

JAGGED GERMANY

Chapter 23: rich is willful

Looking at Crown Prince William's hypocritical face, Qin Tian wished he could slap him. Although he had known for a long time that Crown Prince William was a jealous and suspicious person, he did not expect that he would treat his own brother like this.

Of course, it would be a lie to say that Qin Tian has no idea about the throne. But he knows that it will be very difficult to squeeze Crown Prince William from the position of heir to the throne. The Western world is not like the Eastern world, where the succession of crown princes is ordinary. Western crown princes are generally difficult to replace. Therefore, Qin Tian did not expect to replace Crown Prince William at all. All he did was not reconciled to Germany's failure in future wars. After all, he is now the prince of the German Empire. Once the empire collapses, it will undoubtedly be a huge blow to him. If the German Empire can win the war, he can also gain huge benefits from it.

But obviously, what he did made Crown Prince William feel the crisis. In order to keep his position, he began to spare no effort to suppress Qin Tian, even though Qin Tian's design was of great benefit to the German Empire.

Qin Tian took a deep breath, although he had expected such a result a long time ago. However, he found that he still underestimated the staidness of these old antiques in the Naval Technical Committee. No wonder the German navy will be defeated in the end, there are also big reasons for this.

"I respect the decision of the Naval Technical Committee. Of course, I believe that you will soon find that what you insist on is fundamentally wrong. At that time, you will make the navy of the German Empire because of your choice. Once again, it was left behind by the British. It will be even more difficult for the German Imperial Navy to overtake the British Navy. If Germany fails in future wars, all of you will be the culprits. At that time, I will Look, what face do you have to continue living in the world!" Qin Tian's face was full of anger.

Qin Tian scolded all the experts from the Naval Technical Committee. Immediately, everyone's faces became ugly. Although, they very much disagree with Qin Tian's accusations against them.

The chairman of the Naval Technical Committee, Count von Warren, had a particularly ugly expression on his face. Under his leadership, the Naval Technical Committee contributed enormously to the development of the German Navy. Now, being accused by a brat like this, where does this put their old face!

"Hmph! Your Royal Highness, although you are honorable, you have no right to insult us like this! We are subjects of the German Empire, and we only need to be responsible to His Majesty the Emperor and all the people. We don't need you to teach us what to do. In the field of warship manufacturing, our experience is much richer than yours. Although your design uses a lot of novel things. However, it is nothing more than sensationalism. Navy warships need to cooperate with many factors, not Blindly pile up new technologies. You are still too young, you'd better go to the Naval Academy to study hard for a few years, and then discuss with us after you get your diploma!" Sir Dietrich, the director of shipbuilding, sarcastically said.

Indeed, they are all masters in the field of shipbuilding technology, so they couldn't accept being ridiculed by Qin Tian like this.

"Okay, everyone, don't say a few words. It is understandable that everyone has differences in theory. Time will prove who is right and who is wrong." Count von Warren said with a cold face.

Although he was also very displeased with Qin Tian's previous remarks. However, Qin Tian's status as a prince must be taken into account after all, and I don't want to make it too rigid.

"Oscar, I apologize to everyone. As the prince of the German Empire, how can you act so recklessly? Even if your design is rejected, you can't lose your temper because of it. These experts are the pillars of the empire. " Crown Prince William said with a straight face.

Qin Tian's performance shocked him, but at the same time made him secretly happy. Being able to hit Qin Tian's reputation is undoubtedly what he hopes to see. If Qin Tian's reputation is rotten, it will be even more impossible to pose a threat to him.

"Hmph! I have the right to refuse. Moreover, I firmly believe that my design is correct. You will soon know how wrong you are." Qin Tian held his head high.

"Oscar, you are too presumptuous. I will report what you have done to the emperor." Crown Prince William trembled with anger. In front of so many people, Qin Tian dared to disobey him, this undoubtedly did not take him seriously at all! He made up his mind that once he succeeded to the throne and became the leader of the Hohenzollern family, he must drive Qin Tian out of the family.

Marshal Count Tirpitz and Prince Heinrich looked at each other, seeing helplessness in each other's eyes. They also didn't expect how a good demonstration conference would evolve into this.

Of course, the Naval Technical Committee has already made a conclusion, even in their capacity, it is not easy to overturn it.

Qin Tian glanced at Crown Prince William contemptuously. Historically, he was considered to be a man of great ambition and lack of tolerance, and he was absolutely right.

"As you like!" Qin Tian said indifferently.

Afterwards, Qin Tian took a look at the high-ranking experts of the Naval Technical Committee, and said, "Don't think that the battleship I designed won't become a reality if you reject my design. Don't forget, this is not a battleship under the German Navy. It is a first-class capital ship. It is a battleship I donated to the navy. Therefore, your decision does not mean anything to me. I will build this battleship, and then let you see my ship Battleships, how powerful they are, let you realize your mistakes. Who told me that I don't need these tens of millions of marks at all? There is no way, money is human nature!"

Qin Tian said this with a very unbeatable expression.

Suddenly, everyone was stunned. Indeed, although they rejected Qin Tian's design, what's the use of that? Qin Tian did not bid for the next-level battleship of the German Navy, but a battleship presented to the German Navy. Everything can be decided by Qin Tian. Their objections are of no use at all.

The expressions on the faces of these experts have become very exciting. During the whole incident, they acted like a clown. In vain, they put on an appearance of great skill to teach Qin Tian a lesson.

"Being rich is self-willed? This guy!" Prince Heinrich said with a smile.

Marshal Earl Tirpitz had a wry smile on his face, Qin Tian slapped the Navy Technical Committee hard!
