Chapter 1753: Neko-chan New Body

Hearing about that, Long Hui frowned. He disliked to hear that thing. Of course, he was her fiance. Not one liked people talk about that. Ma Xiurong let a small laugh out when she saw how Long Hui reacted. "No worry. I will not going to take away your fiance from you. At that time, we were just talking. We also said if the child already had their choice, they would not interfere with their life." Ma Xiurong explained.

After that, Long Hui became less tense. "It seems you find a good man." Ma Xiurong said to Yu Qi.

"Hmm..." Yu Qi nodded.

"My grandson is quite a disappointment. You should know why I say that. I don't know what he was thinking when he chose that kind of woman." Ma Xiurong sighed.

"He is still young." Yu Qi stated.

"He is the same age as you." Ma Xiurong stated.

Yu Qi laughed. Ma Xiurong seemed to complain about her grandson but Yu Qi could see that she really loved her grandson. They talked until Tobias Mathew came over and joined them. Obviously, he came with intention. He wanted to open a trading company that sold Binhai Nation's products to the Helion Country. He was doing this for his beloved wife, of course. Ma Xiurong liked to wear the products from Binhai Nation. Usually, the price was expensive due to the transportation fees. After a few discussions, Tobias Mathew decided to open a trading company to export the products from Binhai Nation. Tobias Mathew was thinking of choosing Yu Qi as a partner. Yu Qi told Tobias Mathew that he could send a business proposal to Qinyue Group. Su Yu Hi would be the one in charge of reviewing the business proposal.

Yu Qi was in the research centre. Her experiment just failed. She was looking at -the error that she needed to be improved. Then, Neko-chan appeared in the screen.

"Master, Master, are you busy right now, meow?" Neko-chan asked. "What is the matter?" Yu Qi asked.

"Can you come to the RDD section?" Neko-chan asked back.

RDD stands for Robotic Development Department. "Please... meow" Neko-chan begged.

"Okay... Okay..." Yu Qi nodded.

She took the electric scooter that she got from RDD's people. It was a product from RDD. They were planning to sell the item. She rides that to go to RDD. When she arrived there, she did not see anyone. She was curious. While she was looking for the people, she saw a cat jumped from the table and walked toward her. She did not know how a cat could enter the building. Did people from the RDD bring their pets here? A cat rubbed its body at Yu Qi's legs, seeking attention from her. Yu Qi was a cat lover. She picked up the cat and patted the cat. "Little one, where is your owner?" Yu Qi asked.

"Master, it is me... Meow..." Yu Qi suddenly heard a familiar voice. She looked around to see any monitor that had been on. However, she did not find one. She heard the same voice talking again.

"Master, it is me that you have been patted off... Meow." Yu Qi looked at the cat in her arms. The cat looked straight into her eyes. "It is me, your beloved robot cat, Neko-chan," Neko-chan said. "You became an actual cat?" Yu Qi asked.

"That is not right, Master. My body is the robot." Neko-chan stated.

"What?" Yu Qi began to lift Neko-chan up and checked around the body.

"Miss Tang... we did it." Mo Huizhong appeared with his friends. "It is a long research." Zhao Yongzhung nodded feeling proud of themselves.

"To make a robot with such a dynamite body." Tan Xiaosheng nodded several times. "It was hard to make such a realistic skin." Hu Tingfeng stated.

"Yes, she looks and feels like a cat." Yu Qi was very amused by this result.

"Neko-chan is very good. She even controls the robot cat after hacking into the robot cat's body." Deng Jianguo praised Neko-chan.

"Of course, I can do that. I am a genius... Meow" Neko-chan praised herself. They were still thinking that Neko-chan was a human. Since they often saw Neko-chan in human form. Yu Qi did not think she could tell them about Neko-chan an artificial intelligence that had its own minds. If they found out about that, she seriously did not know what to explain to them. She was a human doctor, not an expert in that field. Nevertheless, Everyone looked happy with the result. "Master, I can go home with you this time... Meow." Neko-chan rubbed itself to Yu Qi.

"Hmmm... Aoi, Shino and Bo Ya would be happy to see you." Yu Qi nodded.

"Miss Tang, we want to be involved in another project." Zhao Yongzhung said.

"Another project?" Yu Qi tilted her head.

Yu Qi hired them to create a body for Yu Qi. So, she did not have any plans for them after they successfully created a perfect body for Neko-chan. "Yes. I would like to continue our old project." Zhao Yongzhung stated. "It is about a server robot that can be operated in the minor tasks." "Write a proposal about that project that you want to work on. If it is interesting, I will invest in the project." Yu Qi stated.

"Sure. We will create a proposal that makes you think it is interesting." Zhao Yongzhung promised.
