

JAGGED GERMANY

Chapter 24: The Emperor's Support (for collection)

"This time I offended these guys severely. But, what does that matter? Now that I have money, I can naturally be willful!" Qin Tian walked out of the Naval Technical Committee building, thinking a little speechlessly. He didn't expect it to be this far. However, he has no regrets. Instead of letting these old-fashioned guys delay the German Navy, it is better to scold them severely, maybe they can wake them up.

Of course, whether this will work or not, Qin Tian is not sure at all. Germans are notoriously rigid.

At this moment, a Mercedes-Benz car drove up to Qin Tian.

"Oscar, come up!" Prince Heinrich said inside.

"Okay, Your Royal Highness!" Qin Tian nodded and got into Prince Heinrich's car.

"Oscar, to be honest, you surprised me very much. Among the many princes in the royal family, you were not outstanding at first. But I didn't expect that you are now a blockbuster." Prince Heinrich sighed.

Before Qin Tian, he was taciturn and was not favored by William II. In the royal family, he was like an invisible person. But now, Qin Tianxian founded the German Welfare Lottery Company single-handedly, and made it an extremely profitable company. The monthly profits shocked everyone.

Now, Qin Tian actually designed an advanced battleship. Although it was not adopted by the Naval Technical Committee, Prince Heinrich believed that once it was actually built, it would definitely shock the world.

"His Royal Highness praised it. However, my design was still not adopted by the Navy Technical Committee." Qin Tian seemed a little frustrated. If it can pass, then the capital ship of the next level of the German Navy will undergo earth-shaking changes. Maybe the German Navy will really be able to overtake in curves and surpass the British Navy.

"Oscar, even if it is not adopted by the Naval Technical Committee, so what? I have always thought that those guys are too old-fashioned. Personally, I am very optimistic about the battleship you designed. Since you do not lack funds, Then you can build the battleship. Then, let's see what kind of expressions those people will have." Prince Heinrich encouraged.

Qin Tian nodded, he was also looking forward to that day.

"However, Your Royal Highness. After being rejected by the Navy Technical Committee, I am afraid no shipyard will help me build it! They still want to continue to get orders from the Navy." Qin Tian was a little worried. Although there are many shipyards in Germany, there are only a few capable of building battleships. These shipyards have a very close relationship with the Naval Technical Committee. After offending the Naval Technical Committee, even if Qin Tian places an order with these shipyards, they probably won't accept it.

"This is indeed a big* trouble. However, I believe there will always be a solution. Oscar, you are so young. I believe that your future will definitely shine. I am very optimistic about you." Prince Heinrich patted He patted Qin Tian on the shoulder.

"Thank you, Your Royal Highness." Qin Tian also knew that he couldn't give up easily now. Anyway, he was only sixteen years old, and he still had a lot of life to live, so it was nothing if he experienced some setbacks.

Prince Heinrich sent Qin Tian back to the palace, and then left. After all, today is Christmas, the day of family reunion.

In the evening, Qin Tian and his family got together and had a sumptuous Christmas dinner. At dinner, Wilhelm II did not mention what happened this afternoon at the Naval Technical Committee. However, Qin Tian saw Crown Prince William's gloating in his eyes. He knew that Crown Prince William must have slandered him in front of William II. However, there was nothing he could do about it. The other party is the crown prince, with a noble status, and is more favored in the eyes of William II. Compared with him, Qin Tian is inherently at a disadvantage.

After dinner, William II will go to handle official business as usual. Generally speaking, the queen leads the children and chats to enhance the relationship between the royal family. The so-called royal family has no kinship, although the western royal family is not as good as the eastern one in terms of struggle. However, the battle among the princes is quite obvious. As parents, William II and the Queen naturally wanted to ease the tense atmosphere.

"Oscar, follow me to the study." William II said when he left.

"Yes, Royal Father." Qin Tian nodded, he couldn't hide what should come. If William II wanted to teach him a lesson, he couldn't escape even if he wanted to.

"Huh! Offending those experts at the Naval Technical Committee, now he will feel better." Crown Prince William gloated.

The queen couldn't help sighing when she saw this situation.

"Do it, Oscar." After entering William II's study, Qin Tian was like a child who made a mistake, waiting for William II's punishment. However, to his surprise, William II was not angry.

"Yes!" Qin Tian immediately sat down.

"Oscar, you were too reckless at the Naval Technical Committee this afternoon. Even if they rejected your design, you shouldn't argue with them and even ridicule them. This will have a very negative impact on your reputation. said William II.

"Yes, Royal Father, today I was impulsive." Qin Tian bowed his head and admitted his mistake. He knew the character of William II, and if he refuted it, it would only annoy William II even more. Instead, he took the initiative to admit his mistake, so that William II would not pursue it.

William II saw Qin Tian's attitude, and the anger in his heart dissipated a lot. After all, this is his son, and he has shown outstanding talent.

"Forget it, who has never been young. You are young now, and it is normal to be a little angry." William II waved his hand, and the matter was exposed.

"Father, I just can't understand them using the so-called experience as an excuse to make our navy lose a good opportunity for development." Qin Tian said bitterly.

"Oscar, you are very confident in your design!"

"Yes, Father. I promise, once the battleship I designed is built, it will definitely be the most powerful battleship. It is even more powerful than the next-level battleship secretly designed by the British. When the time comes, we will be able to suppress Over the British." Qin Tian said confidently.

King William II frowned and did not speak, as if thinking about it. After a while, he spoke.

"Oscar, as your father and the emperor of the German Empire, I am willing to support you, and I hope you will not let me down. Since you announced in the Naval Technical Committee that you will build a battleship, then go ahead and do it." William II made up his mind.
