

It's Too Late To Get A Divorce by Coreal White Chapter 47

Chapter 47

Perhaps Alita felt embarrassed someone saw her being vulnerable, or she truly believed she wouldn't cry if she closed her eyes. She couldn't help but obediently close her eyes.

Kim stared at her face and observed closely, and his heart ached. He traced her face with his fingers and casually said, "If you want to never experience sadness again, keep your eyes closed, give your love to me, and I will help you move on from anything that burdens you, Dear."@ww.m@veLworm.com

Alita was alert, opened her eyes, held his hand, and pushed it down. "You can't help me."

"Is it because I'm no longer in your heart?" Kim asked.

"You may be here, but you're no longer the person I remembered. You are beautiful in my memory. Every time I think about you, my heart feels warm. You are so gentle that it can heal my pain. So, please, don't make me hate you. Rather than

"Hal" Kim chuckled in vain, and sadness emanated from his eyes. He believed what couldn't be suppressed was love, and what couldn't be restrained was hate. "You may think we're over. But to me, we are far from it."

Alita looked at him flatly, and her voice was cold and heartless, So what?" Her question made Kim hold his breath.

"Kim, let me tell you this. Even if you can't let me go, even if you enter the Lewis Family's residence and wander around to see me, so what? You will only cause me trouble. Jaydon would torment me out of jealousy, and you wouldn't get repercussions from your action." Alita said calmly, without any emotion in her eyes.

"So there's your reason to leave Jaydon! Is it worth your voice with pity in his eyes.w(w).novelworm.com infatuation if he torments you so much?" Kim asked in a concerned

Alita felt helpless and looked at Kim for a while. But suddenly, she laughed. "He is not worth it, but the money and status are: I have officially become Mrs. Lewis, who will give birth to Jaydon's son. My position will be secure, and I will enjoy endless glory and wealth for the rest of my life. In addition, my father wouldn't die in vain. How can I give up the beautiful future he paved for me? Please, Kim, don't act like you know everything. I don't need a savior, and you are not my savior. Please, don't get in my way, okay? Live for yourself. Don't live in the same coldness and despair as me."

"Hal" Kim stood up straight, and the sadness and pain in his eyes disappeared, replaced by contempt and coldness. "You are courageous enough to endure hardships, Mrs. Lewis." Alita seemed to have changed. Her ambition and greed for money had made her no longer innocent.

"A moment of patience will be rewarded with nobility and endless cash. What's wrong with that?" Alita stood up, smiled calmly at Kim, and turned to leave. But immediately, the smile faded from her face, leaving only exhaustion.

Meanwhile, Kim stared at her back. His dark eyes were full of hatred. He laughed at himself. After 14 years of lovesickness, all he got in exchange was the words, "Please, don't get in my way

'Well, Alita, then let us sink together. When you have nothing, I will watch you cry and crawl at my feet, begging me to forgive you!' Kim made up his mind.

Alita ate nothing and didn't realize how hungry she was. She dragged her body, which was about to faint, back upstairs. But when she passed Jaydon's ward, she turned her head away.

Coincidentally, Jaydon saw Alita and shouted in surprise, "Alita, come in!" But Alita pretended not to hear him and continued walking forward.

"My Love!" Jaydon once again shouted, and some nurses heard his voice. Alita was extremely embarrassed. She immediately clenched her fists, turned around, and walked into his ward.
