

Chapter 32 Pay Back For His Kindness

"Lavinia,I would die right now.I just want to see you now.Please,only you can save me."

Evans never thought about selling technology before but compromised after those people kept threatening him.

Evans didn't expect those people to be betrayed by him so quickly after he sold the technology to them,which made Evans notorious.

Now that he was attacked by the Internet,and may even have to go to court.Evans didn't even dare to go out.As soon as he went out,people would immediately throw countless rotten eggs and green vegetables at him.

After being trapped there by people for many days,Evans finally turned on his cell phone and called Lavinia for help.

Lavinia promised Chris that she would never talk to Evans anymore in the future.But when she watched the news and heard that Evans was having a wrong time,she couldn't help but started to worry about him and thought about whether she should help him or not.

When Evans saw that Lavinia answered the phone,he finally had the feeling that someone was ultimately helping him hold on.

Evans thought that Lavinia would rather stay away from him when she heard the news.However,now Lavinia picked up his phone,did that mean that he and Lavinia still have the chance to get back together?

"I can't help you anything.I just want to check if you are OK as my friend by picking up your phone. But, unfortunately, you have to pay the price for your choices as an adult. You should know this when you decided to sell the core tech."

Her refusal was neat and thorough, and she never intended to give Evans a chance to continue persuading her from the beginning.

Evans hid in a shady corner of the room, and his face was more ferocious than usual in the darkness.

"Lavinia, I haven't asked you for anything for so many years. Now that I'm in trouble, do you want me to die? If it weren't for me, could you become like this?"

Evans, from the heart, voluntarily paid Everything he did for Lavinia in those days. He never thought of threatening with kindness. Now, if he didn't do this, Evans would be finished for the rest of his life!

After listening to the other party's phone voice, Lavinia wished she never answered the phone.

"How can I help you?"

Lavinia took a deep breath and suppressed all her dissatisfaction.

"I know I become like because of Chris. You just need to ask Chris to send a message saying that the situation has not been investigated clearly. We are just normal technology transfer, which has nothing to do with state secrets, and I am innocent."

Chris could settle this problem very quickly. However, Evans was not afraid that Chris couldn't handle this trouble well for him, and he was worried that the man was not going to shoot even for Lavinia's sake.

Evans was trying to figure out that how important was Lavinia to Chris.

"Don't get too much hope. I'll try it first!"

Evans's kindness to Lavinia was very heavy, and Evans won her life. There was a saying that Evans had a good point.

Without him, Lavinia would not be today.

Under the condition of not violating the principle, Lavinia would save her not get into trouble by paying back for Evans's kindness.

Lavinia asked Evans to wait for her news and then hung up the phone quickly.

Chris held an international conference in the following study. He has been in the study for more than an hour. There was no sign of coming out until now.

The John Family's problems were fermenting rapidly in major media, and she was most afraid of not having time to block the spread of news. But, even if she asked Chris at that time, it would be too late.

Well, since Chris wouldn't come out, she could always sneak in, couldn't she?

Lavinia went downstairs to cut a fruit bowl herself and bothered to spell out a smiling face and a heart on the fruit bowl. Then, after she felt the fruit bowl was good, she put a toothpick on it and took it out.

Upstairs,there were only a few people in the house,and the study was unlocked.Lavinia turned the doorknob gently and quickly pushed open the door,revealing her little head.

She made Chris notice herself and pointed the man to the tray in her hand.

Lavinia was also afraid that she would be kicked out before she went in.

It's said to be an international conference,which must be very important.

Without waiting for the expected reprimand,Chris asked the people on the other side of the video to pause for five minutes,turned off the conference video,pushed open the leather boss chair,stepped with slender legs,and walked to Lavinia quickly.

"Be kind enough to send me a fruit bowl,huh?"

Chris knew about this woman very much.Lavinia would never do that for him if she didn't have something to ask for help.

"Eat some fruit first.I'm not in a hurry.I can wait until your meeting is over."

Chris's time was so precious that Lavinia couldn't delay all Chris's important events because of a bit of thing about Evans.

Lavinia didn't want to admit that her heart has always been biased in the direction of Chris.

"It's just an ordinary regular meeting of international conferences.It's coming to an end.So just say what you wanna say."

Lavinia was the most important thing for Chris. Compared with her, other things could be dealt with later.

Seeing that Chris was so kind to her, Lavinia suddenly didn't know what to say.

"Evans called me just now."

Her throat rolled up and down twice, and Lavinia stiffened her head before she spoke.

"I don't want to say anything to you for him. I also know that things on the Internet are all his fault, but I owed him a lot initially, and he saved me. I don't ask you to promise to help him immediately. Just promise him that you will do this favor just to offset his kindness to me."

The speech grew faster and faster, and at its end, Lavinia even closed her eyes.

Her whole body was shivering.

After all, no one could say when Chris's slap suddenly fell off.

"Because of Evans again, didn't you promise me that you will never speak to him anymore?"

"Well, you're right. I promised never to contact him again, but I'm not easy to get along with from my point of view. What should I do, Manager Chris?"

"What do you want me to do, Miss. Lavinia?"

Chris forked a peeled apple from the tray Lavinia was carrying and bit it down with a crunchy sound.

Reward

10

Comments

3