

Chapter 47 You can't live by your iniquity

"No,Lavinia,Now,Manager Chris only listened to you if you didn't put in a good word for me.If you didn't say something for me,I would be fired,and other companies would never hire me again.I didn't know about Clara seducing Chris.I admit that I did arrange someone for Manager Chris before,but he didn't accept me.It was Clara who was obsessed with drawing Manager Chris and had nothing to do with me."

Jack was scared.Chris didn't look for him that day,but his big boss found Jack and let Jack take care of it the next day.After that,he either left his job voluntarily or couldn't get along in the circle.Jack begged for Lavinia to get a meal.

"You said Clara climbed into Chris Konev's bed?"

Lavinia's mouth was wide open with fear.

As soon as she woke up and didn't finish reading the news,she received a phone call from Jack.After that,it was unclear what happened outside during the day.

No wonder so many people cared about her.Maybe they want to see how miserable Lavinia would be after Chris slept with other women outside.

"I didn't arrange it.It's all Clara's masterpieces.But I didn't participate in this matter,and Clara failed.So you can rest assured that Manager Chris is still the same Manager Chris and has not been defiled by other women."

Sweat dripped from Jack's forehead,and he couldn't care if his words were ambiguous,as long as they could make Lavinia listen.

Lavinia turned on her mobile phone and watched the news on the Internet while listening to Jack.

All social forums were full of photos of Clara being mosaic naked.

All the news would ruin the woman's reputation forever in her life.

"Manager Jack, this is your internal problem. If Clara didn't do that, there would be other women to do this in the future. To get what you want, you can do whatever you want. And now you are even begging me to say something good for you? I am not so generous in Lavinia."

Lavinia was a victim, and she didn't come out of the shadows. So why should she have to save the two people who just got stuck?

When those people had watched her being sent to Chris's bed by Jack, even if one person had stood up, she would not have been crowned as a bed companion and lover.

Even if they fell in love with Chris later, their relationship was pure. Not the mistress turned positive in other people's eyes.

She always cared about spreading out on the bright side, and those people still wanted Lavinia to save. So then, who came to save her?

Everyone's salary in The Konev Group's secretary's office has been downgraded, and all year-end awards have been canceled.

When the assistant came to announce the punishment, the whole secretarial office suddenly breathed a sigh of relief, which was undoubtedly the lightest punishment they could think of.

When they saw Manager Chris's monstrous anger, they all thought that they lost their jobs. Fortunately, they only made changes in salary.

However, after this incident, the whole Group was rectified entirely, and the atmosphere was corrected compared with before.

Those who want to infiltrate The Konev Group through relationships and want to fight wicked thoughts after this incident dare not have those thoughts again.

After Chris eliminated the unhealthy trend of the company, he asked his assistant to find a cleaner to change all the decorations in the office and lounge. The sheets and beds were listed as the key objects to be lost.

Clara's appearance disgusted Chris all day. He didn't even finish his work, and it wasn't time to get off work. He hurried home to see Lavinia calm down.

In the villa in the north suburb, Lavinia was still reading the stories that Chris Konev and Clara had to tell shared with her one by one, almost deleting one person after reading one, until WeChat finally became clean.

Those irrelevant people she didn't want to come and go were finally cleaned up. Lavinia opened her WeChat, edited a message in a good mood, attached a selfie, checked whether there were any typos on it, and then clicked to send it.

"People would never have the chance to steal something from you which belongs to you.I'm fine,don't worry about me."

It was impossible to say that she didn't care.

Lavinia could think of countless people who wanted to seduce Chris,but she didn't expect it to be Clara.

The woman who was gentle and kind in the company and had always appeared beside Lavinia as a big sister knows that she was with Chris and planned to seduce Chris,which simply confused Lavinia.

All that glitters was not gold,and Clara's actions completely broke all the good things in the past,and her excellent impression of Clara disappeared entirely at this time.

"What are you looking at?You didn't even notice me."

Lavinia was absorbed in gossip,and Chris's words pulled her out of those bad memories.

"No,there are too many people who care about me.I sent a lot of news to me,and I was absorbed."

Lavinia couldn't learn the expression management of those people.Her thoughts were all on her face.Since she was not a person who could pretend,why should she hide her thoughts?

"Jack did a horrible thing.I have already thrown that woman out.It is the last time.."

Chris sat down by the bed.His palm was put on top of Lavinia's head and stroked gently between her black and soft hair,rarely explaining patiently to her.

"You don't have to explain to me.I am also a woman sent by Jack.I am just a little luckier than other women to be your girlfriend.Those women were just later than me."

"In this world,there are probably no people who don't think about you.Even if there is no Clara today,there will still be other women.Some people want to seduce you,which is a recognition of your charm.However,if you like them,please tell me in advance that I don't want to share a man with other women at the same time."

Lavinia's eyes were made of water,and Chris's heart turned into the water either.

He expected that women would be jealous and lost their temper.He thought that if she were angry,he would say something nice to coax her.

But Lavinia was too calm and rational.She thought everything about Chris.

Chris fell and kissed the woman in front of him.Between his breath and his lips,the throbbing in his heart caused by Lavinia became more and more apparent.

His hand couldn't help reaching into Lavinia's pajamas,which were vacuum inside,and the two masses of softness were just under his control.

There was a bulge in the big hand,and he kneaded it gently on Lavinia's bow.At every touch,the woman he was kissing under him would tremble.

"Chris Konev,the doctor said it would take at least two months after the operation."

Chris's hand stroked from her breasts down, paused for a moment on her unclasped waist, and then reached the root of her thigh, where the edge of the sensitive triangle was full of his walking track.