Chapter 861 The Sinner Of The Werewolf Race

Laura's POV:

Sighing, Ethan said, "Sylvia is a good girl. It has not been an easy road for her and Rufus to get to this point. I didn't expect that fate would play such a cruel trick on them. It would appear that neither Leonard and Olivia nor Rufus and Sylvia can avoid their destinies."

"Then what should I do?" I was at a loss, not knowing what to do. I know that any decision I made would be detrimental to Rufus and Sylvia. But I also couldn't bear to see them suffer.

Chapter 862 Shocking Bad News

Harry's POV:

After I left Sylvia and Rufus, I went back to the army to wait as I was told.

However, I was unable to reach Sylvia all night. And to make matters worse, something seemed wrong with Prince Rufus. Sylvia was probably hiding something from me.

In the dead of night, I sat on the balcony, drinking one bottle of cola after another. I didn't stop until my stomach was about to burst.

However, the cola couldn't drown all my worries. I still missed Joanna so much. I had never before felt so helpless in my entire life. Had I been stronger, I could have protected Joanna from getting hurt.

Disheartened, I lay down and gazed up at the night sky. Extreme sadness filled my entire being as I knew there was nothing I could do.

Chapter 863 Grow Up

Harry's POV:

"Then arrest me!" I held my ground and yelled at Laura, "You've already sentenced Sylvia to death anyway, so I don't care if you arrest me."

"Do you really think I wouldn't do it?!" Laura roared, took up the cup, and prepared to smash it on the floor.

Suddenly, a petite figure rushed out and quickly tugged at my sleeve.

It was Joanna, who was just released without charge.

Chapter 864 Execution

Harry's POV:

Soon it was the execution day. As soon as dawn arrived, I waited for Joanna downstairs at her dormitory.

Five minutes later, she emerged from the building wearing a black coat and a black cap.

My heart was heavy. Joanna and I had prepared for this day. We were both set to take Sylvia away from her execution.

Sylvia's impending execution had already spread in the entire capital city. And it seemed they really wanted her to die. Otherwise, they wouldn't be so indifferent to public opinion.

Chapter 865 A Sinner

Harry's POV:

Sylvia was brought to the center of the trial platform. Laura raised her hand, signaling the crowd to quiet down.

Then the judge took to the podium with a large stack of paperwork in hand and began reading the charges against Sylvia. "Sylvia Todd colluded with the black witch and wreaked havoc in the imperial palace. She manipulated the servants with witchcraft to poison the lycan king. She even hurt Prince Rufus, causing him to fall into a coma. To this day, he is still unconscious. There is no way to dispute the evidence at this point, so she will be sentenced to death and executed immediately."

Chapter 866 Never Gamble On Human Nature

Noreen's POV:

I hid in the black smoke and laughed at Sylvia as she stood on the trial platform. "Look, no one will believe you. You'll never be anything but a lowly slave in their eyes. No matter how hard you worked and how many people you saved, you would be discarded without a second thought. Just like now, no one cared about what the truth was. They only believed what they saw with their own eyes. So, come with me. There is a better world waiting for you outside of here. Don't waste your black witch bloodline here."

Chapter 867 A Dagger Inserted Into Noreen's Hear

Noreen's POV:

"What did you just say? Speak louder!" I exclaimed with a proud smirk. I felt ecstatic seeing Sylvia lower her pride and show her weakness to me.

"Please save me, Noreen. I beg of you," Sylvia said. It was rare for her to talk to me in such a pleading tone. She used to be cold and arrogant. Of course, the cause of her change was that she was already on the verge of death.

"Alright, then. I'll save you."

As soon as I snapped my fingers, Sylvia's shackles loosened.

Chapter 868 Advance Her Death

Sylvia's POV:

I thrust the dagger straight into Noreen's heart with all the strength I had. Blood dripped from my hand and soiled the ground.

Noreen writhed in pain and howled, "Sylvia, pull out the dagger! Please!"

But I said nothing and just stood aside, watching her coldly. That made me incredibly pleased. Noreen finally got the punishment she deserved. Her ambition and obsession were destined to vanish into thin air like a bubble.

Chapter 869 Noreen's Death

Sylvia's POV:

The fire that was consuming Noreen intensified. It soon engulfed her body, leaving only her head unscathed.

Noreen let out a painful yell. The blood that splattered across her face gave her a frightening appearance.

"Sylvia, please spare my life. I promise I will stay away from you from now on. I won't get involved in your life any more. If you keep me alive, I will do whatever you say. Just please spare me this time." Tears streamed down Noreen's face as she now finally tasted fear.

Chapter 870 Bury The Corpse

Sylvia's POV:

I tried to smash and scrape the corpse with a knife, and burn it with fire. But no matter what I did, I couldn't completely destroy it.

Noreen's eyeballs were left on the ground. When I was about to ignite them with a torch, they disintegrated into a fine white powder and vanished into thin air.

My lips scrunched together as I stared at the corpse, growing increasingly uneasy. A foreboding future was predestined for Noreen. Even her demise was also shrouded in mystery.

"Sylvia, what's wrong? Is there any problem?" Laura gave me a puzzled look.
