

Chapter 36 make the Soup to Tonify the Body

Of course,Lavinia didn't feel empty right now.It was an unprecedented satisfaction.Physical contact was addictive.With Chris taking the lead,Lavinia could just follow his pace,making her feel hollowed out.

"Chris,will you slow down?My legs are a little soft!"

It's only been more than ten minutes since Chris started to work hard,and Lavinia didn't know how many times he surrendered.

It was the faintest moment of her voice,and Chris did not doubt that if it went on like this,Lavinia would faint next.

Chris had to finish hastily,and when he finished,he carefully wiped the sticky under Lavinia.

Lavinia was in a sensitive period.So every time Chris touched her body,she couldn't help but shiver,and her legs clamped unconsciously.

It didn't last long,and Chris finally decided to cut her some slack for the sake of tiredness on her face.

The car returned to the villa in the north suburb from the mountain,and Auntie came out to meet them.But,of course,they didn't expect to see Chris holding a woman down from the car just after coming out.

They couldn't think of anyone but Miss.Lavinia.

"Auntie,make some soup to replenish her body tonight.Don't wake her if it's unnecessary."

Chris looked at Lavinia tenderly,only looking down for a moment,and there was infinite love in his eyes.

Auntie, who worked in The Konev Family for many years, had never seen Chris care so much about anyone. They all thought that their young master would never know what love was in his life. It seemed that the young master was no ordinary relationship between men and women to Miss Lavinia.

The servants were afraid to judge their masters or gossip about Chris. Chris had just put Lavinia on the bed before returning to the study again.

No sooner had he turned on the computer than a video pop-up came.

"Boss, you finally picked up my video!"

When the man looked at Chris, his tears almost fell.

The exaggerated expression did not make Chris's attitude towards him better.

"If there is no new progress, I will hang up first."

His mouse was pressed on the top of the shutdown, and once the guy didn't say something useful to him, he would hang up the video immediately.

"No, there is new progress this time, boss. As you expected, they want to rob the goods we want. They have a premium of 10% on our price, and The Scott Group wants to give the goods to them."

When the man got back to business, his eyes became focused and indifferent.

"Ten percent premium? Just for this batch of goods?"

In the regular transactions between Chris and The Scott Group, what they wanted was not uncommon, and there was no shortage in the market. As long as they were ordinary people, they should not think about a premium of 10% in exchange for a batch of worthless goods.

"I also think there is something strange in it. The raw materials we want are common things. By the way, when we bought rare metals in another family last time, the Scott Group also intervened, but our relationship was harder than theirs. It was us who finally won the competition. But why they did that again, this time to us?"

Kevin was going mad at those people. If the boss hadn't given orders, he would have taken people to teach each other a lesson and let them know that The Konev Group was not as simple as they thought.

"Just keep following. If there is any news, tell me immediately. By the way, you have to check that did we any transactions between us since this family made its fortune?"

If it's revenge, they had to be a reason for doing so.

There was no love or hate for no reason in this world.

If the Scott Group is bent on opposing The Konev Group, they will pay the price for it.

"Yes, boss!"

After having up the video and Chris rubbed both sides of the nose.

On the surface, The Konev Group had already become a giant in Y City and even the whole country. So countless people wanted to curry favor with The Konev Group to earn more money by relying on Chris. But in fact, as many people were looking forward to The Konev Group's bankruptcy,as many people were looking forward Konev Group's bankruptcy.So they should guard against it everywhere inside and outside the company.

While stabilizing development,they should also be careful that someone would hold them back.For example,since taking over The Konev Group at the age of eighteen,Chris had not had a good rest day for nine years.

Unlike Lavinia,she slept sweeter than anyone else after every sex.

What happened to her was a trivial matter in Chris's eyes,and only Lavinia felt that the sky was going to fall.

When he thought of Lavinia,Chris's mouth turned up unconsciously.He didn't know that Lavinia still could make him laugh.

It's been the second day since Lavinia woke up again.

On the first night,Auntie waited for her to cook soup all night.Lavinia didn't show any sign of waking up.It was almost time for class.Whether to wake her up became the most tangled point in Auntie's heart.

"Auntie,I asked for her leave.You heat the soup first,and she will come down to eat later."

When Chris saw Auntie clenching her fists and walking up and down the stairs with an unpredictable look on her face,he knew that her heart must be entangled.

It was all for Lavinia.

It seemed that Lavinia's impression of Auntie was still excellent.

Chris waked up Lavinia. When she woke up, she looked reluctant.

Only when Chris showed Lavinia the hands-on watch did she pedal out of bed.

"HELL NO! I forgot to have class this morning, but I was already late!"

In the morning, the teacher would call the row, and the credits for naming were very heavy. If the teacher knew that she was absent, she might pass her test.

In a hurry, she didn't even find her trousers wearing backward.

"Stupid, I have already asked for your leave."

Chris liked to see her being anxious, but he didn't tease her for long.

"That's good. You don't know how annoying our teacher is. As long as I'm absent twice, I would never have the chance to pass her exam."

The simple Lavinia soaked out of the university campus was well preserved. But, seeing her contented appearance when she knew she had a holiday, Chris couldn't help but hook Lavinia's body over and kissed her harder.

A deep kiss almost made Lavinia breathless.

"If you can't learn to breathe next time, just stop going to college. Try to learn these skills at home and then go out."

Chris wiped away the glittering and translucent corners of Lavinia's mouth, a little disgusted with her kissing skills.

"I can't have your rich experience. So if you have the ability, don't kiss me!"

The more Chris spoiled her, the more evil she was. Looking at the little things scampering on the bed, Chris really couldn't do anything.
