

Chapter 43 The Great Secret

"The Center Hospital,you bastard.It was you who let my sister miscarry,and now you even didn't know where she is.No matter how rich your family is,my sister will never have anything to do with you in the future,and she will never have any ties with you again,so don't show that false kindness."

With a desperate attitude,Erik greeted Chris with all the words he had not dared to scold for many years.

Erik would try his best to avenge his sister no matter what it would take.

It's a pity that Erik's revenge did not come as scheduled.Chris left the office quickly,then went to The Center Hospital at speed not seen in many years.

Lavinia was completely drugged,and the pain from her abdomen made her bite her teeth.

But she didn't say anything.

In the separate ward,it was quiet.She was already sweating from the pain,and she didn't ring the call bell to let the doctor come over.It seemed that only despair could make her feel that the baby in her belly came and left again.

"Maybe from the beginning,I shouldn't have done this.Who can I blame?I am also suffering from the consequences."

Lavinia's mouth showed a trace of bitterness,and she didn't blame anyone for being reduced to this day.

Including Chris Konev!

"Lavinia, there are still two bottles of liquid today. After losing, you need to wait for observation in the ward. Don't run around. By the way, what about your family? Let your family come to the nurse station later."

The nurse changed the liquid again and then looked around the ward. There was no family member except the patient.

Lavinia couldn't help frowning.

"My brother will come later, thank you, doctor."

Before the fever faded, Lavinia's lips were dry. Her voice was mixed with a trace of dryness.

"You know that you need someone to take care of you. What if you had another fever?"

The nurse changed the medicine for Lavinia and did not forget to say something in front of Lavinia before leaving.

High fever and ectopic pregnancy abortion almost killed the little girl. But no one was here to be with her right now. As a woman, the nurse was really distressed by Lavinia.

Just walked to the door, Chris, who had not had time to enter, suddenly became serious in his eyes.

He wanted to wait for the nurse to leave before going in, but it was too late.

"You are a family member of the patient. Hurry to the nurse station and sign the paper. The prepaid medical expenses are used. Remember to go to the registered place downstairs to pay back."

Nurses had seen many such men. Because they were handsome, they could have no sense of responsibility and didn't think about it. Women go to the hospital because of these men. As a result, they had only come until now. The nurse hated this kind of man most.

The nurse blamed Chris, so he obediently went to the nurse station to sign with the nurse first.

Lavinia did see that tall man. Chris's arrival was beyond her expectation. Lavinia even thought, How did Chris know she was here? Can't Chris still let her go to punish her even she has already been in the hospital?

She would like to sneak out of the hospital, but her body did not allow it. Besides, she couldn't hide from Chris forever.

When Chris finished the formalities, Lavinia fell asleep.

Chris now was looking at the girl sleeping. Her eyes closed slightly, and the fluff on her eyelids was visible.

After coming back from the nurse's station, Chris started to have the feeling of heartbreaking, and he couldn't breathe.

Seeing the woman lying in bed, flushed because of fever, Chris suddenly could understand what Erik did to him before.

If Chris's sister were lying in bed in the hospital, he would swear to kill the man who hurt his sister.

Erik had been very gentle with Chris.

The woman in bed made him look fascinated. Suddenly, when he remembered that Lavinia had just lost a child,his heart hurt again.Then he picked up his mobile phone and dialed the phone.

"Come to The Center Hospital.I want more accurate physical examination results from Lavinia."

The man on the other end of the phone hadn't heard the name for a long time.When he listened to the woman's name again,the man's blood was boiling all over.

He immediately asked his assistant to take the most advanced instruments and drove their particular mobile surgical vehicle directly to the downstairs of The Center Hospital Inpatient Department.

Hawn thought Lavinia was just an accidental existence in Chris's life,and they had lost contact for a long time.But he didn't know that Chris had more contact with Lavinia again.

Yes,this was a secret that Lavinia didn't even know.She and Chris knew each other as early as two years ago,and the relationship was not shallow.But,unfortunately,Lavinia had selective amnesia.

Chris didn't give Hawn much time to cast his mind back.Finally,knowing that they were already downstairs,Chris condescended to meet people downstairs in person.

"Boss,this news is too exciting.You have not contacted that woman for a long time.Then,you suddenly told me that she had an ectopic pregnancy and miscarried.Is this baby yours?"

Chris looked in the past,but Hawn didn't dare to ask more questions. He was carrying a medicine cabinet with precision instruments, and his feet were like stepping on hot wheels.

In Lavinia's ward, Hawn saw a little girl like Sleeping Beauty as soon as she entered the door. But, no, she was a little girl two years ago.

Damn it. Even Lavinia was sleeping. She was gorgeous. It's the woman that the boss had a crush on.

"Why don't you check her body as soon as possible?"

Chris was pretty serious right now, while Hawn immediately asked the female assistant to install the instrument on Lavinia and conducted a precise examination on her.

Half an hour later, Chris tried to breathe as hard as possible. Then he finally waited until Hawn asked the female assistant to remove the instrument from Lavinia, and his whole people relaxed.

"How is she?"

For the sake of Chris's great importance to results, Hawn did not beat around the bush with him but told the truth.

"Ectopic pregnancy is no accident. In the beginning, drugs left many sequelae on her."

Hawn's words were like a death sentence for Lavinia.

"To be precise, I thought she could not get pregnant in her life. As a result, she had an ectopic pregnancy."

Hawn wanted to know that the boss would eventually get together with Lavinia, and he had to make it clear to the boss at the beginning.

He just told the boss the truth now.
