

Chapter 17 Jack

Jack was scared.He didn't have any interest in having sex.

He hurried back to the company's sales department and asked the supervisor when Lavinia's note expired.Only then did he hypocritically dial the phone and call Lavinia.

"Lavinia,well,our sales department has a lot of staff recently,and several employees have been laid off.Since you haven't come to work for several days,you'd better find another job."

Jack was sorry for Lavinia first.Even if the words of expelling Lavinia were euphemistic,he still felt a little ashamed of this woman who worked hard from the beginning.

Working hard was useless.Jack treated Lavinia nicely.He chose Lavinia instead of any other woman.However,this girl couldn't please Mr.Chris well.

Lavinia didn't do too much to save her job.But,since Jack made a decision,she was not the kind of unreasonable person.Without the instructions of the people behind her,Jack wouldn't have fired employees.

The person who made her lose her job must be Chris.

Lavinia didn't expect that Chris was so petty.
Now,Lavinia lost her job,and her income has become a problem.

She couldn't think of what she could do besides selling a house in a real estate company for the time being.

She didn't have a college diploma yet, and regular companies couldn't accept her. She wanted to get a part-time job, but those wages couldn't cover her mother's treatment expenses.

When Lavinia came to this point, she didn't resent Chris but only blamed herself for her inability.

Thinking about it, she curled up on the sofa alone and cried.

After finishing the work, Chris turned on the monitoring in the living room at home. When Chris turned it on, it was a picture of Lavinia holding her knees and crying on the sofa.

Lavinia was alone in the large living room. She thought there was no one at home, so she released her proper temperament. She didn't know that all her cowardice was in Chris's eyes.

"Chris, you are an asshole. My life is bad enough. So why do you want to make trouble in my life? Why is the world so unfair?"

Lavinia always smiled in front of Chris. Occasionally, she was angry because Chris's words were too much, but it was the first time watching Lavinia cry.

"My mother is ill and has no money for treatment. The job I worked hard to find was first pitted by the manager and humiliated by you. Chris Konev, I am exhausted."

Chris just looked at Lavinia in front of the monitor, watched her scold vigorously, then watched her fall asleep and pouted like a pig, and all the anger when she slammed the door and went out disappeared.

Since Lavinia was Chris's mistress, this girl would never have the chance to leave.

No matter she was mistress or girlfriend, she was destined to be his woman.

It suddenly occurred to Chris that Lavinia had been crying at home for so long, and she must not be in a good mood.

Jack was the one who made Lavinia feel bad. So Chris must do something to punish Jack.

"Jonny, call the Jack'boss. We have to give Jack some punishment to warn him."

Without waiting for Jonny to react, Chris picked up his coat and prepared to get off work.

No one could figure out what was in the boss's mind.

Jonny silently went to the side to call the leader of Jack.

As for Jack, he was stunned when he got the punishment. He kept asking his boss what was going on.His boss didn't say anything but told him not to offend people anymore.

He didn't know when he has provoked someone.

A hot kiss in her sleep awakened Lavinia.

She has already kissed Chris countless times.But she still couldn't breathe during the kissing.

She couldn't breathe when she was awake,not to mention that now she was sleeping.

Lavinia forced herself to open her eyes.When she found out that it was Chris,she finally calmed down.

It suddenly occurred to her that Chris was still angry with her.Then Lavinia pushed him to the side.

"What are you doing?Didn't you argue with me before?And now you are going to kiss me?It was you who made me lose my job.I hate you,and I don't want to talk to you again!"

After yelling at Chris,Lavinia suddenly remembered who she was talking to.

She was yelling at Chris,who could kill herself.

"Lavinia,you have more important things to do.The sales department is not suitable for you.You can do something else."

Chris was not as angry as expected and did not blame Lavinia for yelling at him.Instead,he felt that Lavinia was like a living person.

"Something else?Do you know how important that job is to me?You have no idea that how the poor people struggle to live a better life."

Lavinia offended Chris thoroughly today, but the words that Lavinia had suppressed in her heart for so long yelled out, just like the big stone that had been pressed in her heart was suddenly removed, and she felt relieved.

Chris didn't want to listen to Lavinia's words anymore. He grabbed Lavinia's hand and pulled Lavinia into his arms.

It was the first time Lavinia has felt Chris's chest.

His chest was so muscular and so safe.

"Don't go to the sales department, finish your studies and do what you should do at your age. As you said, your life should not be like this."

After saying that, Chris kissed Lavinia lightly on the eyelid. It was the first time that he was tender to a woman from the bottom of his heart.

Lavinia felt Chris's physical changes and was even happier that Chris promised her to finish her studies.

Lavinia suddenly remembered that she didn't even tell Chris about it. So how did Chris predict it?

Chris smelt the girl's fragrance and was already unable to extricate himself.
