

Chapter 44 She can't get pregnant

Couldn't she get pregnant?

This is indeed a result that Chris Konev never thought of.

He thought that the child was the worst one without it.

The whole ward was surprisingly quiet. Chris's breathing was slightly dignified, and the back of his hand was veined because his fist was overexerted.

"Don't tell her about this matter first. I am afraid that she can't stand the stimulation. You should keep it a secret. Now is not the time to let her know the truth."

Chris frowned, and now he has begun to regret his original decision.

Lavinia was lethargic because of excessive exhaustion. When she woke up completely, everyone had to be refreshed.

Chris was still at her side while Hawn and his family had gone back to discuss Lavinia's test results to see if they could give the best treatment.

As a research institute that was more precise than The Center Hospital, Hawn had the most advanced technology and equipment and the most senior professors and researchers. With them, Chris could finally rest assured.

"Chris, if you want to settle accounts with me, can you wait until I am getting better? I still have a fever and have no energy to explain anything."

Lavinia knew what Chris could do. If he thought that Lavinia and Lauren have an ambiguous relationship, he would punish her sooner or later.

"What is the comparison between Lauren and me? You will choose him unless you are blind."

Chris said with great confidence. When he said this, Chris felt like a spring breeze, and his heart was full of happiness.

"That's not what you thought before."

When Chris saw Lauren, he didn't listen to an explanation. Chris was the one who left directly. He couldn't deny that.

"Lavinia, do you want me to punish you now?"

Chris was not going to pursue it. However, this woman was still chattering. Did she think Chris has such a good temper?

As soon as she heard that she was going to be punished, Lavinia suddenly became self-disciplined.

"Manager Chris, an open-minded and handsome man like you, don't be as knowledgeable as little people like us. I won't say it."

Sure enough, the chattering mouth soon closed.

Chris looked carefully at the woman he thought no longer belonged to him, and his long-standing worries were gently smoothed.

"Sorry, I'll listen to your explanation later."

"I'm sorry to let you hurt your body and lose our children."

When it came to children, Chris felt like his throat was filled with lead, and he couldn't get down there all the time.

Lavinia was not much better. How could she naively think that Chris will be fooled? This man knew Everything.

She also wanted to hide it from Chris and didn't want Chris to feel uncomfortable.

"Chris Konev, Lauren, and I have nothing. In the past, everyone excluded me from class. Fortunately, Lauren regarded me as a friend, and Lauren helped me at the class reunion to not be bullied by those people. I just wanted to thank him before inviting him to dinner. I didn't expect you to misunderstand."

Lavinia didn't want to deepen the contradiction with Chris, and she didn't want him to misunderstand her anymore. So, just when she had this opportunity, she would explain it to Chris in person.

Chris nodded to show that he knew.

He could not tell Lavinia that when she disappeared, Chris had sent someone to find out the whole story of the party and even who was targeting her.

And those who have targeted Lavinia, Chris has also made arrangements one by one.

As for Lauren, at best, Chris wouldn't bother him. That's all. Chris would never say thank you to that little boy who had a crush on Lavinia.

After staying in the hospital for three days and leaving the hospital, Chris stayed with Lavinia for three days and even asked his assistant to help him move to the hospital ward.

When Auntie learned that Lavinia had given birth, she gave her tonic differently every day and ultimately regarded her as her daughter.

She also specifically euphemistically hinted that they could not share the same room for at least three months after giving birth.

Not afraid of Lavinia's attack on Chris, Auntie was worried Chris couldn't control himself, making Lavinia sick again.

What Lavinia didn't expect was that an uninvited guest came to find her on the day she was discharged from the hospital.

When she saw Evans again, Lavinia thought she met the wrong person.

Evans's temperament had changed a lot.

You could still feel the taste of sunshine in Evans before. But now, Lavinia couldn't think that on this man.

"Lavinia, if I hadn't accidentally learned that you were hospitalized, I wouldn't have known. Are you all right? What did the doctor say?"

Evans's affectation of concern almost made him sick to himself.

Of course, Evans had already known Everything about Lavinia before he came.

Fever, ectopic pregnancy, abortion.

At one time, Evans still had the idea of making up with Lavinia. But when he heard about Lavinia's ectopic pregnancy and abortion, the idea of making up never appeared in his mind again.

Lavinia was wearing an ill-fitting hospital gown. Because of its fat clothes, her collar was slightly open. But Evans tried several times. He still didn't see what he wanted to see.

He came to see Lavinia's jokes, and by the way, to see her beautiful body.

"I'm fine. Thank you for your concern, but there is nothing between us. So you don't have to visit me. Besides, I have to be discharged from the hospital, and it is no big deal."

Lavinia instinctively didn't want to have contact with Evans. When she saw Evans trying to hold her hand and asked for help, Lavinia suddenly hid from Evans.

"I have to go through the discharge formalities, so I won't leave you drinking tea in a place full of bacteria in the ward."

The intention of marching customers was very obvious.

"I'll help you. You haven't recovered well. It's better to rest more. Your boyfriend didn't say to take care of you when you were hospitalized. I have told you before, Men like Chris Konev will never take care of the women."

Anyway, Chris was not here, and Evans was just looking for a topic to discredit Chris.

When Lavinia was most vulnerable, Wasn't it the time when she needed comfort from a man? Evans wanted Lavinia to see that choosing Chris was an enormous wrong choice she made in her life.
