

Irresistible 821

Chapter 821 Call Me Dad

Sylvia's POV:

Edwin's direct words caused a great uproar among the crowd. Warren and others were completely taken aback at his revelation.

I didn't know what to do. I thought he would keep it a secret from them for now, and didn't expect him to reveal it at this very moment.

"Sylvia, you're Alpha Leonard's daughter? That's just amazing!" Obviously, Flora was very surprised and pleased to learn about it as she turned to me with her bright eyes. However, the next second, she lowered her head and let out a deep sigh.

Chapter 822 Punishmen

Rufus' POV:

Leonard's VCR brought a huge impact on Sylvia, and it became hard for her to calm down. She burst into tears and yelled at the top of her lungs.

I reached out to hug her. I felt so bad for her, but I didn't know what to do.

In the past, no matter how sad she was, she would always try her best to restrain herself. That was because she usually didn't want the others to see how much pain she truly was feeling.

She had never cried like this in front of everybody, until today.

Chapter 823 Repentance

Sylvia's POV:

Both Alina and Blair were locked up in dungeons, but their living conditions were vastly different. I heard from Rufus that Blair still had access to food and drinks in his cell, as well as books and games to kill time. People who didn't know about his situation might've thought he was simply on vacation.

Alina, on the other hand, was imprisoned in a dark, damp cell.

It was barely furnished with only a bed and a table. In the corner sat a mad she-wolf with a disfigured face.

Chapter 824 Gossip Behind The Master's Back

Sylvia's POV:

After leaving the dungeon, I set out towards the pack's castle. Rufus said he would wait for me there.

Countless rose manors surrounded the castle, all built by Leonard when he was still alive. Like my mother, he was fond of roses.

When Leonard didn't have to work, he often retreated to the manors. When we visited the pack last time, he specially arranged for me and Rufus to live in a white rose manor, next to the manor he usually lived in. Back then, he would come to visit us all the time.

Chapter 825 Warmth And Happiness

Sylvia's POV:

Owen promptly ordered someone to drag the red-haired maid away without hesitation. The rest of the maids were scared and all fell to their knees to apologize.

Owen was so annoyed that he waved his hand and reassigned them to work in a pig farm in the suburb.

I didn't know how much Owen had heard, but judging from his angry face, I could tell that he must have heard a lot.

Chapter 826 Heart To Heart Talk With Bestie

Sylvia's POV:

It wasn't until then that Flora and Warren noticed me. They quickly stood up from the sofa, looking embarrassed. Especially Warren.

Tears were still streaming down his cheeks as he murmured an apology and hurriedly went into the bathroom.

Flora scratched her head in embarrassment and smiled at me. "Warren has been emotionally unstable recently, and I've been having a horrible case of morning sickness. That's why I couldn't come to see you."

"I understand." I shook my head and flashed her a smile. "There are some things that don't need to be explained. We're friends, aren't we?"

Chapter 827 Successor

Sylvia's POV:

"When will you get married?" I curiously asked Flora.

"Soon. I originally planned on holding a wedding after I give birth. Then, I'll have the perfect figure to wear a beautiful wedding dress. Anyway... we now decide to hold the ceremony early." Flora's eyes lit up in excitement as she touched her belly. "I can't wait to see the baby, and I want to hold a wedding as soon as possible."

"Are you sure Warren is your Mr. Right? Have you made up your mind?" I tilted my head to the side and flashed her a playful smirk. "I remember hearing someone say that even if Warren was the last werewolf in the whole world, she would rather die than marry him."

Chapter 828 Warren Took Over The Position Of Alpha

Sylvia's POV:

Warren was shaken up. "But I never once thought that the position would be mine, nor have I ever dreamed of seizing it. Besides, the task is so intricately heavy that I doubt I would even survive the first week upon taking the position."

"No," Edwin interposed, "I understand where you're coming from, but what you think is wrong. The potential to lead is only a bonus a leader must possess; the principal integrant the position comes with is the will of the people. You grew up with the pack being aware of your abilities and achievements, Warren. What I'm saying is that you're not a stranger to the pack. All things considered, I cannot argue that you're indeed more suitable for this position than Sylvia is. It's not just me who thinks so. I see eye to eye with Leonard," Edwin finished, sincerity apparent on his face.

Chapter 829 Assassinating The Lycan King

Sylvia's POV:

On the way back, I quietly looked out of the car window and glanced at the scenery—recalling my short twenty some years where I had experienced ups and downs. The things, as well as the people around me, had changed a lot.

Noreen once told me that I was a jinx. That neither the person who loved me nor the one I loved would stay by my side.

Chapter 830 In Great Danger

Sylvia's POV:

The news that Joanna attempted to assassinate the lycan king nearly scared me out of my mind. How could it be possible? It sounded even more ridiculous than a watermelon growing on a tree.

"What the hell is going on? Is the lycan king okay?"

No wonder Rufus was called away as soon as we stepped out of the car. He must have gone to deal with this matter.

Harry's face was lined with worry as he replied, "The king is still unconscious. Joanna was caught on the spot."