

Jagged 1741

Chapter 1741

North of Washington, the German-controlled area, the German frontline headquarters.

The German army's attack on Washington became more and more smooth, and Marshal Manstein further moved his headquarters from New York to the front line. He believes that the U.S. military has been extremely damaged. The current U.S. military is no longer capable of confronting the Germans. Even if the headquarters is moved to the front line, there will be no danger.

Marshal Bromberg, Marshal Guderian, Marshal Rommel and others also rushed here. Everyone is very clear that the attack on the US military has entered the final juncture.

"Your Excellency Commander, the Americans are hopeless and have no fighting spirit. Now a large number of Americans voluntarily surrender to us every day. This makes us have to temporarily set up multiple prisoner-of-war camps to detain these American soldiers. It even once affected It's time for our attack on Washington," Marshal Bromberg complained.

"This is a good thing? Isn't it? If the remaining Americans can all surrender to us, then this battle can be over." Marshal Manstein said.

"Yes, Commander, this is good news. However, I really didn't expect that the Americans would be so vulnerable." Marshal Guderian said.

Marshal Manstein nodded: "The empire has always regarded the United States as its greatest enemy, but they are actually nothing more than a paper tiger, and they were easily torn apart by us."

"The industry of the United States is indeed very strong, and its technology is fairly developed. Even if its war potential cannot be compared with that of the empire, the gap is still very limited. But what everyone did not expect is that the American soldiers would be so vulnerable." Long Mei Marshal Er also shook his head.

Almost everyone believes that the attack on the United States will be a bitter battle. Even the generals of the German army are ready to fight a protracted war. However, it was not expected that the Americans would be defeated so soon. Such a result even made the generals of the German army a little unbelievable. Everyone felt that happiness came too suddenly.

"It is estimated that the Americans will not be able to sustain it soon. In order to further reduce our casualties, the offensive is suspended. However, the artillery and air force continue to shell and bomb Washington. The shells and bombs we transported to North America are thrown Go out. To avoid having to transport these shells and bombs back to the country in the future. Perhaps, after we consume all these shells and bombs, the Americans will surrender to us." Marshal Manstein said.

Marshal Guderian and others laughed.

Before, the German army was ready to fight a protracted war on the North American continent. This also made the German army very well prepared in terms of war materials. A large amount of war materials arrived on the North American continent, and ammunition and the like piled up into mountains. If these ammunition were to be transported back to Germany, it would undoubtedly be very troublesome. If it can be consumed on the battlefield, it is undoubtedly the best. Moreover, Marshal Manstein has asked the country not to transport ammunition to North America for the time being.

If the last fighting spirit of the Americans can be directly destroyed through continuous shelling and bombing, that is undoubtedly the best result. Although the U.S. military has no combat power left, if it continues to attack, the German army will pay some casualties. Seeing that the German army is about to win the final victory, under such circumstances, it is natural to ensure that the losses of the troops are not too large.

However, Marshal Manstein's plan was ultimately not implemented. Because the Americans are begging for mercy much faster than he imagined.

On the morning of May 29, US Secretary of State Hull, under the protection of a team of guards, drove a car with a white flag, left the US military's position, and went to the German army's position.

After the German army on the front line discovered this situation, they did not open fire, allowing US Secretary of State Hull to enter the German army's position.

After learning about the purpose of these Americans, the front-line officers immediately reported to the headquarters.

Marshal Manstein couldn't help being stunned after receiving the report from the adjutant.

"The Americans want to ask for peace? So soon?" Marshal Manstein couldn't believe it.

"Yes, why don't the Americans insist on it? We still have a lot of shells and bombs that have not been consumed!" Marshal Guderian also complained.

"Forget it, since the Americans want to ask for peace, let's see what they have to say." Marshal Manstein said.

Soon, US Secretary of State Hull arrived at the German headquarters.

"Your Excellency, Marshal, I am fatal to the President of the Republic of America, and formally submit a request for peace to your country. I hope to formally start peace negotiations with the German Empire and end this war." Hull said.

Marshal Manstein nodded. Although the speed of the Americans' summation is very fast, it is not incomprehensible. After all, the current situation is very unfavorable to the United States. Summing up is undoubtedly the best choice.

"Your Excellency, Secretary of State, I already know your country's request. I will report it to the country immediately. However, it is not up to me to decide what the best domestic decision will be." Marshal Manstein said.

Hull nodded: "Your Excellency Marshal, please convey to His Majesty the Emperor that the Republic of America is very sincere in wanting to conduct peace talks and end this war."

"Okay, Your Excellency the Secretary of State." Marshal Manstein replied. However, he was quite disapproving in his heart.

The Americans lost the war and couldn't wait to ask for peace. However, how could Germany easily let the United States go? Now that Germany already has an absolute advantage, it will obviously take the opportunity and the lion will open its mouth. Even Marshal Manstein has already guessed what kind of reply the country will make.

Emperor Qin Tian of the German Empire said more than once that the United States is the chosen country, and the threat to Germany's world hegemony is too great. If Germany wins this war, it will definitely destroy the United States completely. Therefore, no matter how sincere the Americans are, how much they are willing to pay. However, their fate is probably irreversible.

After Marshal Manstein's telegram was delivered to Qin Tian, Qin Tian couldn't help laughing. It has always been his goal to overthrow the United States, and now it has finally come true. This gave Qin Tian a sense of accomplishment.

"Everyone, the Americans want to ask for peace now. So, should we agree to have peace talks with the Americans?" Qin Tian smiled and looked at the important military and political officials of the empire.

"Your Majesty, you have already made a decision, haven't you?" Prime Minister Vahit said with a smile.

"Yes, I have decided not to engage in peace talks with the Americans. The Americans have only one choice, and that is unconditional surrender!"

Chapter 1742

"Everyone, the United States will be defeated so easily by us. This is indeed beyond everyone's expectations! It seems that the United States is just a paper tiger that looks powerful on the outside, but in fact it is not very good at all. But, we cannot relax our vigilance against the Americans because of this. After all, the United States is a country with a large territory, rich resources, and a superior geographical location. Even if they fail to challenge the hegemony of the empire this time, but if the empire If the United States is let go, then this will inevitably leave a future trouble for the empire. Therefore, we must seize this opportunity to defeat the United States in one fell swoop, and we must never give them another chance!" Qin Tian said.

"Yes, Your Majesty." The military and political ministers of the empire replied one after another.

"The United States lost so quickly this time, but their industrial strength and military potential should not be underestimated. You know, this time the US Army alone has mobilized 8 million troops. If it is not because the US Army's combat effectiveness is too bad, If the Empire wants to win this battle, I am afraid it will pay a higher price. Therefore, it will be more beneficial to the Empire to solve the United States once and for all." Marshal Raeder, Secretary of the Navy, also said.

"Your Majesty, the Empire has asked the Americans to surrender unconditionally. So, will the Americans accept such a request from the Empire?" Foreign Minister Ribbentrop was a little worried.

Obviously, as long as the Americans are clear-headed, they will not agree to the conditions of the empire. Because this means that once the United States agrees to surrender unconditionally, then they will have to be slaughtered by the empire.

"It's up to the Americans not to agree to this. The situation on the front line is very favorable to us. It is said that the US military is completely desperate, and now a large number of troops voluntarily surrender to us every day. If the US government does not accept the conditions of the empire, then , we will continue to fight. In this way, it will take a few days to finish all the remaining American troops. At that time, the empire can still destroy the United States directly. However, it will take a relatively long time That's all." Qin Tian said.

Ribbentrop nodded, the Empire has an absolute advantage on the North American battlefield. Under such circumstances, the Americans really had no way to refuse. After all, even if the Americans refuse. The empire also has absolute strength to destroy the United States.

"Send a telegram to Marshal Manstein and let him reply to the Americans. The empire only gives them two choices, either continue to fight, or surrender to the empire unconditionally!" Qin Tian said.

"Yes, Your Majesty." The ministers all replied.

On this issue, Qin Tianxia made up his mind. The military and political ministers of the empire will not confront Qin Tian on this issue. They also know how great the benefit of the empire is to the demise of the United States. Only when the United States is destroyed, will the hegemony of the German Empire be stabilized.

Although, the ministers are more or less worried that the United States will reject the imperial request. However, as Qin Tian said. The United States now has no capital to fight against the empire. The empire's military operations on the North American continent have achieved a decisive victory. Next, if the United States does not accept the conditions of the empire, the empire only needs to continue to attack, and the United States can be destroyed soon.

North America, the headquarters of the German army on the front line. US Secretary of State Hull rested in a lounge arranged by the German army, waiting for a reply from Germany.

It's just that Hull's mood is more anxious. He is very worried that Germany will not give the United States a chance for peace talks. If that is the case, then the United States is really in danger.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, an officer of the German army knocked on the door of Hull's lounge.

"Come in!" Hull straightened his clothes and said.

"Your Excellency Secretary of State, Your Excellency Marshal invites you to go over." The officer seemed polite.

"Okay." Hull nodded.

Soon, Hull came to Marshal Manstein's office.

"Secretary of State, please sit down." Marshal Manstein still had a smile on his face.

"Your Excellency Marshal, is there any news in your country?" Hull asked.

"Yes, Your Excellency Secretary of State. His Majesty the Emperor has officially responded to your country's request for peace." Marshal Manstein said.

"Then, what is your Majesty's reply?" Hull was a little nervous, he was afraid of hearing Germany's rejection.

"Your Excellency, Secretary of State, His Majesty the Emperor has only one request, and that is the unconditional surrender of the American Republic!" Marshal Manstein said.

"Unconditional surrender? How is this possible?" Hull was stunned for a while, and then he couldn't help but speak out against it. Obviously, he knows what it means for the American Republic once he agrees to surrender unconditionally.

"Your Excellency, Secretary of State, this is the request of the Emperor of the Empire and the request of the German Empire. Of course, your country can refuse." Marshal Manstein said. Hull would have such a reaction, not beyond his expectations. However, this is nothing to the German army.

Hull was silent for a while, he naturally knew that the Germans had the confidence to make such harsh demands. However, he still wants to try his best to fight for it.

"Secretary of State, the United States of America is very sincere. We can show enough sincerity in terms of cession and compensation. However, we cannot accept unconditional surrender." Hull said.

"Then, unfortunately, we can only obtain what we want through war." Marshal Manstein looked calm.

From what Marshal Manstein said, Hull could hear the obvious threat from the other party. Obviously, if the United States does not accept Germany's request, the German army will continue to attack. At that time, it is still conceivable what will happen to the United States.

"Your Excellency Marshal, we still have millions of troops, and we can continue to fight!" Hull said. It seems to want to use this to remind the German army not to be too arrogant. Although the U.S. military suffered heavy losses, they are not incapable of continuing to fight. The current U.S. military has at least two million troops. This is also a very large force.

"Your Excellency, Secretary of State, I am very aware of this. However, I believe that in the near future, all the remaining troops in your country will be wiped out by us. I have no doubts about this!" Marshal Manstein smiled. He was completely unmoved by Hull's threat.

Hull was finally speechless about this.

Subsequently, Hull left the German headquarters with a look of dismay. For him, this mission was considered a failure. So, what will happen to the future of the United States, perhaps only God knows.

Chapter 1743

Washington, the White House, President Roosevelt's underground office.

U.S. Secretary of State Hull went here directly after returning from the German Command, and did not go to his office. He must report the German request to President Roosevelt as soon as possible.

"Your Excellency, the Germans have officially rejected our request for peace talks. They proposed that we must surrender unconditionally. Otherwise, the German army will continue to attack and destroy us in one fell swoop!" Secretary of State Hull said.

President Roosevelt's expression also became very ugly. He did not expect that the Germans would raise such conditions. He also believed that the Germans might put forward many harsh restrictions on the United States. But unexpectedly, the Germans directly rejected their request for peace talks and asked them to surrender unconditionally.

"If we agree to the Germans' demand for unconditional surrender, then we will only be slaughtered by the Germans!" President Roosevelt said. Such a result is undoubtedly what President Roosevelt and other senior officials of the US government do not want to see.

"Yes, Your Excellency President. At that time, the United States may no longer be able to continue to exist." Hull said.

"The ultimate intention of the Germans is to destroy the United States. Regardless of whether we accept their demand for unconditional surrender, they will destroy the United States." President Roosevelt said.

Hull nodded, the intention of the Germans is undoubtedly obvious.

Then, the choice of the U.S. government is now critical. Do you choose to resist to the end, or choose to accept the demands of the Germans?

"Call other people, let's discuss it!" President Roosevelt said.

"Okay, Your Excellency the President." Hull said.

Soon, the senior military and political officials of the United States gathered together again.

"Everyone, we have formally submitted a request for peace talks to the Germans. However, it is very regrettable that the Germans rejected our request for peace talks." President Roosevelt said.

"What? The Germans really rejected us? Are they determined to destroy us?"

"What should we do now? If the peace talks fail, the United States of America will definitely not be able to continue to exist."

"Keep fighting, fight the Germans. We still have 2 million troops. We still have more than 100 million Americans. We still have more territories not occupied by the Germans. We can continue to fight the Germans." !"

After hearing that Germany rejected the United States' request for peace talks, senior military and political officials in the United States talked a lot.

Although, they had long expected that Germany would not let the United States go so easily. However, Germany rejected the United States' request for peace talks so cleanly, which was beyond everyone's expectations. This also made many people panic. They all know very well that when Germany is determined to destroy the United States, it may be difficult for them to make a comeback.

After a while, the senior military and political officials of the US government stopped talking.

"Gentlemen, the Germans have made a request that the United States of America must surrender unconditionally to them and let them be slaughtered. So, what should we do about this? Should we accept the German request?" President Roosevelt asked.

"Surrender unconditionally? Damn Germans, how dare they make such a condition?"

"Yes! If we agree to such a condition, wouldn't we be caught without a fight and let the Germans slaughter us? The Germans can do whatever they want, and we simply have no ability to resist."

Obviously, none of the senior military and political officials of the US government can accept unconditional surrender. If it is a conditional surrender, even if the conditions are harsher, they may be able to accept it. However, if they surrender unconditionally, this is beyond their bottom line.

"If we do not accept the Germans' demand for unconditional surrender. Then the Germans will continue to attack. What should we do in such a situation?" Secretary of State Hull asked.

Suddenly, everyone shut up, like a duck with its throat pinched.

Although they were unwilling to accept Germany's request for unconditional surrender, they also knew that if the German army continued to attack, they would not be able to resist it. The final result is still being destroyed.

"We still have a lot of troops. If we launch a breakout operation, can we escape from Washington? At that time, we can go to the central or western United States, and continue to fight the Germans on our huge territory!" A minister asked .

"It's almost impossible. The Germans have deployed heavy defenses to the west, south and east of Washington. Although those armies are the servants of the Germans. However, with the loss of our elite troops being similar, There was simply no way to break through the German blockade and escape from Washington," Admiral Marshall said.

The German army obviously made up its mind a long time ago to wipe out the U.S. troops gathered in Washington. Therefore, troops were specially dispatched to intercept them. Although these troops are servants with weak combat effectiveness, relying on the defense of the river, even the elite troops of the U.S. Army can hardly break through, let alone the remaining second-line troops.

"Is there no hope at all?"

Admiral Marshall shook his head: "I am afraid that all the troops deployed in Washington will be lost here."

"What about the troops in other states? Including those militias? Can you continue to fight against the Germans?"

"I'm afraid it will be very difficult. We have assembled our last strength in Washington, and the combined army of other states is less than 200,000. Although there are still many militias. But we lack heavy equipment, ammunition and supplies. It can't resist the German attack at all. The Germans will spend more time at most, and they will still destroy us." Major General Eisenhower said.

Immediately, it became clear to everyone. If they choose to continue to resist, they simply don't have enough capital.

"Everyone, if there is no other way, it seems that we can only accept the demands of the Germans. At least, this can avoid greater casualties." Secretary of State Hull said.

"Yes, if it really doesn't work, then we have to surrender to the Germans. If we continue to fight, we will definitely kill and injure more people." Another minister also said.

When there is no other means of war, yielding to the Germans and accepting the Germans' request for unconditional surrender seems to be the last resort.

President Roosevelt also understood what everyone meant.

"Well, since everyone has no objection, let's surrender unconditionally to the Germans!"

Although, the United States still has a population of more than 100 million, and there is still a huge land that has not fallen. However, when the army was almost completely lost and at the same time lost its fighting spirit, the US government finally chose to accept Germany's conditions and surrender unconditionally.

Senior officials of the US government and military are also very clear that if they continue to resist, there will be no good results in the end. Especially when their heavy industries were almost destroyed, there was naturally no way to fight any longer.

On June 12, 1941, President Roosevelt signed his name on the instrument of surrender on behalf of the US government. It represents that the United States has completely surrendered in this war.

At the same time, the U.S. military also began to walk out of the defense zone and hand over weapons and equipment to the German army. Although Germany doesn't like the equipment of the US military, many of Germany's slave countries can still use it. For example, M26 heavy tank, M5 light tank, etc., the performance is not bad. For these two tanks alone, the German army obtained thousands of them.

The United States officially surrendered to Germany, and it still surrendered unconditionally. This allowed Germany to win the Atlantic and North American wars outright. It can be said that in the entire Western world, Germany has won. Although the war is not over yet, for Germany, the remaining enemies are no longer a cause for concern. Next, Germany could easily win the entire world war.

However, after the U.S. surrenders, how Germany will deal with the United States still requires the German government to come up with a disposal plan.

Emperor Qin Tian summoned the military and political ministers of the empire on June 12 to discuss the disposal plan.

"Your Majesty, no matter what, the United States of America cannot continue to exist. A complete United States will pose a huge threat to the empire." Prime Minister Wachter said.

Everyone in the meeting nodded and agreed with this. After all, the geographical location of the United States is too superior. It is not only rich in resources, but also has a large population and a very good industrial foundation. As long as they are given time, they can quickly develop into a world-class power. And this will undoubtedly pose the most direct threat to the world hegemony of the German Empire. The reason why Germany tried its best to defeat the United States in this war is to completely remove the threat of the United States to Germany.

"Yes, from now on, the United States will cease to exist." Qin Tian said. He also thought so.

"Your Majesty, the empire should have a piece of its own territory on the land of the former United States. Especially the industrially developed areas. Although those places are now bombed into ruins, the foundation is still there. It can be rebuilt with a little time and effort. This will further enhance the industrial strength of the empire." Prime Minister Wahit continued.

Although Germany dominates the whole of Europe, its territory has also been greatly expanded. However, the whole of Europe is not that big. Coupled with the lack of resources, it is undoubtedly very difficult to further develop. If a large territory can be obtained in the United States, this will allow Germany to develop further.

Qin Tian nodded, this is indeed a good suggestion.

"What is the cabinet's plan?" Qin Tian asked.

"Your Majesty, the Cabinet desires the Empire to occupy the states of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Washington, D.C. , Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Texas!" Wachter said.

"Good guy, he has occupied 19 states of the United States plus the capital Washington, D.C. at one time." Qin Tian couldn't help thinking. The cabinet's appetite is obviously bigger than he imagined! This is a large territory, even larger than the mainland of Germany. Moreover, the resources are abundant, the transportation is convenient, and the foundations are also very good. If it is built, it will inevitably become Germany's most important overseas territory.

"Your Majesty, these territories, together with the territories we acquired from Canada, will become the empire's most important overseas territories." Foreign Minister Ribbentrop said.

"These territories are far away from the mainland of the empire, separated by the vast Atlantic Ocean. If the empire wants to rule these territories, it may require large-scale immigration!" Some ministers worried.

"It is true that if the empire wants to completely rule these territories, large-scale immigration is required. However, this can be used as a long-term plan, and it will take 20 to 30 years to complete. With the continuous advancement of technology, although the Atlantic Ocean is wide, but It can no longer be a natural barrier to stop us. When the strength of the empire becomes stronger and stronger, we will be able to completely rule these territories." Qin Tian said.

The military and political ministers of the empire all nodded.

The United States is now surrendering unconditionally and letting the German Empire rule. Therefore, even if Germany seized the most important territories in the northern part of the United States in one go, the Americans have no way to refuse.

"Everyone, in addition to the US territory we occupy, those countries that fight with the empire can also get a part of the territory as a reward." Qin Tian said.

The United States is completely finished. It is unrealistic to expect the United States to pay war reparations. Therefore, only land can be used for compensation.

After discussions, all the slave countries that followed Germany on the North American expedition this time have received benefits. Among them, the Kingdom of England and Wales, which dispatched two million troops, received the most benefits. Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, and North Carolina were added to the Kingdom of England and Wales.

Ukrainian Kingdom received Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida.

The Kingdom of Poland received Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, Nebraska, Arkansas, and Louisiana.

The Kingdom of Bohemia gained Minnesota, Iowa, and North Dakota.

The Kingdom of Scotland gained the states of Wyoming and Idaho.

Finland gets Utah and Arizona.

The remaining states of Washington, Oregon, Nevada, California, and Alaska are left to the Americans. They can establish a country on this piece of land, but they can no longer use the name of the United States.

As for the Hawaiian Islands in the Pacific Ocean, they also fell into the hands of Germany.

The Republic of America, the chosen country, was slaughtered by Germany and its slave countries.

Chapter 1745

"Your Majesty, the Americans are very dissatisfied with the empire's disposal plan. However, the U.S. government has accepted it. They know that there is no room for bargaining now. If they continue to insist, they will lose more. Now, the U.S. government has planned to Headed to the west coast and re-established the country there. As for the name of the country, I am still thinking about it." Marshal Manstein reported.

After the fighting on the North American continent came to an end, Marshal Manstein has returned home. The affairs of North America were handed over to the commanders of several army groups.

In fact, after Germany announced its disposal plan, the three German army groups were distributed in those territories belonging to Germany, preparing to suppress the resistance of the Americans.

The armies of the slave countries also went to their territories one after another, preparing to suppress the Americans.

The United States is a country where guns are not allowed, which makes many American civilians own guns. Although from now on, they will no longer be able to buy guns and ammunition. But the proliferation of guns among the American people is enough to cause headaches for any country. Fortunately, Germany and its allies have deployed eight million troops in the United States. Even if American civilians resist, it is nothing at all. How could they be opponents of the regular army without heavy weapons? The more they resist, the more they will pay.

"Are the Americans starting to resist?" Qin Tian asked.

"The resistance has already begun. Attacks on our troops have erupted across the United States. Those American civilians attacked our troops with pistols, rifles and even shotguns. It is hard to guard against. The troops have also paid a lot for this. The price. However, our suppression has already begun, and all Americans who threatened the soldiers of the empire were killed. It is expected that resistance in various parts of the United States will be suppressed in a short time." Marshal Manstein said.

Qin Tian nodded. With the German army and many German servants working together to suppress it, the American resistance is bound to result in heavy casualties. Although, this will deepen the contradiction between the two parties. But as more and more people die, Americans will eventually be spooked. In the end, they just accept their fate. After all, not everyone has the courage to take up arms and fight desperately against powerful enemies. When those so-called warriors were all wiped out, all that was left was a flock of sheep.

"Treating Americans who resist must be severely suppressed. Don't talk about human rights to them. After killing them until they are afraid, they will succumb! The population of the United States is 130 million. Compared with the empire, Not much less. Kill ten to twenty million or more, and the Americans will stop resisting." Qin Tian said.

"Yes, Your Majesty." Marshal Manstein nodded.

"Your Majesty, the vassal states are very satisfied with the benefits they can receive this time. They love the Empire even more. They even actively proposed that they are willing to continue to fight with the Empire, and they will still be enemies of the Empire." The island country of the country will also perish." Marshal Manstein continued.

Indeed, this time Germany can be regarded as very generous. Those servants who fought with the German army suffered little losses on the battlefield. However, they have gained extremely considerable benefits. Even, the territories they acquired in the United States are much larger than their homeland. Although the most essential part has been taken away by Germany, the territories they have acquired have already made them very satisfied. This naturally makes these slave countries high morale. As long as Germany needs it, they will do their best to send troops to assist Germany in fighting. After all, Germany's world hegemony is now firmly established. After the United States has fallen and been completely slaughtered, Germany's hegemony can last at least a hundred years or even longer. Any country that wants to live better in the world system built by Germany must only hold Germany's thighs. Helping Germany fight at this time is undoubtedly the best way to bring the relationship between the two countries closer.

What's more, Germany has always given preferential treatment to slave countries that send troops. After defeating Russia, many slave countries received a lot of war reparations. This time it was directly assigned to the land. This naturally made the slave countries rejoice and eager to participate in the next war.

And those slave countries that did not participate in the North American War regretted it even more. This time, they lost a lot of benefits because of it! If they were given another chance to choose again, it is estimated that they would finally step on the German chariot and fight with Germany.

"Everyone, there is no longer any threat to the direction of the North American Atlantic Ocean. The United States has completely fallen, and it will no longer pose a threat to the empire from then on. Then, now the energy of the empire must be put on the eastern battlefield. Defeat the island nation, to completely end this war." Qin Tian said.

"Yes, Your Majesty." All the military and political ministers of the empire replied.

The previous strategic plan of the empire was to solve the European battlefield first, then the North American battlefield, and finally the enemies in the Far East. Now, Russia, the United States and Britain have all fallen one after another, completely defeated by Germany. Then, of course, the enemy of the empire is only one island country left.

Although, the island country still has good military strength. But for the German Empire in its heyday, the military strength of the island country was nothing at all. The only problem is that the Far East is too far away from Germany. This will put a lot of pressure on Germany's logistical supplies. After all, the distance from Europe to the Far East is much farther than to the North American continent.

While the German army concentrated its forces to attack North America, the German army was on the defensive in Southeast Asia. Even after the German army dispatched two armies to the Southeast Asian battlefield, the German army in Southeast Asia reached six armies with more than 1.2 million people. However, compared with the troops invested by the island countries, it is still much less.

The island country has invested more than three million troops on the Southeast Asian battlefield. This has even accounted for half of the total army strength of the island country. Moreover, after more than half a year of recovery, the navy of the island country has become stronger again. A large number of aircraft carriers were in service, and the "Yamato-class" battleships were also in service, which further expanded the strength of the German Navy.

The current island country army has completely occupied the original Dutch Indonesia and New Guinea. Even with the assistance of the navy of the island country, it launched an attack on the Indochina Peninsula and Australia. But under the resistance of the German army, progress was very slow.

"Everyone, the war in North America has come to an end. Now, the empire can concentrate its forces to deal with the islanders. Compared with the United States, the population and industry of the island countries are much worse. However, we must not underestimate the islanders because of this. In fact, the fighting power of the island nation's army is stronger than that of the US army. Their fighting will alone is definitely comparable to many Americans. This also makes the island nation's army, although poorly equipped, but The threat to the imperial army is even greater than that of the US military!" Qin Tian reminded.

The marshals and generals of the army, navy and air force of the empire present all nodded. The war between Germany and the island countries in Southeast Asia has started for more than a year. Although, the German army had to take a defensive position on the Nanyang battlefield due to insufficient troops. Relying on excellent equipment and well-trained troops, the German army also made the islanders suffer a lot on the Nanyang battlefield and lost a large number of troops. However, it has to admit the tenacity of the island nation's army.

On the battlefield, very few islanders surrendered. Even in an extremely unfavorable situation, those soldiers of the island nation will charge bravely with their rifles until they are killed. It was as if they were not afraid of death at all. This is completely different from the military of the US military and other Western countries. It can be said that it is precisely because of this that the German army took a defensive position on the Nanyang battlefield.

"Your Majesty, the islanders on the Nanyang battlefield are indeed quite crazy. I have to admit that the bushido spirit of the islanders has a very powerful brainwashing effect. This makes those islanders seem not to be afraid of death at all, but regard death as the best thing." The destination is the same." Marshal Lundstedt, commander of the Imperial Army Group E, said.

This time Kaiser Qin Tian specially convened a battle meeting on the Eastern battlefield, and Marshal Lundstedt also specially returned from the Nanyang battlefield to participate in this meeting. After all, this battle is about the German Empire's operations on the Eastern battlefield.

"Although the islanders are very strong, they are not afraid of death when fighting. However, if the empire concentrates on them, it can still crush them to pieces. Maybe, after the empire fell to the United States, the islanders have been frightened" Marshal Rommel said.

"It's true. The empire's demise of the United States has indeed shocked the people of the island nation. Even the offensive of the army of the island nation in Southeast Asia and Australia has stagnated because of this." Marshal Rundstedt said.

"Compared to European powers, the island country is just a rising upstart. Whether it is industrial strength or military strength, it cannot compare with Western powers. Relying on the spirit of bushido who is not afraid of death, it may be able to scare some people. country. But in general, there is nothing to worry about. If the island country is not too far away from the empire, the empire can easily destroy them." Marshal Raeder said.

Indeed, the main advantage of the island nation lies in its distance from Europe, which makes it very difficult for Germany to deploy its powerful military power to the Far East. Of course, Germany's shipping strength is also very terrifying now. This is most vividly shown in the attack on the North American continent. After solving the United States, Germany's powerful maritime strength can be liberated. Therefore, the end of the island nation has undoubtedly arrived.

"Everyone, no matter what, the next focus of the empire is to destroy the island nation. Does the General Staff have a plan for this?" Qin Tian asked.

"Your Majesty, the General Staff has drawn up a battle plan. We are going to send more troops to Southeast Asia and Australia to strengthen the empire's military power in Southeast Asia and Australia, and defeat the army and navy of the island country in one fell swoop. Then, we will march to the mainland of the island country. Like the destruction of the United States, the island nation will be completely destroyed!" Marshal Manstein said.

Qin Tian nodded: "I want to remind you that it is not so easy to destroy an island country. Even if we attack their homeland and wipe out their army, they will resist. Even, those island countries People will also go crazy and attack our army with all kinds of weapons. The entire nation of the island country is very crazy."

Marshal Manstein and others nodded with serious faces. If the islanders are really that crazy, then the German army will indeed work harder and pay a higher price if they want to destroy the island country.

"I authorize the General Staff to drop nuclear weapons when necessary!" Qin Tian said.

Marshal Manstein and others couldn't help but be taken aback. Germany has nuclear weapons, which they all know. However, they all knew that Qin Tian did not advocate the use of nuclear weapons in war. Because it's like Pandora's box, once opened it can never be closed again. Therefore, for enemies that can be defeated by conventional forces, Germany has been using conventional forces instead of nuclear forces. Now, Qin Tian actually authorized them to use nuclear weapons, which also made these German generals feel that the battle of the island nation might be more difficult than they imagined.

"Your Majesty, if nuclear weapons can be used in the island country, then our chances of winning will be even greater." Marshal Albert Kesselring said.

Anyone who has seen a nuclear explosion knows very well that it will be a force that will destroy the world. Human beings appear so insignificant in front of such a powerful force. No matter how tenacious the island people's will to resist is, it is useless. Because nuclear weapons will destroy their spirits as well as their bodies.

After the last nuclear explosion, Germany began efforts to miniaturize nuclear weapons. With the efforts of almost the best scientists in the world, Germany has made a breakthrough in the miniaturization of nuclear weapons. It is expected that Germany will soon be able to use airdrops to apply nuclear weapons to the battlefield. At that time, after Germany has mastered this ultimate power, it will undoubtedly be the most powerful army in the world. No one can stand against Germany anymore.

The generals of the empire have also greatly increased their confidence in this. Although, the islanders will be very tenacious and will attack the German army frantically. But if the German army dropped the atomic bomb directly on the mainland of the island country, they don't believe how long the island people can last.

"Everyone, it's already June, and it's only half a year before Christmas. I hope that our war against the island nation can end within half a year. Let all the soldiers have the opportunity to go home for Christmas!" said Qin Tian.

"Yes, Your Majesty!" All the generals of the empire replied. In their view, it is not a problem to solve the island country within half a year.

Chapter 1747

"Your Majesty, the empire will destroy the island nation within half a year. If nuclear weapons are not considered, the empire will have to further increase its troops on the Nanyang battlefield. Otherwise, with the troops currently deployed by the empire in Nanyang, it will not be possible at all. It is possible to defeat the island nation," Marshal Manstein said.

Qin Tian nodded and looked at Marshal Lundstedt.

"What's the current situation in Nanyang and Australia?" Qin Tian asked.

"Your Majesty, the empire now has a total of six armies in Nanyang, the Navy's Pacific Fleet and Indian Ocean Fleet, and the Air Force's 5th, 6th, and 7th aviation groups. Generally speaking, relying on these armies can only withstand the island country's army and Naval offensive. If you want to counterattack and wipe out the troops sent by the island countries to Southeast Asia and Australia, it is far from enough." Marshal Lundstedt said.

After receiving large-scale reinforcements, the strength of the southern army of the island country has been extremely inflated. The divisions, corps, and fronts that were wiped out one by one by the German army on the battlefield have been rebuilt. In addition, the island country army also transferred a lot of troops from other general armies to reinforce the southern army. This makes the total strength of the Southern Army close to 3 million people, which can be called the most powerful total army in the island country army.

Now, the troops under the jurisdiction of the Southern Army of the island country include the Philippine Front Army, the Lanyin Front Army, the 7th Front Army, the 14th Front Army, the 18th Front Army, the 5th Front Army, the 8th Front Army, the 10th Front Army, the 2nd Army, the 18th Army, the 37th Army, 38th Army, 4th Army, 31st Army and 34th Army. A total of 8 front armies and 7 armies. The strength of each front and army of the Japanese Army is different. Some fronts and armies have hundreds of thousands of troops, while others have only 20,000 to 30,000 troops. However, the total strength of the troops under the entire southern army has reached more than two hundred and nearly three million.

However, in the previous battles, many troops under the Southern Army were wiped out by the Germans in the battle of Borneo. These troops are now being reorganized, but with the exception of a very small number of main troops, most of them are recruits. Compared with the previous elite veterans, the combat effectiveness is relatively poor. This is why the German army was able to rely on the six armies to resist the attack of the island country army in the Indochina Peninsula and Australia.

In addition to the army, the island country army aviation also deployed the entire four air armies in Nanyang and Australia to confront the German air force. It's just that, regardless of the number or performance of fighters, and the quality of pilots, the island nation's army air force is at a disadvantage. Even in order to support the island country, the Americans transferred the production technology of the P-47 fighter jet and the P-51 fighter jet to the island country. The Japanese army has also begun to replace these two types of aircraft on a large scale. However, it is still not the opponent of the Luftwaffe.

The strength of the island nation's navy has also become larger. In terms of capital ships, there are still eight capital ships left in the island navy, namely the battleships 'Yamashiro', the battleships 'Mutsu', the battleships 'Kaga' and the battleships 'Takao' that were damaged in the previous naval battle. cruiser. The other four are the latest four Yamato-class battleships in service. This brought the battleship formation of the Japanese Navy back to its heyday. Although the number is not as good as before, the combat effectiveness cannot be underestimated. In particular, the four 'Yamato-class' battleships are known as the most powerful battleships in the world.

In terms of aircraft carriers, the navies of the island countries have also been greatly improved. Two 'Xianghe-class' aircraft carriers, six 'Yunlong-class' aircraft carriers, 'Taifeng' aircraft carrier, two 'Xiangfeng-class' light aircraft carriers, 'Longfeng' light aircraft carriers, and two 'Qiantui-class' light aircraft carriers. In addition, in terms of aircraft carriers converted from merchant ships, the navy of the island country has also done its best. Now there are 7 modified aircraft carriers in service, namely two "Flying Eagle" aircraft carriers, three "Daying" light aircraft carriers, the "Shenyang" light aircraft carrier and the "Sea Eagle" aircraft carrier.

If all these aircraft carriers are added up, the island navy will have a full 21 aircraft carriers alone. Compared with the 8 aircraft carriers of the German Navy's Pacific Fleet and Indian Ocean Fleet, it is much more. Of course, the eight aircraft carriers of the German Navy are all large aircraft carriers, especially the two "Lord God" aircraft carriers supplemented by the aircraft carrier formation of the Indian Ocean Fleet, which can carry 120 carrier-based aircraft, and one can support several ships The light aircraft carrier of the island navy.

However, the domestic shipyards in the island country are still rushing to build more aircraft carriers. There are as many as ten subsequent ships built for the 'Yunlong-class' aircraft carrier. As a large aircraft carrier, the "Gai Taifeng-class" aircraft carrier also built five ships at one time. Moreover, in the case of three shifts, the construction progress of these aircraft carriers is very fast. Perhaps in the near future, these aircraft carriers will be able to serve. If the war drags on to that time, the navy of the island country will have even stronger power. If the German navy wants to defeat the island navy, I am afraid it will have to pay a greater price.

Of course, after the German Navy has solved the US Navy, it has no opponents in the Atlantic Ocean, and it can send reinforcements to fight in the South China Sea and Australian waters at any time. In this case, the German navy can completely form an overwhelming advantage over the island nation's navy.

Coupled with the advantages of the German navy in terms of carrier-based aircraft performance, there is no problem in completely suppressing the island navy and defeating them.

Qin Tian looked at Marshal Manstein after learning about the strength of the island country's army and navy, as well as the battle situation in Southeast Asia and Australia.

"Marshal Manstein, is the General Staff ready to send additional reinforcements to the Far East?" Qin Tian asked.

"Your Majesty, a plan to send additional reinforcements has been drawn up." Marshal Manstein said.

"The Imperial Army plans to send 14 additional armies to the Far East, making the Imperial Army's troops in the Far East reach 20 armies. The additional troops are the 3rd Army, the 4th

Army, the 7th Army, the 13th Army, and the 16th Army. 19th Army, 25th Army, 27th Army, 28th Army, 29th Army, 31st Army, 33rd Army, 35th Army and 36th Army.

The Imperial Navy will send the Atlantic Fleet to expedition to the Far East.

The Imperial Air Force will send the 1st Aviation Group, the 2nd Aviation Group, the 8th Aviation Group, the 1st Strategic Aviation Group, the 2nd Strategic Aviation Group and the 3rd Strategic Aviation Group to the Far East. "Marshal Manstein introduced.

Qin Tian nodded, expressing his satisfaction with this reinforcement plan.

The capital of the island country, Tokyo.

The island country has been involved in this war for more than a year. Although, the island nation suffered heavy casualties in this war, paying more than one million casualties. However, they succeeded in occupying the Philippine Islands and Dutch Indonesia as well as the island of New Guinea. From these islands, the island nation obtained a great deal of resources. Petroleum, rubber, steel and various non-ferrous metals are continuously transported from Southeast Asia to the mainland of the island country.

Even if Germany sent a lot of submarines to ambush merchant ships from island countries. However, the island country still transported a large amount of resources back to the mainland. These resources have turned into pieces of weapons, equipped with the army and navy of the island country, making the military power of the island country continue to rise.

And this further made the island countries strengthen their offensives in Southeast Asia and Australia. The islanders seem to be eager to get more benefits after having tasted the sweetness of the day. They want to bring the whole of Nanyang and Australia into their rule.

But, a year has passed. Facing the troops deployed by Germany in Southeast Asia and Australia, although the army and navy of the island country were in an offensive position, they had no results. Indochina and Australia are still in the hands of the German army. Although the army and navy of the island country once landed on the Indochina Peninsula and Australia, they failed to expand the results of the battle and were driven back by the German army.

Repeated failures made the military of the island nation very angry. The commander of the Southern Army has been replaced, and General Toshiichi Terauchi has taken over the post. Just when General Kotobuki in the temple was preparing to do a great job in this position, a shocking news came from the west. The United States, the master behind the island country, was destroyed by the Germans.

This is undoubtedly a bolt from the blue for the island nation. You must know that the most important reason for the island countries to recover from the disastrous defeat in the last world war is the support of the United States for them. The United States has provided a large amount of loans, a large amount of resources and technology to the island country, which has allowed the military strength of the island country to expand rapidly. Even when it was unfavorable for the island country to attack Nanyang, the United States directly transferred the Philippine Islands to the island country, allowing the island country to use this as a springboard to attack Borneo.

In the minds of islanders, the United States is undoubtedly powerful. They also hope that the United States can always hold back Germany's footsteps, so that it can buy more time for the island country. Allow the island nation to capture the entire Southeast Asia and Australia, and even further capture India. In this case, the island country will undoubtedly be able to develop into a world-class power.

But sadly, their ambitions were hit hard at the very beginning. The United States, which they placed high hopes on, actually collapsed like this. This is beyond their expectations! What's more terrible is that after the defeat of the United States, Germany has won the final victory in the West. No need to think about it, Germany will definitely increase its troops to the Far East next. Although the current military strength of the island country is very strong, the rulers of the island country don't think they can confront Germany. Especially when Germany can concentrate on attacking the island country, the island country has absolutely no ability to fight against Germany!

In the Prime Minister's Office of the island country, the new Prime Minister Hideki Tojo and a group of important ministers all looked ugly.

Now Hideki Tojo no longer has the excitement of monopolizing power on his face, but instead has a face full of metaphors.

In this term of the cabinet, Hideki Tojo not only served as the prime minister of the island country, but also served as the Minister of War, Minister of Internal Affairs and Minister of Education. Even Hideki Tojo planned to serve as the Minister of Foreign Affairs as well, truly realizing the power to dominate the island country.

Originally, this was undoubtedly a good job. But now it seems that this is a pit of fire! If the island country loses in the war against Germany, then Hideki Tojo, who holds the power of the island country, will inevitably pay the price for it. Even, he absolutely cannot survive. This also made Hideki Tojo even a little regretful. If he had known earlier, he would not have squeezed Konoe Fumimaro down, and would have continued to let him be the prime minister. In this case, even if the battle is defeated, Konoe Fumimaro will be at the front.

It's just that it's too late to say these things now.

"Gentlemen, the news has been confirmed. The United States has indeed been defeated. The President of the United States has signed the surrender document. The United States has officially surrendered to Germany unconditionally. The remaining troops of the US military have surrendered to the Germans." Tojo Hideo Ji's face was gloomy, as if water could drip out.

"Baga! Americans are all worthless? How could they be so vulnerable? They have a population of more than 100 million, a powerful industry second only to Germany in the world, and an army of 8 million. How could it be? It was defeated by the Germans in just two months? This is really unbelievable." Admiral Shimoda Shigetaro, Minister of the Navy of the island country, said.

The other cabinet ministers and military ministers of the island country also looked very shocked. After all, in the minds of islanders, the United States is undoubtedly already very powerful. But now, the United States has been defeated so quickly, which really subverts their three views!

It took only two months for the German Army to launch an attack on the U.S. military until the U.S. admitted defeat and surrendered unconditionally. Even if the previous strategic bombing and even the attack on Canada are included, it has only been more than half a year. It took so little more time to defeat the United States, which really exceeded everyone's expectations. After all, it took Germany nearly a year to defeat Russia before concentrating its forces on attacking Russia. The overall strength of the United States is much stronger than that of Russia no matter how you look at it.

The island government and military even once thought that even if the U.S. Navy lost in the Atlantic Ocean. However, relying on the army and the geographical advantages of the North American continent, the United States can withstand the German attack no matter what. No matter how bad it is, it can last for several years.

But now they understand that the United States is nothing more than a fierce-looking paper tiger, which can be broken with a single poke.

Of course, the Americans failed so quickly, and they also pitted the island country. When the island congress declared war on Germany, it was entirely because of the strong instigation of the United States. Even the United States threatened the island country by stopping the supply of resources to the island country, forcing the island country to declare war on Germany. Now, the United States has been destroyed by Germany so easily. Didn't it drag the island country into the water? You don't need to think about it, Germany will never let the island country go.

Chapter 1749

"Your Excellency Prime Minister, what should we do now? After the Germans destroy the United States, they will definitely concentrate their forces to deal with us. The fighting power of the Imperial Army is indeed strong, but if you want to fight against the German army, I am afraid it is still insufficient." Kangxiang Heya Xingxuan said.

Hideki Tojo nodded, even if he was arrogant, he would not think that the army and navy of the island country had the strength to fight against the German army. Even though the strength of the island country's army and navy has made great progress, it is undeniable that there is still a very big gap compared with the German army.

"The current initiative is no longer in our hands. Everything depends on the Germans." Foreign Minister Matoku Togo said.

Indeed, the island nation has already joined this war, and has been fighting Germany in Nanyang for more than a year. Although the losses of the island countries were greater, they also caused certain losses to Germany. Therefore, if you want to shake hands and make peace, it is almost impossible. They also know that Germany will never let them go. However, if you continue to fight, you are doomed to fail. Therefore, this made the rulers of the island countries not know what to do.

"Gentlemen, do you have any good strategies that can get us through this crisis?" Hideki Tojo asked.

"Your Excellency Prime Minister, can we try to have peace talks with Germany? Even if we pay a certain price, we must keep our country. The Germans are all engaged in a war of destruction in this war. Russia was destroyed by the Germans, Britain and the United States were also destroyed by the Germans. Now, if the Germans gather all their forces to deal with us, we may still be unable to resist. Follow in the country's footsteps." Dongxiang Maode suggested.

In the case that the army is destined not to be the opponent of the Germans, summation is undoubtedly the best choice. In that case, at least the country's heritage can be preserved, and it will not be directly destroyed by Germany in the war like Russia, the United States and Britain.

Hideki Tojo frowned. If he asks for peace now, the Germans may not agree so easily. In other words, the island will pay a huge price for this. Not only will the territories occupied in this war have to be spit out, but if it is not done well, more costs will be paid. This is undoubtedly unacceptable to the Japanese military. After all, they spent a huge price and paid a heavy sacrifice to successfully occupy those overseas territories.

"It may be difficult to succeed in peace talks with the Germans now. The Germans have just destroyed the United States, and it is high-spirited time. They may not take us seriously." Hideki Tojo said.

"This is for sure. After the demise of the United States, no country can shake the hegemony of the Germans. Although the strength of the empire is also very strong, the Germans must have the confidence to defeat us." Marine Minister Shibata Shigetaro said .

"In addition, if we negotiate peace with the Germans, the territories we occupy in Southeast Asia, even the Philippine Islands of the Americans, will have to be handed over to the Germans. That is the territory that the imperial soldiers paid for millions of people. Ah! It is the basis for the rise of the empire. How can we be reconciled to handing it back to the Germans in this way!" Hideki Tojo said.

Indeed, if those overseas territories are to be returned, the people of these island countries are very unwilling. They have longed for resource-rich territories overseas for many years. Now it has finally opened up the situation in Nanyang. Although the price paid is very high, it is finally hopeful. If it is returned to Germany, wouldn't the efforts of these years be in vain?

The ministers of the island's cabinet were silent. They all know that the generals and officers of the military are definitely unwilling to spit out those territories. Therefore, if those territories are to be returned to the Germans, the military will definitely not be able to pass.

"Unless our army can defeat the Germans, no matter how bad it is, we must resist the Germans' attack. Otherwise, not only will we not be able to keep those overseas territories, but even our homeland will be attacked by the Germans. There is a possibility of perishing!" Dongxiang Maode reminded. The current island country is already facing a crisis of subjugation. If you don't pay attention, the island country may become a historical term like the United States. If you really come to that step, that is the worst end.

The expressions of Hideki Tojo and the others could not help but become solemn. As Togo Matoku said, maybe their country will perish. If they really reached that step, then they are probably the sinners of the entire island country.

"Is there a way to keep the Philippine Islands and Dutch Indonesia, and at the same time end the war with the Germans?" Kaya Xingxuan asked.

Hideki Tojo couldn't help laughing, because he thought it was a very ridiculous question. How could there be such a good thing in the world?

"Unless we can defeat the Germans on the battlefield. Otherwise, those overseas territories cannot be kept." Hideki Tojo said.

So, the problem once again fell into an unsolvable state.

"Your Excellency, now we have only one way to go to the end, and we are ready to fight the Germans to the end. Unless we can gain an advantage on the battlefield, otherwise, the Germans will ignore us at all. If we can resist on the battlefield If we stop the German attack and make them pay a higher price. Perhaps, we can make the Germans give up attacking us. In that case, we can take the opportunity to negotiate peace with them, and hope to keep the Philippine Islands and Dutch Indonesia." Sea Shigetaro Aishimata said.

"It will be very difficult!" Hideki Tojo said. He has a very clear understanding of the gap in military strength between the two countries.

"It is indeed very difficult. But if we don't try, how will we know if a miracle will happen?" said Shimoda Shigetaro.

Hideki Tojo nodded, he also longed for a miracle in his heart.

"Your Excellency Prime Minister, then we can now prepare with both hands. On the one hand, immediately negotiate peace with the Germans and try to see if the Germans are willing to accept our armistice conditions. If the Germans are willing to armistice, that would be great .If the Germans are unwilling, then the only way is to use war. On the other hand, it is to fight to the death. Resist the German attack as much as possible and cause more casualties to the Germans. In this case, it may be possible to win A peace that is good for the empire," Matoku Togo suggested.

Hideki Tojo and others all agree with this.

Chapter 1750

Switzerland, a small country in Europe, is also a permanent neutral country. Even if Germany dominated the whole of Europe, it did not embarrass this small country. This also makes this country a pure land in the war. The war seems to be far away from here.

Of course, this is entirely because Germany does not want to touch this country. Otherwise, Germany only needs to use a little finger to destroy this small country.

As Germany continues to win the war, especially after Germany has destroyed even a powerful country like the United States, the eyes of all countries in the world have almost fallen on the islanders. Because everyone knows very well that after Germany solves the United States, it will definitely turn around and attack the island country.

As for whether the island country can withstand the German attack, almost no country is optimistic about the island country. After all, the strength gap between the two sides is really too big. Germany has defended its world supremacy and the title of the most powerful military force in the world through one victory after another. Although the island country is also very powerful, it is obviously not on the same level as Germany.

All countries believe that Germany is about to win the war, and there is no suspense. Even Taro Matsumoto, the island nation's ambassador to Switzerland, thinks so.

"Ambassador, a secret telegram from China!" The secretary respectfully put the telegram in Matsumoto Taro's hands.

Matsumoto Taro took the telegram and quickly read the above content. However, the expression on his face became very ugly.

The telegram was sent by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the island, asking Taro Matsumoto to contact the German side and strive to start peace talks. Moreover, the bottom line of the island country was proposed, which is to end the war based on the actual control area of the two sides.

"How is this possible? This is simply too whimsical. The Germans are about to win the world war. How can they talk to us at this juncture? Not to mention, they still want to continue to occupy those territories in Nanyang, This is simply impossible." Matsumoto Taro said. He had already expected that such conditions were simply impossible for the Germans to accept.

However, he can only execute domestic orders. Taro Matsumoto also knows that the country must have been frightened by the fiasco of the United States, and he is afraid that he will become the next United States. Therefore, I can't wait to have peace talks with Germany, hoping to keep the island country.

"Your Excellency, what shall we do now?" asked the secretary.

"What else can we do? Get ready to contact the Germans. Do our best and see if a miracle will happen." Taro Matsumoto said helplessly. Many times, he was speechless because of the short-sightedness of those guys in the country. If it was him, under such circumstances, he should immediately voluntarily give up those territories in Nanyang in order to obtain Germany's understanding and achieve a truce. In that case, it is in the best interest of the island country.

But unfortunately, he is nothing more than the ambassador of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the island to a small country. He is simply not qualified to make suggestions for the destiny of the country. Those high-ranking cabinet ministers who control the fate of the island country don't care about the opinions of such a small person at all.

That night, Matsumoto Taro took an unremarkable car to the German embassy in Switzerland.

The German ambassador to Switzerland, Schneider, did not refuse to meet with the ambassador of the island country. Although, he hates these islanders very much. However, as an ambassador to a foreign country, he must perform his duties well. Of course, Ambassador Schneider had anticipated the intentions of the islanders. He also wanted to hear, at this time, what else can the islanders say? What kind of method is going to be used to appease Germany's anger.

"Mr. Schneider, I am very sorry for taking the liberty to visit." Matsumoto Taro was very humble in front of Schneider.

Of course, the islanders have always been like this. Even if he was playing some tricks in his heart, on the surface he was always very respectful.

"Mr. Matsumoto, please sit down!" Schneider said.

After a simple greeting, the conversation between the two entered the main topic.

"Mr. Schneider, congratulations to your army's victory on the North American battlefield. The German Empire is worthy of being the world's hegemon, and its army is also worthy of being the most powerful army in the world. No country in the world can compete with the German Empire." Matsumoto Taro complimented.

Schneider could not conceal his pride. Not only did Germany win the last world war, but in this world war, it seemed that it would also win the final victory. This is undoubtedly something that every German is proud of.

"The German Empire has always been the most powerful country in the world. Any country that attempts to provoke the German Empire will be crushed by the German Empire," Schneider said.

Matsumoto Taro knew that the countries that Schneider called provoking the German Empire also included island countries.

"Mr. Schneider, there is some misunderstanding between the island country and the German Empire. The ongoing war between our two countries is not voluntary by the island country government and people. All of this is behind the scenes of the Americans. At the beginning, the Americans forced We declare war on the German Empire. Otherwise, we will be sanctioned. Our government has made a wrong choice when there is no other way. Now, the United States has been destroyed by the German Empire and has received what it deserves Punishment. Therefore, the island government also hopes to correct past mistakes, end the war with the German Empire, and restore friendship." Matsumoto Taro said.

Matsumoto Taro put all the responsibility on the Americans. Anyway, the United States has been destroyed, and no one will say anything about putting * on them.

Of course, when the island nation declared war on Germany, it was persecuted by the United States. But the more important reason is that the island countries coveted Germany's colonies in Southeast Asia and Australia, and wanted to take advantage of the opportunity of Germany's war with other countries to seize those colonies. It's just that what they didn't expect was that Germany won the war so quickly, which was really beyond their expectations.

"Huh! Mr. Matsumoto, such words can be used to deceive children. Do you think that the German Empire will believe your excuses?" Schneider sneered.

"Mr. Schneider, this is not an excuse, but it is true. We really want to end the war with great sincerity. Our government hopes that we can cease the war on the condition that the actual control area of the two sides is now the condition, and hope that the German Empire can agree." Matsumoto Taro said.
