

It's Too Late To Get A Divorce by Coreal White Chapter 92

Chapter 92

She looked at him with a beautiful yet wry smile. To her, this place was no longer a beautiful memory. It was just like a photo cut into pieces that could no longer be placed together...

Jaydon's heart shattered. Over the past year, he had been confused and lost. He wanted to find her. But he loved her and hated her at the same time. He yearned to pull her closer but wanted to push her away. He had been in a dilemma.

Their gazes intertwined. All they could see was loneliness and sorrow. What have they done wrong? It made him wonder if fate had done the right thing getting them together, or was it a mistake from the beginning? Maybe everything was a mistake?

"Jaydon, what's wrong?" Evelyn tugged Jaydon's shirt.

"Oh Nothing" Jaydon hugged Evelyn's shoulder and smiled gently. "If you don't like this place, let's find another place. We can choose the most beautiful forest if you want it to be held there."

Evelyn was simple and easy to coax. She was overjoyed upon hearing his suggestion and forgot about noticing the strange atmosphere between Jaydon and Alita. Hugging his waist and leaning against his chest happily, she said, "Really? That's great!" www.Novels1.com

Karen and Crystal were dumbfounded. They had spent all day convincing them this was a nice place!

The couple still denied this suggestion after they discussed it for so long.

"I want to get a few photos of the church before we leave."

"Okay, boss." Sabina headed outside upon getting the order.

Alita approached Jaydon and Evelyn. She asked professionally, "Mr. Lewis, since you insist on holding your wedding in the forest, should we end the session here today? Do you want to go to the forest now or rest for the day?"

"We're all tired, Let's take a break first," said Jaydon casually,

"Alright. Alita nodded,

They walked to the grassland outside the church, where a special place was set up for them to take a break.

Karen took mineral water from the car and distributed it to everyone.

Jaydon and Evelyn rejected it.

Karen and Crystal's lips were dry from convincing the couple. They gulped half the water in the bottle each to quench their thirst.

Alita opened the bottle cap and took small sips. The water was cold and quenching.

"Mr. Lewis, Miss Jenner, aren't you thirsty? Do you want me to get the cap opened for you?" asked Crystal politely,

"It's okay. We don't drink such cheap brands of water. There might be germs in it," said Evelyn disdainfully.

Jaydon smiled at Crystal. "We'll drink in the car later."

"Oh... Alright then." Crystal felt awkward as she thought, "What a picky couple!"

Alita shot Crystal a glance, beckoning her not to say another word. The water had been given to them. It was their choice whether Crystal sat beside Alita and stuck out her tongue mischievously when the couple were not looking.

Alita chuckled. Crystal had probably never met such a customer before. They could do nothing. After all, the customers were wealthy. She took a few more sips of water and closed the cap before putting the bottle by her leg.

"Mr. Lewis, about the forest,

Jaydon looked at Evelyn. "Darling, do you have any place in mind?"

"Well... I don't know which forest it is, but it's beautiful. The trees were tall and green, with branches falling like a waterfall. There are wildflowers on the green grass, just like in Alice in Wonderland," said Evelyn dreamily.

Crystal, Karen, and Sabina, who had returned from taking the photos, said nothing but looked speechless.

If they could blurt out what was in their mind, they would say, "Hey, princess, we're in the human world. There is no fairyland here."

Alita felt troubled by the request as she rubbed her temples. Then, smiling, she said, "We've checked online. Only Osmar and Aimonton have the most beautiful forest in the world. Why don't we choose one of these two countries? What do you think?"

At most, if the forest did not have grasses with flowers, they could set up the place. A fairyland could be made if she wanted it. After all, this girl was just being dreamy.

"I prefer Aimonton among these places." Evelyn chose after comparing

"What about you, Mr. Lewis? Do you have some other thoughts in mind?" Alita turned to ask for Jaydon's opinion. If either of them disagreed, there was no need to implement it.

Jaydon said casually, "Not at all!"

"Alright! We'll set the wedding in the forest in Aimonton. In that case, the wedding banquet has to be held there because it's impossible for the wedding to be held in Aimonton while the banquet is in Eskan. The quests will need to travel back and forth. In that case, there will be more things to prepare. We have to arrange for the guests to stay in the hotel where you will stay for the day, including the decoration of the wedding atmosphere. Of course, we have to charge you for these... Alita explained the wedding to them in an orderly manner. www.Novels1.com

Evelyn was confused. "It's so complicated!"

"You wouldn't need a wedding planner if it isn't complicated? Miss Jenner, you don't have to worry. All you need to do is to stay beautiful," said Alita professionally.

"Miss Thompson, I believe you." Evelyn was relieved knowing she didn't have to worry about anything.

Jaydon stared at Alita. She did her best to get his wedding arranged.

However, he felt more uncomfortable. He refused to believe that she was unaffected. He never believed she would be calm when seeing him walking down the aisle with another woman.

However, something struck him. "What if she doesn't care at all? He started to panic Alita and Evelyn chatted about some small matters in a friendly manner. They looked like they were about to become friends.

"When are we going to Aimonton? It take a few days to prepare.

"We can. I can send a plane here." Jaydon refuted her words and wanted to Alita couldn't understand why Jaydon seemed to be going against her. She looked at him, making the call, and was speechless as she said, "Mr. Lewis, we didn't even bring our luggage. How are we supposed to leave?"

"Miss Thompson, do you think everyone in Almonton is naked, and you can't get clothes there?" Jaydon lifted his eyebrows.

Alita was speechless.

Crystal and the other girls snickered.

"Miss T

"Miss Thompson, let's depart today. We'll provide you with clothes, food, and lodgings," said Evelyn with a sweet smile.

Alita forced a smile and agreed.

"Do I even have the right to refuse? I was the one who started up this company and accepted this project." www.Novels1.com

The plane had not arrived yet.

Alita put down her bag

bag and went to the washroom. Then, she looked for a quiet place to stroll since it was still early. It was too tiring to face Jaydon.

It made her wonder when Jaydon would stay away from her life.

When she reached the parasol tree, she held onto the trunk and walked from one tree to the next. She walked aimlessly and finally leaned against a tree in a daze.

A dark blue figure appeared before her like a ghost. "Miss Thompson, why haven't you returned after going to the washroom? What are you doing here?"

As soon as she saw who it was, Alita immediately stepped back and kept a distance from him. "I'm just taking a stroll!"

"Let's take a stroll together, shall we?" Jaydon got closer.

stroll here if you want." Alita walked back quickly.

I'm tired and going to head back. Mr. Lewis, you can stroll here if Jaydon came up, grabbed her wrist, and dragged her to a shady corner. There were trees all around, and the building was covered in creepers.

He pressed her against the tree. "Alita."

This was the first time he had called her by her name since they had met a year later.

"Jaydon, show some respect. You're about to get married. Don't be so shameless," scolded Alita fiercely. He was trying to break the distance since he had done such an outrageous act and called her by her name.

"Shameless, huh?" Jaydon pulled off her jumpsuit. This kind of strapless jumpsuit was made out of thin fabric. Only her bra and underwear were left on her.

Alita's eyes widened in horror. As she pulled up her clothes, she pushed him. "What are you doing?"

"I want to do something shameless. Kiss you, hug you, lick you, bite you, and finally make you mine." Jaydon looked at under him. A familiar, intense lust surged in him. She was the only one in the world who could ignite his desire.

He leaned against her neck, inhaling her scent.

"You are out of your mind! Lunatic! Pervert! Get off me!" Alita pushed him and shouted angrily. However, his body against hers did not move a bit.

He could not stop. His breathing became heavier, as if he was a hungry wolf.

"Don't do this, Jaydon. I'm not your wife anymore. Let go of me. Your wife is watching us from afar. Stop!" Alita struggled.

Jaydon suddenly stopped and hugged her tightly. "Don't move. Let me hug you for a while."

"Let go of me." Alita didn't want him to hug her.

"If you dare to move again, I'll do it right here," threatened Jaydon, Alita had a feeling that no one could help her. She did not want to have anything intimate with him, so she didn't dare to move at all. "Jaydon, don't do it. I won't move."

Jaydon's tensed muscles relaxed as he hugged her tighter. He forgot his hatred with her in his embrace. He muttered, "Honey."

Alita was stunned. Her heart shattered deep down her. After a long silence, she said, "I'm not your wife anymore. We are divorced!"
