

Chapter 29 I shouldn't be the one who has children

Until one day,he suddenly felt that having a baby with Lavinia seemed to be good.

From that time on,he didn't let Auntie force Lavinia to take medicine.But,of course,he didn't expect Lavinia to remember these things better than anyone else.

Lavinia had never felt that the contraceptive pill swallowed in her stomach was as bitter as it was today.

She tried to make herself smile when she took the pill every time and made Chris feel that she was not the kind of person who tied him up with children.

She tried to keep all the pain for herself until someone told her that she didn't need to do that one day.

It's like a boat that was about to sink was beaten to the shore by the waves.

"But I'm not qualified to have babies for you,am I?"

Of course,Chris could have a child,but the mother of that child must not be Lavinia.She knew it.

"Chris,it's not that I don't want to have children for you.I admit that I like you,and I can even say that I deeply fall in love with you.But I can't let you be irresponsible to your future wife.She was innocent.When she marries you,she may care more about your children outside than anyone else."

It was precisely because of her love that Lavinia would give Chris careful consideration to every detail not to let him regret it in the future.

Chris didn't expect Lavinia to think about these things every day. However, it seemed that he still misunderstood some behaviors of this woman before.

She was not selfish but overthought about others.

Her tiredness emanated from the bottom of her heart, and he had only discovered it until now.

Lavinia was afraid that if she spoke them out, she would get more pain.

"You just need to be loved by me. Other things are not something you need to worry about. You are my girlfriend now. Who do you think my future wife can be?"

Those love words seemed to be self-taught. Every time Chris said a word, Lavinia's heart sank downward. At last, Lavinia seemed to be stunned and didn't know what else to say.

"How do I know? What if it's not me in the future?"

On this day, Chris took the initiative to send Lavinia to school to go through the formalities of resuming school.

To enter the school, Chris drove an extremely low-key scooter.

The car was a low-key model that Lavinia chose several times in the garage.

Watching Chris slowly drive the car out of the garage, Auntie, not far away, sighed deeply.

Auntie originally wanted to buy food by that car, now she had driven the car away, and she was still struggling to ask her driver to choose another one to take her to the mall.

Lavinia had no idea how many people were embarrassed by her decision.

It was smooth all the way. Because it was the freshmen's reporting time, the school was full of cars. Lavinia was trying to ask Chris to find a parking space a little farther away. Who knew that Chris drove the car directly to the school gate?

Passing by, several students are standing beside pointing, as if to say, such a broken car still dare to drive into the campus.

This car was so low-key.

Chris parked so many luxury cars outside. Anyone who came to sign up and had an identity should follow the rules of the school!

Just as the students were preparing to watch the car at the door being driven away by the guards, even Lavinia's heart kept beating, thinking he would lose face with Chris.

Who knew that the security guard m pressed the button, and he released the car directly.

"No way, our school teachers can't drive directly into the school. What are the people in the car?"

Lavinia only went to the principal's office to sign up with Chris but never thought that she had just arrived at school and became an online celebrity in the school forum as a mysterious figure.

Principle Wyatt took out his cherished tea, poured water and tea himself, and gave his seat out of the way, who was only sitting in the side chair.

Lavinia didn't expect that the principal could be so respectful in front of Chris.

Lavinia wanted to ask him, was this man an overbearing adult principal at the whole school teacher-student meeting?

"Manager Chris, It's not a big deal if your little niece wants to go back to school. You can just call me, and I will handle that for you. If you have these things in the future, give me a call, and I will help you do it well."

Chris took a sip of tea from the principal.

It didn't taste good.

The main reason was that what the principal said was not very nice.

What did he mean about the little niece?

Lavinia disliked Chris's age. Did the principal think that he was old enough?

"Thank you, principal. I will do the formalities. So don't worry about us."

Lavinia did not explain her relationship with Chris.

It's rare to see Chris suffer once, which seemed to be quite good.

Out of principle's sight, Chris pinched Lavinia lightly at the root of his thigh.

This girl wanted to see his jokes. YOU WISH!

"Lavinia started to drop out of school in her sophomore year. If she resumes school, she can start directly from her junior year. So the grade director will personally take her to go through the formalities. If Manager Chris is not very busy, how about going to have a light meal later?"

Lord principal invited him to dinner in person in a famous restaurant, which would not have the places if people wouldn't order in advance.

Lavinia had only heard of it before but had never been there.

The main reason was that the consumption there was too high.

Principle looked at Chris expectantly, like a watchdog for his lover, waiting for Chris to say a word. Why did he think it was more difficult than promotion?

"I will accompany Lavinia to buy daily necessities in the afternoon. We plan for it next time."

He believed Lavinia couldn't eat well if she had to have lunch with the principal. Chris noticed that Lavinia's eyes sparkled when she heard about the restaurant.

"OK, then I will call the grade director first and ask him to go through the formalities. After you finish, you will be busy first, and let's make an appointment next time."

Without being directly rejected by Chris, the principal already felt very satisfied.

Lavinia used to take at least half a day to complete the admission procedures because, with the intervention of the age director, it took more than ten minutes to achieve them.

Chris took Lavinia's hand and left the principal's office. As she went out, Chris said in her ear, "I saved you all the time just now. Let's do something else?"
