

Chapter 70 Lessons

"I have seen many men like you.You buy so many sweet and sour ribs to wait for the girls coming for you.It is your honor for our sisters to fancy you.."

At that time, Frank also saw Nicole and them, worried that this group of women who didn't know where to come from would affect his hard-won love. This time, he no longer had the excellent face just now and directly threw off the chopsticks that the woman wanted to clip his food just now, and the rice cooked by the woman also fell to the ground.

"How dare you do that to me! You are the new guy in this college, right? Let me remind you, little boy. If you annoy me, you can't have a good life in school!"

Frank only felt that the women standing next to him were talking and a little noisy. Just now, he just wanted to throw away the things that women blocked him. Now he wanted to throw out women together.

"If you don't take your rubbish away, believe it or not, I will make you unable to get along at school?"

Frank, who had brewed for so long to fight back to show a gentlemanly demeanor, was no longer there, like a demon ready to go, and no one knew when the next outbreak would be.

That woman had long been frightened by Frank's imposing manner, but there were so many people around who were looking at her. If she recognized cowardice today, her status as a leader would cease to exist today.

"Then show me! If you have the guts, wait for me, and I will tell you today, who is the boss!"

The woman tried to point at Frank's nose and was looked at by the horrible eyes, and her fingers suddenly shrank back.

Frank waited for the woman to call someone. As far as Lavinia and Nicole were concerned, they didn't deliberately avoid Frank because of his troubles. Instead, Nicole sat directly beside Frank, while Lavinia was opposite Nicole.

"Frank is really blessed. Unfortunately, buying lunchtime can provoke a bunch of bitches."

Lavinia and Chris Konev have been together for a long time, and this delicate and charming woman has been infected with Chris's domineering.

Other people would not dare to say these words to Frank, but the other party was Lavinia. Even if she did, Frank could only nod and accept criticism modestly.

"Don't say that to me. I was behaving myself. It was those women who have been following me around. If you don't believe it, the students around you can testify for me."

Frank looked at his classmates for help. In front of that woman, they did not dare to stand up alone to redress Frank's grievances, but it did not prevent them from nodding and justifying Frank.

"You are still annoying until now. I just wondered why this guy was so arrogant. It turned out that he was with you guys."

There were more and more people in the canteen, Some of them were here to cook, while others heard that there was excitement here, and they wanted to come here to look.

Soon, more than ten guys called by the woman came here.

"Who dares to make you angry? This woman is our master's favorite. Who dare to provoke her?"

Frank sat aside, with his head down, without looking at each other or opening his mouth.

Several gangsters saw each other lose face, picked up the dinner plate on the table, and threw it at Frank.

In order not to let the plate hurt two innocent women, he raised his hand and put the container on the ground next to him. The food in the plate fell all over the floor due to inertia and also fell on those men.

"Your master? What a big prestige!"

Frank's aura was not as good as Chris's, but it was already detached in front of this group of students, and even those gangsters had lost their gods.

"Frank?"

"Frank, how can be you!"

"We didn't know it was you, and we didn't know that those women offended you. If I had known that they could cause trouble so much, I should have slapped her to death."

Remembering that they dared to throw plates at Frank just now, they thought their lives were too long to live.

No one knew that there would be such a big reversal. A few proud women just now didn't know what to do at this time. They thought that these people who could pull back a game for themselves knelt in front of each other without moving their hands and even made them lose face.

"Nicole, I am usually a good person and have nothing to do with these people. If you don't believe you can ask Miss Lavinia and her boyfriend testify to me, I am not a gangster. don't be afraid."

Frank put away his rage and explained it to Nicole carefully.

What else could Lavinia and Nicole say? They haven't seen a man like Frank. It's tricky to deal with at one time.

Of course, Frank was not to blame for what happened today. What they wanted were a few women who disturbed their interest in eating in front of them.

"We have only been together for a short time. I don't promise you, just because I am worried that people will say that I cling to the powerful. It will make people depressed to listen to those ugly words. You have heard them today because you, me, and Lavinia have suffered from this. I'm afraid people like us are really unfit to be with people of your status, Master Frank."

Nicole was unhappy. She used to be in Frank, Frank, but now she called him master Frank.

The more unhappy person was Chris, who heard the bodyguards say that Lavinia had an accident here in the second canteen, and he happened to be nearby, so he drove to the school to have a look.

"I just left, and you just got into trouble. Do I have to tie you and watch you at any time in the future?"

The man was wearing a dark gray suit, and his strong legs were wrapped in straight trousers. Through this suit, Lavinia's first thought was the proper body of the man under the case.
