

JAGGED GERMANY

Chapter 3: Emperor's Wrath (for collection)

Qin Tian looked at William II, this majestic middle-aged man with a hint of kindness, who was ambitious and at the same time a bit ambitious. Although, William II was a bit headstrong and conceited. But I have to admit that he is also a very outstanding monarch.

William II's hegemony ended in failure entirely because his opponent was too strong. Although Germany is an emerging power, it is an enemy of established powers such as Britain and France. At the same time, the emerging power of the United States stabbed Germany at a critical moment, making it impossible for Germany to win the war.

Qin Tian knew that William II was a man of his word, and it was difficult for others to change the decisions he had made.

However, Qin Tian didn't want to go to Keele Naval Academy and waste four years. Four years is enough for him to do a lot of things. Among other things, it is quite possible to accumulate a lot of wealth. In that case, even if Germany still cannot avoid defeat in the end, with those wealth, he can at least be a rich man safely.

Therefore, Qin Tian had to reject William II's decision. Although, he knew the consequences of doing so, if not done well, it would arouse the wrath of William II's thunder.

It's just that Qin Tian can't care so much now.

"Father, I don't want to go to Kiel Naval Academy!" Qin Tian looked at William II calmly.

"Huh?" William II couldn't help frowning.

Among the many monarchs in Europe, the power of the German emperor is undoubtedly great. Although it cannot be compared with the power of the Chinese emperor, it is also supreme. Especially in the royal family, no one can go against his will.

Perhaps William II himself did not expect that Qin Tian dared to say such a thing, so he couldn't help being stunned.

Crown Prince William, who was on the side, also froze from his originally smiling expression.

However, a smile appeared on the corner of his mouth.

As the crown prince of the Second German Empire and the first heir to the throne, he certainly hoped that all his younger brothers would be mediocre and incompetent. In this case, he will undoubtedly be able to deposit his talents well. At the same time, his throne is naturally completely stable, so he doesn't have to worry about being taken away by these younger brothers. Of course, the possibility of this happening is very small. Unless he died young, or Germany perished, otherwise, his succession as German emperor is almost a certainty.

"This idiot dares to reject the royal father like this. He simply doesn't know how to live or die." Crown Prince William was delighted.

Although, Crown Prince William looked down on this withdrawn younger brother from the bottom of his heart, and did not think that Prince Oscar would pose any threat to his throne. However, to be able to step on Prince Oscar to the soles of his feet and never have a chance to stand up, this is undoubtedly what he is very happy to see.

"Oscar, what are you going to do? This is the royal father's arrangement for your future life. How can you refuse? If you say this, you have completely failed the royal father's kindness." Crown Prince William immediately jumped out and praised Qin Tian. blame. It was as if Qin Tian had committed some heinous crime.

A trace of displeasure flashed across William II's face, but he hid it well. He waved his hand to stop Crown Prince William from chattering.

"Oscar, do you have any ideas? If you really don't want to go to the Kiel Naval Academy, you can go to another academy. How about the Army Academy?" William II asked.

In order to show their loyalty to the German Empire and win the love of the people, the princes of the German royal family often develop in the direction of the military. Whether it is the army or the navy, you have to serve. Only in this way can the people see that the royal family is on the front line of defending the empire and the interests of the people.

Under the gaze of William II, Qin Tian immediately felt tremendous pressure.

"Father, I don't want to go to college anymore, I want to do something by myself." Qin Tian said bravely.

After Qin Tian uttered these words, the expressions on the faces of William II and Crown Prince William became very exciting.

William II's face was full of uncontrollable anger. From his eyes, Qin Tian could clearly see his disappointment. Obviously, in the eyes of William II, Qin Tian has completely become a coward who is not self-motivated and even evades his duties and obligations.

After a short period of astonishment, Crown Prince William gloated a little. He also didn't expect that Qin Tian would be more self-willed and depraved than he expected. In this case, he can almost conclude that Qin Tian will not pose any threat to him for the rest of his life.

"This idiot, it seems that there is really no hope. However, this is a good thing for me. For the sake of our brothers, I will kindly help you when you are poor.

"Crown Prince William looked at Qin Tian with a hint of sympathy.

"Oscar, what are you thinking? You are the prince of the German Empire, a direct member of the Hohenzollern family. Do you want the great Hohenzollern family and the German royal family to be ashamed of your actions? ?

You really let me down. Your brothers have all entered the military service, or are about to enter the military service. As a member of the German royal family, it is our destiny to die in battle for the benefit of the German Empire. But now, you are so cowardly, you have completely disgraced the German royal family. "

King William II roared angrily, and he even trembled with anger. He really couldn't bear it, there was such a person among his sons.

Qin Tian opened his mouth to explain, but in the end he didn't say a word. He can't tell William II that if Germany develops at this speed, no matter how it prepares for war, it will not be an opponent of Britain, France, the United States and other countries, and it will eventually be dragged to death.

If he said this, he would definitely be regarded by William II as a lunatic talking nonsense.

In addition, knowing the future development of history is also Qin Tian's biggest secret, and of course he will not reveal it. If it is known that Prince Oscar's body is already someone else's soul, God knows what William II will do, maybe he will be killed directly.

"Oscar, get the * out of your room. I don't care what you think. After a week, you have to go to Keele Naval Academy to report. Even if you're a fool, you have to stay there for four years. During the period , without my permission, absolutely cannot return to the palace!" William II issued an order angrily.
