Chapter 1777 1777: Chase Her Out

Their house only had three bedrooms. One for Duan Jiaying and her husband, another one for Fang Daiyu and the last one for her younger brother who currently going to boarding school. So, Fang Daiyu had to share her room with Duan Chunhua.

Duan Jiaying was silent. After a while, she made a decision. "Yeah, let's tell her to leave our house." Duan Jiaying nodded.

Fang Daiyu smiled when her mother decided to side with her. Both of them went to Fang Daiyu's room. When Fang Daiyu opened her room, she was shocked to see Duan Chunhua rummage through her drawer, the place where she placed her money and valuable items. "Duan Chunhua! What are you doing?" Fang Daiyu shouted and rushed to Duan Chunhua's sight. In Duan Chunhua's hand, she was holding a gold necklace that belonged to Fang Daiyu. Fang Daiyu quickly snatched her gold necklace back and glared at Duan Chunhua.

"How dare you try to steal my gold necklace? I get it from my grandfather." Fang Daiyu shouted.

Her grandfather from the Fang Family gave this gold necklace to Fang Daiyu as a present for successfully getting admitted into a university. Even though it was a common university, her grandfather was so proud of her. He even showed off her success to his friends. "Get out of my room right now!" Fang Daiyu screamed at the top of her lungs.

Fang Geming who had been sleeping woke up instantly when he heard his daughter's scream. He feared something might happened to his daughter and rushed over to his daughter's daughter's room.

"What is going on here?" Fang Geming asked.

"Dad, she tried to steal the necklace that Grandpa gave me last year." Fang Daiyu told her father.

As a loving father, Fang Geming loved her daughter. He believed her daughter. He was not fond of Duan Chunhua. His wife told him everything that happened to Duan Chunhua when he asked her why was Duan Chunhua staying at their house. "Chunhua, what do you want to say to defend yourself?" Fang Geming asked.

"I am just looking at it. I don't mean to steal it." Duan Chunhua stated.

"You work so hard to find the key that I hid to open my drawer. Is that what you meant just looking at it?" Fang Daiyu retorted.

"I told you. I don't plan to steal anything from you." Duan Chunhua shouted.

"Who will believe you? You are a thief." Fang Daiyu said.

"I am not a thief." Duan Chunhua denied it.

"Humph! You dare to steal from the Tang Family." Fang Daiyu dropped the bomb.

Duan Chunhua was shocked. How did Fang Daiyu know that thing? "Mom, we need to chase her out of our house. We can not allow her to stay here. Otherwise, she would try to steal our thing again." Fang Daiyu said to her mother.

Duan Jiaying was disappointed. She helped Duan Chunhua and this was what she did to her family. "Duan Chunhua, you better get out of our house right now." Duan Jiaying said.

"Auntie, you can not do this to me." Duan Chunhua said. "Leave now!" Duan Jiaying shouted.

"Auntie, I will tell Grandpa and Grandma about this. Do you still want me to leave this house?" Duan Chunhua threatened.

"Just do it but now, you need to get out of my house. Otherwise, I am calling the police." Duan Jiaying said. Duan Jiaying did not care anymore about her parent. She used to be discriminated by her parent. Her parent loved her little brother and treated him better. He got everything. It went the same for Duan Chunhua. While her daughter got nothing in return. Even after her little brother died, her parent did not changed at all. She was sick about that. "Auntie... You..." Duan Chunhua could not believe her ear. "Mom, I will call the police." Fang Daiyu said.

"No! I will leave, okay... I will leave." Duan Chunhua stopped her.

Duan Chunhua could not afford to be caught by the police right now. Otherwise, what she had done would be resurfaced. She did not know that everyone already knew about the matter. Duan Chunhua packed her thing. Fang Daiyu watched her packing. She did not dare to leave Duan Chunhua packing alone because she was afraid that Duan Chunhua might take what belonged to her.

The three of them watched Duan Chunhua get out of their house. Duan Chunhua turned around. "Auntie, I swear you will regret this." Duan Chunhua said. "Just get lost." Fang Daiyu said. Duan Chunhua pulled her luggage and went to the bus stop. She wanted to find a hotel to stay for a while. She still wanted to stay in the city. She did not want to return to the rural area. As for the money, Duan Chunhua did not need to worry about that. She had a lot of money now that could sustain her living for a while. She could ask the people who wanted to write her story too. She did not expect that someone would help her get her revenge on Tang Family.

She would not have any problem since there would be people who could help her. Thinking about that, she smiled. "Fang Daiyu thinks she won after kicking me away. Humph! Stupid." Duan Chunhua snorted. While Duan Chunhua was walking, she noticed some people who walked passed her would stare at her for a while. When she looked back, the people turned away and walked away from her. She was confused. However, she did not think of anything.
