

Chapter 65 - Guilty

'Can't I come back to this family, can I? Or did I affect you?'

Nicole stared at her and questioned. When seeing these people, she suddenly walked towards them.

She approached step by step, until after she got there, Nicole sat down under the eyes of these people.

'We are family. Since you come back, let's sit down and prepare for a meal.'

Seeing the atmosphere froze, Bob couldn't help but speak to break the embarrassment.

Elena also laughed when Bob finished speaking. She suddenly stood up and nodded to Nicole, echoing his words.

'Yes, We are all family, so why can't you come back for dinner? I'll get you the tableware now.'

The expression in Elena's eyes flickered, and Nicole was really getting more and more exaggerated. When she came back, she was always angry and she kept talking about something.

But Elena didn't dare to say anything about her at this time, and if she seized the opportunity, she could just criticize the person directly.

Nicole didn't refuse her to help her prepare the tableware. She sat here and waited, but she tapped her fingers on the table.

Her eyes shifted, and the corners of her mouth raised in a deep meaning.

She looked at Erin and saw her lowering her head to eat. When she seemed afraid to look at her, Nicole suddenly shifted her eyes to Bob.

Bob thought that he called Shawn in the afternoon, and Nicole came back in the evening. Her eyes seemed to be a little frustrating. He put down the chopsticks in his hand and looked at her and coughed suddenly.

'Are you not living with Shawn today?'

Bob was obviously scared, so now he tried to find something to talk to her.

But Nicole didn't want to take his words. When Elena took the bowl and chopsticks, she casually picked up the chopsticks and smiled at her.

'It's really hard work, auntie. I still let you help me get these personally. How embarrassed me.'

Elena froze and looked at her subconsciously. When she saw her smile, an unknown premonition suddenly surged in her heart.

'Nicole, what are you talking about? We are all family. What's wrong with me getting you a bowl when you come back for a meal? It's okay, let's eat.'

Elena greeted her for dinner.

But Nicole said this to her just to make a polite settling, and she didn't really want to thank her.

'I heard that you called Shawn today.'

Nicole's eyes fell into the bowl and did not look at Bob. She felt that even if she did not look at him, Bob should know who she was talking about.

These words directly changed the atmosphere inside.

Bob sat opposite her, frowning slightly, he subconsciously looked at Nicole, his eyes deepened a lot.

'It's just a call, what's wrong?'

What's the matter? Listening to his tone, Bob seemed to be quite calm.

Nicole laughed again, she shook her head, and turned her eyes to him.

'Dad, even if you want to help Erin, you don't have to call Shawn. What do you mean by calling him? Are you worried that I disagree?'

The chopsticks she held in her hand poked in the bowl without a second, waiting for Bob to explain to herself.

He shifted his eyes to Nicole again, he couldn't help frowning, but now she was showing a bit of a vein.

Chapter 66 - Why she could be in charge of the com

'Even if I contact him and talk about what happened to Erin. Your sister wants to be the spokesperson of the company now, and she is a family. Just think about it, what's wrong with that? You could teach her then.'

He was just worried that Nicole would not agree with that, then he called Shawn.

In order to make her agree with that, Bob's tone now had begun to become a lot tougher.

'Yes, your sister is going to be the spokesperson for that project now. Even if there is something that she is not doing well, you still can teach your sister again? We are all family, and there is nothing that cannot be discussed together.'

Seeing Bob's words, Elena immediately began to agree with his words, and persuaded her together.

Nicole twitched the corner of her mouth, and suddenly chuckled.

Her sharp gaze shifted from Elena to Erin, and Erin still did not dare to raise her head, as if she was afraid of her talking.

What kind of shit family! Elena cheated on Bob. And she even suspected whether Erin was Bob's daughter or not.

'Nicole...'

Bob called her with worry, fearing that Nicole would reject himself.

But after Bob just called her, Nicole directly threw the chopsticks in her hand on the table.

She squinted her eyes and looked at the three of them. Now she had to scold Bob. Or Elena and Erin may lose the whole family in a short time.

The expression in her eyes darkened a lot.

'Who is in charge of the company now? The company is finally getting better. I don't allow anyone to destroy it.'

'What if she is the part of the family?'

'The company has so many problems because Raven has done so many useless projects. Now you guys really want to do that again?'

Nicole said here with a direct tone of irony: 'Since I am in charge of the company now, I will not care about who are in the family.'

'Please never think about that again. Never want Erin to go to my company for anything, I will not agree.'

She refused altogether.

'You really don't listen to Dad, do you?'

Erin, who had been bowing her head to eat, finally raised her head. She shifted her eyes to Nicole and asked.

Nicole saw her being forced to raise her head, and she sneered at the corner of her mouth.

'Now you know to raising your head? Didn't you keep bowing your head just now to pretend to eat? You are not calm now?'

Nicole's eyebrows moved, and she said she would not let Erin be the spokesperson, then she would not. She would not agree to anyone who would persuade her.

'If you want to be the spokesperson, wait for the next life. Or if I don't continue to do it in the company, of course you can be.'

'Otherwise, don't think about it. It's a waste of time.'

Erin gritted her teeth violently. So now Nicole would even not agree with What Bob said to her.

She turned her attention for help to Bob, her tone was anxious: 'Dad! We are all your daughters! Why she could be like this?!'
