

Jagged 1121

Chapter 1121

Retreating steadily has become the best synonym for the Russian army in this war.

As time goes by, the German army has won victories on various battlefields. Especially the armored forces of the German army performed amazingly in this battle.

The powerful armor force can not only tear apart the Russian army's defense line, but also quickly intersect it, dividing the Russian army into encirclement circles one by one, so that the infantry who catch up with the German army can easily destroy the Russian army in the encirclement circle.

Although, from the beginning of the battle to the present, it is only a week. The four front armies deployed by the Russian army on the western defense line have already suffered heavy losses. The Southern Front was wiped out, and the other three Fronts were not much better.

The Russian Southwest Front Army was severely damaged by the German C Army Group and is holding on to Kursk and Voronezh. However, the Russian Southwest Front is severely understrength. Faced with the attack of millions of German troops and hundreds of thousands of Ukrainian troops, it is impossible for them to hold on to Kursk and Voronezh. Further retreat has become a foregone conclusion.

The Western Front of the Russian Army suffered heavy losses under the onslaught of the German Army Group B. The 3rd Army was completely wiped out, and the 3rd Tank Army was completely wiped out. Street fighting in the city dragged down the German army. But in the same way, the five armies of the German army have millions of troops, and the troops of Poland and Belarus are also added at the same time. The Russian army is completely at a disadvantage.

The Northwest Front Army of the Russian Army, under the onslaught of the German army, has given up all the territory except Ulyanovgrad. The remaining troops, except the 27th Army, are all huddled in Ulyanovgrad Stretched.

It can be said that the German army has achieved a major victory in the week-long war. Millions of Russian troops were annihilated or captured, and nearly a million Russian troops fell into the siege of the German army. As long as these Russian troops are eliminated, the German army can be regarded as an initial victory in this battle.

Although, the Russian army is still mobilizing frantically. More and more Russians are taking up arms and ready to go to the battlefield at any time. However, as the main force of the Russian army was wiped out, it would undoubtedly be very difficult for these subsequent troops to resist the German attack.

Moscow, the Kremlin, Joseph's face was livid. Now he looks very tired. Over the past few days, the battle situation has taken a turn for the worse, making him unable to sleep at night, which naturally makes his body a little overwhelmed.

A group of commanders of the Russian army stood in front of Joseph, not daring to show their air. The current situation is so unfavorable to the Russian army. Although, they didn't expect how the war would turn out like this. However, the facts are like this, and there is no room for them to argue.

"Comrades! During the onslaught of the Germans, we suffered extremely heavy losses. The entire western defense line was on the verge of collapse. I never thought that our defeat would come so soon!" Joseph looked distressed.

The military generals of the Russian army bowed their heads in silence, and they didn't know what to say. In other words, they are also aggrieved. Although, they have known the strength of the Germans for a long time. However, after these years of development, they also believe that the combat effectiveness of the Russian army cannot be underestimated.

But after they really fought against the German army, they realized how wrong they were. The performance of the German army on the battlefield made them fully see how big the gap was. If they had known this before, these generals would have tried their best to dissuade Joseph from going to war with Germany. However, it is too late to say these now. The war has already begun, and judging by the posture of the Germans, it is clear that they will not stop until Bu Russia is destroyed. This made them have no way out, and could only bite the bullet and fight on.

"Comrade Joseph, the Germans are too strong. They invested far more troops than us. In addition, in terms of tactics, they also exceeded our expectations. This led to our disastrous defeat. However, I believe that we will continue to In the coming war, we will definitely be able to turn defeat into victory and defeat the Germans!" Marshal Voroshilov said.

Joseph nodded. The matter has come to this point, and it is useless to scold these generals. At least, these generals are still loyal to him. Although he lacked a little ability, his loyalty still satisfied Joseph.

"I am very satisfied that you can have such confidence. So, what should we do next?" Joseph asked.

"Comrade Joseph, the Southern Front has been wiped out. It is foreseeable that the Germans and Ukrainians are about to invade our territory again. And their goal, we judge, will be Josephgrad. For the current plan, we must It is necessary to rebuild the male front as soon as possible, resist the attacks of the Germans and Ukrainians, and defend Josephgrad. Otherwise, the entire southern front will be corrupted!" Marshal Shaposhnikov said.

Joseph nodded, agreeing with this point of view. Josephgrad, but the city named after him. If even Josephgrad is lost, does he still have face? No matter what, we must try our best to avoid such a situation from happening. Joseph has already made up his mind that he must find a way to strengthen the strength of the southern front as much as possible so that they can resist the German attack.

"Comrade Joseph, with the mobilization of a large number of troops completed, we plan to rebuild the Southern Front, which will have the 24th, 37th, 54th, and 57th Army Groups under its jurisdiction. In addition, rebuild the 9th, 12th, and 18th Army Groups that were wiped out by the Germans. In this case, the Southern Front will have seven armies with millions of troops," Marshal Shaposhnikov said.

Joseph is quite satisfied with this. Although, many troops are new troops that have just been formed. But being able to deploy millions of troops in the direction of Josephgrad made him very satisfied. He believes that there is no problem with millions of Russian troops resisting the attack of the German Army Group D. After all, among the German Army Group D, the German Army has only three Army Groups, and the rest are Ukrainians. Joseph believes that even if the Russian army is not an opponent of the German army, the Ukrainian army is far from being able to compare with them. so. It may be very difficult for the rebuilt Russian Southern Front to defeat the German Army Group D, but it is not a big problem to hold Josephgrad.

"Comrades, the Southern Front, I don't think there is a problem with defending Josephgrad. However, the real crisis is not there, but on our frontal battlefield! Once the Germans take Smolensk, the distance Moscow is not far away!" Joseph said.

Smolensk is only 300 kilometers away from Moscow. Once the German army solves the remnants of the Russian Western Front and captures Smolensk, then, at the advancing speed of the German army, it may take less than a month to reach the city of Moscow.

The capital of Bu Russia is also their heart. Moscow has an irreplaceable significance in Bu Russia. If Moscow falls, it will cause an unpredictable and major blow to Bu Russia.

Of course, even if Moscow falls, Bu Russia will never give up. They will continue to move east, and then continue to resist the German attack. However, if it really gets to that point, the situation will become even more difficult for Bu Russia. It is undoubtedly more difficult for them to defeat the German army. Everyone does not want the situation to develop to that point.

"Not only the Germans' Army Group B, but also their Army Group C are also heading towards Moscow. Even if their Army Group A captures Ulyanovgrad, they will inevitably go south to attack Moscow. At that time, we will be besieged by the Germans on three fronts!" Marshal Voroshilov said.

Suddenly, the faces of everyone in the office changed drastically. During the battle in the past week, they have deeply realized the strength of the German army. If Moscow was really under a three-way siege by the German army, it would be almost impossible to hold Moscow.

"We must avoid such a situation as much as possible!" Joseph said.

"Yes, Comrade Joseph." All the generals replied. However, Joseph could clearly feel their lack of confidence from their tone. Indeed, in this battle, the performance of the German experience has already made these generals fear the German army in their hearts.

"Comrade Joseph, we need to hold the Western Front, the Southwest Front and the Northwest Front. It will take at least one more month of delay. In that case, the German offensive will have to be stopped. We will have enough time to train the army, and even launched a counterattack," Marshal Shaposhnikov said.

Joseph nodded, and he knew exactly this, so he was not completely discouraged.

The other generals also had bright eyes. Indeed, the sudden attack of the German army this time left them unprepared and suffered heavy losses. However, the Russian army was not hurt by this, and they still had enough strength.

The winter in Russia is not only cold, but also lasts for a long time. Even people from other countries who are also European countries may not be able to persist. When Napoleon the Great led his army to attack Russia, wasn't that why he was defeated? This eventually led to the collapse of the French Empire.

Now, Germany is attacking Bu Russia. This situation is undoubtedly very similar to the French Empire attacking Russia. Perhaps, they can also use these advantages to defeat the Germans.

Winter in Russia lasts for several months. This will be a rare respite for Russia, which was defeated miserably in the war. They can use this time to train the mobilized army and rebuild the defense line. Even under the cover of heavy snow, they launched a counterattack against the German army.

"Our second batch of mobilization has almost been completed. This can not only make up for the troops we lost on the battlefield, but also increase the number of our troops. After a winter of training and accumulating strength, we are in the Next spring, there will be enough strength to fight the Germans!" Marshal Voroshilov said.

"Comrade Joseph, we can still use this time to ask for help from the Americans. At present, the military aid promised by the Americans can only be transported through the Siberian Railway. Due to the limitation of the capacity of the Siberian Railway, it will take a long time to deliver Ship it here. We must ask the Americans to open up other routes. In addition, the German army has shown such a strong combat effectiveness in this war, and we are under great pressure. Therefore, we can ask the Americans to join the war in advance." Marshal Voroshilov continued.

Joseph nodded again and again, these are all ways for Buer to recover from the disadvantage.

"I will let the People's Commissar of Foreign Affairs go to the United States as a special envoy. The Germans are powerful, and the Americans can no longer stand by. Otherwise, once we are defeated, it will definitely not be of any benefit to them." Joseph said.

"Comrade Joseph, we are on the western defense line, and we need to start to fortify the wall and clear the country. People and all kinds of materials must be evacuated to the east as much as possible. In that case, even if the Germans occupy those territories, they will not be able to use them. This is For the Germans, it will be a kind of containment. In addition, we also need to develop guerrillas extensively, let them attack the Germans on the battlefield behind enemy lines, and contain the German troops as much as possible." Shaposhnikov also suggested .

Developing guerrillas is undoubtedly what Bu Russia is good at. Even before the success of the revolution, Joseph himself led guerrillas to fight guerrilla warfare in the mountains of Georgia. In this regard, he is very experienced.

"Well, let more party members stay in the western enemy war zone, organize guerrillas, and fight against the arrogance of the Germans!" Joseph said.

"Yes, Comrade Joseph."

"Comrade Joseph, the Germans have been preparing for this war for many years. For this reason, they even cooperated with us to build a large number of railways and roads in the west. This will undoubtedly allow them to use those railways and roads to quickly Advance. However, except for the western region, the railways and roads in other regions are not so perfect. And the German troops have a large number of tanks, armored vehicles and trucks. Bad traffic will delay their advance Speed. Even, we can actively disrupt traffic. In this case, it will be even more difficult for the Germans to fight to Moscow!"

The other generals also offered their advice. Originally, the atmosphere was very dull. Everyone thought that this time, Buer might lose the war. However, when everyone listed the advantages of these Bu Russia one by one, everyone found that Bu Russia still has great advantages. If all goes well, they may not be impossible to defeat the Germans.

"Comrades, the Germans are very strong. We have great disadvantages in this war. But at the same time, we also have many advantages. As long as we can use these advantages, we may not be able to defeat the Germans!" Joseph said confidently.

"Comrade Joseph, the Southern Front has already begun to rebuild. However, the other fronts have also suffered heavy losses. Even if they persist until winter, they will not have many troops left. I am afraid we have to start rebuilding now. In this case , Come next spring, we will complete our preparations and have enough troops to launch a counterattack against the Germans!" Marshal Voroshilov suggested.

Joseph nodded after careful consideration. After full mobilization, Bu Russia has no shortage of troops. Of course, in terms of armament and training, the newly formed troops may fall short. However, these disadvantages can be made up for if there is a winter respite. At that time, they will have enough strength to continue to fight against the Germans.

"Do you have any specific plans?" Joseph asked.

"Comrade Joseph, this is our specific plan!" General Shaposhnikov handed over a reorganization plan to Joseph.

Joseph read it carefully. In this reorganization plan, several front armies of the Russian army will be strengthened.

The Western Front, in addition to the reorganization of several existing group armies, will also add 19, 20, 21, 22, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 39, 43, 49, 50, 61, The 68th Army, the 1st Assault Army, the 10th and 11th Guards Army, the 4th Tank Army, and the 4th Air Force Army. In this case, the Western Front will become a huge front with 24 infantry armies, two tank armies, and two air armies. The entire front army will have nearly 3 million troops.

There is no doubt that this will become the group army with the strongest strength and strength among the several front armies of the Russian army.

Of course, as a force that confronts the German army head-on, no amount of strengthening can be overstated. Especially after the German Army Group B is strengthened by the troops of the slave country, its military strength will be further improved. In this case, the Russian army will need to add more troops to resist the German attack.

"Is the establishment of the Western Front too large?" Joseph asked.

"Comrade Joseph, the German Army Group B has millions of troops. In addition, according to reliable information we have received, millions of Polish troops and 200,000 Belarusian troops are already on their way to the front. By then, The total strength of this army group will exceed two million people. Although the combat effectiveness of the Poles and Belarusians is certainly not comparable to that of the Germans. However, the combat effectiveness of our newly formed troops has also declined. Therefore, We had to add as many troops as possible to guard against the Germans," Marshal Voroshilov said.

When Joseph thought about it, it was indeed the truth. If the strength of the Russian army is comparable to that of the German army, then they are definitely not the opponents of the German army. The combat effectiveness of the army of Germany's vassal state should not be underestimated. This can be seen from the performance of the Ukrainians on the Ukrainian battlefield. Therefore, it is very necessary for the Russian army to maintain its superiority in military strength as much as possible.

"Okay, let's reorganize the Western Front Army according to this organization! However, General Timoshenko is no longer suitable to be the commander of the Front Army. His performance in this war made me very disappointed!" Joseph said.

Although the West will be defeated, the main reason is that the German army is too strong. But General Timoshenko's performance was indeed not very good. What's more, if the current Western Front Army has more than three million troops, this will make Joseph even more uneasy. He must let his confidants control this army. In this way, he will be at ease.

Voroshilov and Shaposhnikov stopped talking. Indeed, with such a large force involved, only Joseph can decide on the commander of this force.

Joseph thought for a while, but he didn't seem to have a suitable candidate. However, this army must be in his hands. Otherwise, he would never be at ease.

"Comrade Voroshilov, let you be the commander of the Western General!" Joseph said.

Voroshilov was taken aback for a moment, he is a member of the Politburo of Bu Russia, the People's Commissar of National Defense! If he served as the commander of the front-line army, I am afraid that these positions would have to be given up. What's more, it is undoubtedly very dangerous to go to the front line to fight the Germans. Maybe if it is defeated by the Germans, then everything will be over.

However, now that Joseph has spoken, can he refuse? That is obviously impossible.

"Yes, Comrade Joseph!" Marshal Voroshilov immediately understood. Everything about him can be said to be given by Joseph. If he opposed Joseph, then Joseph could take everything from him at any time.

Joseph nodded in satisfaction, Voroshilov's loyalty made him very satisfied.

The Southwest Front Army, in addition to rebuilding the disabled 5th, 6th, 13th, and 26th Army Groups, allocated the 37th, 38th, 40th, and 57th Army Groups, as well as the Air Force 8th Army Group, to the Southwest Front Army. In this case, the Southwest Front Army will have millions of troops. Although it is no less than the C Army Group of the German Army, if the Ukrainian army that cooperates with the C Army Group is counted, the Russian army is still at a disadvantage. However, the Southwest Front Army is mainly assisting the Western Front Army in combat. If the situation is unfavorable, it can retreat to Moscow. These armies are also enough in front of them.

The Northwest Front Army, in addition to the existing three armies will be supplemented and rebuilt, will also be organized into the 3rd and 4th Assault Army, the 34th, 48th, and 53rd Infantry Army, and the 1st Tank Army. In this case, the Northwest Front Army will have 8 infantry armies and 1 tank army, with a strength of more than 1.5 million troops, which is enough to compete with the German Army Group A. Among other things, there is no problem at all in dragging the German Army Group A in Ulyanovgrad. In that case, there is no need to be afraid of the German Army Group A going south to cooperate with Army Group B and Army Group C to besiege Moscow.

Joseph nodded after reading the organization plan. After reorganization, the strength of several front armies will be strengthened. This will help them resist the German attack. Even if it goes well, it can launch a counterattack.

"Very well, let's do it according to your plan! I hope that our army can be ready to launch a counterattack starting next spring!" Joseph said.

"Yes, Comrade Joseph." Both Voroshilov and Shaposhnikov replied.

Chapter 1124

For Bu Russia, the war broke out so suddenly that they were not prepared at all, and were caught off guard by the Germans. Although they sent all their elite troops to the front line, they still couldn't resist the well-prepared German army, resulting in heavy losses.

Now, the mobilization of Russia is being completed step by step, and a large number of troops are being transferred from all over the country to the western front. This allowed them to have enough troops to resist the German attack.

The coming winter is even more crucial for Buer. They can use these months to take a good rest and rearrange their troops. The leaders of Bu Russia believe that after careful preparation, their army will not be as vulnerable as it is now.

The panic in Joseph's heart disappeared by this time.

"Gentlemen, the Germans are now on the offensive. However, this does not mean that we have to be on the defensive all the time. We can also launch attacks from other places, so that the Germans are in a hurry and contain their strength!" Joseph said.

"Comrade Joseph, do you mean that we attack the Germans from other directions?" Both Voroshilov and Shaposhnikov frowned.

Now, the Russian army is exhausted under the fierce German attack, and they don't have many troops to attack.

"Yes, I think we can send part of the army to attack the vital points of the Germans! If we can succeed, this will open up the situation for us. It is also of great benefit to the frontal battlefield!" Joseph said.

"Comrade Joseph, if this is the case, I think it is feasible. However, I don't know where you want to attack?" General Shaposhnikov asked.

"Here!" Joseph pointed to the map.

Voroshilov and Shaposhnikov immediately understood what Joseph meant.

The place where Joseph asked them to attack was the Persian Gulf region in the Middle East. Here, it has become the most important oil producing area in Germany. Almost all the oil consumed by Germany and the whole of Europe is produced here. It can be said that if Bu Russia can really send troops to capture here, it will be a heavy blow to Germany.

Europe is generally short of oil. Except for Romania, which has an oil field with a small output, the oil of the rest of the countries is obtained from abroad as soon as possible. Bu Russia's oil mainly comes from the Baku oil field.

"The strength of the Germans is based on their advanced weapons and equipment. If we can send troops to occupy the Persian Gulf, we will be able to cut off the Germans' access to oil. Without oil, the German planes will not be able to fly into the sky, the tanks will not be able to start. At that time, their combat effectiveness will be greatly affected. And we will be able to turn defeat into victory." Joseph looked forward to it.

Voroshilov and Shaposhnikov looked at each other, and they both saw a trace of helplessness in each other's eyes. Both of them thought that Joseph had imagined everything too simply.

"Comrade Joseph, the Germans should have been prepared for a long time. In Germany, they have established a combat-ready system and stored a large amount of oil. In addition, the Germans can also obtain oil from Romania and Libya. Even if they lose the oil in the Persian Gulf, it will not have a fatal impact on them." Marshal Voroshilov said.

"Even so, as long as the Germans can be affected, that's enough, at least it's much better than our blind passive beating now?" Joseph made another stubborn mistake.

"In addition, we have occupied the Persian Gulf, which can also pose a threat to North Africa or India. Especially India, which is the most important colony of the Germans. If we send troops to attack India, the Germans will definitely panic. At that time, they have to transfer troops to India, and our pressure will be much less." Joseph said excitedly, as if he had found a good way to deal with Germany.

"Comrade Joseph, according to the information we have received, the Turks are sending troops to the east. Their purpose is probably to prevent us from attacking the Persian Gulf." Shaposhnikov reminded.

Hearing the news, Joseph couldn't help frowning, but he didn't pay attention to this. However, it was hard for him to come up with such a method, and it would undoubtedly be impossible for him to give up.

"Damn the Turks, they are all gone, and they still want to fight us?" Joseph gritted his teeth and said.

Indeed, the current Turkey is no longer the Ottoman Turkish Empire that beat the * out of Europe, it is just a small country that has fallen. In the face of the powerful Bu Russia, it is undoubtedly much weaker. Bu could kill them at any time if he wanted to. But now, Bu Russia's strength has been restrained by the Germans, which makes them somewhat powerless towards Turkey.

"Even if Turkey wants to intervene, it can't change the situation of the battle. Our army is much stronger than theirs. I believe that our army can easily defeat them. As long as we defeat the Turks, we can easily occupy Persia. It's over," Joseph said.

Voroshilov and Shaposhnikov knew that Joseph had made up his mind.

"Comrade Joseph, even if we can defeat the Turks and occupy the Persian Gulf, the Germans will definitely not ignore them. They will definitely send a large army to land in the Persian Gulf. At that time, I am afraid it will be difficult for us to defeat them." Shaposhnikov reminded.

"Even if we can't defeat the Germans, we have to destroy the oil wells there, so that the Germans can't get a drop of oil from the Persian Gulf!" Joseph gritted his teeth and said.

"Okay, Comrade Joseph!" Shaposhnikov had no choice but to say no more.

"Form the Caucasus Front Army as soon as possible, and then march to the Persian Gulf! This time, we will take the initiative to launch an offensive and let the Germans pay for their actions that provoked the war!" Joseph said.

"Yes, Comrade Joseph." Both Voroshilov and Shaposhnikov replied loudly.

If the Russian army can really start from the Caucasus, capture the Persian Gulf, or destroy Germany's oil wells there, it will still be able to play a certain role in promoting Bu Russia to win the war. It's just that Bu'er's military strength is already extremely limited. No one can tell whether it is a good thing or not for Bu'er to divide the troops again.

"Comrade Joseph, we plan to transfer the 44th, 45th, 46th, 47th, and 51st Army Groups to form the Caucasus Front Army. The Caucasus Front Army will perform the task of marching into the Persian Gulf!" Shaposhnikov submitted the formation of the Caucasus Front Army the next day plan.

Joseph nodded: "Five armies should be enough to defeat the Turks, and then capture the Persian Gulf!"

Although the five armies of the Russian army are all newly formed armies, their combat effectiveness is limited. However, Joseph still believes that the combat effectiveness of these Russian troops is far above that of the Turkish army. In addition, the strength of the Turkish army is not large. According to the information obtained by Bu Russia, the Turkish army has a total of only a few hundred thousand people. After deducting the defenses in other areas, how many troops can be left to defend against the Russian attack? The Russian army assembled five group armies, which was enough to solve all problems.

"Comrade Joseph, the candidates for the commander, government affairs and chief of staff of the Caucasus Front Army have not yet been finalized." General Shaposhnikov said.

Joseph has obviously been prepared for this: "The commander is Comrade Kozlov, the political commissar is Comrade Shamanin, and the chief of staff is Comrade Torbukhin."

"Yes, Comrade Joseph." General Shaposhnikov nodded without any objection to this.

"Okay, Comrade Shaposhnikov, if you have nothing else, let's stop here today! Next, I have a meeting of the Politburo." Joseph said.

Shaposhnikov hesitated to speak, but then saluted and left.

Joseph knew what Shaposhnikov wanted to say. He appointed Voroshilov yesterday as the future commander of the Western Front. Then, it seems that Voroshilov's positions as a member of the Politburo and People's Commissar of National Defense should be relieved. down. And Shaposhnikov, obviously, is interested in this. However, Joseph also had his own considerations.

Voroshilov is loyal to him, and now he is even more willing to serve as the commander of the Western Front to clean up this mess. Such a person, of course, Joseph will reuse. Therefore, Joseph is not going to let Voroshilov resign as a member of the Politburo. But the position of People's Commissar of National Defense can be handed over to Shaposhnikov. In this case, it is also an explanation for him.

Subsequently, Joseph went to the meeting room to participate in the meeting of the Politburo of Russia. When he entered the meeting room, other Politburo members had already arrived.

Everyone is talking about it, and there is worry on their faces. The news from the front, of course, cannot be hidden from these Politburo members. Now that the Russian army has suffered heavy losses on the frontline battlefield, they have become less optimistic about the prospects of the war.

However, when they saw Joseph coming in, everyone shut up and stood up to salute Joseph.

"Comrades, please sit down!" Joseph looked calm, as if he wasn't worried at all by the situation on the front line.

The members of the Politburo have all achieved their positions.

"Comrades, I know that everyone is very concerned about the battle situation on the front line. I can tell you very clearly that the current battle situation is indeed not in our favor, and the troops have suffered heavy casualties. The surprise attack launched by the Germans this time, let us Some are beyond our reach," Joseph said.

The faces of the Politburo members suddenly became even more ugly.

"Comrade Joseph, can we defeat the Germans? Or, can we really resist the German attack this time?" Andreyev asked.

"Don't worry, Comrade Andreev, we have found a way to deal with the Germans. In another month, winter will come. At that time, the severe cold will force the Germans to stop their offensive. And we, You can use this rare time to start mobilizing troops, training troops, and even launching counterattacks. Although the Germans are very strong, the harsh weather conditions will reduce their combat effectiveness to the minimum. At that time, we can defeat them in one fell swoop !" Joseph said confidently.

"If this is the case, it would be great. When Napoleon led the army to attack Russia, he was defeated by the Russian winter. Now, the Germans will definitely repeat the same mistakes! Victory must belong to us!" Khrushchev Said immediately.

Other members of the Politburo also expressed their views. The current Joseph has the supreme status in the Bu-Russia Party. It is impossible for others to challenge Joseph. The biggest opponents have all been cleaned up by him. The rest are just a bunch of responders. Unless the Russian army really suffered an unprecedented fiasco in the war, or Russia was facing the crisis of extinction, otherwise, Joseph's position would not be shaken.

"Gentlemen, although we are encountering great difficulties now, I believe that we will definitely win in the future. Therefore, everyone must have confidence." Joseph said.

Others echoed this repeatedly, as if the Russian army could really defeat the German army on the battlefield.

"Another topic today is that the Americans promised to provide us with military assistance. However, it seems that we seriously underestimated the combat effectiveness of the Germans at that time. Now we have lost more than one hundred troops on the battlefield. Ten thousand. Next, there will be more losses. Therefore, we need the Americans to provide us with more support!" Joseph said.

"Comrade Joseph, will the Americans agree to our request?" Molotov asked.

"If we are defeated by the Germans, or even Bu Russia is destroyed by the Americans, it will not be of any benefit to the Americans. I believe that the Americans will definitely make the right choice." Joseph said.

"Comrade Molotov, I hope you, as our special envoy, will go to the United States and have a good talk with the Americans about this issue. More of our military aid, not just tanks, trucks, artillery and guns used by the Army, but also need Advanced fighter jets. The fighter jets currently equipped by our air force are no match for the Germans at all," Joseph said.

"Yes, Comrade Joseph, I understand!" Molotov nodded.

In order to reach the United States as soon as possible, the Russian Ministry of Foreign Affairs even contacted the United States, requesting them to send B-17 bombers to Moscow to pick up Molotov to the United States. After all, Bu Russia's own bombers or transport planes simply cannot fly long distances.

The U.S. government readily agreed to Bu Russia's request. The United States now still needs Bu Russia to be in the front to consume Germany's power.

Molotov is a member of the Russian Politburo, chairman of the Russian People's Committee, and concurrently the People's Commissar of Foreign Affairs. In the Russian government, it can be regarded as one of the most powerful people. As Joseph's special envoy, he went to the United States secretly, which made the U.S. government attach great importance.

US President Roosevelt specifically asked the Army Air Force to send a B-17 bomber to Russia to pick up Molotov. When the eastern part of the Atlantic is completely in the hands of the Germans, it is undoubtedly unsafe to go to the United States through the Atlantic airspace. Therefore, it is necessary to fly from Moscow to the Far East, and then from the Far East to the United States.

The Russian aircraft has a short range and low reliability. The American B-17 bomber has a long range, and after modification, it can be used as a passenger aircraft.

Before Molotov arrived in the United States, U.S. President Roosevelt was also convening a group of senior government and military officials to discuss the current war situation.

Russia invaded Ukraine, which gave Germany an excuse to go to war, making this world war break out. The Americans have played a major role in promoting this. If they hadn't given Russia courage, Russia would never have such courage.

The reason why the Americans do this is naturally not at ease. They hope to use Russia to consume Germany's strength. In this way, when they go to war, they will be under much less pressure.

Therefore, the United States is also paying special attention to the confrontation between Germany and Russia. It's just that they didn't seem to expect that under the fierce attack of the German army, Russia would be so vulnerable.

"Gentlemen, the Russian government has informed us that they have sent a special envoy to our country to discuss important matters with us. However, I think there is a very high possibility that the Russian special envoy is here to ask for help. Germany The strength shown by people this time seems to be extraordinarily powerful!" President Roosevelt said with a serious face.

Although the United States has not personally participated in the war, everyone knows that this will be inevitable. Once the United States personally ends, it means that the fate of the United States is in the hands of this war. If the United States loses this war, it will completely collapse. Of course, the U.S. government is already heavily in debt. If they can't win the war, they have no other way out.

A group of senior military and political officials in the United States also have serious faces. The war has only started for a week, but the German army has already suffered heavy losses in Russia. The Russian army on the front line lost more than one million. A large area of land fell, a large number of soldiers were captured, and a large amount of weapons and equipment were lost. This is undoubtedly a serious blow to Russia.

At the same time, it also allowed the Americans to further see the strength of Germany. Although, after years of development, the U.S. Army's military strength has improved a lot compared to before. However, many generals of the U.S. Army privately believe that even if the U.S. Army plays, the final result will not be any better than that of the Russian Army.

"Your Excellency, the German Army is indeed the number one army in the world! After more than 20 years of development, they have become stronger. Whether it is assault force, maneuverability, or the firepower of the troops, they are all very powerful. Especially their tactics. At the beginning of the battle, the Luftwaffe dispatched a large number of planes to bomb the airport on the front line of Russia and Russia, which severely damaged the Russian Air Force. Many fighter planes were blown up before they could take off, which made the Germans completely master the air supremacy on the battlefield. Next, the American armored forces began to attack, easily tearing through the defense line of the Russian army. And the tanks of the Russian army could not resist The attack of the German armored forces caused many troops to be surrounded by the German armored forces and then eliminated. I have to admit that this new German tactic has achieved great success in Russia. It is also worthwhile We are vigilant." Army Chief of Staff General George Marshall said solemnly.

"If our army fought against the Germans, what would be the result? In other words, can we resist the Germans' attack?" Vice President John Nance Garner asked.

"Your Excellency, the performance of our army may be a little bit better than that of the Russian army. However, we are also unable to withstand the German attack. If our military strength is comparable to that of Bu Russia, our losses will definitely not be smaller than theirs. Where are you going?" Admiral George Marshall said in frustration.

Once again, the complexions of the senior military and political officials in the United States changed again. Even Admiral George Marshall, who is at the helm of the army, has no confidence. Is it necessary to continue this battle?

"Your Excellency Chief of Staff, hasn't our army acquired a lot of advanced equipment? It has been trained for so many years, why is it still the same result?" Secretary of State Hull asked.

You know, in order to get out of the economic crisis, the United States has vigorously developed its military industry. The military orders issued by the government have completely reborn the US Army and Navy. But now, the army still gave such a result, which naturally made these senior officials somewhat unacceptable.

"Your Excellency Secretary of State, the combat effectiveness of the army has indeed been greatly improved. However, the gap between us and the Germans is still very large. This is not only reflected in the weapons and equipment, but also in the quality of the officers and soldiers. In addition, in terms of tactics, there is also a big gap." Admiral Marshall said.

"Your Excellency, Chief of Staff, does this mean that even if we participate in the war, we will not be able to defeat the Germans?" President Roosevelt asked. If this is the result, then all these years of preparation will undoubtedly be useless.

"Your Excellency, if we fight against Germany alone, our chances of winning are indeed very small, and it can even be said that we have no chance of winning. But fortunately, we are not fighting Germany alone. Whether it is Bu Russia or an island country, there are all very powerful. If we unite and fight against the Germans all over the world, we will surely be able to disperse the German forces. In this case, we still have the ability to defeat them!" Admiral Marshall said.

President Roosevelt nodded, he thought so too. Relying solely on the strength of the United States, it is simply impossible to compete with Germany. But if the island countries, Bu Russia, and the United Kingdom are added, they undoubtedly still have a chance of winning. Of course, judging from the performance of the Germans in the war, the odds of winning were not as great as previously expected.

"Your Excellency, in this war between Germany and Bu-Russia, the Germans have shown their strength and let us see our own shortcomings. I think this is a good thing for us!" Minister of War Wood Lin said.

Everyone looked at Minister Woodling, not knowing why he said that.

"Gentlemen, it is not we who are at war with the Germans, but Russia. Therefore, we should be thankful for this. We can improve immediately after seeing the great military strength of the Germans. In this way, we can If we further improve our own strength, we may not lose to them in future wars with the Germans!" said Minister Woodling.

Others nodded their heads one after another. Indeed, this is a place to be thankful for.

"How far is the gap between us and the Germans now?" President Roosevelt said.

"Your Excellency, not to mention the gap in tactics and the quality of officers and soldiers, the gap in weapons and equipment alone is very large. The gap between tactics and the quality of officers and soldiers cannot be shortened overnight. The only way we can shorten the gap as much as possible , probably in terms of weapons and equipment. For details, let the Chief of Staff speak!" Minister Woodling said.

President Roosevelt nodded and looked at Admiral George Marshall.

"Your Excellency, in terms of army equipment, guns and artillery, there is not much difference between us and the Germans. The only thing worth noting is that the German army is equipped with a lot of 210mm self-propelled heavy howitzers. We are not equipped Heavy artillery of this caliber. Judging from the performance of the Germans in the war with Bu Russia, the performance of this type of heavy artillery on the battlefield is very amazing. The fortifications of the Bu Russian army cannot resist this heavy artillery at all. If we go to war with Germany, we may also face this kind of heavy artillery, which is what we have to pay attention to." Admiral George Marshall said.

"Can we equip this artillery?" President Roosevelt asked.

"Your Excellency, it will take a lot of time to develop such a large-caliber heavy artillery, and we may not be able to catch up." Minister Woodling said aside.

"However, Buer has a heavy artillery. Although it is a bit crude, its performance is slightly worse than that of the Germans. But overall it is still very good. We can let Buer use this artillery Technology transfer to us!" said Minister Woodling.

"Bu Russia's artillery? Is it reliable?" President Roosevelt frowned.

"Your Excellency, the B-4 heavy howitzer of Burusa is still very good in performance. However, artillery has always been the specialty of the Germans, and it is understandable that Burusa is a little inferior in this respect. If we can obtain relevant The technology can be improved on this basis to further improve the performance of this artillery so that it can meet our needs." Admiral George Marshall said.

President Roosevelt nodded: "Well, when the Russian special envoy comes, talk to him about this issue and let them transfer the technology of the B-4 heavy howitzer to us."

"Yes, Your Excellency." Secretary of State Hull nodded.

After the Burgundy-Russia special envoy arrives in the United States, he will definitely be the one to receive it, and he will be mainly responsible for the subsequent negotiations.

"In addition, the Germans have great advantages in armored weapons and fighter aircraft. In terms of tanks, the tanks currently used by the Germans are mainly the 'Black Panther' medium tank and the 'Tiger' heavy tank. , the confidentiality work is done very well. So far, we have not figured out the exact parameters, only know the general situation.

The 'Black Panther' medium tank should weigh around 35 tons. It has a strong defense and is equipped with a 75mm tank gun. The "Tiger" heavy tank should weigh around 45 tons and is equipped with an 88mm tank gun. The T-28 medium tanks, T-26 light tanks, and BT-7 fast tanks equipped by Russia have no power to fight back under the attack of these two tanks of the Germans. Even our military observers in Bu Russia reported that some surviving Bu Russian tank soldiers claimed that they clearly hit the German tank, but they could not penetrate its armor, let alone destroy it. This made the Russian tank troops easily defeated by the German armored troops in battle! "

When Admiral George Marshall introduced this situation, his face was serious. It is foreseeable that once the United States participates in the war, they will inevitably fight against the armored forces of the German Army. At that time, the armored forces of the US Army may only be crushed by the German armored forces.

"The performance of the M3 light tanks and M4 medium tanks we equip is stronger than the tanks equipped by Russia. However, compared with the German 'Black Panther' medium tanks and 'Tiger' heavy tanks, there is undoubtedly a very large gap. The gap. Once encountering these two tanks of the Germans, our M3 light tanks and M4 medium tanks will definitely only be crushed!" Admiral George Marshall said with great certainty.

"Is the gap really that big?" asked Treasury Secretary Morgenthau.

You know, the United States has invested heavily in the military industry this time, but in the end it is still the same result, which is naturally difficult for them to accept.

"Yes, Your Excellency the Minister of Finance. The gap between us and the Germans is indeed so big. It is even bigger than what I said!" Admiral George Marshall was not alarmist.

Before World War II, the United States had no advantage in tanks. The United States in this era is far from being as powerful as in later generations. Even though, because of the threat of Germany, the United States increased its investment, making the M3 light tanks and M4 medium tanks of the US Army in this time and space enter service earlier than in another time and space. However, these two tanks are much worse than the Tiger and Leopard tanks of the German Army, and they won purely by numerical superiority.

Now, facing the more powerful German Army, the armored forces of the more powerful German Army, and the armored forces of the US Army, the gap is naturally even greater. It is undoubtedly very difficult to make up for this gap.

"Your Excellency, before we personally participate in the war, we must develop a powerful heavy tank as soon as possible! Only in this way will we have the strength to fight against the German armored forces!" Admiral George Marshall continued Said.

President Roosevelt nodded to him, and he also thought it was very necessary.

"Gentlemen, although there is still a big gap between our weapons and equipment compared with the Germans. However, I believe that we can shorten these gaps!" President Roosevelt said.

Now, the United States has not yet participated in the war, and it still has the opportunity to concentrate its forces to develop its own strength. When the United States enters the war, their military strength will definitely be further improved.

"Yes, Your Excellency. The Army will increase investment in the research and development of heavy tanks in the future, and strive to start mass production of new heavy tanks within one year!" Lieutenant General George Marshall said.

The U.S. Army currently has a number of tanks under development, including the M5 light tank, the M6 heavy tank, and the M26 heavy tank. Among them, the M5 light tank is an alternative to the M3 light tank, and the M6 heavy tank is a tank that matches the M5 light tank. Similar to the M3 light tank and M4 medium tank that the US Army is currently equipped with. It's just that after seeing the power of the German Army's Tiger and Leopard tank, the U.S. Army urgently proposed to develop a heavy tank that can suppress the German Army's Tiger and Leopard tank. This also makes the development of the M26 heavy tank in this time and space much earlier than in another time and space.

It's just that the firepower of the M26 heavy tank in another time and space can match the German "Tiger King" tank. But in this time and space, the performance of the German Tiger and Leopard tanks has been enhanced. Even the M26 tank may not be able to take advantage of the "Tiger" tank, let alone the German Army's follow-up "Tiger King" tank, which will be even more powerful!

President Roosevelt nodded in satisfaction. There is a gap, which is understandable. As long as he catches up, he believes that the US Army will be able to catch up with the German Army. In the next war, they will definitely not lose to the Germans.

"Your Excellency, in addition to the weapons used by the Army, the German fighter planes are also far ahead of the Russian Air Force and us. Specifically, General Arnold will introduce it!" Admiral George Marshall said.

President Roosevelt looked to the US Army Air Corps commander Henry? Harry? Arnold General.

Before, Henry? Harry? Arnold is the US Army Air Force Commander and Army Deputy Chief of Staff. When the United States began to make full preparations for war and vigorously develop its military power, the U.S. Army Air Force was reorganized into the Army Air Force, and the number of troops and fighters also began to increase significantly. General Henry Harry Arnold, also served as the first commander of the US Army Air Forces.

"Your Excellency, ladies and gentlemen, from the various information we have obtained so far, the various types of fighter planes equipped by the German Air Force are indeed much more advanced than ours. The fighter planes of the German Army mainly include two types, one is a few years ago The BF-109 fighter jets that have already been equipped with the troops, and the other is the FW-190 fighter jets that have only recently been equipped with the troops.

BF-109 fighter jet with a maximum speed of 686 kilometers per hour and a ceiling of 10,000 meters. Its weapons include a 30mm cannon and two 12.7mm machine guns. This fighter is very fast and powerful. In terms of comprehensive performance, the aircraft equipped by the U.S. Army Air Forces cannot be compared with it. Whether it is the main equipment P-36 fighter and P-39 fighter that we are currently serving, as well as the P-40 fighter that is being developed, the performance cannot be compared with it. Once an air battle breaks out between the two sides, our fighters will inevitably be suppressed by the German BF-109 fighters.

As for the FW-190 fighter, we have not yet obtained the specific parameters of this fighter. But what is certain is that this is a fighter with more advanced performance than the BF-109 fighter, and it is an advanced fighter that the Luftwaffe plans to replace the BF-109 fighter. None of our fighters can match its performance. "

Henry? Harry? Admiral Arnold said.

The faces of senior military and political officials in the United States are not very good-looking. The fighters equipped by the U.S. Army Air Forces are not even comparable to the German BF-109 fighters that are about to become obsolete, let alone the more advanced FW-190 fighters.

"And, according to the German fighter development habits, after the FW-190 fighter jets entered service, the next generation of more advanced fighter jets may have begun test flights, or are close to test flights." Admiral Arnold continued.

This makes the senior military and political officials in the United States speechless. Under such circumstances, how can they catch up with the Luftwaffe! This is undoubtedly news that makes them completely desperate.

"Can this situation be determined?" President Roosevelt asked.

"Yes, Your Excellency the President. We have obtained some information. The development progress of the Germans' more advanced next-generation fighter jets may have really reached the test flight stage. In this case, it will not take long for that new model to be ready for service. At that time, the Germans will have an even greater advantage!" said Admiral George Marshall.

"Then how should we counter the Germans? Should we let the Germans continue to widen the gap? In that case, how can we defeat the Germans?" said War Secretary Woodling.

"We will further increase the development of aircraft and strengthen our relationship with the British. The British have a great advantage in aero engines. If we can get their support, the performance of our fighters should be able to be further improved. said Admiral Arnold.

"Then contact the British and work with them to develop new fighters!" President Roosevelt said.

"Yes, Your Excellency the President." Admiral Arnold replied.

"In terms of bombers, the Germans mainly have H-01 medium bomber, H-11 heavy bomber and H-21 heavy bomber. Among them, the H-01 medium bomber is a twin-engine tactical bomber, while the H-11 heavy bomber and H-21 heavy bomber The bomber is a four-engine long-range strategic bomber.

The bombers equipped by the Army Air Corps are mainly B-17 heavy bombers and B-18 medium bombers. In terms of performance, they are slightly inferior to the German H-11 heavy bombers and H-01 medium bombers. But the gap is not that big. The B-24 heavy bomber and B-25 medium bomber we are developing can completely match the performance of these two aircraft of the Germans. Of course, the performance of the German H-21 heavy bomber is even more advanced. But our B-24 heavy bomber is not far behind it. Admiral Arnold continued.

"In addition, the German air force is also equipped with two bombers, namely the Stuka dive bomber and the Predator ground attack aircraft. These two bombers are all support firepower bombers for the army. Our navy equips Although the SBD dive bomber has poorer performance, it can still be used. If necessary, the Army Air Corps can also purchase a batch of such dive bombers." Admiral Arnold continued.

"Your Excellency, the Navy's carrier-based aircraft have also encountered the same problems as the Army Air Force's fighters. The German Navy's carrier-based aircraft, fighters are mainly carrier-based BF-109 fighters. FW-190 fighters Although the carrier type is not yet in service, it is foreseeable that it will be in service soon. At present, our F4F fighter is not even as good as the carrier-based BF-109 fighter, let alone the carrier-based FW-190 Fighter fighters. Once the Navy engages the German Navy, it will put us at a disadvantage!" said Admiral Harold Stark, chief of naval operations.

The main carrier-based aircraft of the US Navy is the F4F fighter jet, which is a carrier-based aircraft that has just entered service. However, in terms of performance, it is seriously behind the carrier-based aircraft of the German Navy.

The attack power of an aircraft carrier is mainly reflected in the carrier-based aircraft. If the carrier-based aircraft is not as good as the enemy's carrier-based aircraft, even if the aircraft carrier has the same performance, it will also be at a disadvantage in naval battles.

"Our SBD dive bombers and TBD torpedo attack aircraft are far behind the German Navy's dive warships and torpedo attack aircraft in terms of performance. The carrier-based fighter jets can cover the dive bombers and torpedo attack planes to attack the German ships and sink them. But now it seems that our F4F fighter jets are obviously difficult to complete this task!" Harold? Admiral Stark said.

"Does the Navy have any follow-up plans?" President Roosevelt asked.

"The Navy is developing F4U fighter jets. However, there are still many problems that have not been resolved. If we can further increase investment, we may be able to serve F4U fighter jets as soon as possible." Admiral Harold Stark said.

In another time and space, the F4F of the U.S. Navy was beaten by the islanders' carrier-based zero battle in the Pacific Ocean, and suffered heavy losses. It wasn't until F4U entered service that it gradually regained its disadvantages. In this time and space, under the threat of the German Navy's carrier-based aircraft, the development of the US Navy's F4U fighter jets was also advanced. It's just that even if the F4U fighter is in service, its performance is comparable to the German Navy's carrier-based BF-109 fighter. Once the carrier-based FW-190 fighter is in service, the F4U fighter is also at a disadvantage.

President Roosevelt nodded: "Gentlemen, the gap in weapons and equipment between us and the Germans is indeed very large, which is shocking. However, it is a good thing for us to discover these gaps now, which can make us When participating in the war, have more advanced weapons and equipment to fight against the Germans.

The war has begun, and the Germans have shown extremely strong combat effectiveness. This is also a huge threat to us. It is not far from the time when we participate in the war. I hope that in the last period of time, we can seize the time and develop more advanced equipment so that we can defeat the Germans after participating in the war! "

"Yes, Your Excellency the President!" A group of generals replied one after another.

Although, the strong combat effectiveness shown by the German army has made the senior military and political officials of the United States feel a lot of pressure. However, they also believe that with the strength of the United States, even if it is not as good as Germany in the war, the gap will not be too big. At that time, relying on the strength of other allies, they are also very likely to defeat Germany.

"Your Excellency, Russia has suffered heavy losses in the war this time, and they are under great pressure. The Russian special envoy coming to the United States this time may not only want to ask us for help." Hopkins said.

"What might their other demands be?" asked President Roosevelt.

"We promised Bu Russia that we would join the war two years after the start of the war. That is to say, we will join the war no later than September 1941. But now it seems that Bu Russia can withstand the onslaught of the Germans Two years is still very difficult to say. Therefore, the Russian government may ask us to join the war in advance!" Hopkins said.

"Yes, Your Excellency, there is indeed this possibility. Given the great strength shown by the Germans, I also doubt that Bu Russia can survive the Germans' fierce attack for two years. Even if they can survive for that long Time, but I am afraid that the Germans have already suffered heavy losses, and there is no possibility of posing a threat to the Germans. In that case, we may have to face Germany, which is at its peak. At that time, our pressure will also be It's going to be very big," Secretary Hull said.

President Roosevelt couldn't help frowning. He promised the Russian government to participate in the war within two years after the outbreak of the war. The US government has two purposes. One is to have more time to prepare for the war so that they can prepare More fully, according to the performance of the Germans in the war, carry out targeted development and deployment, so as to gain an advantage in future wars. Another purpose is to make both Germany and Russia lose, so that the United States can win the war at the lowest cost. Thus, ensuring that they can successfully seize the leadership of the world after the war is over.

But now it seems that the fighting power shown by Germany is too strong, and Bu Russia may not be able to last for two years. In other words, within two years, Russia's power will be exhausted, but it will not be able to consume the power of Germany. In that case, even if the United States personally participates in the war, it may not be able to defeat Germany. At that time, all the plans of the United States may end in failure.

"Gentlemen, what's your opinion?" President Roosevelt asked.

"Your Excellency, if Bu Russia is really unable to hold on, in addition to providing them with more support, we may have to join the war in advance. While Bu Russia is still strong, attack Germany from another direction. In this case , can make the Germans face the dilemma of fighting on two fronts. Of course, in that case, our losses will be greater. However, the possibility of defeating Germany will be greater." Admiral George Marshall said.

Other senior military and political officials in the United States also nodded. The United States really wants to wait for Russia and Germany to fight for a lose-lose before participating in the war, so that they can take advantage of it. However, if the United States has no chance of winning if it enters the war two years later, then if the United States wants to win, it must enter the war in advance. Even if you pay a greater loss, you will not hesitate.

"Let's discuss this issue after the Borussia-Russia special envoy arrives!" President Roosevelt said.

"Your Excellency, in view of the fierce German offensive, it is difficult for Bu Russia to resist. Before we personally participate in the war, we can think of other ways to open up another battlefield and contain the strength of the Germans!" Hope Kings continued.

"You mean, let the British or the islanders take action?" President Roosevelt said.

Now, in addition to Bu Russia and the United States, the other two countries that are firmly anti-Germany are mainly the United Kingdom and the island countries.

"Your Excellency, the United Kingdom is too weak now. If they let them attack rashly, their strength will soon be exhausted. In contrast, the strength of the island country is even stronger. If the island country launches an attack on Southeast Asia and Australia. If it attacks, it will contain a large part of Germany's power. Even in order to keep those colonies, Germany will have to send more troops to Southeast Asia and Australia. In this way, the pressure on Bu Russia can be reduced to a certain extent." Hopkins S said.

President Roosevelt looked at the map hanging on the wall. Germany is very far away from Southeast Asia and Australia. It is undoubtedly difficult to send army reinforcements. However, if Germany loses Nanyang, then India will be threatened. This colony is undoubtedly a very important colony for Germany, and Germany will never sit back and watch this colony be lost. At that time, Germany will have to send troops for reinforcements. This is not only beneficial to Bu Russia's fight against Germany, but also very beneficial to the United States.

"Can the islanders have the strength to take on this important task?" Secretary of State Hull asked.

Since the last world war, Germany wiped out the main navy of the island country, and then bombarded the coastal cities of the island country, causing heavy losses to the island country. The United States began to vigorously support the island nation. Not only provided huge loans to the island countries, so that the island countries can rebuild their navy. Over the years, it has continuously provided various resources to the island country to further strengthen the military strength of the island country. Although in those years when the economic crisis broke out, the United States stopped its resources to the island country because it was too busy to take care of itself. However, the islanders did not stop the development of their military strength, they just gritted their teeth and relied on their own strength to ensure the improvement of their military strength. After the economic crisis, the United States began to support the island country again, allowing the military strength of the island country to continue to develop. It can be said that the military strength of the island country is already very strong, and it is also among the top military powers in the world. Moreover, the hatred between the island country and Germany, as well as the United States' support for the island country, have made the island country a reliable ally of the United States.

The Americans strongly support the island country, and of course it is not in vain. In doing that, they completely regarded the island country as a dog they raised. At the critical moment, the dog had to obey their master's orders. Once they give the order, the island nation has to rush up and bite the enemy. Now, it seems, the time has come for the island nation to heed orders.

"Your Excellency, the military power of the island country can definitely pose a great threat to Germany. The island country has a population of more than 50 million. With their mobilization ability, they can mobilize more than 4 million troops. Even if the extreme mobilization If this is the case, the military strength can be further increased. The islanders are not afraid of death when they fight, and they completely ignore their own lives. This kind of fighting will is undoubtedly very tenacious. It is estimated that no soldier in any country in the West can have it. Such a tenacious will to fight. Once the army of these island countries starts to fight against Germany, it will put huge pressure on Germany. In order to resist the attack of these island countries, the Germans need to send at least two million more troops to Nanyang. In this case , our pressure will be reduced a lot." Admiral George Marshall said.

"The army of the island country has also fully recovered its strength over the years, and has even grown stronger. Now the navy of the island country has a total of two 'Fuso-class' battleships, two 'Ise-class' battleships, and two 'Nagato-class' battleships , two "Kaga-class" battleships, four "Ki-class" battleships. In addition, there are four "Yamato-class" battleships equipped with 460mm main guns, which are under construction. These battleships alone have extremely Strong strength. In addition, the island navy has also built four "Amagi-class" battlecruisers, equipped with 5 double-mounted 410mm main guns, and their combat effectiveness is very strong. These battleships are more powerful than the German Navy's Pacific Fleet and Indian Ocean The fleet is even stronger together!

In terms of aircraft carriers, the navies of the island countries have also developed very rapidly in recent years. Now they already have the light aircraft carrier 'Hosho', the aircraft carrier 'Ryujo', the aircraft carrier 'Cangryu', the aircraft carrier 'Hyryu', and the aircraft carrier 'Ibuki', ' Hotaka' aircraft carrier, 'Kurama' aircraft carrier, 'Togakushi' aircraft carrier. In addition, there are two "Zuihe-class" aircraft carriers and the "Taiho" aircraft carrier under construction. According to the information we have obtained, the Japanese Navy also has a mass-produced aircraft carrier with a displacement of more than 20,000 tons that is preparing for mass production. It can be said that the strength of the island nation's navy is steadily improving. "Admiral Harold Stark, Chief of Naval Operations, said.

The island navy in this time and space is indeed stronger because of the full support of the United States. In another time and space, many unbuilt battleships of the island nation's navy were built and served in this time and space. The same is true for aircraft carriers. Although, 'Fengxiang' and 'Ryujang' can only be regarded as light aircraft carriers. But the 'Old Man' and 'Flying Dragon' are medium-sized aircraft carriers. The "Ibuki", "Hodaka", "Kurama" and "Togakushi" are heavy aircraft carriers built with the hulls of battleships. Among them, the 'Ibuki' and 'Hodaka' used the hull of the 'Amagi-class' battlecruiser, while the 'Kurama' and 'Togakure' used the hull of the 'Kaga-class' battlecruiser. hull.

"Your Excellency, as long as we continue to provide support to the island countries, such as steel, oil and other non-ferrous metals, etc., the military strength of the island countries will continue to improve. In this case, their threat to Germany will also become more and more serious." Bigger!" said Minister Woodling.

President Roosevelt nodded: "Since the island nation has such a powerful military force, it's time for them to contribute. It's time for the dog that has been raised for so long to be released to bite people, otherwise , isn't it for nothing?"
