

It's Too Late To Get A Divorce by Coreal White Chapter 105

Chapter 105

"What if I can't forget you? What if I can't forget you forever? What if I can't forget you even until I die?" Jaydon's strong arms tightened around her waist again as if he wanted to break her slender waist. His heart ached so much that he could not breathe.

Alita's heart ached, and there were tears in her eyes. Even if this man was using all his strength to get her back, they couldn't be together again, no matter how tightly he hugged her.

"Jaydon, if you try to forget, you can. Our personalities aren't suitable for each other. Don't you understand? Evelyn is more suitable for you. She's naive, innocent, and soft. She complements your personality perfectly. We've already separated, so don't look back. Let go of me," she said calmly. She stroked his hair as if comforting him, her heart filled with sorrow.

She couldn't control the pain that came from the bottom of her heart. Even though she knew she shouldn't be sad for him again, she couldn't help it.

Jaydon leaned back in silence for a while. When he raised his head, there was no longer any vulnerability in his green eyes. He stared at her in the dark. "Plan my wedding well. If you quit halfway, I will immediately arrest you."

It was useless to say anything more. He could only follow his plan step by step. 'She will always be mine,' he thought.

Alita bit her lip. She knew that he was not scaring her. Now that he said it, he would do it. She did not understand why he insisted on letting her plan his wedding. His motive was getting more and more confusing to her.

Alita could not be bothered to argue with him. The most important thing now was to return to her room. If she had known that he would appear in the middle of the night, she would rather starve to death than come out.

Looking at the fleeing woman, Jaydon's expression became serious. 'Alita, one day, you will know where you finally land,' he thought.

Alita returned to her room. Then, she took a bath to get rid of the cold. She washed her body and lay on the bed. She tossed and turned, unable to fall asleep.

She wondered if she should continue with the wedding planning.

'If I don't do it, Jaydon will destroy my company and arrest me. That lunatic can do anything. Even if I call the police, it's useless. If I continue to do it as if nothing has happened, I don't know what will happen next. Jaydon will never let anyone know what he is thinking. That's why it is terrifying. Whether I advance or retreat, I will suffer. The only thing I can do now is to take it one step at a time,' Alita thought.

With a sigh, she closed her eyes and prepared to sleep. Suddenly, she opened her eyes abruptly and sat up. She thought, 'It has been a ridiculous day today. God, will I get pregnant? Even if there is only a 1% chance, I can't let this happen. Calculating the time, it's not over 24 hours. I have to take the emergency contraceptive pill quickly. Just in case.

After putting on her clothes, Alita opened the door and looked left and right. After making sure that no one was around, she walked out.

After a shower, Jaydon could not fall asleep and stood by the window. He inadvertently saw a white figure leaving the house. He recognized her at a glance. 'Why did she go out so late?' Jaydon wondered. @Ww.Nov@lw0rM.\(c\)0m

Alita bought emergency contraceptives from the convenience store of the hotel and returned to the villa.

When she reached the door of her room, she saw Jaydon standing at the door in his black dressing gown. He wanted to go in, but the door was locked, and he couldn't get in.

Instinctively, she gripped the medicine bottle in her hand tightly. "It's so late. What's the matter?"

Jaydon noticed what she was holding. He pointed it with his chin. "What's that?"

"Medicine!" Alita answered concisely.

"What medicine?" Jaydon asked.

Alita looked around. Every room here was occupied now. If Evelyn and Karen were not asleep and heard the sounds outside, especially if she answered it was the contraceptive pill, it would be terrible.

She swallowed her saliva and replied, "Cold medicine. My head hurts a little, so I went to buy medicine. It's getting late. Mr. Lewis, don't walk around outside. Go back to your room and sleep."

Jaydon moved aside skeptically and smiled. "Alright, Miss Thompson, go to bed early too." wWw.nOvEL@0Rm.\(c\)0m

Alita walked over and opened the door. The medicine bottle in her hand was suddenly dug out.

"Give it to..." Before she could finish her sentence, someone covered her mouth. The next moment, she was pushed into the room, and the door was closed. @Ww.NOvelw0rM.com

Jaydon picked up the medicine bottle in his hand and looked at it. The Theisian words, "Emergency Contraceptive Pills," reflected in his pupils, piercing his heart.

His hands trembled slightly. He once again experienced the pain when he heard her abort the child a year ago. The feeling of being suffocated and torn apart was as ferocious as a wild beast. His green eyes were covered in mist that did not dissipate for a long time.

"Jaydon, Jaydon, what's wrong?" Alita was shocked and flustered. She did not know how to treat him when he was like this.

She reached out to touch him, then withdrew her hand.

Jaydon's heart was once again broken. A line of transparent liquid slid down from his beautiful green eyes. "You don't want my child, do you? You won't even give me a chance, will you? Alita, what's wrong with the child? What's wrong with the child?"

He roared and crushed the bottle in his hand. The plastic shards pierced his palm, but he felt it was not painful and not deep enough.

Alita was stunned by his reaction. 'I only bought an emergency contraceptive. Isn't his reaction too exaggerated?' she thought.

"Jaydon, why are you angry again? You are going to get married. Do you want me to be a single mother? What's wrong with taking contraceptive pills?" She retorted.

"Don't you think that the child is very pitiful? If he was born, he was a life. But because of you, you decided to abandon him. Alita, you are never worthy of being the mother of my child." Jaydon threw away the debris in his hand and took a few steps back. He turned around and left the room. He felt he should not have forgiven this woman, even until his death.

Alita stood in the room, tears falling inexplicably. The bottle on the ground was broken, and the white pill was stained red with blood.
