

Chapter 28 What about the birth pill

Boom!

She crashed all reasons after Lavinia's words came out.

The woman, who was used to obey him and was unwilling to take the initiative to have sex, actually took the initiative to say to a man that she wanted him.

That kind of feeling was like a rainstorm suddenly coming on the boundary that had dried up for thousands of years in the desert.

Regardless of whether Lavinia's current physical condition was suitable for making love, Chris only knew that he wanted to fuck her right now.

There were doctors and Auntie on standby in the huge villa. They needed to be on guard against the woman's physical condition in bed and waited for the call of the young master at any time.

It's a pity that they didn't count the young master as the most dangerous one.

The family doctor wanted to knock on the door of Chris's room and persuaded them to be moderate. But finally, they gave up and went to their affairs silently.

Lavinia tried to be on top of Chris countless times, but she failed after several attempts.

She finally wanted to show herself well, and men didn't even give her this opportunity.

"I haven't seen you so hungry at ordinary times. You want to have sex with me today, don't you?"

Lavinia looked at Chris like a leopard who had not eaten for a long time saw a sika deer.

That face meant that--I want to fuck you.

"Chris,I just want to take the lead this time.What's wrong with that?I just want to sleep with you.You don't even want to satisfy me with this little wish."

The man crushed Lavinia's body,imprisoned her hands with both hands,raised them above his head,and took advantage of her unprepared to go straight to work before Lavinia could satisfy.

Lavinia's words were like the most potent love powder.

Lavinia complained that Chris didn't let her take the lead when the man was kissing her.Listening to the little woman's complaining voice,Chris sprinted as hard as he could and finally released shots at her body.

They have had sex about three times on that night,and every time ended with Lavinia's cry for mercy.

The anger and misunderstanding between this couple disappeared entirely because of the sex.

However,Lavinia seemed to be quieter after they did.

Chris didn't wake up immediately when he woke up.Instead,he turned on the microcomputer and texted something quickly on it.

When Lavinia turned to look at him,the movement of his hands suddenly stopped.

"Manager Chris,get up quickly.If you don't go to work,I will become a sinner in The Konev Family."

Lavinia got up before Chris with a nightgown. There was a belt inside and a belt outside. She only tied it outside. When she got up, her whole body would be completely exposed with a slight movement.

Chris found out but didn't remind her, just to satisfy himself.

Before that, Lavinia had never found such a big problem.

"I have the final say in The Konev Family. I will always protect you no matter what."

As long as the woman was Lavinia, Chris could do anything for her.

As soon as Lavinia got up, Chris tugged at her bathrobe and pulled her towards him. Lavinia fell into Chris's arms.

Of course, Chris felt quite sorry about last night. After they have done, Lavinia's body was slightly red and bloodshot. When Chris took Lavinia to take a bath, he especially wiped her medicine.

He knew how to restrain himself. Resisting the impulse, he kissed Lavinia and held his hands to her breast for a while. That felt nice either.

During the indefinite period, all minor moves were the catalyst of love.

Fortunately, Chris had beautiful self-control. After the addiction, he pushed Lavinia out of bed.

Auntie prepared breakfast downstairs and also designed soup for tonic.

Lavinia still had a head injury, and this soup, which was helpful to her health, was stewed at Chris's command.

It suddenly occurred to Lavinia that Chris didn't even wear a condom last night, and he shot it directly into her body several times.

After washing, Lavinia went downstairs to find Auntie.

"Auntie, do you have any contraceptives left before? Unfortunately, I can't find them."

Anyway, every time after sleeping with Chris, Auntie would prepare the birth pill afterward, and it had become Lavinia's habit to remember to take medicine after sleeping.

Chris, who had just come downstairs, was furious when he heard Lavinia asked for the birth control pill.

"Auntie, I have something to say to Lavinia."

Chris seemed to be a different man. He was angry with Lavinia and even wanted to kill her.

"Yes, young master."

Auntie found that the young master lost his temper more often than before after he met Lavinia.

Chris used to hide everything in his heart. Until now, with Lavinia, he often put his temper out.

When Auntie left, Chris took out a small medicine cabinet from under the TV cabinet.

If he hadn't gone to get it himself, Lavinia wouldn't have known where the medicine cabinet was.

In the small medicine box, all the medicines were placed neatly and readily available.

Chris searched inside, found the medicine Auntie had bought before, and asked, "Are you looking for this?"

That was the birth pill that Lavinia wanted, which Chris bought. Chris looked at the pill bag and regretted why he hadn't thrown it all in the garbage.

"It turned out to be here; I didn't find it before."

She took the contraceptive pill from his hand very naturally and took one from it. She just swallowed it directly without water.

After doing that, there was still a trace of a smile on her face.

"Don't worry. I won't bring you any trouble."

That smile was bitter to make people feel distressed.

Chris was furious. What he wanted was not Lavinia's self-righteousness sensible. Why did this woman always impose her ideas on others?

The more he thought about it, the angrier he became. Finally, in front of Lavinia, he threw the rest of the medicine into the trash can. To prevent Lavinia from picking it up again, he poured two glasses of water into the trash can.

The medicine inside was utterly useless. Lavinia didn't know why Chris reacted so much because she just took a pill.

"You can have the baby. It's not shameful to have my baby."

Chris never thought about getting married, especially to be a father. He didn't dare to imagine it.
