Chapter 951 What Are You Peeking At

Crystal's POV:

Although I had only met Rufus several times since coming back here, I could keenly sense just how much he had changed. He was much more indifferent than the Rufus I once knew. Now that he was king, he had become colder and crueler.

Perhaps that was what Rufus was like before he met me.

I felt bad, seeing Rufus again under these circumstances. I tried to comfort myself and thought about how lucky I was to have seen his soft side previously.

Chapter 952 He Is Considerate

Crystal's POV:

I felt relieved when Rufus' gaze eventually shifted elsewhere.

After the speech, the parade resumed. Different phalanxes appeared one after another. This familiar scene brought back memories of the past.

Harry was right there by me at that time. He was high-spirited and swore to be loyal to the empire. Many years had passed, and we all now had our own lives. But in the real way, we never changed. We'd always remember our vows. It was for the people, for the empire, and for peace.

Chapter 953 Set A Trap For Her

Rufus' POV:

Seeing the panicked she-wolf on the big screen, I felt satisfied. Even though she was wearing a mask, her panic was obvious. I smiled, looking forward to her next reaction.

This she-wolf seemed to have been trying to blend in with the crowd. On the surface, she pledged her loyalty to me, but I knew that she was hiding something. After all, she had kept to herself at the border for so many years. Perhaps she was plotting against me in secret. Otherwise, why was she so afraid of being exposed?

Chapter 954 Warren Had Changed

Crystal's POV:

I was so pissed off. Obviously, Rufus was deliberately picking on me. He wanted to embarrass me in front of everyone, and there was nothing I could do about it. After all, he was the supreme lycan king!

Many Alphas were staring at me, hoping to glean my deepest, darkest secrets. I suddenly regretted paying the extra tax—I should've just paid the bare minimum! I thought I could share some of the financial burden with Rufus, but my thoughtfulness turned out to be my downfall.

Chapter 955 A Mistake

Crystal's POV:

I couldn't believe my eyes. And to make matters worse, Warren leaned over and kissed the she-wolf's forehead, as if he was trying to rub it in my face!

How dare Warren abandon Flora and kiss another woman?! Didn't Flora give birth to his child? Weren't they supposed to get married?

I shuddered at the thought. If Warren was intimate with this woman while married to Flora, he was cheating on her.

How dare he?!

Chapter 956 Exposed

Crystal's POV:

I was stunned. I turned around slowly and met the excited gaze of the elegant-looking she-wolf.

What... What the hell? It was Flora!

It had only been five years since the last time I saw her, yet she looked like a completely different person!

I didn't dare to make a sound. I hurried to put my hat back on and pretended not to know her.

"Wait! Sylvia, is that you?" Flora grabbed my sleeve and stared at my eyes searchingly.

Chapter 957 Real Friends

Crystal's POV:

All of a sudden, a thought occurred to Flora. She leaned over and stared at me inquisitively. "You haven't taken off your mask. Are the rumors true? Was your face really disfigured?"

"No..." I shook my head honestly. Then I looked around and lowered my voice cautiously, "We shouldn't talk about this here. Where do you live now? Can we go to your place?"

"Don't worry. Follow me."

Then Flora and Warren led me to their residence.

Chapter 958 Flora Hadn't Changed At All

Crystal's POV:

Over the past five years, everyone had changed.

Flora looked so different from before. I took her hand and looked at her carefully. Not only did her temperament change, but also her face. Her features had become more delicate. Being showered with love made her look gentler. And last but definitely not least, her bosom looked much more... ample. Since when did her breasts become so big?

I couldn't help but sigh. "Well, enough about me. What about you? What's been going on with you two? You've clearly changed—especially you, Flora."

Chapter 959 Found Her Father

Crystal's POV:

Flora then gushed about her wedding excitedly. "Oh, Sylvia, you should've been there. That day was so windy. My idiot of a husband chose to have an open-air ceremony. The winds nearly blew me away!"

Warren jutted his chin out indignantly and protested, "I checked the weather beforehand, and it said it would be sunny. How could I have known the forecast was wrong?"

Chapter 960 Select A Queen

Crystal's POV:

I didn't answer right away. I thought for a long time and sadness crept on my heart. "To keep Rufus alive, I have to stay away from him. We can't ever be together."

Flora's eyes turned red. "So are you going to stay in the border pack for the rest of your life?"

"It's not that bad in the border pack. I have a good life there, and my two kids are healthy and happy. I just want to grow old and be done with my life."
