

Chapter 30 sycophant

Something else?

The words were full of ambiguity.Lavinia was flushed after hearing that.

Pretending not to understand,she beat on Chris's chest slightly,"the principal said to invite you to poinsettia for dinner,and it's all your fault.We didn't even have the lunch."

Chris opened the car door for Lavinia and protected her from getting on the car.Lavinia thought that Chris would go back to the villa to have sex with her.But,who knew that he made a turn and went directly to Poinsettia Restaurant.

"Manager Chris,There is no place here."

Chris found a place to park his rotten people,took Lavinia's hand as if no one was watching,and walked them towards the poinsettia restaurant.

People who came here were either rich or expensive,and the dishes inside were expensive,which still couldn't stop the rich people from pursuing delicious food.

"Hello,the order is full today.When else would you like to book?"

The waiter at the restaurant entrance,dressed in formal suits and white gloves,stood solemnly and upright at the door to entertain customers.

Chris and Lavinia dressed up as ordinary people and didn't look like rich people.But the waiters didn't judge people by their appearance, and they didn't think these two people were the kind of people who can't afford to spend.

The waiter's attitude was excellent, and Chris Konev was happy. He found the electronic card from the mobile phone card bag and showed it to the waiter.

There was nothing unknown to the waiter here on the cover of the electronic card inlaid with Phnom Penh in black.

When they first joined the company, the company specially trained the newcomers.

What kind of people should receive equally, and what kind of people should respect as guests. Chris, who held the highest authority card, didn't have to wait in line at all. He could get whatever he wanted here.

"Hello VIP, there are reserved private rooms upstairs. Please come here!"

Under the jealous eyes of everyone, Chris took Lavinia's hand and went upstairs.

Along the way, Lavinia felt like a dream.

"Is there anything you can't do in this world? With such an excellent man, I feel a little inferior."

Lavinia pouted and went into the private room with Chris.

Because there were only two people, the enormous private room seemed a bit deserted.

The waiter brought the menu and asked Chris to take the lead in ordering.

"Come to one signature dish, and pack it when you can't finish eating."

He took the menu and wanted to order a few dishes. But, he couldn't bear to hear Lavinia's praise, and he suddenly changed his mind.

"You shouldn't blame such an excellent person for wanting to treat you to a good meal, should you?"

After the waiter got the menu, he walked out of the door directly.

Their working rules didn't allow them to gossip too much about customers' privacy.

"Of course not. Anyway, some people pay the bill, and there are more dishes. But, of course, I can't ask for it."

Lavinia was holding chopsticks, staring at the empty table with her eyes, and her eagerness made people feel distressed.

Just when Chris wanted the waiter to order first, a phone call came.

"Young master, we got Evans, but this boy has a hard mouth and still refuses to say a word."

Chris didn't shy away from Lavinia. Who knew that the other party's phone was a little loud this time, and Lavinia heard the easily.

She suddenly straightened her back and pointed her ears to listen to the key points.

Chris saw that women were so curious, so he simply turned on the external function and let her listen enough at one time.

"The Konev Group has already acquired The John Family, and the assets there have been liquidated. The Evans family has not been jailed. We have not done it, but Evans's personal property has been reported, and they are all negative assets one by one. I don't understand how they did it and live so smartly every day."

"The John Family has long been left with only an empty shell. What they have is nothing more than that technology."

Chris was a good judge of people and things. What was important was that his network of relationships was more comprehensive than everyone could see.

As long as he wanted to know, he could take the initiative to send any news to his door.

The man who called him was silent for a moment and suddenly knew where to start.

"Young master, last time you said you wanted to suppress The John Family completely. Do we have to continue to implement this plan?"

The other party did not know that Lavinia was by Chris's side, and Chris did not make any suggestive voice.

"Just give them a little lesson, and the rest depends on Providence."

After saying that, Chris hung up the phone directly.

Why Chris changed his attitude toward the John family, which made people puzzled?

The dishes came up one after another. When every dish was served, Chris had to put some in the bowl for Lavinia, but the woman attracted by the topic between men was not so easy to fool.

"Master, do you have something to explain to me?"

She was calling him the master, and this feeling made Chris feel dizzy.

"Didn't you hear it all? The John Family can't get along in business. So we're just helping to clean up."

Chris said calmly.

The food was so fragrant that his picky mouth couldn't tell the shortcomings in these dishes.

"Clean up? I heard that you are going to destroy The John Family. What have they done to you, and you want to destroy them all?"

Lavinia was very disappointed with what Evans had done before. When Evans grabbed her and tried to kill her, all her affection for him disappeared.

But when she heard Chris say he wanted to eradicate the John Family, she still couldn't bear it.

It's not that Chris was wrong, but that Lavinia was too compassionate to see people around him having a hard time.

Lavinia's compassion became partial in Chris's eyes.

All the dishes that Chris put in Lavinia's bowl just now were put back.

Chris enjoyed children's tricks.

"I'm not convinced that smelly boy knows you before me, and he can fall in love with you, and he is disloyal to you!....."

"I still don't accept that you always take sides with him."

Chris was almost stunned by his jealousy.

Having said so much, it took a lot of workforce and material resources, but he just felt that Lavinia was partial to Evans, which made him feel uncomfortable, so he would let people teach Evans a lesson.

"Manager Chris, I thought you were the kind of man who can do nothing. I didn't expect you to be so naive!"

Lavinia made no secret of laughing at Chris and added some delicious dishes to his empty bowl, by the way.
