

Irresistible 1041

Chapter 1041 Something Is Wrong

Crystal's POV:

Rin stood up straight and looked at me unblinkingly, tilting her head to the side slightly.

I couldn't help but burst into laughter. After wiping away my tears, I rubbed her fuzzy forehead and said with a smile, "Hey, what're you looking at, big girl? We haven't seen each other in years, so you can't recognize me now?"

Rin squinted at me, but the smile on her face grew bigger. Then she threw her head back and howled excitedly, rushing to rub her head against my neck.

Her soft fur brushed my neck, tickling me slightly. I was amused by her greeting and held her paw as though to shake hands.

Chapter 1042 Caught

Crystal's POV:

The crows dove one after another, painting the ground red.

Still, there were countless crows hovering in the sky. The smell of the blood-soaked soil made me want to vomit.

I covered my nose and tried to breathe through my mouth, but the uneasiness in my heart kept growing. The crows' behavior was too abnormal. It was almost as if they were holding an ancient sacrificial ritual.

Chapter 1043 The Royal Kindergarten

Crystal's POV:

I was stunned.

Rufus' presence already caught me off-guard, let alone his questioning. What was he even doing here at this time?

"I said, what were you doing in the forbidden forest?" Rufus stressed, his face turning colder. He gripped my shoulders to prevent me from running away.

Embarrassed, I averted my gaze guiltily and stammered, "I... I was taking a walk and made a wrong turn and ended up here. Fortunately, I ran into you. So can you help me get back home?"

"Is that so?" Rufus squinted at me inquisitively.

Flustered, I gulped nervously. "Y-yes."

Chapter 1044 Bully

Crystal's POV:

Several small Gothic structures surrounded the enormous pink-blue castle that housed the royal kindergarten. Along with that, a spacious part of the lawn served as a playground.

I followed Rufus all the way to the gate of the castle. When I walked in, I saw Beryl who sported two pigtails. She had her hands on her waist while fiercely staring at a boy who was at least a head taller than her.

The boy was a little chubby. He stared back at Beryl defiantly.

Angry, Beryl demanded, "Apologize to me!" Her frail, childlike voice almost cracked.

Chapter 1045 The Bunny Way

Crystal's POV:

I walked up to Firman, helped him up from the ground, and took out a handkerchief to wipe his face.

I could feel the little boy trembling with fear as he looked at me. "Thank... Thank you."

I smiled at him gently. "You're welcome. If something like this happens again in the future, go to your teacher, okay?"

Firman stuck out his lower lip and lowered his head sadly. "I can't. There are too many of them."

Chapter 1046 Ran Away From Home

Crystal's POV:

Just then, Rufus had to take a call and left Beryl with me. Beryl was focused on the origami bunny and didn't care about Rufus' leaving at all. She just waved at him goodbye and then proceeded to play with the candy wrappers.

Smiling helplessly, Rufus sighed and rubbed her head before leaving in a hurry.

Chapter 1047 Pursuing The Light

Crystal's POV:

I was in utter shock. I couldn't believe it that Ian would run away from home. That was so unexpected. Would such a good wolf really be that rebellious?

"When did it happen?" I asked anxiously.

Chapter 1048 An Important Day

Crystal's POV:

Startled, I quickly hung up the phone, spun around, and yanked Rufus' hand away before quickly retreating a few steps away from him.

Rufus stood still, with his arms crossed in front of his chest. He kept his cold gazer at me and asked, "Why is it that every time you see me, you act as though you bumped into a ghost?"

"It is because you always appear behind me without making any sound." I curled my lips as I said those words.

Rufus chuckled and eyed me from head to toe. Then, he asked, "Why do you look so guilty? What have you done?"

Chapter 1049 Praise From The King

Crystal's POV:

Learning why Beryl said it was her birthday, I agreed to have dinner with Rufus to celebrate such an important day.

Rufus' expression softened considerably, and he said, "Then, I'll wait for you. It's seven o'clock tonight."

I nodded. "Okay. I'll head back first to get changed and prepare a present for Beryl."

After that, Rufus and I went our separate ways.

Chapter 1050 Wooden Whistle

Crystal's POV:

Beryl was speechless for a while, and then she collapsed on the table and asked weakly, "How did you know I am upset? I don't know why. I know I should be happy, but I just can't. It seems that something is missing."

My heart ached. I knew she was feeling that way because Ian was not here. Beryl might not have remembered him, but she still cared about him.

Rufus thought Beryl was not feeling well, so he got to his feet and walked over to check on her. He touched her forehead and asked, "Are you feeling sick?"
