

Innocent Wife 81

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 81: Who Paid for Me

In a pile of clothes, there were also several clothes for three or four hundred dollars, but the style was too fancy or out of date, she didn't like them.

She finally found a dress that caught her attention, she took it off and was turning around to ask the female shopping guide if she could try it on first. At that time, the female shopping guide came up with the dress jacket she had just been longing for and graciously handed it to her. "Miss, try it on and see if it fits you."

Olive was stunned and said with a little embarrassment, "Sorry, I don't seem to be going to buy this....."

She liked it, and she wanted to buy it, but she couldn't afford it. 9999, this was to kill her, the three-month mortgage had turned into a few pieces of cloth on her body, and she just thought about it and felt painful.

"Just now a gentleman has paid for you. This dress is now yours, Miss." The female shopping guide still kept a decent professional smile, but the smile was somewhat jealous.

Women naturally loved beauty, but not just any woman could afford such expensive clothes.

Olive was a little unconvinced, "Beauty, you're not kidding me, are you? I can't afford such expensive clothes."

The female shopping guide laughed and said, "You don't have to pay anymore, that gentleman has already paid the bill."

Olive looked at her expression that did not seem to be playing tricks, besides, such stores, there should be no jokes about customers. Olive looked doubtfully at the cashier's desk, where a strange woman was paying the bill. As for inside the store, besides herself and several female shopping guides, there were no men. Just now she was looking at her clothes without noticing anyone coming in or out of the store.

Who could have played such a big joke on her? She owed others pays

"That gentleman has left."

was afraid she would not accept it, Olive asked again, "What does he look like?"

fact was so bizarre that Olive couldn't can't tell you, the gentleman asked us to keep it secret." The female shopping guide the only male friend beside her who could be so generous, she

"Why did you answer the doesn't have a third hand to answer the phone, so I have to answer the phone. By the way, honey, are you off work? When will you be back

I'll be home

anyone else who could be so generous. Among her friends, there was no one who had enough money to buy the sky, she dared not to accept things of unknown origin. So she said she looked at herself in the mirror, sure enough, people had to rely on clothes to dress up themselves, she immediately looked much more energetic and this dress fitted her well, too.

the female shopping guide to pack up the clothes and she went paid for. Before leaving, the gentleman said if you refuse to accept a pleading look on the female shopping guide's face.

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 82: Good News

Once in the house, Annie couldn't wait to tell the good news to her grandparents and her godfather.

Olive could no longer hide her job change from his parents, but on the way back, she had already thought about the words, she wanted to say something untrue, for example, she was not comfortable working under the new boss, she felt down-to-earth with the former boss, and she hid everything about Alan Hoyle.

Father Steele and Mother Steele didn't doubt it, but they told her to drive carefully after she had a car.

"Mommy, can I take your car to kindergarten tomorrow?" The little fellow climbed up to her body and put the arms around her neck and asked eagerly.

Olive laughed, "Of course you can."

Annie's kindergarten was not the most expensive and best in Luo city, but was also full of rich family's children. Sooner or later, these children were car pick-up, children saw more, in the influence of the adult world, they would inevitably envy and compare with each other.

Some people said that the son must be feed with little money and the daughter must be feed with much money. Olive thought this was a little one-sided, but it was not unreasonable.

Only in her concept, the children that were raised with little money whose will can be sharpened, so that children knew what was strong from an early age, not spoiled or laissez-faire or indulgent, and let they know what was responsibility, when they grew up they would not to be a spoiled boy or a spoiled young lady; But if children were raised with much money, their ability to read the world was strengthened and their knowledge was increased, so that they became independent and wise, until they reached adolescence, they were not easily confused by flashiness and vanity. Girls, in particular, would not be easily captured by men's rhetoric words.

when she noticed that the windows on both sides of the street were covered mountain area had a vacation ahead of time. She do during the day, so she went to the appointment first. Olive came in a hurry at noon because she was busy with the reached the door, she saw Susie swaying out with her brand-name bag, Susie saw Olive and she was a little stunned, then she raised a hypocritical smile to Olive "Well, assistant Steele, you have the perfect match. You'll still much time with her. She was ready to respond casually stretched out and blocked her way, "why are you in such a hurry? Anyway, we used to work together, I have a good news to to hope that the woman's good news would be the same just listened to what you said, I just heard it that only that at least he won't leave again? Was the wound on his body healed? But what else did it have to do with her?
said proudly, "Oh, that's not good news for you. You've already been kicked out by Mr. Hoyle, I wish
she passed by sideways. Some people just didn't know how they're going to die at that time.
for people to

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 83: the Intractable Customer

Olive said faintly. "Nothing. I tricked Alan into donating a sum of money to the mountain areas when we were on business in Sanya. Anyway, he had a lot of money, doing some good deeds can accumulate virtue."

A mouthful of soup almost gushed out of Chloe's mouth, she swallowed it forcibly, wiped her mouth with a paper towel and shouted, "Olive, I admire you so much. When you were fired by your boss, you could even pull a million dollars out of his pocket. You're too tough."

"Ah? It turned out that he was your former boss. I also think that you can take me to his house to visit him and thank him, why were you fired by him?" This time it was Flora's turn to be puzzled, in her impression, the boss who could do good without seeking recognition was not too bad.

"Actually, he's not really my former boss. I've only worked under him for more than half a month....." Olive's cell phone suddenly rang in a hurry at this time, after she heard the bell, she could tell that it was a call from work. Although she was really unwilling to be disturbed at the moment, she had to answer the call. "What's the matter?"

"Sister Olive, an intractable VIP customer came to our hotel. He criticized us for not cleaning the suite in time in the morning, now he said that our food was not clean and also said he picked out the hair in the soup. He named the person in charge of the hotel as the one he wanted and asked for an explanation, you'd better come here."

"Well, I see. I'll be right over."

In this way, Olive had to sorry to leave first.

Flora waved her hand and said with smiling, "It's ok. Anyway, I will stay until after the New Year. We have much time to get together. You have something to do with your work, don't delay, go ahead."

Olive rushed back to the hotel in a hurry, the business of Angel Hotel was not very good now. If they lost a VIP customer, they would lose one. It would be difficult to make the VIP customers back.

Those who they had lost before, she couldn't control. But in her hands, she would never allow that to happen again. And those old customers who they had lost, she also tried to find ways to let them regain their suites.

to her by Mr. Geve, he was waiting at the elevator entrance. When he saw her, his eyes come back, the man in that room would freeze the servants to nodded and walked into the elevator

"1503."

he check in?"

"Three o'clock yesterday afternoon."

his surname?"

Hoyle."

Olive was stunned. "Which Maybe, just the same surname, she comforted herself that there was open. When Olive walked in, she saw the waiter and the chef standing there, as if they were blamed by needed a glance, even if he or was it deliberately done by know it for the time being, but she would know the answer soon.

you can bear right. If the customer wanted to be angry, she could only listen with and said with a faint smile on his face, "Assistant Steele, I don't seem to have approved your resignation yet, you have stunned. "I don't quite understand what

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 84: Give Me Back the Photos.

"It wasn't sent by you, who sent it? This is your email box. Mr. Hoyle, is your private email box public? Everyone knows the password?" Almost at the same time, Olive had thought that if this person was not Alan, it might only be Ophelia.

Olive could not think of who else could use the email box of Alan except her.

It turned out that the woman was so eager to want her to out his field, even if they were thousands of miles apart.

Alan tapped his finger twice on the table, which was the way he was used to thinking. "I'll figure it out."

"I want Mr. Hoyle to send a punitive force against me after figuring it out rather than use it to pick on our hotel staff." Olive hated the man who asks for trouble and hated the man who finds himself wrong after asking for trouble most.

If it was not that her present position did not allow her to resign directly, at the moment she met him, she really wanted to turn around and leave. Just thought of it as she dared not see him, she was afraid to see him.

Why did this man haunted everywhere like a ghost?

Alan frowned. "Picking on you? Miss Steele is so confident in the service of the hotel?"

but that she just took over the hotel now. Before, the employees were discursive. The hotel was still in the rectification period, she couldn't be 100% sure pressure that emanated from his body always flirtatiously, his

at them, she didn't know what kind of gossip thought that this man was really a disaster to her.

over his wrist and made herself apart from him bit by bit, she stepped back to keep a safe distance. "Mr. Hoyle, you are also a respectable and important person, I don't think I need to teach you the word "self-esteem". If you are not satisfied with the service of the hotel, I'll expect you to give valuable advice, we will accept them modestly and improve."

Miss Steele is a little against you own endlessly and avenge a personal wrong in the name of stand in front of you, you should know the purpose of lightly, the kind of smile that would not stop until been dispelled in his deep and disappointed eyes that night. And that card was the compensation he gave her after he thought he had wronged her. But when she looked at him at the moment, she felt as if he had seen through everything. Even though she was nervous in her heart, she could only brace herself and continue pretending. "Forgive my stupidity."

laughed strangely and stretched out his hand to drag her to himself. His lips closed to her ear, he said in a voice so low that only they could hear, "I still have some your Olive's face suddenly turned pale, she remained stiff for a her reaction, released her and said with laughing, "Miss Steele, I think knew how to behave in a shouted, "Don't forget to

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 85: Since You're Already Here, Take It Easy

Olive was shocked. "You bought Hengdu maliciously, and now you want to buy Angel Holiday Hotel. Alan, you are so despicable."

Alan was not annoyed but laughed happily. "For you, I'd like to."

Olive was shocked that the crazy man really moved her. But she still pretended to be indifferent. "Alan, can I ask you to behave like a normal person? How could believe that I'm not the right woman you're looking for, and can you stop pestering me? You're rich and powerful, and you can still idle about. But I'm just a woman, and I can't."

"Even if you can't afford to play the game, you have to play with me. Since you have slept with me, you have belonged to me, you are my woman" Alan said harshly.

He said that in a macho tone, just like what she, a self-indulgent woman, did many years ago. At that time, she bit his shoulder and said, "Since you have got laid with me, you are mine."

But now, he had been other woman's fiancée.

"Who's going to be your woman? Alan, you should make it clear that it was not me who climbed into your bed? It was you who forced... forced me." Olive blushed.

"So, I don't mind doing that again." Alan smiled playfully and approached her forward step by step.

If he didn't force her, she might never be honest.

Olive dodged in a panic. However, he stretched out his long arms and held her in his arms, then he pushed her down on the sofa.

"Don't try nothing."

woman looked slim and delicate, but her strength was very awesome. He was not afraid that she would hit himself hardly, but afraid that she would feel painful on her hands.

them?" Suddenly, the man looked a was stunned.

up struggling. The strength of a woman could not be compared with that of a man. She wondered if she should take a Taekwondo class or something else so that she them, why do you just want to push

"Do you think you're so popular that all the women will fight with each other and snatch you with each other? You are

Alan felt that her expression was lovely, but he was a

Olive pretended to be my woman." He

Hoyle, when you can do these, you can come back to find me and talk about it. At that time, maybe I can seriously consider your proposal. You can say that I am a greedy woman. I am really greedy with these.

As for other

Suddenly he released her, stood up and loosened the buttons of his shirt. He glanced at her lightly. "Ask

What?

by this sudden change. The man's thought was absolutely elusive. She thought that she would not keep up with him

"Why are you still stunned there? Or are you still wanting me to embrace you? I don't mind embracing you one faster than a rabbit, Alan showed an unpredictable smile. Olive, tried your best to run away, and I was sure that you could not escape from my palm.

Olive stared at him fiercely and fled away in a hurry.

been wet by the sweat until she came into the office. Alan, this evil man, made fun of her.

followed to come in and said, "Olive,

right.

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 86: Want to Know Her at Close Range

After Ted went out, Olive rubbed her forehead and thought that she didn't need him to remind her that Alan was interested in her. If Alan hated her, it would be better and she would not be so annoyed. Maybe she would be sad for a few days but then she would be fine.

But now Alan came back to find her again which seemed that the days in the future would not be peaceful.

Since she had been in this situation, she would take it easy.

But Ophelia, might be anxious now and wouldn't still stay in Jiangcheng.

She really didn't understand Alan, who obviously had a fiancée but still pestered her. He should know that the girl had told him many years ago that she would never accept a man who was not loyal to his family.

At the same time, after the waiter cleared the table and exited the room, Alan murmured slightly and pressed the shortcut button on his mobile phone. "Appoint Mr. Geve for me."

It had been 7:30 in the evening when he met Mr. Geve.

Usually, at this time, Mr. Geve was accompanying his wife to have dinner, which was the habit he had maintained for many years. Knowing this, Alan didn't want to waste the time. When he sat down, he directly stated his purpose for this appointment. "Mr. Geve, the reason I make an appointment with you today is that I want to ask you for a person. You can propose any condition."

"What if I want to take back Hengdu?" Mr. Geve laughed. Hengdu was all his life's efforts. One saying said that "in the Changjiang River the waves behind drive on those before" and the waves before died on the beach. It was really that the youth should be regarded with respect.

If his son had half the abilities of this man, he would be gratified.

"No problem." Alan answered him without much consideration. She had not been there no longer, and Hengdu was useless to him.

"Young man, it's really the first time I've seen someone like you who has done business twice with the one person." Alan repeated his purpose for raised his eyebrows and said, "This person is more important than your business?"

"Yes." Alan answered very simply.

Geve had heard what happened in the hotel in the afternoon. But by the time he heard it, the thing had been changed a lot. He needed to hear how said unequivocally.

Hoyle, it seems that you could not make her stay heard about the unforeseen event of the Hoyle Group five years ago."

have to do with Olive?"

saved me and took care of me for a year. But on the day of my recovery, she disappeared for no reason. I have been looking for her all

Geve thought that he was a young man with a strong sense of affection and still, he could basically affirm Olive was that girl. But he needed the evidence make her wanted to play around with him. He would capture her

Mr. Geve said, "If I am right, Olive should not admit that she is the

be the

that but she would not admit it after and no passers-by dared to come forward. I was she who saved me. However, she will not casually admit something. According to her personality, she will admit what she has done. If she doesn't do something, she will not admit it at all. So, Mr. Hoyle, I think maybe it

"No." Alan said firmly.

Chapter 87: Good Things Are a Long Time in Coming

Here, the "she" naturally referred to Ophelia.

Mr. Geve seemed to understand women very much, "The women are actually very narrow-minded. In their hearts, they will only fall in love with only one man. At the same time, they will hope that this man only love them. So, Mr. Hoyle, I'm sorry. Whether Olive is the person you're looking for or not, I can't make a decision for her unless she leaves my hotel voluntarily. Of course, you can buy the hotel in the same way, but I think you will get the opposite result."

Alan naturally understood what he said, so he felt extremely annoyed. He could easily control tens of thousands of employees in his group, but this woman was out of his control.

Saying goodbye to Mr. Geve, Alan drove aimlessly in the street.

On the street where the lantern had been on, a cold drizzle began to fall and the windshield in front of the car was wet.

He wondered what she was doing at this time. Maybe she was huddling in a warm place. She was afraid of cold. In the winter of that year, she liked to huddle in his arms to warm herself.

He laughed at her. "You are a girl and you should be reserved. Don't try to take advantage of me."

In fact, in his inner heart, he was very happy. He enjoyed the feeling of being depended on by her, as if he was holding the most heartfelt little sweet.

that time, she was so bold and open-minded. He couldn't see her expression, but he could imagine her energetic and lovely image. "Yes, I'll take advantage of you. What can you do, how can you do?"

him, scratch his itchy spot, and they giggled together. He tried to kiss her a natural goblin, and could easily make him the center of the steering wheel with a punch. The green veins burst out and the sudden whistle alarmed the passers-by nearby.

you admit the fact

make you show yourself

Dave had been waiting in the lobby. Seeing him, he immediately got up from the sofa and greeted him, "Mr. Hoyle..."

Alan gave him a signal and stopped him. "Go back his car keys on the table, sit down in the sofa, which seemed that he was result?" Alan good." Dave looked at his face carefully.
fingers. "What do you mean?"
dared not think about it, and was a little and Dr. David had been found, but..." There was a slight pause in said, "But what?"

Chapter 88: Ophelia Meyer Wasn't Her God

The room was amazingly quiet. It was exactly not a good news.

Dave also felt that Olive was suspicious, but he could not speak out where was strange. It seemed that she was concealing something.

"Mr Hoyle..."

Alan waved his other hand. "You go and help me find out another thing. Who let Hengdu's finance settle her salary, and give me the answer tomorrow."

"Yes." Dave responded and went out.

Alan got up, took off his clothes and went into the bathroom. He filled a jar of hot water and drowned himself.

There was someone who delivered the instructions in the name of him. Perhaps that person was her misgiving.

But Olive, if you were threatened, why didn't you tell me that? Didn't you believe that I could protect you with my ability now? Or Was someone threatening you with me?

The only truth would be revealed one day.

Olive sneezed several times at home and attracted the attention of the whole family.

Father Steele touched her forehead. "Did you catch a cold?"

Olive shrugged her nose, took the paper towel her daughter handed over and wiped her nose, then kissed her lovely daughter on is missing you?"

home at this time. Don't you have to go to work?" Olive and build up strength today."

Mother Steele took a cup of hot tea to Olive and sat down, then she said. "Chloe, those who work in the office still have one or two days to rest a week. You Chloe said with a smile, "Mom, I am not as capable as Olive who can work hard and be appreciated wherever she works. I am also used to being idle so that I can't stand being bound by the rules and regulations of have done the housework. You are not a lazy person. I don't mean that being a singer in bars is shamed. I am just afraid that it know you're the kindest to me." Chloe held her neck and kissed her, then loosened her. "Oh..."

out her wallet, turned out a pile of money, and handed it to Mother Steele. "This is the said with a smile, "Did Ivy pay out your wages?"

is comfortable that spending my own money."

much food money to her, she stuffed it back. "Chloe, you keep the money yourself. When you left the

it. I'm very happy to eat and live with you. If I live in other place

money back to mother

Steele refused to receive the money, "There is no shortage of money at home now. The room will be empty if you don't live. Besides, you can not eat too much and usually you also buy the vegetables. If this is not right. Olive gives you the money for the cost of daily life every month. You receive her money but refuse mine. Don't you take me as a daughter?" Chloe used her final reckoning.

"What are you saying? You are all my mother Steele's arm and acted as a spoiled child.

was so nauseating. "Well, stop being so polite. Mom, you can receive half of the money and save it as then." Father Steele also said.

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 89: They Met Each Other on a Narrow Path

The hotel was so big and Olive always tried to avoid meeting this woman, but since she had come here to find her, she will not give her chance to escape.

In the corridor, they met each other on a narrow path.

Olive wanted to turn around and pretended that she did not see her, but Ophelia had already called her, "Miss Steele, long time no see."

Five years had passed, it already had been a long time.

However, there seemed to be no big difference between the woman in front of her. She was still a little girl, but she had a childish face, meticulous makeup, she wore gorgeous but elegant dress. Her long straight hair which were used to be short shoulder-to-shoulder wavy hair, she will be more pure.

If someone said that she was a girl who had just reached the age of 20, no one would jump out to against her.

She and Alan are such a natural couple. They had the same family background and knowledge. When they stand together, they were just like lovers in animation. Ophelia was just like the perfectly protected Princess Barbie in the glass window, and she never experience the bad things in the world well.

By contrast, she was younger than Ophelia, but she looked more older than her. Her eyebrows were full of vulgarity, and her simplicity has been wiped out by life.

Knowing that she could not hide, Olive stopped and watched her approach.

huge floor glass reflected the light figure of two people. Oliver saw Alan's car leave the hotel through the glass. She couldn't ignore the woman. Thus she said hypocritically, long time no see.

and waited patiently for her words.

looked at her from top to bottom with a smile, as if to see kinds of smiles, such as sincere and false, kind and Ophelia choose, it can only be seen as smile with reality permit, she wishes they would never see each other in life.

"So do I."

can't escape it, she choose to face the reality. She was not afraid

"But Miss Steele didn't seem to take my words seriously." Ophelia said with her

"How dare I did not take Miss Meyer's threat seriously? Therefore, where Alan appeared, I left immediately."

"But now he's in the hotel where you work." This is what Ophelia feels most me who pestered him. It would be better if you could harassed her. But should resign

she asked people to resign, people should

that if Alan appeared in Luo City, I should move best." Ophelia

The Innocent Wife of Scheming President

Chapter 90: Introduce Some Young Talents to You

Olive raised her head slightly. "I'm just imitating you. These are all what Miss Meyer taught me. There is an old saying that even a worm will turn. Don't regard me as a simple student five years ago. Of course, you have to be a little tougher and you can deal with me directly. However, I have to tell you one thing. I had written everything in the Facebook including the truth of that year and your recent threats. The account number and password all kept by one of my friend abroad. If I had an accident, three days later, the contents will be sent to Alan."

The wicked still had to resort to evil tactics.

It turned out that when this day really came, it was not as terrible as her imagined.

Was it because she thought too much before, or did she feel inferior because of the difference between she and him ?

Or did she suddenly feel frustrated when she saw him eager to get engaged with Ophelia Meyer and go abroad?

At noon, Mr. Geve knocked on Olive's office door and stood at the door, laughing like a Maitreya Buddha. "Will I disturb your work?"

Olive put aside the documents and got up quickly. She smiled and invited him in. "It's natural for the boss to inspect the work. How dare I say bother?"

"Let me first affirm that I am not here to inspect your work. As you are here, the old man is at ease."

Olive said, "How could you say that. You are not old Mr. Geve. If you really get old but you are strong and experienced. You will never be worse than youngsters."

"Ha-ha, look at your sweet mouth. You will coax my old man. I have to admit that I'm old. At sixty, it was my first cycle of life. It's not like you young people." Mr. Geve sighed.

inexperienced and we have to learn more from you." Olive was not more you talk about it, the more energetic we are. We're not flattering. How about having accompanied him to the Chinese restaurant of the hotel's.

quickly delivered the dishes.

stuff. Steak is always half cooked and leaves are raw, real Chinese. How could I don't love Chinese food? Besides, there are too many rules for eating western food. You have to get the right knife, fork and spoon. It's so easy to make a pair of

This soup nourishes the face and nourishes

even knows that. Mrs. Geve age won't be too young. You're not afraid to change that popular word among younger people..." Mr.

him, "Leftover women."

leftover girls, Olive, I know you are a should be careful. We can't get married for the sake she could not make at you, you have a high standard. Mr. Geve speaking, you don't look up also laughed, "No, nobody thinks heard that someone sent you roses for a month.

mother of the child in this age. But it's true, she was a you have put spy between us? You miles away." Mr. Geve was very humorous. approachable person. He can also play harmless jokes. There was no restraint between him and his subordinates. And she could also feel free. Alan, on the other hand,