

Chapter 56 Do bad things with kindness

Worried that Nicole was too simple and would suffer under Frank,Lavinia decided to go to The Konev Group to find Chris and ask Chris to give her some advice.

Frank ordered a French restaurant,which had a beautiful environment.People with family conditions like Nicole had never been to a restaurant in their lives,and Frank spent a lot of money to sleep with Nicole.

"Miss Nicole,you do me the honor of seeing me at last."

Frank used strength several times,but people around him failed to tie Nicole up,and accidents occurred several times.This time he used gentlemanly means,but he didn't expect to invite Nicole out.

It seemed that beautiful women still like to be treated gently.

Frank only saw Nicole once by chance.On that occasion,he was fascinated by Nicole and even dreamt of her.

He thought that there was a shortage of women during that time,so he felt that way.As a result,he found several women to accompany him in bed,but it was useless.

After seeing Nicole,all those women became ordinary,and he didn't even have the mind to look at them again.

Several attempts to force a woman to his side failed.During that time,his temper was fiercer than anyone else.But,when he saw Nicole again,his heart calmed down.

"I don't want to see you. I just want to solve some trouble for myself. It's easier for us to say anything in person. Otherwise, I'm really afraid of being disabled by your men. I still don't know when I offended the instigators behind them."

The death of her mother has dealt a great blow to Nicole. During this time, she couldn't even take care of her own life, let alone give others a good look.

People who used to be so afraid of seeing each other were now no different from ordinary people.

Frank's face sank when he heard Nicole's words.

"I only asked them to ask you to meet me once. There must be some misunderstanding."

Nicole looked at Frank's tattooed arms and back. She didn't believe what he said.

"You are not my favorite type. You just have some novelty and curiosity about me. So now we meet each other and made it clear so that I hope you will not find anyone to harass me and threaten me in the future."

If Frank didn't get angry, it's absolutely false. If the woman was not Nicole, she would be thrown out now.

Lavinia was a little worried about Nicole's situation. However, when she asked Chris if she knew Frank, Chris didn't know about this guy. Fortunately, Lavinia had heard little about this guy before, so she quickly searched out the photo of that person and showed it to Chris, and Chris suddenly realized who he was.

"He is the Old master Joy's grandson. I heard that he doesn't want to inherit the family business. If you are worried that Frank will bully your new friend, I will call Old master Joy and talk about it?"

Chris was going to become an evil king. As long as it was what Lavinia wanted to do, he would arrange it with one hand and even broke the principle of talking about business but not life at ordinary times.

After Old master Joy retired, he lived fishing and drinking tea and occasionally paid attention to news hotspots. Nothing big happened during this time, and Joy was almost moldy.

Just as he was about to take away his fishing rod and go home for dinner, Chris's phone came in.

Chris Konev!

Joy didn't forget how many losses he suffered under Chris.

Obviously, Chris was a younger generation, but he just didn't know how to respect the old and didn't even give room for maneuver, which made Joy make a lot of profits in vain.

Joy thought that it was nice if such an excellent man would be the grandson-in-law of his family. But, who knew that Chris only cared about the business rather than the relationship.

"Chris, how did you think of calling me?"

Although Chris didn't marry his granddaughter, Joy's evaluation of Chris was still very high.

"Old master Joy, your grandson is unkind to my fiancée's best friend. Is this the usual method of your family?"

Lavinia stood beside Chris. She made it very clear just now that they were begging Old master Joy to scold his grandson, stop Frank from harassing Nicole. However, when she listened to Chris's crisp voice. This was not a begging attitude. He even offended Old master Joy.

"How can you still be mad with my grandson? Is my grandson studying these days? How can he harass your fiancée's best friend? Wait, fiancée?"

"Forget it. If you don't care about your grandson, I'll take your place."

Chris first asked Old master Joy, which was respect for the elderly. After that, he hung up the phone. Joy was still recalling Chris's words and suddenly remembered that if Frank fell into Chris's hands, Frank would suffer from the pain. Therefore, in order not to let his grandson suffer more hardships, he should talk with his grandson.

"Chris, is it not working?"

Lavinia stared at Chris guiltily. She knew it was unreliable to ask Chris for help, but she didn't expect it to be so unreliable.

If she had known that she had gone with Nicole in person, it would have been better than Nicole going it alone.

Just now,Lavinia had sent a message to Nicole so that Nicole could tell her in time when she was in danger.Until now,Nicole hadn't received a message from Nicole.Lavinia wanted to call her,but she was afraid that the other party was inconveniencing to answer the phone now.

Chris saw that Lavinia was more worried about a woman than about him,and he became annoyed.

He gnawed at Lavinia's back neck with his teeth,and he still couldn't get rid of his breath after biting a circle.

"I am the kind of person who looks unreliable?Don't worry,Joy will solve it,but I am more afraid that your fear will ruin a marriage.Frank is not as fucking as you think."

Even if they were not good people,they also had principles,especially when it came to women.

Besides,Frank was not a lack of woman.There must be a few true feelings in it if he could stalk Nicole.

Chris didn't elaborate on the following words to Lavinia.This silly girl,she would be worried anyway.

In Nicole,Frank was so angry that he couldn't find a place to vent.He happened to see Old master Joy's phone call.

As long as faced with Joy,no matter how big the grievances were,Frank would suppress them.

"You are causing trouble outside again.How can you kidnap the girl?This is humiliated!"

Frank was scolded as soon as he answered the phone,and he didn't have any time to prepare.
