but he betrayed her after a few years, even forcing my mother to a divorce with no bits of mercy. Until the day she died, she still kept the love letters that man gave to her when he pursued her. She had a basket of sweet talks and there were a lot of vows, but they were all lies and jokes in the end. I won't love as selfless as my mother. So, Kent Bai, there's only one chance for my love. Before today, I don't want to care how many women you had, nor can I care. But, after today, I hope you can treat me wholeheartedly. And don't find any excuses for work or whatever, that was how that man lied to my mother. I don't like that. So, if you want to keep me by your side, don't let me catch held her hand and lightly kissed her lips.

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 478: A woman's mind is really hard to guess

Supported by Alan, Olive smiled at Kent, who looked like he's trying to breathe fire and kill people. "Boss Bai, you left your door open, so you can't blame us for coming in without knocking. Look at you two that you are so close now, and it seems that there is no need for me to help you to explain the misunderstanding between you. Congratulations, Boss Bai, you have made progress."

"You go away." Their intimate conversation was interrupted, so in Kent's mind, he felt very angry but had nowhere to vent.

But Alan and Olive were still standing there, as they had no intention of leaving.

Olive pursed her lips. "What an integrate, and don't you ever think about who brought Janetta here?"

Kent's face darkened at the mention of this. "Do you have the face to mention this? Janetta is coming here, but you didn't give me a warning."

"Why should we give you a warning in advance? Or are you guilty of trying to cover up your crime in advance, because you have done something bad that no one ever knows about?" Olive was deliberately provoking him.

Kent snorted. "I'm honest, and I've already practiced morality, so I don't feel guilty at all."

Olive sat down on the bed and shoved Kent out of the bed. "You look like a ruffian, and you can't wait a minute, so is that what you call practicing morality? Don't freak Janetta out."

"Sister Olive....." Janetta blushed so much that she couldn't raise her head. She was so young and new to sex that she was shy, and her voice was as low as a mosquito.

As Kent looked at his woman, Janetta who wanted to bury herself in a hole in the ground with shame, he ruthlessly stared at Alan. "You don't take care of your woman? You get her out of here."

Alan raised an eyebrow, taking his wife's side, and choosing to ignore Kent's words. "Janetta will be yours sooner or later, so you don't have to be so eager."

Kent said through gritted teeth. "You're a slave to your wife."

"I believe that you will be as happy as me to become a slave to your wife soon." Alan teased him in a good mood.

"I wouldn't....." Kent just said these words and then immediately shut up. Kent suddenly realized this was a big trap, but the most depressed was that he has jumped into this trap. People who fell in love actually had a lower IQ, as he had no idea that he was so clever that he would suddenly be successfully framed by Alan and Olive.

Olive was just acting like kicking people when they're down. "Gee, Janetta, if you stay with a man like Kent, you need to think about it carefully, because he's so macho that you're going to obey him in the future. You'll lose a lot, or you'd better not stay with him."

"Janetta, don't listen to her nonsense. This woman has no good heart because she can't bear to see anyone happier than she is." Olive tried to hurt him, so let's hurt each other, damn it.

"Sister Olive is not like that." Janetta was no fool, as Sister Olive has been encouraging her to have a brave try, so how could Sister Olive not have a good heart? Sister Olive was trying to help her to be with a legitimate status.

Kent's face darkened. "Janetta, how can you speak for an outsider?"

your wife now." Olive looked at Kent with a forced smile, reminding him of me." Kent pulled Janetta out of bed and he has always been hoped someone would say this, so that he could make Janetta his woman once and for all, binding her with a paper of marriage.

you doing?" Janetta couldn't keep pace with him for a moment, while he his arms around her waist easily. "I want to make you my legitimate wife now, so Olive wouldn't have to chew all that stuff in front of

Are you letting Janetta be with you without a legitimate status? You have the power to keep Janetta from getting away, but if you ever get tired of Janetta, she's just a rag if you dump her since Janetta was just a weak woman with no power, so have your ID card and hukou book?"

but why do you want my hukou book?" In Janetta's mind, she was with him with a legitimate status as from school and didn't know what documents to prepare for marriage.

put his finger on her forehead, and there was a hint of doting in his look. "I usually think you're like you, so nickname of silly girl because of Kent. He put his arm in front of her, and then he motioned she was supposed to respond. Looking for a stable life should be what she wanted most, while like a kind of very not early at all. When my Grandfather

"That's your Grandfather

so if I don't have kids soon, Alan is going to be a Grandfather. Besides, when my Grandmother her eyes hard, and no one dared to chase a girl like Kent, so it's a blushed to the tip of her ears. "If you wrist, looking at his watch. They had plans for the day, so Cried Kent, feeling displeased. "How did I flirt with her? I was romantically in you, you have to ask her if she wants to marry you." Alan warned Kent, who was Kent immediately clung to Janetta. "Janetta, silly girl, you will Janetta said after a moment of hesitation. "It would be too hasty for me to decide now, for I must test you for some time, and after you have passed my test, I shall decide whether I want to marry you or not."

she suddenly career in life was to marry a good man, but not all do this to me." Kent felt so depressed that he had nowhere to talk about it. For he had dug out his heart and soul to way to control him? A woman's mind determined, he knew he couldn't get her to marry him right now, so he had to reluctantly it and said. "Just a year."

was young, so a year was not much time for her. If this man was worthy of her love, she would eventually be state what he can and cannot do." Olive was there to advise her.

that don't make it any worse."

"If women don't help women, the devil will take the hindmost." Olive

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 479: Should Annie share Alan's last name or Olive's last name

"Don't worry, because you'll have plenty of opportunities to see my old room in the future." Alan said slowly.

Olive glared at him. "That's your Mom, so how long are you going to keep her like this? Don't overdo it."

It's like Alan didn't care about his own business, but Olive was worried about him very much because Olive didn't want Alan to have a reputation for being unfilial. Besides, Mrs. Hoyle was too lonely to be alone.

Of course, Mrs. Hoyle didn't need her sympathy, but she felt like she couldn't do something so heartless, such as asking Alan to break off the relationship with Mrs. Hoyle.

"Don't worry, because I have my own plan." It's not that he's hard-hearted as he just wanted to be done once and for all.

The contradiction between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law was an eternal topic, and the knowledge here was too deep. Everyone knew that a happy family meant wealth, but while he knew Olive wouldn't pick a quarrel, he couldn't be sure that Mrs. Hoyle wouldn't pick a quarrel.

Now it was because he had a step to walk down, but Mrs. Hoyle only loved her granddaughter, Annie, who was once disliked by Mrs. Hoyle. Therefore, for Annie's sake, Mrs. Hoyle suddenly showed a little mercy to Olive, but Mrs. Hoyle didn't necessarily accept Olive with all her heart. What he wanted was for his Mom to be able to let go of all her prejudices, opening her heart to Olive and Annie.

"If my guesses were right, my Mom wouldn't have let Annie come back with us today."

As Mrs. Hoyle took Annie to Disney World early in the morning, Mrs. Hoyle just wanted to get away from them, because they're here to pick up Annie. He could guess exactly what Mrs. Hoyle was thinking.

Sure enough, when he called Mrs. Hoyle, telling her that he wanted to pick up Annie, Mrs. Hoyle didn't hesitate to say. "When are you going to change Annie's last name?"

"Change Annie's last name?" Alan frowned deeply since it was a real headache.

He knew that this would be the first problem once Mrs. Hoyle accepted her little granddaughter, Annie, but since he had promised the Steele family so readily, he couldn't go back on his promise. However, he may not be able to convince Mrs. Hoyle so easily, and maybe Mrs. Hoyle would take it out on Olive.

"You're dating Olive, so do you still want your daughter to share her grandfather's last name?"
Sometimes Mrs. Hoyle thought she had no idea what her son was thinking.

Since he wanted to be with Olive, she acquiesced from the moment she learned the truth, but that didn't mean she's allowed to not change Annie's last name.

"Mom, didn't you say you wouldn't let Annie be included in the family tree of the Hoyle family? Since you don't want Annie to be included in the family tree of the Hoyle family, why do you need to change Annie's last name?"

of their lives. Without their tolerance to accept and care for the child, he was afraid that Olive would be more difficult because Olive didn't get married but was pregnant, while Annie couldn't be lost her breath. She was wrong, and wasn't elder, she could not bow her head and say that she was wrong since it would be very do you have to go against your up sons to support parents in their old age, but why did her sons forget their want his mother, but it's just that he couldn't be ungrateful because Olive's parents and that's not going to change because it's my compensation to Olive and the Steele family."

child, who belongs to the Hoyle family, the same last name as "The Steele family is not the other family. Let's not forget that Annie was brought up by the Steele family." He knew that even though Mrs. Hoyle accepted Annie, she still didn't think of Olive as part of her family, and if she thought of Olive as part of her family, she wouldn't talk like didn't want Annie, but now she finally found the advantages of Annie, so she wanted Annie back. What he hated most about his Mom was is not the biological daughter of the Steele family, so the Hoyle family can compensate the Steele family with a huge amount of money....."

know that Olive's parents don't care about the money, because they live

Alan. "Well, since the Steele family is so perseverant and determined, Annie, the child of the Steele family, will not be able to inherit any of wanted to threaten Alan with this, she underestimated her son too much. What's more, the Hoyle's Group was now in charge of him, so if he wanted to leave the Hoyle's Group to Annie, no one could stop have. As for the Hoyle's Group, her heart. "Have you planned this all that I planned it, but that you have gradually brought it to this point, starting with your

Do you blame your mother? So now you punish your mother in this way, right?" Mrs. Hoyle had no outlet for her anger because she knew she had gone too far, but didn't mother, her good intentions were taken as evil by him, so how could she not be angry? And even if he didn't approve of her, could he not understand that, hadn't he? He said he was afraid of being discovered by the enemy, but if that's what Olive meant. In her opinion, Olive has grown into a very sophisticated woman compared to the simple woman five or six years ago. Now that Olive was so calm, even though she had met a lot of people, she couldn't see through Olive, so she thought

Since Olive could keep Alan from forgetting her, how could Olive be worse mother, but by Mrs. Hoyle's nature, if he gave her a little hope for something, she would stick with him, while he didn't like the name was, Annie was her granddaughter. If she thought of Annie as someone else's child just because Annie shared Olive's last name, he to the Steele family, and they are closer to each other than blood relatives. Annie is the child you never wanted, but she is a treasure to the Steele family. They had only one child, Olive, so they had only one hope, Annie, while the Hoyle Family still has Aoba and Ada, as their children so much, you and Olive a difficult labor and was bleeding heavily, so she almost died on the operating table. I'm not going to put her through that again, so Annie will be my only you mean to make me die of angry? You....." In a rage, Mrs. Hoyle slapped the phone against the wall, disintegrating it and dropping it to the ground like a mutilated corpse.

did she do wrong? Would she have done it years

Chapter 480 Annie Changed Her Surname

The old lady admitted that Olive Steele was not so simple of a woman.

This woman managed to capture her son's heart. However, one year's care had outweighed her upbringing for so many years. Mrs. Hoyle was extremely uncomfortable.

The discomfort gave her trouble sleeping. She felt that her son would leave her.

She didn't know that she would hate Olive Steele this much. When she split them up, she felt that she was successful. She had to do this in order to get some support from the Meyers. Moreover, she always felt that Olive Steele's background was not worthy of her excellent son, but apart from this, it seemed that she couldn't find any other shortcoming.

Especially, after several positive contacts with Olive Steele, some understanding, and the fact that Olive Steele saved her once, she felt that she finally had a soft corner for Olive Steele.

Her heart was conflicted between a constant suspicion and self-persuasion. When she woke up the next day, she had a dark circle under her eyes.

"Ma'am, did you sleep well last night?" Doctor Gu followed Alan Hoyle's instruction and stayed with the old lady for twenty four hours. He lived next door to the old lady in Hoyle family mansion.

The doctor was in charge of monitoring. If the old lady was not monitored, she often suffered from constant headache and some heart problems. However, most of the time when the old lady was in perfect health, the doctor existed like an invisible person.

Mrs. Hoyle sat at the dining table rubbing her painful temple and sighed, "I think my son is angry with me."

"I don't know if I should say this but—" Doctor Gu sat down opposite the old lady.

“Go on.” Mrs. Hoyle was still rubbing her temple with her head down. The table was served with delicious breakfast prepared by chef but she had no appetite.

Doctor Gu smiled faintly, “I think you’re upset with your son more than your son is upset with you. It’s a classic story, Ma’am. When a mother and a wife fall into the water, which one will this husband and son save first? You think that your son has abandoned you, but I don’t think so. If he really wants you out of the picture, do you think he will let Annie accompany you? I don’t think you ever think what he needs, what makes your son genuinely happy. You cannot force your favor onto other people. I know you hope for him to have someone by his side after you leave, right?”

“Of course I hope the best for him—”

Every mother would wish for the best for their son, but before she could finish, Doctor Gu interrupted her again.

“Ma’am, when you were young, you fought your parents for the love of your life. You and your husband have always loved each other, right? So, why the double standard for your son? Why do you try so hard to dress him with your ideal?” Doctor Gu looked at her with a smile, but the doctor’s words hit way too close to home.

this a reconciliation for them? My son turns his back against me when he is don’t know Miss Steele well, but I observe that she is not that kind of person who turn people’s backs against each other. Miss Steele is quite in her heart is.”

her, how are you supposed to find felt that it up earlier than expected. Before Mrs. Hoyle had her breakfast, she heard footsteps on the stairs.

the little young, she had a thought of her own. No matter how Mrs. Hoyle tried to win her, she was unmoved. Mrs. Hoyle was both satisfied and entangled.

of Hoyle family was not easy to be curried favor with. Olive Steele’s daughter was not couldn’t even win a child’s heart. It might not be easy to win entanglement had accompanied her to Albert Hoyle’s grave. She held Annie tightly. This was the little granddaughter that she had abandoned for so many years. The child suffered from the Meyers doing. She was eager to tell that to her husband who was buried in the grave.

could speak, Alan Hoyle’s car stopped in front of the tomb.

don’t know you’re still visiting your father.” said

Xiang and Jun Ling and held Olive Steele around the old lady. He gently laid a tombstone. Olive Steele found that Alan Hoyle looked a lot like his father. He had clever and lovely angel for me. If you're still alive, you up and looked at the old lady. Then, she walked to head, "Come on. Say something to came to see you so late. My name is Annie. Don't old lady coughed heavily and attracted with me including you." the old lady this an order or—"

Steele pinched him reminding him not to go too far, "Well, it's rare of Mrs. Hoyle to invite me and I've been more than happy to see where you live."

is there to see? Aren't you afraid of trap waiting for you?" Alan Hoyle squinted at his mother. The old lady stared

she was that bad of a mother, didn't he? She added, ordered the kitchen to cook Alan Hoyle's favorite food. She even asked Annie to taste the food so that it matched Olive Steele's liking. What trap was he talking about?

and looked at the car the old lady came with.