Chapter 1761: Caught A Beautiful Girl

Yu Qi then walked towards the location. She looked around acting like she was looking for something. She used her senses to walk to the place. Yu Qi was approaching the people who seemed to be busy with their operation. They were behind the bush. Yu Qi stepped behind the bush and saw men tying up an unconscious woman. She pretended to be shocked and made some sounds to make those men realize that she was there. As she planned, those men turned around and laid their eyes on Yu Qi. Yu Qi acted like she was scared and wanted to run away from that place. As she started to run away, one of the men rushed over and stood up in front of Yu Qi while smiling.

"Since you are here, you can come along with us." The man said. Then, his partner came and let Yu Qi smell the cloth. Yu Qi knew that this smell could make someone lose their consciousness. So, she acted like that. She then heard those men talk.

"We are lucky today." "Hmm... Indeed. This girl came by herself."

"Well... It has been a long time since we caught such a beautiful woman like her. I wonder if..."

"Stop it. You cannot touch her right now. She is our product." "Okay... Okay..."

"Let's finish our jobs here for today." Yu Qi had been tied up and had a cloth covering her eyes. It seemed those men did not want their victims to know their faces and wanted to hide where they were heading in case their victims gained consciousness.

Yu Qi did not have to worry about that. She used her senses to look around. Those men took her and another woman into a van and drove off. They are seated in front seats, leaving Yu Qi and another woman unattended. Yu Qi used this opportunity to get into her space to take Neko-chan out. "Master... meow..." Neko-chan called her. "Remember, don't make a sound when I bring you out. After I give you the signal to take off, you need to go and find Brother Hui, understand?" Yu Qi said.

"Understood, Master. I will do as you say... Meow...." Neko-chan stated.

It is the first time for Neko-chan to handle her task in her new body. Yu Qi brought Neko-chan out and Neko-chan stayed quietly by Yu Qi's side. Yu Qi looked at the men. They seemed to not notice anything unusual.

They had been driving for about one hour before they stopped. They came over to the back of the van to check on the women.

It seemed that another woman already gained her consciousness. She struggled to break the rope which tied her up while screaming. "Oh, someone already woke up." A man stated.

"Who are you? Let me go!" The woman screamed.

"Don't worry. We are going to take you to paradise. You will like it there." The man shouted.

"No!!! Let me go." The woman screamed about.

"Hey, make her shut up." Another man stated.

Yu Qi could see that the man approached the woman and hit the back of the woman's neck. The man got out of the van. However, they did not close the door. Yu Qi could conclude that they are near the sea. Those men are waiting for someone. So, those men were just a middleman. "Neko-chan, take a photo of these people and this scene. Take it from the bushes over there. Make sure you catch the men's faces clearly. And the woman as well as me. After that, wait for another party to come and record every transaction that they are about to do." Yu Qi whispered.

"Understood...Meow..." Neko-chan nodded. Neko-chan jumped into the bushes. The men noticed it. They quickly became on guard. "Hoi, go and take a look." One of the men told his men.

Two of the men approached the bushes. Neko-chan made a clever move. She made a cat's sound.

"Meow..." Neko-chan started meowing. The men saw Neko-chan. Neko-chan also stared at the men. Once the men saw Neko-chan, they were relieved. "It is just a cat."

"Are you sure about that?"

"Yeah. I already checked it. No one here." "Alright, then."

Neko-chan did what Yu Qi had ordered him to do. She took the picture of all the men, the van, and the plate number of the van. "Hey, how f**king long that we need to wait here?" "Just be patient."

"Yeah. We can ask a lot for today since we brought two of them."

"Yeah, since we are going to stop for three months forward."

"What, why?"

"It seems there are a lot of police reports regarding the missing people. We cannot be caught. So, we need to stop operation for a while."

"I see. So, can I get a vacation, boss?"

"You idiot. We are going to stop this operation. Not our main business."

"I thought we could have a bit of time off." Yu Qi was listening to their conversation. Even she was waiting to see the person who they had been waiting for. It seemed they were the ones behind the missing people around this area. Yu Qi wondered what their motive was to kidnap people like this. When Yu Qi read the report from Long Hui, it seemed they liked to kidnap women. Probably because women were easy to handle since they were weak in general.
