

Chapter 13 Erik Visited

It's not enough just to put the giant root in Lavinia's honey hole. Chris rubbed Lavinia's milk titty with both hands, rubbed the small meat inside the areola hard and pulled it outward.

"Even if people outside hear the sound inside, they don't know what is going on inside. If I buy this ward, we will come here twice a month in the future. What do you think?"

Next time, Chris must prepare nurse's clothes for Lavinia in advance. Maybe some black stockings and bunny hats for her?

It's not before that women dressed like this appeared in front of him, waiting for his luck, but when those women appeared in front of him, he only felt vulgar and disgusting, but after thinking that the people wearing those clothes were Lavinia, all the vulgar and disgusting things were gone, and he even vaguely expected women to wear uniforms to try their best.

He imagined Lavinia's courtship in his mind, and his movements began to accelerate until Lavinia couldn't help laughing.

"Chris, please, I'm dying. I want to pee. Please give me a break first."

If the legs were not on Chris's shoulders, Lavinia couldn't wait to kneel for mercy.

The man didn't seem to make a correct assessment of his ability.

Did he know that even if a woman with strong desire falls into his hand, she will only kneel for mercy?

"Chris, PLEASE, I want..."

Lavinia was confused. She didn't know what she was talking about. She begged for mercy, begged Chris for her, and then she passed out. It was already two hours later.

Even the traces on Lavinia were personally wiped clean by Chris.

After receiving the phone call, Erik was called to the company by his boss. He was really confused. The boss said that there was a design problem.

When he got through a subway line, he finally got to the company. When the leader came up with the design plan, he found that the person in charge was another one. It wasn't Erik who was solving it, but let Erik go back first.

Let him want to break his head, and feel that it is an oolong caused by leadership mistakes. Only leaders know that Erik has a great figure around him, but this figure has mentioned some leaders, and it is not allowed to tell Erik that someone has stepped in behind his back. Leaders look at Erik's talent, and they can only let Erik ask for more happiness.

Erik left the company and went to the hospital by subway.

No one took care of her mother in hospital, and her sister suddenly had a car accident. The situation was unknown. All the burdens fell on Erik. He took a deep breath and saw the subway arrive at the station before picking up his sad face and taking firm steps toward the hospital.

There were always ups and downs in life, and they had a little difficulty in life at this time. They would always get better in the future, wouldn't they?

When he went back to register to visit, Erik felt much simpler. The nurse personally took Erik to the ward, and before leaving, she asked Erik for WeChat.

All the men here will be asked for contact information by the nurses on duty. People who come here are either rich or expensive. If they have a fancy, they will directly rise to the top. Where do you need to work hard here and look at people's faces?

Chris asked the housekeeper to take temporary care of Lavinia's daily life, while he left ahead of Erik's arrival as agreed with Lavinia.

In order to prevent Lavinia from fooling around, he also specifically threatened this woman. If she had ever touched other men, including her brother, and he knew it, Lavinia would receive no less punishment than today.

Lavinia just woke up when Erik came.

The housekeeper boiled the bone soup, which was filled with many precious Chinese herbal medicines, which were filled with tonic items. The housekeeper said that all these were to be added by the master, and Lavinia had to drink them.

Most importantly, the young master confessed that he must watch Lavinia drink it with his own eyes, and said that he didn't want to see Lavinia faint again when he was having sex with him.

The housekeeper looked up and down at Lavinia's once-in-a-lifetime, and then thought about how young masters usually exercise. She really felt that it was time to strengthen Lavinia's food.

Erik knocked on the door and came in to see a middle-aged woman serving Lavinia soup. Lavinia looked tired and his heart softened.

"Lavinia, is your body all right? Why did you have an accident when you went to work well?"

Erik's concern for Lavinia was true. Only because a man's mind was not as delicate as a woman's, he couldn't see that Lavinia's physical problems didn't actually come from a car accident.

Lavinia was not going to explain too much to her brother.

"Brother, I just accidentally had it. The doctor has bandaged me up. This little injury will recover in two days."

Looking at Lavinia's pale little face, Erik didn't believe Lavinia would recover in a few days, but since her sister said so and the driver's placement of Lavinia was satisfactory, Erik was relieved for the time being.

"Lavinia, I didn't tell mother about your injury and hospitalization. Our mother will have surgery in two days, and I don't want her to have too much psychological pressure."

Lavinia nodded, and she was trying to tell her brother never to let her mother know that she was also living in the hospital, but Lavinia was puzzled by Erik's next words.

"Evans knows that you are in hospital, and he said he would come to see you."

Lavinia thought that only Erik knew she was here. Can anyone tell her how Evans got the news?

Before leaving, Chris reminded her that if Chris knew that Erik had brought another man who had an idea about her to her, would Chris attack Erik or directly retaliate against Lavinia.

"Brother, I have nothing to do with Evans. He is no longer my boyfriend. He will contact you later. Can you stop talking to him about me?"

Now that she has made the decision to break up, Lavinia has made up her mind not to have too much involvement with Evans. Because she was sorry for Evans first, she should not continue to look forward to Evans.

Besides, she doesn't know when the contract with Chris will expire. Instead of delaying Evans's future, she might even suffer from Chris's revenge. It's better to let her finish it, so as not to delay Evans's future.

"Sister, why are you so confused? I know that you have been under a lot of pressure recently, and you may not have so much energy for feelings. But you are still young, and you finally meet a feeling that can be cherished. Evans is so kind to you. Think again and don't make a decision first, OK?"

