

Irresistible 851

Chapter 851 Dangerous Thorns

Sylvia's POV:

I recalled when Leonard taught me how to summon the lycan power. Then, I slowly mobilized the strength to awaken that power.

The coldness that I was feeling gradually turned into warmth. I felt like a fire had lit up within me.

The familiar feeling overwhelmed me again as I closed my eyes and concentrated on the looming power in my body.

When the burning fire reached its peak, I quickly pulled out the force from the depths of my body and let it burst out.

Chapter 852 Reinforcemen

Sylvia's POV:

Noreen kept insisting me to leave with her, but I turned her down every time. Eventually, we had an argument, and she lost her patience.

"If you don't leave with me, Rufus won't survive!" Noreen exclaimed and then chanted a series of spells. Suddenly, flames burst from the ground and surrounded us.

"What the hell is wrong with you?!" I roared. "Why don't you go and find another hybrid? Why do you insist on pestering me?!"

"Just accept your fate, Sylvia. Don't struggle anymore. Come with me," Noreen replied, giving me a determined smile.

Chapter 853 What're Friends For

Sylvia's POV:

It was late at night, and the streets were mostly empty.

Still, in order not to draw any unnecessary attention, Harry and I took a secluded path. About half an hour later, we drew near the imperial palace and finally slowed down a little to catch our breaths.

I turned to check Rufus' condition. He was still asleep.

Harry glanced at me questioningly and asked in confusion, "What's wrong with Prince Rufus? Did Noreen put him under a curse?"

Chapter 854 Greedy Monsters

Sylvia's POV:

Perhaps it was because of my imposing manner that the guards didn't dare to delay any longer. They stopped protesting and hurried to report this to Laura.

"As for you two, I need you to go to the forbidden forest and find a specific kind of poisonous snake. It's purple, about the length of a baby's arm, and there are green scales above its eyes. Cutting the tail of the snake and smashing it. It can detoxify the lycan king."

Chapter 855 The Death Plan

Sylvia's POV:

Laura was stunned for a brief moment. Then, she slowly stood up and narrowed her eyes at me. "What do you mean? Are you the cause of this horrible curse on my son?"

I nodded and told Laura everything—including my identity.

Chapter 856 Conviction

Sylvia's POV:

Laura frowned. "And then?"

"Then, no one is allowed to remind Rufus of my existence." I told Laura about my plan. It was a bit of a challenge to put into action, but I was out of options.

Chapter 857 Painful Choice

Sylvia's POV:

I sprang from the chair and closed the distance towards Rufus' bedside. I gently held his hand and whispered, "It's rueful to think that the only thing I can do for him is to hold his hand. The truth is, it is indeed all my fault! I made him suffer. If doing this would at least ease away his pain, then I have no regret."

"It's not your fault; you didn't wish for any of these to happen. You're also the victim. If any, you've been through a lot of pain more than anyone else in this matter," Laura consoled.

Chapter 858 Erase The Traces

Sylvia's POV:

I felt a great deal of relief after venting out my frustrations. Then I tucked Rufus in and got out of bed to pack my stuff.

I went to the cloakroom to gather the things I would take with me and sealed the rest in the suitcase. I would ask Laura to deal with them later.

Besides, I couldn't keep the jewelry that Rufus had given me. They had to be packed and sent to Laura.

I hastily emptied all drawers containing my personal items, taking even the matching sets of jewelry and watches I owned.

Chapter 859 The Remaining Days

Laura's POV:

After leaving Rufus' palace, I went to Ethan's.

The doctor already knew about the source of the poison. Additionally, thanks to Sylvia, he was able to develop the antidote and had administered it to Ethan.

I sat on the edge of the bed and gently dabbed Ethan's chapped lips with a wet cloth. He looked much better than before, and there was a little color in his cheeks.

His breathing had also steadied. I guessed that he would wake up soon.

Chapter 860 The Era Is Coming To An End

Laura's POV:

I turned my head in surprise. Ethan was awake.

I felt flustered. "When did you wake up? Did you hear what the doctor said just now?"

Ethan gave me an unguarded smile. "Yes, I heard him, and honestly speaking, I'm not surprised. This day was bound to come sooner or later."
