

Chapter 55 Tell the truth

At this moment,Lavinia heard the despair in Nicole's tone.

As she saw a sentence before,the collapse of adults was often only for a moment.She thought Nicole was on the verge of collapse now.

"Nicole,what can I help you?"

Probably because of the same experience,Lavinia also felt the same way about Nicole's current mood.

Nicole was sitting on the slate downstairs crying,and her mother was sent to the mortuary,waiting for the funeral.After hearing Lavinia's concern,she shook her head,"You are right.We can't rely on other people's protection for a lifetime.My mother has passed away,and I need to face it alone in the future.So let me learn to be alone from this time."

Nicole wanted to send her mother away quietly,but Lavinia didn't step in to help but caught the poster before she came back.

If she were alone,she wouldn't have the ability.

She just asked Chris if there were any people who were proficient in computers,preferably those who had hacked before.Chris introduced two employees without saying anything.

They didn't know what they would do until they listened to Lavinia's needs.

After working in The Konev Group for a long time,they almost forgot what miracles they had created in the hacker field.

In just one hour,they not only tracked the poster's position but also found out all the dirty activities that the poster had done before and finally made a PPT display to please Lavinia.

Seeing the exquisite content,Lavinia admired the two men so much that she almost wanted to beg them to learn some hacking skills.

The two employees waited for Lavinia to reply after reading the content to see if there were any other needs.

Brook had done a lot of hard work in order to defame Lavinia.If Lavinia didn't do anything,the employees would do something to avenge.

Lavinia lived up to expectations and sent a message to them.Lavinia wanted them to write the article about every people except Brook who did something terrible before and sent those articles on the website in the name of Brook.

Also,delete all the things Brook wrote on the forum before and replace them with apologies to Lavinia.

Lavinia thought she was kind enough not to do anything hard on Brook.These injuries were far less harmful to a man than to a woman.

After finishing everything,the employees pressed the Enter key to send it out and enjoyed their works with satisfaction.Then,Lavinia wanted to invite two people to have a meal in order to thank them.Who knew that when they heard that they were going to have dinner,they started to be scared.

"No, the boss is still waiting for us to go back to make a report, and we have to work overtime in the afternoon. However, we appreciate your kindness."

They knew what Chris would do if they had the meal with Lavinia. They may lose their job.

When they returned to the company again, they were asked by Chris in detail.

When they met this Manager Chris for the first time, they really wanted to ask one more question, Manager Chris, why you changed?

Besides being looked at by those inquiring eyes, Lavinia's life was still comfortable without those gossips. Nicole had finished her mother's funeral and returned to resume classes.

Lavinia hadn't seen Nicole for a few days, and she felt that Nicole's whole temperament has changed.

There was only one class in the morning. After class, Nicole invited Lavinia to drink milk tea. Lavinia did not refuse her. After the two sat down, Nicole said indifferently, "Lavinia, you know what? My mother told me before she died that she adopted me. My birth mother is Susan, a famous entrepreneur in Y City. I always thought I was surnamed after my father. I didn't expect all this to be coincidental."

What?

Susan of Y City, anyone who has read a book in school must have heard this person's name. That strong woman rose after her husband got along with other women. She never got married all her life. People who knew her thought she was unmarried. Lavinia didn't expect Susan's children to be so big.

"My mother said Susan was going to fight her husband's family for her fortune; Her husband didn't know I existed when he cheated. After competing for her family property, she had her present career. After giving birth to me quietly, she sent me to foster care under my mother's name. I really want my mother to take this secret to heaven before leaving so that I won't fantasize that I still have relatives. Lavinia, do you know that my mother is not my own mother's sense of loss? My heart is really uncomfortable."

Nicole wanted to take a sip of milk tea when she couldn't control her emotions. Lavinia found that she was drinking milk tea faster and faster, and her throat choked more obviously. She was worried that Nicole would stop. Lavinia's hand was patting her back all the time to breathe for her.

"I think your mother didn't want you to leave regrets. She is worried that if she leaves, you will live alone. It seems that she wants you to find your real mother?"

Nicole nodded and admitted.

"But I don't want to. So I'm fine alone now."

Probably inheriting Suzanne's advantages, Nicole was also wonderful, attracting a group of people's eyes wherever she went and causing her a lot of trouble.

Just like Frank found someone to force Nicole before, even if she had no background and was bullied, Nicole could have had someone to protect her from harassment now, but she didn't want to rely on anyone in the past.

"Think about it again. I think your mother has such an entrustment to you before leaving. So there must be her reason."

If Nicole was impulsive, she was likely to make a wrong choice. Blood relationship was the least easy to give up. Nicole should rest assured that she could have someone around her.

"I'll think about it, Lavinia. Thank you for this time. In my most difficult time, it's good to have you standing by my side."

Nicole had changed, and the cowardly girl had matured.

After the blow of her mother's death, Frank let the two gangsters come to Nicole again. This time, Nicole didn't escape but even went to the place booked by Frank directly.

Before going, she sent a position to Lavinia and simply said that she would pay attention to safety and protect herself. When Lavinia saw the news, it had been two hours, so it was useless to call and persuade her.
