

Chapter 47 Be careful I let you go out

Nicole gave a light cough, turned away from her eyes. She appreciated enough, and if she continued to appreciate it, she might have to suffer from it.

She reached out and pulled one side of the quilt over her body.

'I've heard that you have a childhood sweetheart fiancée? Only your grandparents attended the engagement ceremony. It is estimated that your parents don't know my existence, and don't even want me as a daughter-in-law.'

After thinking about it, she still felt a little sad. After all, she was really going to marry him. But after another thought, marrying anyone was the same. Why did she have to care about his family?

Nicole wrapped herself in her bed and looked at the ceiling.

Shawn went to bed suddenly and even got into her quilt.

The quilt on her body was suddenly pulled away, and someone even got in. her eyelids jumped subconsciously. She shifted her eyes to him. When she saw his expression, she stunned.

'It doesn't really matter whether they come or not, the important people have already come.'

Upon hearing this, Nicole was stunned again. She looked at him and opened her mouth slightly. Was his most important person his grandparents?

She wanted to ask, but when she thought that this was his personal matter, she couldn't keep asking.

She narrowed her eyes and leaned against his arms.

'In that case, just sleep.'

Shawn didn't understand why Nicole didn't ask herself?

He stretched out his hand to pull out the woman who had been retracted into his arms, and his eyes fell on her face.

'Aren't you curious about my private things?'

If she was curious about his family affairs, it at least proved that she still cared about him. But Nicole was so peaceful now, it made him feel a little uncomfortable.

'If you want to tell me, you will take the initiative to tell me. If I ask about your family matters like this, it seems that I am uneducated.'

Nicole suddenly thought of Erin again when she said this, and after thinking about it, she felt that her whole mind was about to explode.

'Is that so?'

Shawn looked at her calmly, and then began to look at the expression when he pulled a face. He couldn't help but laugh, and he suddenly reached out and hit her chin.

'What you said makes sense, but you were wrong. Now it is our family affair. Don't forget that you are already my legal wife.'

After he finished speaking, he forced her into his arms, acting a bit domineering.

Nicole felt his sudden embrace, and was a little bit surprising. But she didn't struggle, and Erin's things in her mind were gradually replaced by what Shawn said.

They two embraced and slept.

The next morning, Nicole returned home alone.

When she came back, she didn't greet to anyone in advance.

When she just got inside, she saw Elena pouring something over there.

She subconsciously squinted her eyes and stared at that side. She suddenly walked over there, until she was behind Elena. Elena had not noticed that Nicole was already standing behind her.

She was so obsessed with her own world that she didn't even notice Nicole was already here.

When Elena turned around, she was instantly shocked by Nicole standing behind her. Her face turned pale, and she even exclaimed.

Nicole was quite calm, looking at her now looking frightened by herself, she couldn't help but laugh at the corners of her mouth.

'How did Auntie so scared of seeing me? What are you afraid of? Is there something terrible written on my face that can scare you to death?'

After saying this, Nicole even walked a few steps in front of her.

Elena's eyes flickered, and she was forced to meet Nicole's eyes. As she approached, she subconsciously stepped back several steps, until she was forced to hit the table, and Elena stopped.

'Absolutely not. It's just that you suddenly stood behind me and didn't say a word when you came. I didn't even know you were here. Of course I felt terrible when I suddenly saw you.'

Her hand holding the cup shook involuntarily.

Nicole smiled again and stretched out her hand to pull up the shaking hand of her holding the cup. She stared at that hand, narrowed her eyes and asked, 'Did you send milk to my dad again today? '

'The milk powder bought by Auntie is not simple. You said you accidentally made a mistake for my dad. I don't think so.'

Elena stared at the smile at the corner of Nicole's mouth, listening to her meaningful words, the anger in her heart rose up. She couldn't help reaching out and pulling her hand out of Nicole's hand.

'Why are you still thinking about what happened last night. It's been so long. Are you still angry after one night?'

Elena deliberately put on a look of no guilty conscience. Nicole asked her like that right now, just to make her guilty! She really can't let her succeed now!

'Then I explained to your dad what happened last night, and your dad already knows what's going on. Babe, why are you still asking me here? Is it possible that I want to kill your dad? '

'That's my husband!'

When Elena said this, her voice grew louder and louder.

It seemed that she wanted to make Nicole believe her words with a strong enough voice.

But her words, such a tone, would only make Nicole feel that she was in a guilty conscience.

Nicole stared at her and her eyes turned faintly.

'My dad believes in your explanation because he treats you as his wife. He believes in you, but I don't believe me at all.'

'You'd better pay attention. If something happens to my dad next time, I will still be the first to doubt you.'

Nicole slowly narrowed her eyes and smiled again when she said this.

'I don't mean to be joking with you now. If you don't believe me, you can challenge my bottom line.'

'Now my dad is not in the company and recuperating at home. Everything in the company is under my control. If you provoke me, be careful I let you go out.'

Elena looked at Nicole's expression, a face suddenly turned pale. Her eyes tightened, and she couldn't help but want to refute her.

However, she was concerned that Nicole was indeed in control of the whole company. She forced the grievances in her heart and began to play pity in front of her.

'Nicole, we are all a family. How can you be so cruel to us? Just be nice to us...'

Nicole felt annoyed in her ears when she heard what she said, and she raised her eyebrows: 'If you talk about this, I can do it more cruelly. The happy family things are not working for me.'

Chapter 48 Never Try To Be My Project Spokesperson

Elena didn't dare to speak any more now.

But the eyes that she looked at Nicole were full of grievances, as if she did something to her.

Nicole didn't want to continue wasting time here with her. She turned and ran upstairs, gradually speeding up her steps.

When Elena saw her leaving indifferently, she stood here and didn't know how to react. But her heart sounded a warning bell. If Nicole continued like this, she would only threaten her and Erin. She had to let Bob give them the real power...

When Nicole came up from the first floor, she approached Bob directly.

Bob was still lying on the bed now, looking very uncomfortable.

She couldn't help frowning, and even quickened her pace when she walked inside.

'I told you yesterday that you have to stay in the hospital. You just didn't listen to me.'

She rushed to him step by step, until she reached the bedside, she sat next to him.

Bob was stunned, and when he saw that Nicole was really here, his eyes were surprised.

'Have you not gone to the company?'

She helped him to get up from the bed, her eyes were full of helplessness.

'How can I feel relieved to go to the company by seeing you like this. You are still not well.'

'Who will go to the hospital for an examination with you?'

Just find someone to accompany you to the hospital.'

Bob subconsciously wanted to tell Elena to accompany him, but when he thought of Nicole's attitude towards her, he couldn't talk more.

He smiled at her.

'It's okay, don't worry about this, when I can't go to the hospital, I'll see it later.'

After he finished speaking, his eyes swept toward the door.

'She didn't follow me. Stop finding someone.'

Nicole subconsciously thought that Bob was looking at Elena, so she directly stretched out her hand to pull him back, frowning at him.

'No, I'm watching Mr. Shawn. Didn't he come back with you? Why he didn't show up?'

He has a trace of doubt in his eyes.

'He wants to go to the company too. He doesn't know I'm coming back.'

Listening to Bob's explanation, she breathed a sigh of relief. she patiently explained to him. Just after speaking, Bob suddenly took her hand.

'You must be careful. Only his grandparents attended the engagement ceremony between you and him. Dad didn't tell you that day. It's because there are so many people. It's hard to say anything, but I hope you can be more careful. .'

'When you are with him, remember to take good care of yourself and be careful.'

'No matter if you can get married in the end, don't think so much.'

'If you are wronged, remember to talk to your dad.'

Bob explained to her sentence by sentence, but she wanted to tell Bob what she and Shawn had obtained.

When it came to the lips, it's hard to say it again. She hadn't discussed it with Shawn, so it would be better not saying it.

She quickly condensed her eyes and smiled slightly at Bob.

'Of course, I will definitely not let myself be wronged, don't worry.'

Nicole also patted his hand, and chatted with him for a while. After telling him to be careful, she left.

She was sitting in the car alone, just when she put on her seat belt, the phone rang.

Nicole raised her eyebrows, and when she answered the phone, the voice over there was anxious.

'President, Erin has gone to Shawn Industry now, saying that she is going to be the spokesperson for the project that Shawn industry and our company cooperated with. And they are making trouble there now.'

Nicole heard the assistant's words, and suddenly felt amused. She couldn't help but twitched the corner of her mouth. Contemporary speaker?

How dare she ?!

Now she really dare to go to Shawn Industry?

Others may not know her little trick, but Nicole knew it very well! She want to go to find Shawn?

'I'll be there once, and you can handle the company's situation at the company.'

Nicole hung up the phone immediately, she started the car and hurried towards Shawn Industry.

Erin had been waiting in Shawn's office for a long time.

'When will Mr. Shawn just leave the meeting?'

Erin was able to sit here, because she said she was looking for Shawn.

'I don't know, if you are in a hurry, you can go now.'

People in the assistant team were a little impatient here staring at Erin, especially when they heard her tone.

She didn't dare to say anything. She just sat stiffly here and her eyes didn't dare to shift.

About half an hour later, she heard the movement.

She subconsciously got up from the chair, turned around and really saw Shawn.

Seeing Shawn walking towards this side, Erin kept bubbling eyes, so handsome...

'President Shawn!'

Erin immediately walked towards him.

Unexpectedly, Shawn didn't even want to talk to her.

'Mr. Shawn, I'm here to tell you about the spokesperson. I think I have to tell you about this matter.'

Erin bit her lower lip, thinking that she was a bit charming, doing this action must be particularly charming.

'Who gave you the courage to come here and ask my fiancé to ask for a speaker?'

There was a beautiful female voice, even with a slight sarcasm in her tone.

When Erin heard this voice, her eyelids twitched, and she subconsciously turned back.

When she saw that it was really Nicole, her heartbeat followed, and there was a burst of dissatisfaction in her heart.

'Sister, I'm here to talk about the project. What was that matter?'

'That's our family's project, why can't I be the spokesperson.'

Erin looked at her dissatisfiedly. When she stared at Nicole, the expression in her eyes was a little angry.

But Nicole heard her voice without feeling at all.

She walked straight to Shawn's side, and when she came here, she generously took his arm.

'Didn't she bother you?'

Nicole stared at him and raised her eyebrows.

Shawn didn't say anything yet, Erin began to talk over there. Erin stared at Nicole dissatisfied.

'What are you talking about, sister. I'm here to talk about the spokesperson!'

'A spokesperson? Are you here to ask my fiance for the spokesperson?'

'I manage the project. Even if you want it, you should find me.'

'However, even if you are looking for me, I will not let you be the spokesperson.'

'You are just a infamous artist. How dare you want to be the spokesperson of my project?'
