

Irresistible 1081

Chapter 1081 Strong Physical Fitness

Rufus' POV:

Through the crack in the door, I spotted Crystal rushing away. For some reason, my chest felt constricted.

I reflexively touched the bandage that covered my wound, thinking that perhaps the pain was a result of my injury.

Mom asked me in a surprised voice, "Get married? Are you sure you want to be so hasty about it?"

Chapter 1082 An Erotic Dream

Rufus' POV:

I was bewildered by the look of confusion in Adela's face. I recalled having sex with the she-wolf that had saved me yesterday. I remembered losing control. It felt so good that I never wanted to stop.

It was unfathomable for Adela to just sit there and act like nothing happened. I was a beast. At the very least, she should be acting all awkward and embarrassed around me, but that wasn't the case at all.

"You can tell me if you are not feeling well."

Chapter 1083 The Unpleasant Smell

Rufus' POV:

"Why would you want to live in that place? That's where Rufus resided when he was still the crown prince. After he succeeded Ethan, he shifted to the king's palace. As a result, the palace Rufus used to occupy has remained vacant for a long time." Mom looked up and shot Adela an icy glare. It seemed that she was irked by Adela's proposal.

Adela's eyebrows furrowed and she looked at me with misty eyes. She was so nervous that tears pooled in her eyes. "I know. I just want to be closer to His Majesty. I have always admired him, so I want to live at his previous residence."

Chapter 1084 It Was Real

Rufus' POV:

Visibly frightened, Adela stepped back and fell to her knees. Tears were streaming down her face as she said between sobs, "Your Majesty, did I do something wrong? Are you displeased with me?"

I didn't understand what was wrong with me. I was simply annoyed by Adela's presence, especially when she was acting all timid and shy. And those blasted tears disgusted me.

Chapter 1085 Doubts

Rufus' POV:

I placed a hand over my chest. I could feel the hammering of my heart, even as I thought of the scent that wrapped around me last night. It was intoxicating, though I couldn't seem to find the words to describe it. It felt like my memory was draped in a hazy white mist, keeping me from reaching that one thing that had stripped me of all control.

"Didn't you sense anything from Adela?" Omar asked.

I shook my head. "I'm not sure. I only remember the feeling when the scent comes to me, but I can't even figure out what it is, exactly."

Chapter 1086 Play An Innocent Girl

Adela's POV:

Faced with Rufus' question, I couldn't help but get flustered. His sharp gaze pierced right through me, sending a chill down my spine. Lying to the supreme lycan king was no different from committing suicide. I couldn't afford to make even the tiniest mistake on the most obscure detail.

After some thought, I decided it would be best to tell him the truth. I was quite bad at lying, and he would be able to uncover it easily.

Chapter 1087 Secret Admirer

Adela's POV:

I had come to the imperial palace at this time because I'd happened to hear from my father and brother that the lycan king was going to hold a ball and choose a girl to marry. At first, my father had no intentions of taking me to the palace, because I was only eighteen. He believed that I didn't need to get married at such a young age. I had begged him until he finally agreed to bring me with him to the palace.

Chapter 1088 Potion

Adela's POV:

Last night, I had watched the battle between Rufus and the vampires from a hiding spot by the rocks on the edge of the cliff. It was very fierce and intense.

I had stayed put where I was, afraid that I might accidentally get injured if I came any closer. I didn't dare to make a sound or a single move, until I saw Rufus falling off the cliff.

I remember freezing when I saw that, and I had struggled to swallow the scream that rose in my throat. I had no idea what to do.

Chapter 1089 The Most Well-Respected Man

Lucy's POV:

No sunshine ever reached the remote palace all year round. I tossed the wet clothes into the basket as I gazed out at Firman through the ivy covered banister of the porch. He had been fine this morning before he went to school, but he had been avoiding me since his return.

"Firman, come here," I couldn't help but wave him over.

He glanced at me briefly before ducking his head. He then trudged toward me as though his shoes were made of lead.

I reached out and touched his forehead. His temperature was normal, and there seemed to be nothing wrong with his face.

"What's the problem, Mom?" Firman muttered under his breath.

Chapter 1090 His Former Mate

Lucy's POV:

I walked out of the room, making sure to lock the door behind me. As soon as I exited the corridor, I was greeted by the sight of Adela. Her face was all scrunched up in her anxious musings.

I shot her a glare, but she didn't seem to notice me. She was so deep in thought that she eventually ran right into me.

That only irritated me even more. If I could find someone else, I wouldn't bother working with this brainless idiot.

Adela's eyes lit up when she finally saw me. "I thought you weren't here!" she exclaimed.
