

Jagged 1561

Chapter 1561

If the main enemy of the German Navy in this war is the US Navy, then the main enemy of the German Army is the Russian Army. At least, in the early days of this war, the German Army put the main target on the Russian Army.

Russia, which has an army of more than 10 million, undoubtedly poses a great threat to Germany. If Russia is not defeated, Germany will not be at ease in a decisive battle with the United States.

Fortunately, although the Russian Army has a large number of troops, its combat effectiveness is not strong. At least compared with the elite German Army, the combat effectiveness of the Russian Army is much worse. Coupled with the successful use of tactics, the German Army was able to eliminate the main force of the Russian Army at the beginning of the war. This also makes the development of the next battle situation logical. The German army pushed all the way and almost captured the capital of Russia. Moreover, the vital forces of the Russian army were almost lost in the battle to defend the capital and major cities such as Josephgrad. Without these troops, it will undoubtedly be much easier for Germany to destroy Russia.

Germany's strategic goals against Russia have always been carried out in this direction.

However, with the victory of the German navy, the Russians seem to have lost hope. They found that if they continued to defend Moscow and Josephgrad, not only would they lose troops, but they would also have no effect. Once all the Russian troops are wiped out by the German army, then Russia will never have any chance in this war.

Joseph was originally a staunch defender of Moscow and Josephgrad. In order to show his determination, Joseph even did not hesitate to risk his life and stay in Moscow, which was about to be besieged. Joseph is not a person who is not afraid of death, he cherishes his life very much. Now he is already the supreme leader of Russia, and he doesn't want to die. Because if you die, you will no longer be able to enjoy the wonderful taste of power.

It made Joseph ignore his own safety because he had great confidence in the United States and believed that the United States could defeat Germany in one fell swoop in this war.

But what he didn't expect was that the U.S. Navy lost so badly in this battle. This also made Joseph lose confidence in the United States. Under such circumstances, Joseph could not help but start to consider other ways out.

General Zhukov suggested that Joseph leave Moscow and retreat to the east of the Ural Mountains before the German army encircled Moscow, and continue to lead Russia in the fight against Germany.

I have to admit that Joseph is quite moved by this. In comparison, if you stay in Moscow, it is almost a dead end. Wait until the German army surrounded Moscow and conquered it in one fell swoop. At that time, Joseph will only have a dead end. But if you can escape from Moscow and retreat east of the Ural Mountains, you may be able to survive for a while. At that time, perhaps the battle situation will have a certain turning point.

However, Joseph also worried that once he left Moscow, he would no longer be able to control the overall situation. Joseph was still a little worried about handing over all the troops to the generals on the front line. In order to control the military power, he killed many people. This will inevitably make many people hold a grudge against it.

"Damn it, why are the Americans so ungrateful? Should I stay in Moscow, or leave here?" Joseph seemed to be caught in a dilemma.

"Comrade Joseph, Comrade Molotov, please see me." The secretary reported.

"Well, let him in!" Joseph nodded.

"Good evening, Comrade Joseph!" Molotov looked very respectful.

Although now the Russian ship seems to be sinking. But these senior leaders in Russia are even more in awe of Joseph, and they don't mean to ignore Joseph at all because of this. After all, they were all worried that Joseph would go crazy and attack them when they were desperate. In that case, their safety cannot be guaranteed.

"Comrade Molotov, please sit down!" Joseph tried his best to pretend to be calm.

"Comrade Joseph, just received a telegram from the United States. The United States claims that although their navy has temporarily lost. However, the United States will not give up on this. They will rebuild their navy in the shortest possible time and let their navy recover. Strength, once again challenged the German Navy." Molotov said.

"Huh! Are those * Americans still trustworthy? Their navy has been severely damaged. How much strength do they have to deal with the Germans now? Can the navy be rebuilt in a while? Besides, the Germans Already occupying an absolute advantage, it is impossible for the Americans to defeat the Germans." Joseph looked angry. It was as if he was dissatisfied that the Americans had failed his expectations.

Molotov nodded: "Comrade Joseph, I also think that the Americans just want to reassure us, and then let us continue to stick here and help them hold the Germans."

"Yes, Comrade Molotov. Those despicable Americans have exactly this idea." Joseph said.

"So, Comrade Joseph, what should we do?" Molotov asked.

Joseph thought for a while, and then said: "Comrade Zhukov suggested that we leave Moscow and go to the east of the Ural Mountains to continue fighting against the Germans. At the same time, no more reinforcements will be sent to Moscow and Josephgrad to preserve our vitality. In this regard, What do you think?"

As a senior leader of Russia, Molotov naturally knew this.

"Comrade Joseph, it is indeed very difficult for us to defend Moscow and Josephgrad. Judging from the current situation, it is difficult for us to resist the German attack. If we continue to defend, it will only make our troops Pay a greater price," Molotov said.

Although, Molotov did not make a clear statement. However, his attitude is undoubtedly very obvious.

Joseph naturally understood what Molotov meant. He also knew that if he continued to stick to it, it would only be more and more detrimental to Russia.

"Okay, I see." Joseph said.

Molotov didn't stay long, and then took his leave and left.

Joseph thought about it all night, and early the next morning, he issued an order for the Russian government agencies to evacuate Moscow. At the same time, the sending of reinforcements to Moscow was stopped. As for when he will leave Moscow, he hasn't figured it out yet.

Chapter 1562

"Comrade Zhukov, starting today, the party and government organs will withdraw from Moscow and retreat to Yekaterinburg. The Moscow Garrison Command will arrange a retreat plan to ensure the safety of those comrades on the way to retreat!" Joseph said.

Joseph summoned General Zhukov early in the morning and gave him orders.

Obviously, while the German army's encirclement of Moscow has not been completely closed. This is undoubtedly a good opportunity to retreat. Once the German encirclement is closed, even if they want to retreat, they will have no chance. At that time, if you want to retreat, you have to mobilize a large number of troops to attack the German encirclement, which is not only dangerous, but also arouses the vigilance of the Germans.

"Yes, Comrade Joseph, I will arrange it right away." General Zhukov replied.

"However, Comrade Joseph, when will you evacuate? The longer the time is delayed, the more dangerous it will be." General Zhukov continued.

In General Zhukov's view, Joseph's ability to agree to the withdrawal of Moscow's party and government agencies is already a big improvement. But now time is running out, and he also hopes that Joseph can evacuate as soon as possible.

"Comrade Zhukov, are you reliable?" Joseph asked suddenly.

General Zhukov was taken aback for a moment, and then replied: "Comrade Zhukov, I swear to you with my life, I am absolutely loyal to you!"

Joseph also knew that General Zhukov was loyal to him. Just wanted to make sure again.

"Comrade Zhukov, I can feel your loyalty. This is very good. It is not in vain that I have always valued you." Joseph said.

"If I leave Moscow, can you stabilize the situation and ensure the continuation of the fighting here?" Joseph then asked.

Joseph wanted to leave Moscow, but he didn't want the fighting in Moscow to stop after he left. He still hopes that the defenders of Moscow can persist to the end and hold the German army here so that the German army can pay heavy casualties in Moscow. Similarly, this will buy him enough time so that he can escape to Yekaterinburg safely. It will also give him enough time to rectify the interior to ensure that he continues to control the country.

General Zhukov immediately understood what Joseph meant. Although, General Zhukov knew that if he stayed in Moscow, it would probably be a dead end. But, at a time like this, does he have any other option than to show his determination?

"Comrade Joseph, please rest assured that I will lead the troops to persist in Moscow to the end. Moscow's defenders will persist until the last soldier, and will never surrender to the Germans!" General Zhukov assured Joseph.

Joseph looked at General Zhukov for a while, and then nodded: "Comrade Zhukov, I believe in you. Well, I will leave Moscow in three days. The specific evacuation plan is up to you to arrange."

"Yes, Comrade Joseph." General Zhukov left and replied.

From the daytime on this day, Russian party and government agencies and leaders began to withdraw from Moscow one after another. However, in order not to attract the attention of the German army, they adopted a small-scale evacuation method. Although such an evacuation method is safe, it is very slow in efficiency. It is not so easy for Russia's huge party and government organizations to withdraw from Moscow.

That night, Zhukov submitted an evacuation plan to Joseph.

"Comrade Joseph, we are going to deploy an elite infantry division to cover your evacuation from Moscow. The three infantry regiments under this infantry division will be divided into three directions, leaving Moscow, passing through Vladimir, Nizhny Novgorod, Kazan, Chelny on the Kama River and arrive in Ufa. From Ufa, cross the Ural Mountains and arrive in Chelyabinsk. As for whether to stay in Chelyabinsk or go north to Yekaterinburg, it is up to you. The situation at that time will make a decision." General Zhukov said.

Joseph nodded. General Zhukov was able to dispatch an infantry division to * him out of Moscow under tense battle conditions. This is undoubtedly very good. It can also be seen from this that General Zhukov is indeed loyal to him.

"Comrade Joseph, * your infantry division. We initially selected it as the 4th Guards Infantry Division. Of the three infantry regiments under its jurisdiction, the most elite 1st regiment will leave by train with you. The 2nd regiment and the 1st regiment The 3rd regiment will take cars and * you one after the other. Make sure you can reach Yekaterinburg safely." General Zhukov continued.

The infantry divisions of the Russian Army, the units that can be named Guards, are undoubtedly the elite among the elite. These troops are also loyal to Joseph. Let these troops protect him from leaving, which also made Joseph feel relieved.

"Very good, Comrade Zhukov. I am still very satisfied with your arrangement." Joseph said.

"Comrade Joseph, as long as you can safely evacuate to Yekaterinburg. Then, Russia still has hope. We still have the possibility of defeating the Germans. After you arrive in Yekaterinburg, you must continue to lead the Russian people to continue fighting. We absolutely will not It will be defeated by the Germans just like that," General Zhukov said.

"Don't worry, Comrade Zhukov. Russia will not be defeated. We will persist in this war to the end and win the final victory!" Joseph looked confident.

In the next two days, Russian party and government agencies are still withdrawing from Moscow in small batches and multiple batches. Usually several trucks form a team. After leaving Moscow to a safe place, they change to other means of transportation and head to eastern Russia.

The German side is also well aware of the actions of the Russians. The spies of the German intelligence agency in Russia also took action. The German side doesn't care about the departure of some small shrimps and small fishes. What they are really targeting is the big fish.

Although, the news of Joseph's evacuation from Moscow is kept under high secrecy. Only a very few high-level people know. However, with the efforts of the German intelligence department, some clues were still detected. However, it is not yet possible to determine whether Joseph will evacuate Moscow.

On the evening of June 17, an ordinary train departed from Moscow Railway Station, left Moscow, and headed for Vladimir. On this train, except for the two carriages for Joseph and his entourage to rest, the rest of the carriages were full of heavily armed infantry. At the same time, an infantry regiment left Moscow in trucks and trains.

Chapter 1563

On the evening of June 17, in the war room of the German Army General Staff, Emperor Qin Tian, Minister of War and Chief of the General Staff Marshal Manstein, Minister of the Air Force Albert Kesselring, and German Army Group A Commander Braun Field Marshal Mberg, Field Marshal Guderian, Commander of Army Group B, Field Marshal Rommel, Commander of Army Group C, Field Marshal Brauchitsch, Commander of Army Group D, and General Rundstedt, Commander of Army Group E, all gathered Here it is.

It has been two months since the German army launched the Eastern Front operation this year. Although in the past two months, the German army has achieved fruitful results. And it has already approached the cities of Moscow and Josephgrad, and the Russian army has suffered heavy losses and suffered unspeakably. However, the overall goal of the German army is not just that, but to destroy Russia in one fell swoop. Therefore, the German army still has a long way to go.

The reason why these front-line commanders returned to Berlin from the front line was that both Qin Tian and Marshal Manstein believed that their plan to wipe out the Russian army's vital forces by attacking Moscow and Josephgrad would probably be impossible. Frustrated. It is precisely because of this that the German army needs to change its strategy.

"Everyone, we originally planned to carry out the city battle in Moscow and Josephgrad for about three months, and took this opportunity to consume all the vital strength of the Russian army in one fell swoop. However, our plan has only been implemented for one month, and the Russians We have discovered our combat intentions and don't want to continue playing with us. Next, we have to think of other ways." Marshal Manstein was a little helpless.

Originally according to the plan, after the three-month battle to attack the city, it is estimated that even if the Russian army's vital forces will not be wiped out, there will not be much left. At least, all the elite troops of the Russian army will stay in Moscow and Josephgrad.

In this case, it will be relatively easier for the German army to destroy Russia in the next battle. After all, there are no more troops, so what else can the Russians use to resist the German attack?

However, in just one month, the Russian army stopped sending reinforcements to Moscow and Josephgrad. There is no doubt that the plans of the German army fell through.

"Your Majesty, Your Excellency Marshal Manstein. If we can't take advantage of this battle to wipe out all the vital forces of the Russian army in one fell swoop, then I'm afraid we will have to waste more time on the Russian battlefield. Residual power also takes time," Marshal Guderian said.

Although after the early battles, the main force of the Russian army has been almost wiped out. However, there are still a lot of second-line troops remaining in the Russian army. Coupled with the vast land area of Russia, the entire Eastern European Plain alone is large enough. Not to mention that after crossing the Ural Mountains, there is a wider territory. If the Russian army is determined to continue to resist, then the German army will have to spend more time on the Russian battlefield.

If there is only one enemy like Russia, then naturally it doesn't matter. Germany has enough strength and energy to consume them. However, Germany is now fighting on three fronts. In addition to the Russian battlefield, it is still fighting island countries in Southeast Asia. Still at war with the United States in the Atlantic. This makes it necessary for Germany to end one of the battlefields as soon as possible, thereby alleviating the enormous pressure facing Germany.

There is no doubt that Germany has invested most of its troops on the Russian battlefield. Moreover, Russia is almost defeated. With a little more effort, it would be enough to defeat Russia. It is precisely because of this that the generals of the German army are eager to end the war against Russia as soon as possible and transfer their energy to other opponents.

Whether it is the United States or the island country, they are now frantically expanding their military strength to deal with Germany's next attack. Therefore, the longer the time drags on, the stronger Germany's enemies will become. Therefore, it is also very beneficial to Germany to end the war against Russia as soon as possible.

"There is no way to do this. We have tried our best. But if the Russians are not fooled, then there is no way. We can't directly issue orders to the Russians to continue to reinforce Moscow and Josephgrad, right? Even if it is me Given such an order, Joseph will certainly not obediently obey!" Qin Tian said with a smile.

The other generals couldn't help laughing too.

"If we can't wipe out the vital forces of the Russian army in Moscow and Joseph, then after we conquer Moscow and Josephgrad, we will have to leave more troops on the Russian battlefield. Of course, the main force can still let the troops of the slave countries Come on. They fought very well on the battlefields of Moscow and Josephgrad, and they are completely capable of dealing with the second-line troops of the Russian army. Our main force can still withdraw to the country to rest and prepare for the attack on the United States. Marshal Romberg said.

Qin Tian nodded: "Yes, after a series of battles, the strength of the Russian army has been greatly weakened by us. Even if they continue to resist, the threat they can pose to us is very limited. The two remaining Three group armies, supplemented by troops from slave countries, are enough to deal with the war in Russia. Although it takes a little longer and consumes more supplies, it will not have much impact on the overall situation."

A group of generals of the empire deeply agree. In their eyes, Russia now has lost its chance to turn the tables. It won't be long before it will die completely.

"Your Majesty, maybe after we take Moscow, the Russians won't be stubborn anymore. After all, according to the information we have now, Joseph is still stranded in Moscow. If we can arrest Joseph or kill him. Then, without the leadership of Joseph, the resistance spirit of the Russians would not be so tenacious." Marshal Rommel said.

"Yes, Your Majesty. Joseph has become an important factor in Russia's fight against us. If Joseph can be eliminated in one fell swoop, then the battle against Russia will be much easier." Marshal Manstein also said.

Qin Tian nodded. In another time and space, Joseph was one of the Big Three. They won the war and let the Führer kill himself in the basement. However, in this time and space, everything is different. Joseph would lose the war and take his own life.

"Since this is the case, then prepare to launch a general attack on Moscow and Josephgrad, eliminate the Russian troops entrenched here as soon as possible, and take these two cities!" Qin Tian made a decision.

Chapter 1564

Although Moscow and Josephgrad are important big cities in Russia, and the Russian army has deployed heavy troops in these two cities and made preparations for a long time, they almost operate these two cities like iron barrels.

However, in terms of the strong attack power of the German army, it is not a big problem to capture these two cities and eliminate the Russian troops entrenched in these two cities. Before the German army took the initiative to reduce the intensity of the attack, on the one hand, it was to reduce the casualties of the troops. On the other hand, it is to attract more active forces of the Russian army to gather in these two cities to annihilate them.

After more than a month of fighting for the city, the German army has also achieved good results. Although this plan can no longer be implemented, it makes people feel a little regretful. But as Emperor Qin Tian said, there is no way around it. Russia is unwilling to invest more power in Moscow and Josephgrad. They can't do it for them and order the Russian army to continue to reinforce Moscow and Josephgrad, right?

Under such circumstances, the German army can only change the plan, speed up the pace of the offensive, and accelerate the elimination of the Russian troops entrenched in Moscow and Josephgrad. Then prepare for the demise of Russia as soon as possible.

"Your Majesty, we didn't close the encirclement circles on Moscow and Josephgrad before. If we want to wipe out the Russian army in these two cities now, we have to close the encirclement circles first." Marshal Manstein said.

"I know, but this is not a difficult task for our army?" Qin Tian asked.

"Yes, Your Majesty. With our current strength, we can easily completely surround Moscow and Josephgrad. If we launch a full-scale attack on these two cities, it will not take much effort." Marshal Manstein said.

"Very well, since this is the case, let's start drawing up the battle plan. I only have one request, and that is to reduce our losses as much as possible when launching an attack on Moscow and Josephgrad." Qin Tian demanded.

The war against Russia will soon come to an end. There is no need for the elite German army to lose too much on the Russian battlefield. Next, they have more powerful enemies to eliminate. Therefore, the German army must minimize casualties as much as possible.

Once Germany starts to launch a landing operation against the United States, the elite troops of the German army may have to come in handy. Now, the strength of the U.S. Army has expanded to more than five million. Moreover, this number is still increasing. It is estimated that with the population and industrial strength of the United States, even if it is armed with tens of millions of troops, it is nothing. The United States also has enough strength to equip these armies with advanced weapons. Therefore, if Germany wants to defeat the United States, it must do its best. At the same time, be prepared to pay a higher price.

"Yes, Your Majesty!" Marshal Manstein replied.

The other generals also understood Qin Tian's meaning, that is, in the battle against the United States, use as little German troops as possible, and let the servants fight the Russian army as much as possible. The number of German troops is not large, and it is undoubtedly the best to save a little.

"Everyone, the attack on Moscow and Josephgrad is probably the last battle on the Russian battlefield. The next battle will be much smaller. At the same time, it will be much easier. And the Russian army will definitely not be willing to lose Moscow And Josephgrad, the army stationed here will definitely resist to the end. I hope that everyone can fully consider these factors when commanding operations on the front line, so as to avoid heavy casualties for the troops." Qin Tian warned.

All the generals nodded repeatedly. Although Russia has been weakened to the extreme. However, Russia is a big country after all. At the same time, the abnormality of the political system will undoubtedly make those Russian soldiers have more tenacious fighting spirit. These are the places that the German army needs to pay attention to. Everyone hopes that in the battles on the Russian battlefield, they can win at the least cost.

"For Joseph, if you can catch him, you can catch him alive. If you can't catch him alive, then there is no need to force yourself." Qin Tian finally said.

Qin Tian knew that Xiang Joseph was undoubtedly very proud. They would rather end their lives than let anyone capture them. Even the corpses will be destroyed so as not to fall into the hands of the enemy.

In another time and space, isn't the final fate of the head of state also the same? It is precisely because of this that Joseph's final fate is probably the same.

"Yes, Your Majesty." Marshal Manstein and others replied.

At this moment, General Heydrich, the intelligence chief, walked in with a serious face.

Everyone couldn't help looking at Admiral Heydrich, they all knew that something urgent might have happened.

"General Heydrich, what happened?" Qin Tian asked.

"Your Majesty, according to the exact information just received, Joseph has fled Moscow!" Admiral Heydrich said.

"What? How is this possible?" Qin Tian couldn't help frowning.

The other German generals also looked in disbelief. After all, the original Joseph declared that he would persist in Moscow to the end. Now, he has fled Moscow.

"Damn it, is that guy Joseph scared too?" Marshal Manstein couldn't help cursing.

Everyone knows very well that once Joseph escapes from Moscow, it will not be very beneficial to the German army. If you can catch Joseph in Moscow, or even kill Joseph. Then Russia will be leaderless. It is relatively easy for Germany to destroy them. But if Joseph escapes and continues to lead those Russian troops against Germany. Then, it will be relatively more difficult for Germany to destroy Russia.

"No, Joseph must not escape. We must capture Joseph or kill him!" Marshal Albert Kesselring also said.

"General Heydrich, can you know Joseph's escape route now? We can dispatch bombers to kill him!" Marshal Edward Milch also said.

"According to the information we have obtained, Joseph will pass through Vladimir, Nizhny Novgodero, Kazan and Ufa, cross the Ural Mountains, and head to Chelyabinsk." Admiral Heinrich said.

"Now that you know Joseph's escape route, it will be much easier. Now start to draw up a plan to hunt and kill Joseph. No matter what, it is absolutely impossible for Joseph to escape to the east of the Ural Mountains. Since he refuses to wait in Moscow, then, let's send him to hell!" Qin Tian had a fierce look on his face.

Chapter 1565

For Germany, Joseph must die. Whether it was in Moscow or elsewhere, it had to be dead. Otherwise, this will bring great trouble to Germany.

Germany hopes to solve the Russian battlefield in the shortest possible time, so Joseph is an object that must be solved as soon as possible. Otherwise, the longer the time drags on, the worse it will be for Germany.

As the supreme leader of Russia, Joseph, who has even become the spiritual leader of the Russian people, will be a great obstacle to the demise of Russia by the German army. If the German army can kill Joseph, then the next battle will become very easy.

"General Heydrich, the intelligence agency is responsible for informing the front-line troops of Joseph's escape route. The front-line troops are responsible for a hunting operation. This time, Joseph must be killed no matter what!" Qin Tian ordered.

"Yes, Your Majesty!" Admiral Heydrich replied.

Immediately, Admiral Heydrich distributed the documents brought by General Heydrich to the generals present. As the generals of the Army and Air Force of the German Empire, these people are all the most professional talents in this field. They immediately began to make plans.

"Joseph fled to Nizhny Novgodero via Vladimir by train. An infantry regiment accompanied him, and another two infantry regiments provided protection one after the other. The strength is still very strong. Our defense zone, it is far away from the escape route of Joseph, so it will be very difficult to directly stop Joseph." Marshal Rommel said.

Army Group C led by Marshal Rommel is located in the south of Moscow, and some of its troops have even approached the southeast of Moscow. It can be regarded as the closest to the east of Moscow.

"The Air Force can dispatch a team of warplanes to bomb the train that Joseph was on. Even if Joseph cannot be killed, the train can be destroyed. Or the railway can be blown up. In this case, Joseph will no longer be able to escape by train." Albert ?Marshal Kesselring said.

"If Joseph can be killed by bombing, that would be the best. However, the possibility is not very high. After evading our bombing, Joseph will have two choices. One is to take other means of transportation to continue Escape, and the other is to hide back in Moscow. Then, we have to make targeted deployments for these two possibilities." Marshal Manstein said.

With Joseph's suspicious character, if the train he was on was bombed by the Luftwaffe. Then, Joseph must think that his whereabouts have been exposed. At that time, Joseph will most likely return to Moscow directly. After all, if you continue to escape, no one can guarantee whether you will encounter more dangers. It would undoubtedly be safer to flee back to Moscow. However, even if they fled back to Moscow, they would end up with a dead end. Therefore, whether Joseph will make this choice is still unknown. Perhaps, under the control of the desire to survive, Joseph will choose to continue to escape.

"If he fled back to Moscow, it would be easy to handle. Under our siege, he will have no chance to escape. He is just lingering in Moscow, and he will be wiped out by us in the end." Brome Marshal Berg said.

"Then, if Joseph chooses to continue to escape, that will be the biggest trouble. Once they change the means of transportation, the target will be even smaller. It is not so easy to find Joseph in the vast land of Russia." Marshal Brauchitsch said.

"Deploy the armored forces to launch an attack quickly! Use the armored forces and mechanized forces as your fists, and quickly attack in the direction of Novgodero. In this way, we will catch up soon. At the same time, the air force is constantly attacking Joseph's place. Bombing the direction and escape route to slow down his escape speed. In this case, we will still have a great possibility to capture Joseph or kill him!" Marshal Guderian said.

"However, the possibility of Joseph escaping is still very high!" Marshal Manstein said.

If Joseph left the protection of the large army and under the protection of a small number of elites, and pretended to escape, it would be very difficult to catch him.

"This requires the intelligence agencies to provide us with more intelligence support." Marshal Rommel said.

Admiral Heinrich nodded: "The intelligence department will do its best to collect information about Joseph's escape this time, and will try to grasp his exact whereabouts as much as possible."

German intelligence agencies have developed a lot of intelligence personnel in Russia. Especially when Russia is almost on the verge of defeat, many Russians are willing to betray Russia for their own future. This also makes the speed of intelligence collection by German intelligence agencies much faster.

"While hunting down Joseph, closing the encirclement of Moscow also needs to be done at the same time. In this way, Joseph can be put under greater pressure and convinced that his whereabouts have indeed been exposed. As long as Joseph panics, then, The possibility of him revealing his flaws is undoubtedly greater. In this case, it will be easier for us to catch Joseph!" Qin Tian said.

"Yes, Your Majesty!" A group of generals replied.

"Everyone, do your best. Even if you don't kill Joseph in the end, we can still announce the success of this plan. Let the whole world know that we have killed Joseph. Under such circumstances, Russia will be in chaos. Even if Joseph appears again in the future, we can still call him a puppet." Qin Tian said with a smile.

The generals also understood what Qin Tian meant, as long as Germany determined that Joseph had been eliminated in the hunting plan. Then, even if Joseph escaped, it would be very difficult to prove his identity again. Especially some careerists in Russia may not want to see Joseph alive again. At that time, Joseph's end can naturally be imagined.

Subsequently, after a brief discussion, the German generals formulated a hunting plan.

After dawn, the Luftwaffe will dispatch planes to bomb the train Joseph is on. And the Russian troops in the front and back. At the same time, the German 9th Army will dispatch the 9th Armored Division, the 99th Armored Division, the 81st Mechanized Infantry Division, the 82nd Mechanized Infantry Division, the 83rd Mechanized Infantry Division and the 84th Mechanized Infantry Division. Luo quickly advanced.

In addition, Army Group C and Army Group A launched an offensive to the east of Moscow at the same time, striving to close the siege of Moscow in the shortest possible time.

Chapter 1566

South of Moscow, a German airfield. Although it was not yet daylight, the airport was already brightly lit. A brigade of dive bombers, a brigade of ground attack aircraft, and a brigade of FW-190 fighter jets are preparing for takeoff.

Here is a large airport, which was originally the airport of the Russian Air Force. However, after the German army called, the Russian army abandoned the airport and fled instead. After the German army took over the airport, it was repaired and expanded. Today, the airfield has become an important airfield for the Luftwaffe on the Moscow front. Throughout the airport, the German Air Force parked more than two hundred fighters of various types here.

In the combat room, the pilots are crowded here, listening to the combat briefing.

"Boys, this time your target is a train. The train runs from Moscow to Vladimir, and from Vladimir to Nizhny Novgorod. Now, we don't know exactly where the train runs. Where is it. However, after dawn, the train should be running to Vladimir and Nizhny Novgorod. This requires you to find it.

Once you find the train, you need to destroy it. Completely blow up the train. Many people must have escaped from the train. When the time comes, you need to attack those people. Kill them all if possible.

In addition, there is a Russian army in front of and behind the train. You can also attack them if you have spare bombs and bullets.

Finally, good luck! "

A major general of the Luftwaffe began to assign combat tasks.

"General, are we going to kill a certain Russian big shot? No matter how you look at it, it looks like a big shot escaped from Moscow and wants to escape to the east!" A squadron leader said.

"Yes. However, I don't know who we are going to deal with. Maybe Joseph!" said the major general.

"Hahaha!" The pilots all laughed. None of them thought that the target of this operation was Joseph. Everything may be so surprising. No one thought that the target of the German pilots this time was really Joseph.

"Boys, do you understand your mission? Do you have any questions?" the major general asked.

"No, General!" The pilots all replied.

This is undoubtedly a very simple task for the German pilots. Although it is not easy to definitely blow up someone, it is still no problem to destroy a train. Wait until the train is destroyed, and then blow up as many people who escaped from the train as possible. As for whether the target person can be killed, it depends on God's will.

"Very well, everyone, let's get ready! The plane will take off in an hour!" the major general ordered.

"Yes, General!" The pilots replied loudly.

On the railway line from Moscow to Vladimir, an ordinary train is traveling at a speed of 30 kilometers per hour. Although, this speed seems a bit slow. But Russia's railway facilities are already old and dilapidated. Coupled with the bombing of the Luftwaffe, the railway lines of the Russian army were often bombed. Those who did the repairs also cut corners. Naturally, the speed of the Russian railways has dropped a lot.

A carriage in the middle of the train, the interior layout is obviously much better than ordinary carriages. Although in a hurry, it was impossible to decorate the carriage magnificently, but compared to those ordinary carriages, it would be much better if soldiers were squeezed inside like sardine cans.

In the compartment, Joseph was smoking a pipe. After getting on the train last night, he didn't rest all night. Although he looked haggard, he persevered.

"Comrade Joseph, we will arrive in Vladimir in one hour. Do we need to stop there and meet the person in charge there?" asked the secretary.

Joseph shook his head: "There is no need for this. Now we are like a lost dog. It is better not to let others know. In addition, our whereabouts need to continue to be kept secret. If we stay in Vladimir for too long, I am afraid it will be leaked." of."

"Yes, Comrade Joseph." The secretary said.

After the secretary went out, Voroshilov came in again.

"Comrade Joseph, we are going to Vladimir soon. After passing Vladimir, we are considered safe." Marshal Voroshilov had a smile on his face.

Marshal Voroshilov was undoubtedly very excited to be able to escape from that hellish battlefield in Moscow. He didn't want to die there. In addition, Joseph included him in the entourage, which undoubtedly made Marshal Voroshilov very happy. In his opinion, this is the reuse of Joseph.

As for Joseph's other confidant, Marshal Shaposhnikov, Chief of the Russian Army's General Staff, will leave Moscow in other ways.

The reason why Joseph arranged this way is that if he doesn't want to act together immediately, the goal is too big. If they are taken over by the Germans, their losses will be great.

"After dawn, the German air force can be dispatched." Joseph was a little worried.

"Don't worry, Comrade Joseph. Our whereabouts have not been exposed, and the Germans will not dispatch the air force to deal with us. Therefore, we are safe." Marshal Voroshilov said.

Joseph nodded, he also hoped that his whereabouts were not exposed. However, the Russia of today is no longer the Russia of the past. Even Joseph himself was not sure if his whereabouts had been exposed.

June 18 at 6:00 a.m., not long after dawn. The fighter planes of the Luftwaffe took off from the airport one after another.

36 FW-190 fighter jets, 36-level Stuka dive bombers and 36 ground attack aircraft took off from the airport one after another. After these planes took off, they were divided into three groups and flew northeast.

These fleets will focus on searching the railway line from Vladimir to Nizhny Novgodero, find their targets, and attack them.

At this moment, Joseph and others on the train did not know that danger was approaching them.

At around 7 o'clock in the morning, the German fleet began to search for this railway line. At this moment, the train on which Joseph and the others took traveled to a place 60 kilometers east of Vladimir.

"Report, I found the Russian train. It is on the railway line!" A FW-190 fighter pilot reported by radio after discovering the Russian train.

"Very well, the planes gather and launch an attack immediately!" the commander ordered.

Subsequently, the fleet began to gather at the place where the train was, preparing to launch an attack.

Chapter 1567

"Planes! German planes!"

The Russian soldiers on the train saw the German planes circling above the train, and shouted in horror. Anti-aircraft guns and anti-aircraft machine guns were also set up, ready to attack the German aircraft in the sky.

In order to ensure Joseph's safety, this seemingly ordinary train has actually been modified. Anti-aircraft guns and anti-aircraft machine guns are deployed on many carriages in order to guard against attacks by Luftwaffe fighter planes.

In Joseph's compartment, Joseph, who had stayed up all night, was resting on the sofa. As he gets older, his energy is also not as good as before. However, when his compartment door was opened roughly, Joseph was awakened immediately.

"What happened?" Joseph asked, looking at Marshal Voroshilov who broke into his carriage.

"Comrade Joseph, something is wrong. A German plane appeared above our heads." Marshal Voroshilov reported in a panic. Originally, they all thought that this operation was very secret and would not be exposed. However, in such a short time, the German Air Force has already found it.

The expression on Joseph's face also became very ugly. Although he thought about it, his whereabouts might be leaked. However, he has always had a fluke mentality, thinking that it will not be exposed so easily. However, the current result is tantamount to a heavy blow to him.

"Traitor! There must be a traitor. Otherwise, how could our whereabouts be exposed?" Joseph was very angry.

Marshal Voroshilov was silent. When Russia is about to perish, it is undoubtedly very normal for someone in Russia to betray Joseph. After all, not everyone wants to fight to the end and die together with Russia. In order to keep their own glory and wealth, some people will definitely choose to cooperate with the Germans, which is inevitable.

"Comrade Joseph, what should we do now?" Marshal Voroshilov asked.

Before Joseph had time to speak, the Russian anti-aircraft guns and anti-aircraft machine guns were ready and began to attack.

"Boom boom boom! Da da da!"

Anti-aircraft guns and anti-aircraft machine guns started firing crazily, shells and bullets shot at the German fighter planes above the train.

"Shit! I'm under attack. The Russian trains are equipped with anti-aircraft guns and anti-aircraft machine guns!" The German fighter planes in the sky swayed from side to side, avoiding those shells and bullets. At the same time, it also began to pull up, preparing to return to high altitude.

"Hold on, we're coming soon!" said the squadron leader.

"Okay, I'm going to start a counterattack. Let those Russians know that we are not easy to bully!" said the German pilot.

"Permission to fight back!"

"Go to hell, Russians!" The German pilot cursed loudly, and then drove the plane to attack the train.

When the fighter plane passed the Russian train, two bombs hanging under the wing were dropped.

"Boom! Boom!"

Two bombs fell on the train and one on the land base. The bomb went off and an anti-aircraft gun on the train was blown away. At the same time, a fire was lit.

"Boom boom boom!"

After the bombs were dropped, the German fighter planes began to fire with cannons. The shells hit the train, easily tore the train carriage, and exploded inside. The Russian soldiers in the train carriages were turned upside down by the bombers, and many were killed.

"Bastard!" Joseph felt that the train was under attack, and couldn't help cursing. Although the carriage he was riding in was specially reinforced, it still couldn't withstand the blow from the sky. If he was hit, he would surely die.

"Let our anti-aircraft guns and anti-aircraft machine guns fire with all their strength and shoot down the German planes!" Marshal Voroshilov ordered with a serious face.

"Boom boom boom!"

Although the anti-aircraft guns of the Russian army were firing violently, there was still nothing the German fighter planes could do.

At this time, other German fighter planes also arrived, a total of as many as 12 FW-190 fighter jets, 12 Stuka dive bombers and 12 ground attack planes.

"Damn, how come there are so many fighters?"

"We are finished, the German fleet is coming, how can we resist them!"

The Russian soldiers were desperate when they saw such a large-scale fleet.

"Woo!"

Two dive bombers attacked the train one after the other. The shrill scream made the Russian soldiers on the train cover their ears.

"Boom!"

A heavy aerial bomb was thrown onto the railway in front of the train, and the huge power immediately blasted the railway into a huge crater.

The train driver saw this scene and immediately began to brake urgently. However, it was still too late. The front of the train rushed into the crater, and the whole train turned over at once.

Joseph in the carriage fell down suddenly, his head was bleeding.

Other Russian soldiers also got out of the fallen carriage.

However, what greeted them was the attack of German fighter planes.

"Boom! Boom!"

Several ground attack aircraft dropped bombs on the heads of these Russian soldiers. The bomb exploded, reaping the lives of these Russian soldiers.

"Da da da! Boom boom boom!"

Aviation machine guns and machine guns fired wildly, and countless Russian soldiers were knocked to the ground.

Under the fierce attack of German fighter planes, the Russian troops on the train suffered heavy casualties.

Some Russian soldiers who didn't have time to get out of the train, seeing this scene, couldn't help being frightened, and didn't dare to get out of the train again.

However, hiding in the train is also not safe. The train that fell on the railway also became the target of the German fighter planes.

"Boom! Boom!"

Two dive bombers dropped aerial bombs weighing 500 kilograms onto the Russian train. The violent explosion immediately destroyed several carriages. Most of the Russian soldiers hiding inside were killed.

The rest of the people got out of the train quickly. However, it was still hit by intensive firepower from German fighter planes.

It can be said that in the face of the German air attack, the Russian army has no power to fight back and can only bear it passively. Their anti-aircraft guns and anti-aircraft machine guns are all installed on the train. After the train fell on the railway, they could no longer use these anti-aircraft guns and anti-aircraft machine guns to fight back against German fighter planes.

"Ah! Ah!"

There were screams one after another, and many Russian soldiers were shot dead by German fighter planes with aviation machine guns. Some Russian soldiers were even torn to pieces.

Facing the massacre by German fighter planes, these Russian troops were completely incapable of counterattacking.

Chapter 1568

When the train on which Joseph was riding was attacked by German fighter planes, the 2nd and 3rd Regiments of the 4th Guards Infantry Division of the Russian Army were notified at the same time. The heads of the two infantry regiments were taken aback.

Their task is to serve as the guard of Joseph's train one after the other. But now, the train Joseph was traveling on was under attack. Once Joseph has any troubles, they will die very miserably.

"Bastard, turn around immediately!" The commander of the 2nd Regiment of the 4th Division of the Russian Guards Infantry ordered.

The trucks on which these thousands of Russian soldiers were riding turned around one after another, and the rear team changed to the front team, rushing to the location of the train where the accident happened.

The head of the 3rd Regiment of the 4th Division of the Russian Guards Infantry also issued such an order.

It's just that they were attacked by German fighter planes just as they started to turn around.

Three squadrons of fighter jets, dive bombers, and ground attack aircraft launched attacks on the two Russian infantry regiments.

"Da da da!" The aviation machine guns began to fire, and countless Russian soldiers were torn to pieces.

"Boom!"

The bomb exploded in the queue of the Russian army, and the truck was blown up directly, turning into burning scrap iron. Many Russian soldiers were killed on the spot during the explosion.

Facing the attack of the Luftwaffe, these Russian troops, needless to say, went to rescue Joseph, and even they themselves were in danger.

The fighter planes of the German Air Force are still looting, and the train has been blown into scrap iron. On both sides of the railway, the bodies of Russian soldiers were everywhere. There is no doubt that under the attack of the Luftwaffe, the Russian army suffered heavy losses. As for whether Joseph was killed in the air strike, the German army did not know this.

When these fighter planes of the Luftwaffe ran out of bullets and dropped their bombs, they had to leave.

At this time, the surviving Russian soldiers escaped from their hiding places.

I have to admit that human vitality is still very tenacious. Even under heavy air strikes by the Luftwaffe, many people survived. Among them, Joseph and Marshal Voroshilov were also included.

When the train was blown up, they took advantage of the chaos and fled to the stinky ditch next to the railway. The two hid inside, but escaped the Luftwaffe attack. Now that the Luftwaffe planes had left, they ran out.

"Asshole! What's going on? Why were we attacked by the Germans? Who betrayed us?" Joseph roared angrily. His two eyes were red, as if he was going to eat people.

Voroshilov on the side, and Colonel Karrov, commander of the 4th Division of the Russian Guards Infantry, remained silent. They didn't know who had leaked their tracks, and they didn't dare to answer indiscriminately. If it caused Joseph's dissatisfaction, then they would be dead.

"Comrade Joseph, now is not the time to investigate who leaked our tracks. We have to leave here as soon as possible. Otherwise, if the Luftwaffe launches a second round of air strikes, then we will be in danger." Fu Marshal Roshilov said.

Joseph was taken aback for a moment, then nodded. He also worried about how the Germans would resist such a violent air attack if they came again. At that time, will he be able to escape as lucky as he is now?

"The train was blown up by the Germans, how do we get out of here?" Joseph asked, frowning.

After he became a senior leader of Russia, he traveled in and out by car. If he had to travel long distances by himself, he couldn't do it.

"Comrade Joseph, I will immediately contact the 2nd and 3rd regiments and ask them to pick us up. We can take a car to Nizhny Novgorod. Once there, take the train to Kazan!" Colonel Karlov suggested road.

"That's the best way!" Joseph thought for a while, then nodded. Now he has no other better way.

It's just that when the communications soldier contacted the 2nd and 3rd regiments, they brought a very bad news.

"Comrade Joseph, the 2nd and 3rd regiments were also attacked by the Luftwaffe, and the troops suffered heavy losses. All the trucks were destroyed by the Luftwaffe." Colonel Karlov reported.

"Damn! This must be a long-planned attack by the Germans. They dispatched a large number of fighters and wanted to blow me up! Those despicable Germans, they tried to get rid of me in this way! And those damned Betrayers, they leaked my whereabouts to the Germans, and they want to use the hands of the Germans to kill me! I will never let them go!" Joseph said viciously.

When his own life was threatened, one can imagine how angry Joseph was. If possible, he would like to kill all those people. However, the prerequisite is that if he wants to know who leaked his whereabouts, he must find those people.

"Comrade Joseph, we must leave here as soon as possible. Since the Germans dispatched the air force to bomb us, they will definitely attack again." Marshal Voroshilov said.

Joseph couldn't help frowning, there is no train, no truck, how to leave?

"Comrade Joseph, we can no longer hesitate, let's walk and leave on a path." Marshal Voroshilov suggested.

"How about we contact Nizhny Novgorod and let them send a vehicle to pick us up!" Colonel Karlov said.

"No, Nizhny Novgorod cannot be notified. If the news leaks out again, we will be attacked by the Germans again." Joseph flatly refused.

"Let's go, walk to Nizhny Novgorod. Then change to the train and leave there!" Joseph gritted his teeth and said.

In the absence of other options, he could only choose to walk along the path. And, try to avoid contact with other people before arriving in Nizhny Novgorod as much as possible, lest their whereabouts be leaked again.

Though, Joseph hadn't traveled far in years. However, for the sake of his own life, he can only grit his teeth and overcome all this.

At the same time, Joseph gritted his teeth in hatred for the person who leaked his whereabouts. He swore secretly that when he was safe, he would not let those guys go. When the time comes, he will send those guys to the gallows.

Joseph and others, under the protection of a group of surviving soldiers, left the railway line and headed down the path to Novgodero. It's just that their marching speed is very slow, and if they want to rush to Nizhny Novgodero, they don't know how long it will take.

Chapter 1569

At two o'clock in the morning on June 18, Lieutenant General Erich Hoppner, Chief of Staff of the German Ninth Army Headquarters, was woken up by his adjutant.

"What happened?" Erich Hoepner asked sleepily.

"Your Excellency Chief of Staff, this is an urgent telegram from Berlin from Your Excellency the Commander." The adjutant handed a telegram to Lieutenant General Erich Hoppner.

Lieutenant General Erich Hoppner took the telegram and read it. Later, when he saw the contents of the telegram, the sleepiness on his face disappeared completely.

In the telegram, Marshal Rommel asked Lieutenant General Erich Hoepner to lead the 9th Panzer Division, the 99th Panzer Division, the 81st Mechanized Infantry Division, the 82nd Mechanized Infantry Division, the 83rd Mechanized Infantry Division and the 84th Mechanized Infantry Division, launched an attack on Nizhny Novgodero at the fastest speed, chasing and killing Joseph who escaped from Moscow.

Marshal Rommel hoped that Lieutenant General Erich Hoppner would do his best to complete this task. Once Joseph is successfully captured or killed, then he will gain great military exploits.

Lieutenant General Erich Hoppner also knew this, so he was very excited. He knew that this was undoubtedly an excellent opportunity for him. If he can seize this opportunity, then his promotion from lieutenant general to admiral, or even a real position, will be a sure thing.

"God! This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity that must not be missed. Otherwise, there will be no such opportunity again." Lieutenant General Erich Hoppner told himself.

"Come on, let the commanders of the 9th Armored Division, the 99th Armored Division, the 81st Mechanized Infantry Division, the 82nd Mechanized Infantry Division, the 83rd Mechanized Infantry Division and the 84th Mechanized Infantry Division come to see me. In addition, let the six The first division should be mobilized immediately to get them ready for battle!" Lieutenant General Erich Hoppner ordered.

"Yes, Your Excellency the Chief of Staff!" The adjutant immediately went to make arrangements.

The two armored divisions and four mechanized infantry divisions of the German Ninth Army are stationed at the headquarters of the group army, some are relatively close, and some are relatively far. However, after receiving the order, the division commanders of these divisions rushed to the commander of the group army immediately. An hour later, everyone gathered in the war room of the headquarters.

Although, these teachers have unconcealable tiredness on their faces. However, they all knew that the urgent summoning by the headquarters meant that something big was about to happen. This is also an excellent opportunity for generals like them.

When Lieutenant General Erich Hoppner walked into the war room, the division commanders stood up and saluted.

"Everyone, please sit down. Your Excellency, Commander, is still in Berlin and will return to the headquarters early tomorrow morning. However, I have received orders from Your Excellency. Our two armored divisions and four mechanized infantry divisions, after dawn We must set off and carry out a top-secret operation!" Lieutenant General Erich Hoppner said.

"Your Excellency Chief of Staff, what action? Is it going to close the encirclement of Moscow?" asked the commander of the 9th Armored Division.

Although the Moscow offensive and defensive battle is in full swing. However, this is nothing to the armored and mechanized units of the German army. In order to reduce the casualties of the troops, a small number of German infantry plus a large number of servants invaded the city of Moscow. The armored and mechanized units of the German army were resting outside the city and did not participate in the attack on Moscow.

Lieutenant General Erich Hoepner shook his head: "Everyone, this is a top-secret operation. We have received news that Joseph escaped Moscow by train last night and is fleeing eastward. Our task is to launch an attack immediately. , Intercept Joseph in one fell swoop. It would be best if he could be captured alive. If not, kill him."

"What? Go after Joseph?" Several division commanders were stunned. Obviously none of them thought that they would be asked to perform such a task.

"How did Joseph escape from Moscow? Didn't he know that if he escaped from Moscow, he would die faster?"

"Who knows what he thought? Maybe he thought he could escape to the east of the Ural Mountains successfully!"

"Okay, everyone. Are your troops ready? After dawn, launch an attack. The air force will be dispatched first to blow up the train Joseph is riding on and slow down his escape speed. At that time, it will be up to us. If Under such circumstances, Joseph was allowed to escape. That would be too inappropriate." Lieutenant General Erich Hoppner said.

"Your Excellency, Chief of Staff, what if the guys from the Air Force blow up Joseph to death during an air strike?" A division commander asked.

Lieutenant General Erich Hoepner was taken aback for a moment, and then replied: "If that's the case, then those guys in the Air Force will be out of luck. They will make great achievements, and we can only watch helplessly." .”

"Shit! We must not let the guys from the Air Force take away our military exploits. We want to capture Joseph alive, and we will kill him no matter how bad it is!" said the commander of the 99th Armored Division.

"Yes, this is our military exploit!" The other teachers also said one after another.

They all know that this is undoubtedly a huge achievement for them. If they let the military exploits slip away like this, then they will lose a lot. Everyone wants to get this battle feat, so as to get a promotion.

"Very good, everyone is aware of this problem. Then, we will set off after dawn. No matter how powerful the enemy is in front of us, we must complete the task and capture Joseph!" Erich Huo Lieutenant General Puna ordered.

"Yes, Your Excellency the Chief of Staff!" Several division commanders replied.

Of course, they didn't think that the enemy in front of them would be so strong. The current main force of the Russian army is surrounded by the German army in Moscow and Josephgrad, and the rest of the troops, although there are still a lot of them. But that's just a bunch of rabble. It is simply impossible to resist the attack of the German army's huge armored and mechanized forces. It is foreseeable that they will rush to Nizhny Novgorodro in a very short time. Then search around and find Joseph. Undoubtedly, it would be great to be able to capture Joseph alive. Even if you can't capture him alive, make sure to find his body.

At six o'clock in the morning, the German 9th Armored Division, 99th Armored Division, 81st Mechanized Infantry Division, 82nd Mechanized Infantry Division, 83rd Mechanized Infantry Division and 84th Mechanized Infantry Division left the station and headed northeast The direction launched a fierce attack.

Chapter 1570

In order to chase and kill Joseph, the German army dispatched two armored divisions and four mechanized infantry divisions, with a strength of more than 100,000 people. The number of tanks alone has reached more than a thousand, which is undoubtedly an extremely strong force.

These armored units and mechanized units advance very fast. Only in this way can they rush to Nizhny Novgodero in the shortest time, intercept Joseph in one fell swoop, and capture and kill him alive.

When the main forces of the Russian army are gathered in Moscow and Josephgrad, even if the Russian army discovers the movement of the powerful German armored force, there is no way to intercept it. After all, the Russian army has suffered heavy losses now. They have been unable to assemble a powerful armored force to stop the advance of the German army.

For the German army, such a large force was dispatched, although it was somewhat majestic. But as long as Joseph can be caught in one fell swoop, or Joseph can be killed. This is very beneficial to the overall layout of Germany. Whether Joseph is dead or alive will have a great impact on Germany's next war situation.

Of course, even if the German army has made so many preparations. But it is still unclear whether Joseph can be captured or killed. Joseph is not so easy to kill. Otherwise, he would not have become the supreme leader of Russia.

Moscow, Russian Army Moscow Garrison Command. After Joseph, Marshal Shaposhnikov, Marshal Voroshilov and others, as well as Russian government agencies withdrew from Moscow one after another, General Zhukov, the commander of the Moscow garrison, has become the supreme leader of Moscow. However, this still has no effect on the overall situation in Moscow. The advantage of the German army and its allies in Moscow is too great. It is almost impossible for the Russian army to resist the attack of the German army and its allies.

However, even so, General Zhukov is confident that he will persist in Moscow for another three months or so. Although Russia no longer sends additional reinforcements to Moscow. This also makes them destined to be wiped out by the German army. But General Zhukov did not regret it. He hoped to lead the Russian army to fight to the end in Moscow and cause as many casualties as possible to the German army. In that case, it is in the best interest of Russia. They can keep going.

"Comrade Zhukov, something is wrong. The train that Comrade Joseph was on was attacked by the Germans. The 4th Guards Infantry Division that protected Comrade Joseph was also attacked by the German Air Force. The troops have suffered heavy losses." A general reported.

After General Zhukov heard the news, his expression changed drastically.

"Damn it, how did this happen? Isn't Comrade Joseph's departure being kept in high secrecy? How could his whereabouts be leaked?" General Zhukov was very angry.

If Joseph is killed, it will be a huge loss for Russia. Although Joseph was brutal, he had already established the supreme dominance in Russia. If it were anyone else, it would be impossible to twist the whole of Russia into one rope at such a critical juncture. Only Joseph has this ability. Therefore, once Joseph is killed, the whole of Russia may fall into chaos. At that time, it will be impossible for them to resist the German attack.

"Comrade Zhukov, it is not clear how Comrade Joseph's whereabouts were leaked." The general said.

General Zhukov's face was very scary. Although he knew that Russia had been infiltrated by German intelligence agencies, he didn't expect it to be so serious.

"How is the safety of Comrade Joseph?" General Zhukov asked.

"I don't know yet. We have contacted them many times, but we still haven't received a response. Either the radio station was blown up, or they turned off the radio station on their own initiative." The general said.

Zhukov couldn't help frowning. Even if it was attacked by the Luftwaffe, it would be impossible for all the radio stations of the 4th Guards Infantry Division to be destroyed, right? Well, obviously they turned off the station on their own initiative.

General Zhukov can even be sure that Joseph may still be safe, but for the sake of confidentiality, he temporarily cut off contact with them.

"Comrade Joseph didn't suspect me, did he?" General Zhukov suddenly had such a thought in his mind. The more he thought about it, the more likely it was. With Joseph's suspicious character, it is entirely possible to suspect him. Reminiscent of Joseph's actions, General Zhukov can almost conclude that he has also become the object of Joseph's suspicion.

It's just that, at such a time, even if he defends, it's useless, and it will arouse Joseph's suspicion even more.

"The whereabouts of Comrade Joseph have been leaked, then the Germans will not just take air strikes. They will definitely take more actions. Keep a close watch on the movements of the Germans!" General Zhukov ordered.

"Yes, Comrade Zhukov." The general replied.

In less than half an hour, new news came. After learning that the German army had dispatched a large number of armored troops to launch a fierce attack to the northeast, Zhukov knew that the German army was going to chase and kill Joseph.

"Comrade Zhukov, the Germans dispatched more than 100,000 elite armored troops. Our defenders cannot stop the Germans at all."

"Find a way to inform Comrade Joseph, let him know the current crisis, and let them evacuate to the eastern Ural Mountains as soon as possible. Otherwise, their situation will be dangerous." General Zhukov said.

"Comrade Zhukov, we can't contact Comrade Joseph at all now, even if we want to inform them, we can't do it!" The general was a little helpless.

"Ah!" General Zhukov also sighed.

Joseph and the others took the initiative to turn off the radio station, which made it impossible for them to send messages to them. General Zhukov can understand that Joseph chose to be cautious for his own safety. However, this will only make the situation more unfavorable to them!

"Order our troops in the east, find a way to stop the Germans, and buy enough time for Comrade Joseph and the others as much as possible!" General Zhukov ordered.

Although General Zhukov knew that this would cause heavy losses to the Russian army. But other than that, they have no other choice.

"Yes, Comrade Zhukov." The general immediately went to make arrangements.

But whether Joseph can escape from birth, no one can guarantee.
