

Chapter 49 I Don't Need This Shit

Nicole's words directly hit Erin. She stared at Nicole and couldn't help holding her own hand.

'Sister, you are really too much. Don't you really think about me when you talk about something?'

Her eyes were a bit unwilling, and she was more aggrieved in front of Shawn: 'We are the family. What is wrong with this spokesperson? The benefits should not fall into the hands of others. Why can't you think about me? I am your sister.'

She emphasized sentence by sentence, but these words she said were really useless here.

Nicole's gaze shifted and moved to her, staring at her aggrieved expression, she suddenly laughed.

'Are you going to pull strings like this?'

'Then you don't have to, I don't want need that shit.'

The smile on the corner of Nicole's mouth became more interesting and brilliant. She stared at her current face, and the expression in her eyes became much deeper.

'Even if you are crying and telling me that fertilizer does not flow outsiders' field, I will not give you the spokesperson. I have already found the person now and don't need you to worry about this.'

'You just do your own thing.'

Erin was actually not so bad, but Nicole just wanted to say that, it's best to be angry with her!

If her purpose was only to rub her, then she had indeed achieved it. Her face was now distorted with anger.

Nicole turned around with a smile, her hand pressed against Shawn's chest.

'Should we just send our guests?'

As soon as Nicole finished speaking, Shawn's hand was placed on her waist. He didn't even want to glance at her.

'She'll walk on her own.'

The voice was not too loud or too small, just enough to make Erin hear clearly.

Her face turned pale again. Looking at the two people who were already hugging each other, her eyes were a little unhappy, and she suddenly reminded: 'Sister, whether you like me or not, I still want to remind you, you still have to pay attention to influence. If you two are seen by others...'

'Who is here, besides you?'

Nicole leaned against Shawn's arms and hugged him generously. Her eyes glanced at Erin casually. Looking at her expression, Nicole smiled.

'Especially for you to watch.'

'you.....'

Erin was completely flushed with anger under her smile, she squeezed her hand and suddenly turned and left.

She was gone now, but it did not mean that she would give up the matter of the spokesperson. She must get the identity of the spokesperson!

Nicole had been leaning in Shawn's arms until she saw Erin's figure disappear. She then came out of his arms, but her eyes were quite cold.

'Everyone really wants to get involved.'

'You got news and just came here specifically to hit her, right?'

Shawn looked at the contempt in Nicole's eyes and couldn't help but laugh. He smiled for a while with deep meaning. After speaking that, he took her hand and walked towards the desk.

Chapter 50 I only got feelings on your body

Nicole was restored by his actions. She followed him and ran forward. When she saw that she was about to get to the office chair, Nicole wanted to withdraw her hand, but Under his pull, there was no such opportunity.

'That's not the case, I don't have that idle time to hit her.'

Part of the reason was that she did not want Erin to be the spokesperson, and half of the reason was that she was worried that Erin would blatantly seduce Shawn.

Sure enough, when she came here, she really guessed it, and that woman was really acting pitiful towards him.

It's just that Shawn was also strange, he was clearly alone in front of her, and another person in front of Erin, who refused simply and indifferently.

'Then why are you here?'

Shawn wanted to hear why she came here.

He sat on the chair, suddenly stretched out his hand, and hugged her to his lap.

Nicole was embarrassed by his sudden movement, her eyelids also jumped. But when she felt her ass sitting on his lap, she couldn't help but reach out and grab his clothes. She felt more at ease in her heart like this.

Her eyes flickered, she held his arm and frowned slightly while staring at his current eyes.

'I came here to check the post.'

She looked serious.

She could accept that she and Shawn were together without feelings. For their own interests, she could also accept his mess with other women outside.

But the prerequisite for this was that Shawn first made it clear to her in advance that she could only accept it if he had other women outside.

Nicole couldn't bear to live like Bob. It didn't matter to be cuckold. The key was that one party still cared, and the cheating party concealed it.

Her eyes sank when she thought of this, and her heart tightened. Nicole couldn't help but stare at Shawn to emphasize.

'Mr. Shawn, there is one thing that I didn't tell you clearly before getting the certificate. Even if the two of us have no feelings, it doesn't mean that we can mess around outside without telling each other.'

'You have obtained the certificate with me now. If you have a big need in some aspect, or meet a woman who makes your hormones explode, you can love, but you must tell me first.'

Nicole pulled her face down, without any intention of joking with him.

When Shawn heard her words, he suddenly laughed.

That good-looking face suddenly smiled like this in front of her. She was angry in her heart and didn't know what to say to him.

She stretched out her hand and pushed his face again, and asked, 'Do you have any comments, or do you think my idea is funny. You don't want to agree?'

'Yes, your idea is really funny, I really don't want to agree.'

Shawn did not hide from her, nodded to her of course.

She pulled a face down. He could still admit it so quickly..

'I laugh that you can still bear with a married person looking for other people outside. Isn't this a naked cheating?'

'Then can you guarantee that you will not cheat?'

She gritted her teeth, staring at the sarcastic arc of his mouth, questioning suspiciously.

'I have a serious mental hygiene.'

He suddenly leaned to her ear, and his warm lips pressed against her ear.

'I only have feeling for your body.'

Only after his words fell, Shawn stretched out his hand to hold her hand and directly pressed it on a certain part of his body that had already reacted.
