

JAGGED GERMANY

Chapter 14: Crown Prince's Difficulty

"Carl, go see your father. I'll see you tonight. I'll go see the queen and my brother and sister." Qin Tian said with a smile.

Before the dinner, the royals get together. However, it is generally presided over by the queen. Qin Tian's relationship with the queen and other brothers was not harmonious. Most of the time, he, who has a relatively withdrawn personality, is the object of ridicule and oppression by others.

"Okay, Your Highness. However, I heard from my father that His Royal Highness is very dissatisfied with you. Especially after our company started to make a lot of money. He has repeatedly asked His Majesty to take our company into the royal family " Carl said in a low voice.

Qin Tian's complexion changed immediately. He had long known that Crown Prince William was a jealous and narrow-minded person. But I didn't expect that he would be targeted by him just after he emerged.

"Your Highness, Your Majesty did not listen to the slander of His Royal Highness the Crown Prince. However, you still have to pay more attention. This time, His Royal Highness the Crown Prince will definitely make trouble." Carl said with some worry.

"Don't worry, although he is the crown prince, as long as he is not the emperor of the German Empire, we don't need to be afraid of him." Qin Tian said with a serious face.

Although Crown Prince William is distinguished, his status is also above that of many princes. However, the real power is not great. He only has the right to participate in every imperial meeting. Even if a suggestion is made, it may not be adopted. Besides, although the power of the German emperor is not small, it is far from being comparable to the monarchs of Eastern China. As long as Qin Tian doesn't give the other party a handle, even if the other party becomes the emperor, there is nothing he can do about him. Big deal, when the time comes, just leave and leave Germany. As long as you have money, you can live well anywhere.

Carl nodded and left.

Qin Tian carried his suitcase and went straight to the garden of the palace. He knew that the royal family's gatherings have always been held here. When Qin Tian arrived, he found that the Queen, Crown Prince William, Prince Ethel Friedrich, Prince Albert, Prince August William, Prince Joachim and Princess Victoria Louise had all arrived.

"I'm sorry, queen mother, brothers and sisters, I'm late." Qin Tian immediately apologized.

"Who doesn't know that Oscar is already famous as the big boss of the entire German Empire, so it's understandable to be late." A yin and yang voice sounded.

Qin Tian didn't need to think about it, he just needed to listen to the voice to hear it. It was clearly the voice of Crown Prince William.

The other princes watched all this with a smile on their faces. Of course, Prince Joachim and Princess Louise looked dazed because they were still young.

"Your Highness the Crown Prince is just joking. I am no more likely than His Royal Highness to inherit the entire empire in the future. I can only find my own way out as soon as possible. Otherwise, after His Highness the Crown Prince inherits the throne, if I am not pleasing to the eye and kick me out of the palace, I will not know how to gain a foothold." Qin Tian said coldly.

As the saying goes, money is a man's waist and his confidence. Now that Qin Tian has huge wealth as his backing, naturally he doesn't have to be afraid of Crown Prince William. Compared with him, Crown Prince William just had a better life, born a little earlier than they were all born. Otherwise, how could he have the right to be arrogant.

Crown Prince William was immediately ashamed and angry. With his personality, he could definitely do what Qin Tian said.

The faces of the other princes also became unnatural. Although they were very jealous of Qin Tian, when they thought about the character of Crown Prince William, they also knew that once Crown Prince William succeeded to the throne, their life would probably be very sad.

"Nonsense, how could I do such a thing? You are clearly framing me!" Crown Prince William was furious.

"Okay, you are all brothers, so what's the point of being so noisy?" The queen said dissatisfied.

Crown Prince William and Qin Tian suddenly died down.

"Oscar, take your seat when you come. Today is Christmas Eve, and His Majesty is going to hold a dinner in the palace tonight. Let's get together as a family first." The queen said. Although she is more partial to Crown Prince William, these are her children, and she naturally wants a bowl of water to be leveled.

Qin Tian nodded and returned to his seat. However, Crown Prince William looked at him, obviously full of hatred.

Qin Tian didn't care about this.

The waiters kept delivering exquisite pastries and fine wines, and the family began to talk. With everyone's deliberate attention, the atmosphere is relatively harmonious.

However, Qin Tian seemed a bit out of place like an outsider. He sat alone in his place, drinking and eating. The dinner in the evening is mainly for communication. If you want to fill your stomach at a dinner party, it is simply impossible.

Qin Tian doesn't want to make trouble, but it doesn't mean that trouble won't take the initiative to come to him. No, Crown Prince William is eyeing Qin Tian again.

"Oscar, the annual Christmas is here. What gift have you prepared for your mother? Our gift has already been given before." Crown Prince William said while holding a wine glass.

Suddenly, everyone's eyes fell on Qin Tian.

Qin Tian glanced at Crown Prince William, stood up straight, and said to the queen: "Mother, how could I forget to prepare a gift for you? This is a necklace I carefully selected for you, I hope you like it."

Qin Tian took out a dazzling necklace from the suitcase. The entire necklace is composed of 108 diamonds and is of great value. Qin Tian spent half a million marks on this necklace.

Women really like these things. When Qin Tian took out the diamond necklace, the eyes of the queen and Princess Louise immediately focused on the necklace, and they couldn't leave it anymore.

"Oscar, you are such a good boy." The queen smiled. Originally, he looked down on Qin Tian, but now there is a trace of love in his eyes. A beautiful diamond necklace made her view of Qin Tian fundamentally changed.

"Mother, this is what I should do."

"Brother Oscar, why is there only the mother's and not mine?" Princess Louise pouted.

"Haha, how could you forget our lovely little Princess Louise? My brother picked out a necklace specially for you." Qin Tian laughed loudly, and took out another necklace that was slightly smaller from the suitcase. Although the value is not as good as the necklace given to the queen, it is also worth a lot.

"Thank you brother Oscar!" Princess Louise smiled happily.
