

Jagged 1781

Chapter 1781

"Marshal, the 3rd Army has defeated the 56th Corps, the 3rd Armored Division, and the 21st Mechanized Infantry Division of the Japanese Army. The troops directly under the Front Army are advancing eastward. The 25th Army Group is landing." Marshal Bock, commander of the F Group Army Group, reported.

Marshal Manstein nodded. After the German army successfully landed on Kyushu Island, it was almost impossible for the island country army to stop the German army. Next, the German army will quickly capture the entire Kyushu Island. And the resistance of the island army will be completely crushed.

"Are you ready for the landing on Shikoku and Honshu?" Marshal Manstein asked.

"Your Excellency, Marshal, the 27th Army will land on Shikoku Island tomorrow. The army of the island country deployed on Shikoku Island has only 4 divisions, an independent mixed brigade, an artillery headquarters and two tank regiments. With the strength of the 27th Army, it is enough to sweep them away! The 28th Army will land in Xiaguan the day after tomorrow, and advance to Honshu Island from here!" Marshal Bock replied.

"Well, let's implement this plan!" Marshal Manstein said.

"Army Group G ready?" Marshal Manstein looked at the commander of Army Group G, Marshal Keitel.

"Your Excellency the Marshal, the entire G Army Group is ready. The 4th Army will land tomorrow in Ise, Ise Bay, and the 16th Army will land in Hamamatsu. After that, the other groups of the G Army Group will land one after another, sweep across the entire Ise Bay, and send part of the army to attack north and south." Marshal Keitel said.

Marshal Manstein nodded. The arrangement of the Pacific Theater Command is that the F Group Army Group will land from Kyushu Island and then attack north. Army Group G landed in Ise Bay and attacked south and north respectively. In this case, the southern part of the island country can be occupied. As for the northern part of Honshu Island, this is also the focus of the island nation's defense. Army Group H and Army Group E of the Imperial Army will launch an offensive later.

Although the German navy and air force are very powerful, it is undoubtedly very difficult to support the actions of the German army on a large scale at the same time. Therefore, after both Army Group F and Army Group G have landed, their own firepower will be enough to crush the islanders. In this way, the Imperial Navy and Air Force will be able to fully support the actions of Army Group H and Army Group E.

Kyushu Island, Kumamoto City.

The main force of the 13th Army of the German F Army Group began to attack the island country army entrenched in Kumamoto. The 127th Infantry Division and the 128th Infantry Division under the Group Army are responsible for sweeping the towns and villages around Kumamoto City, clearing the island army in these places, and ensuring the safety of the logistics supply line.

During the ten days since the German army landed on Kyushu Island, there have been many attacks on the German logistics supply line by Japanese military forces and even civilians.

The strength of the German army is inseparable from its firepower. Without strong firepower, the German army's powerful combat power would be greatly reduced. But powerful firepower requires a lot of supplies. This also makes the protection of the logistics supply line the first priority for the German army on the battlefield.

North of Kumamoto City, Kikuyo-cho.

A brigade of the 109th Independent Mixed Brigade of the Island Army stationed here was defeated, and the remnants fled to the mountains. The main force of the 1st Regiment of the 128th Infantry Division of the German Army continued to pursue and at the same time sent a company into the village to ensure that there were no island soldiers and other armed personnel in the village.

When the German soldiers entered the village, they found a village with closed doors. The islanders here seemed to be frightened.

"Knock on the door, check the houses one by one, and don't let any island soldiers and armed personnel go. Remind again, pay attention to safety!" The captain and company commander ordered.

"Yes, sir!" The German soldiers replied one after another.

"Open the door, open the door!"

Two German soldiers held semi-automatic rifles and forcibly pushed away a wooden house.

Inside was an old man. The old man looked in horror at the German soldiers who pushed the door in, and seemed to be frightened.

"No armed men, go to the next room!"

A German soldier said.

Another German soldier nodded and turned to leave.

But at this time, the old man took out a pistol from his arms.

"Bang! Bang!"

The pistol fired, and two German soldiers were hit and fell to the ground.

"Shit! Kill him!"

A German squad leader roared loudly.

"Da da da!"

Squad opened fire with a machine gun, and the island old man was directly beaten into a honeycomb.

"Remind again, pay attention to safety! Shoot immediately if you find a threat! Don't care about the lives of these islanders!" The German captain and company commander gave the order with a dark face.

The elite soldiers under his command were not killed on the dangerous battlefield, but died here, which is really worthless.

"Yes, sir!" The German soldiers replied with a chill in their hearts.

"John, push open the door of that thatched hut, and I will cover behind you!" A young German soldier aimed a rifle at a thatched hut.

"Okay, Hans!" John nodded and pushed away a thatched hut.

After the door was pushed open, an island boy looked at him indifferently.

"Hi, boy!" John greeted with a smile. Then he turned around and said to Hans, "There's no danger, it's just a child!"

"Oh, God! John, lie down!" Hans was terrified.

John turned his head suspiciously, and saw a grenade smoking in the boy's hand.

"Oh, * it!" John yelled.

"Boom!"

The grenade exploded and the boy was blown to pieces. John was also killed.

After the German army entered the village, they were constantly attacked by the islanders. Although these islanders were civilians, now they have turned into thugs.

Whether they are men, women, old or young, they all seem to be crazy. They took rifles, pistols, grenades, and even agricultural tools and kitchen knives to attack the German troops who entered the village.

Some German soldiers did not open fire immediately because the opponent was a civilian. But they paid a heavy price for it. Many people died in the attacks of these islanders.

The German army was constantly attacked by these islanders on the mainland of the island country, and even more German soldiers died at the hands of these islanders than those who died in the hands of the island army on the frontal battlefield.

"Bastard! Order the frontline troops to stop being kind to those islanders! Being kind to them is to be cruel to yourself!" Marshal Manstein issued such an order with a dark face.

Chapter 1782

Manila, German Pacific Theater Command.

Marshal Manstein, Marshal Lundstedt, Marshal Bock, Marshal Keitel and Marshal Loeb all gathered here.

Although, the German army is launching a fierce attack on the mainland of the island country, and the progress is relatively smooth. However, the faces of the marshals of the imperial army were not very good-looking.

"Your Excellency, Marshal, I feel that our army is trapped in a quagmire. In addition to dealing with the frontal enemy, the army also has to be careful to deal with the attacks of other enemies from all directions. In particular, a large number of island country civilians are also involved. When it came to the offensive, this caused our troops to pay very heavy casualties." Marshal Bock said.

"Yes, Marshal. Those islanders are not civilians at all, but thugs. They attack our army with all kinds of weapons. There are rifles, pistols, and even grenades and explosives used by the army. Some people Even attacking our troops with agricultural tools and kitchen knives is simply impossible to defend against!" Marshal Keitel also rushed to say.

Marshal Manstein's face was also very ugly. During this period of time, the casualties of the German army on the frontal battlefield were only more than 20,000. However, more than 30,000 German troops were killed and wounded by the people of the island country. This made the casualties of the German army more and more serious. Naturally, these marshals of the Imperial Army couldn't sit still.

"Gentlemen, I think we are in big * trouble this time. Those islanders are even more difficult to deal with than we imagined! Originally we thought that even if the civilians of those island countries were hostile to us, but with our force Under awe, they will also be afraid. But now it seems that they are not afraid of death at all! This makes us afraid that if we want to capture the entire island country, the casualties will increase exponentially." Marshal Manstein said.

"Your Excellency Marshal, it seems that His Majesty the Emperor is right, the islanders are all lunatics!" Marshal Lundstedt said.

"Yes, the islanders are all lunatics. But how can we complete the task now?" Marshal Loeb asked.

Everyone looked at Marshal Manstein, waiting for his decision.

"Everyone, since the people of the island countries are all lunatics, then we will frighten them to death. I think that as long as the government and military of the island countries dare not fight any more, then the threat we face will be much lower." Marshal Manstein said.

Several marshals nodded again and again. But the problem is that the islanders are crazy, how can we scare them?

"I will immediately report to the country and ask His Majesty the Emperor to authorize us to use nuclear weapons! Since the islanders are already crazy, they cannot be dealt with by conventional weapons. This war is coming to an end soon, and let us truly see Let's see how powerful nuclear weapons are when applied to the battlefield!" Marshal Manstein said.

"This is a brilliant idea!" Marshal Keitel said.

The other marshals also had smiles on their faces. Although, they all know how powerful a nuclear weapon explosion will be. However, this weapon has never been used on the battlefield. The field marshals of the German Army were also very curious about these weapons.

Subsequently, Marshal Manstein sent a telegram to the country, requesting authorization to use nuclear weapons in the island country.

Emperor Qin Tian approved Marshal Manstein's request to use nuclear weapons without saying a word. For the island country to use, Qin Tian has no psychological burden at all.

The German Strategic Air Force acted immediately. Now Germany has made a breakthrough in the miniaturization of nuclear weapons, and has produced more than a dozen atomic bombs that can be dropped by heavy strategic bombers.

These atomic bombs were transported to the airports of the Russian Republic in the Far East by transport plane. The German Army specially dispatched guards to guard these atomic bombs. Their mission was not complete until the bombers carrying the bombs took off.

On the morning of October 31, two specially modified H-31 heavy bombers took off from an airfield in the Far East of the Russian Republic under the protection of 24TA-152 fighter jets.

These two H-31 heavy bombers have been specially modified. Anti-radiation lead plates are installed on the bulkhead to avoid radiation after the atomic bomb explodes.

One is responsible for dropping the atomic bomb, and the other is responsible for taking pictures and collecting various data after the atomic bomb explodes. German scientists also hope to obtain first-hand data after the atomic bomb exploded on the battlefield. This is very conducive to Germany's further research on nuclear weapons.

After an hour of flight, the fleet entered the sky above the mainland of the island country.

"Boom! Boom! Boom!"

The anti-aircraft guns on the ground began to fire on the German fleet. However, these aircraft are all flying at an altitude of more than 10,000 meters. These anti-aircraft guns can't threaten fighter planes flying at an altitude of tens of thousands of meters.

The fighter planes of the Army Air Force of the island country have almost lost in the previous battles, so they are powerless against the German fleet.

The air defense commander of the island got the news that the German army had dispatched a fleet to attack, but he didn't care. These days, the Luftwaffe has also been bombing the island country continuously, which has made him accustomed to it. What's more, there are only two bombers in this fleet, so it shouldn't cause too much impact.

The fleet crossed Honshu Island and flew all the way to Tokyo Bay.

Although, the cities in Tokyo Bay have been bombed into ruins in the previous bombing of the Luftwaffe. However, the German Army assembled a large number of troops around Tokyo Bay to prevent the German army from landing in Tokyo Bay.

"Get ready, drop the big guy in five minutes!" the captain ordered.

"clear!"

Five minutes later, an H-31 heavy bomber of the German army dropped an atomic bomb.

After the atomic bomb was dropped out of the cabin, a parachute opened.

This makes the atomic bomb fall very slowly.

"The Germans dropped a bomb, what is that?" an officer of the island army asked after seeing the atomic bomb in the sky with a telescope.

"Is it the leaflets sent by the Germans? Are they going to fight psychological warfare?"

"Huh! The warriors of the empire, how could they be frightened by the Germans like this?"

The atomic bomb quickly fell to a height of 300 meters from the ground.

"Boom!"

An earth-shattering explosion sounded.

Dazzling white light suddenly appeared in the sky, just like another sun hanging in the sky.

"what is that?"

Countless officers and soldiers of the island country army looked at the sun that suddenly appeared in the sky with a look of astonishment.

But then, they lost consciousness.

Chapter 1783

With the atomic bomb explosion point as the center, the terrifying shock wave rapidly expands around. The officers and soldiers of the island country army, as well as their equipment, flowers, trees and buildings, were all wiped out under the attack of the shock wave.

Under the attack of this atomic bomb, the army of the island country with more than 100,000 troops assembled nearby was wiped out. Many others were not killed on the spot, but they were exposed to radiation. In the next period of time, they will all lose their lives due to nuclear radiation.

The German bombers that dropped the atomic bomb in the sky also became very unstable due to the disturbance of the air current.

"God! What is the bomb we dropped? Is this the devil's weapon?" The German captain who carried out the bombing mission looked shocked. Obviously, he did not expect the atomic bomb dropped to be so powerful.

"Those islanders are finished. I didn't expect that we would have such a powerful weapon. However, it was thrown at the islanders. I am very happy." The pilot on the co-pilot had a smile on his face.

The island army on the ground was completely frightened. Little did they expect that a single bomb dropped by the Germans would kill so many of them. Moreover, there are still a large number of soldiers of the Japanese Army who are howling.

"Baga! How can the Germans have such powerful weapons? Report to the Supreme Command! Organize rescue immediately!" General Keisuke Fujie, commander of the 11th Front Army of the Japanese Army, ordered. He too was completely intimidated.

All the generals of the army of the island country were pale. They were frightened one after another.

Before, they still roared aggressively to fight the Germans to the end and severely damaged the Germans who landed. However, now I am completely terrified. Their fear could be clearly seen in their eyes.

The Office of the Prime Minister of the island country, the office of Prime Minister Hideki Tojo.

Although, the current war situation is very unfavorable to the island country. The entire Kyushu Island, Shikoku Island and southern Honshu are almost falling into the hands of the German army. The island army suffered heavy losses in these places. However, Prime Minister Hideki Tojo still gritted his teeth and insisted. He believed that the Germans would not be able to support it until the island army and the people further caused greater casualties to the German army.

"Your Excellency, Prime Minister, something is wrong!" Army Chief of Staff Gen. Sugiyama rushed into the office of Prime Minister Hideki Tojo with a look of horror.

"What's the matter? Did the Germans land in Tokyo Bay?" Prime Minister Hideki Tojo seemed very calm.

In order to resist the attack of the German army in Tokyo Bay, the island country army has deployed heavy troops in Tokyo Bay. The 11th Front Army, the 12th Front Army, and the 13th Front Army under the jurisdiction of the 1st General Army. There are also the 8th Front Army, the 10th Front Army, and the 31st Front Army directly under the base camp. In the northern part of Honshu Island, there are still a large number of island country troops as reserve forces. Once the German army lands, the armies of these island countries will launch a counterattack. Even if the German army cannot be defeated, the German army will pay an extremely heavy price. Prime Minister Hideki Tojo believes that under heavy losses, the German army will definitely not be able to hold on. When the time comes, it will be an opportunity for the island nation.

"No, Your Excellency Prime Minister. The Germans did not land, but they bombed." General Sugiyama Gen said.

"Bombing? What's the matter? It's not the first time the Germans have bombed." Prime Minister Hideki Tojo said nonchalantly.

"Your Excellency Prime Minister, the Germans dropped a bomb, a very terrifying bomb, but it killed more than 100,000 of our troops, and no less than 100,000 people were seriously injured." Admiral Sugiyama Moto said.

"What? How is this possible?" Prime Minister Hideki Tojo's face suddenly changed.

The Germans actually killed more than 100,000 of them with a single bomb, and more than 100,000 were injured. If this continues, the Germans only need a dozen or twenty such bombs to kill the entire island army! This battle cannot be fought at all.

"It's true, Your Excellency Prime Minister. General Fujie Keisuke personally called and confirmed it." General Sugiyama Moto said.

"It's over, it's all over now!" Prime Minister Hideki Tojo slumped down on the chair all of a sudden, his eyes glazed over. Only at this moment did he realize that all his calculations had vanished into thin air at this moment.

In the face of the strong strength of the Germans, any conspiracy is futile.

The German army is very satisfied with the power of the atomic bomb this time.

Marshal Manstein instructed the Luftwaffe to carry out follow-up bombing.

That afternoon, the German army dropped an atomic bomb on Yokohama. The island army assembled here was hit hard again.

The next day, the German army dropped two atomic bombs on the Boso Peninsula. Two atomic bombs are dropped on western Tokyo. These four atomic bombs directly caused hundreds of thousands of casualties to the Japanese army, and once again dealt a fatal blow to the Japanese army.

On the third day, the Luftwaffe dropped four atomic bombs in northern Honshu. The island nation's army deployed in this area has once again suffered heavy losses.

After three days, more than one million people in the island army have died under the German atomic bomb, and even more people have been injured. More importantly, the three-day atomic bomb attack directly destroyed the fighting spirit of the islanders. They knew very well that if the German army continued to drop atomic bombs, they would be dead.

No one knows how many such horrible bombs are still in the hands of the Germans. If the Germans are willing, it seems that they can directly destroy the island countries with atomic bombs.

Under such circumstances, the island government can no longer sustain it. They sent envoys to sue Germany for peace. And Germany also has only one request, and that is unconditional surrender.

Although, if Germany's request for unconditional surrender is agreed, it is tantamount to allowing Germany to be slaughtered. This is undoubtedly something that senior officials of the island government and military absolutely do not want to see. But, in such a situation, what other options do they have?

Finally, Prime Minister Hideki Tojo issued an order to accept Germany's unconditional surrender. The island army began to hand over weapons and equipment to the German army and formally surrendered.

This process lasted less than two weeks, and Germany completely controlled the entire island country.

Of course, countless islanders still hate the German army. There were even occasional attacks on German troops. But on the whole, the islanders have been spooked.

At this time, Marshal Manstein, commander of the Imperial Pacific Theater, received a domestic request. Emperor Qin Tian asked the Pacific Theater Command to organize a trial of war criminals from the island nation. In particular, Emperor Hirohito must be tried in Tokyo. Qin Tian knew very well that if he wanted to destroy the militarism of the island country, he had to pull the Emperor from the altar. Otherwise, the militarism of the island country will soon be revived.

Tokyo, Shibuya, Yoyogi Park.

This was originally a training place for the army of the island country, but now it has become a place for the trial of Emperor Hirohito.

The entire Yoyogi Park is now full of people. Countless islanders gathered here. The eyes of most islanders are full of anger. The emperor is a symbol of the island country, and in the hearts of countless islanders, he is even more like a god! Now, the Germans are going to try their emperor, which is undoubtedly a challenge to their beliefs.

However, the German army has long been prepared for this. An infantry division was deployed at Yoyogi Park alone. The commanding heights have all been occupied by German snipers. Even machine gun emplacements were deployed.

Not far from Yoyogi Park, the Germans deployed mortar positions.

In the suburbs, a brigade of 24 armed helicopters has been prepared. After the trial begins, the helicopters will take off one after another and stand by in the airspace around Yoyogi Park. Once the need arises, they can attack immediately.

In addition, the German army has an armored division, two mechanized infantry divisions and two infantry divisions on standby outside Tokyo.

Now that the island country's army has surrendered, the entire island country can no longer afford to turn around.

On November 16, the trial began.

The military judges who came from the mainland of Germany formally tried the war criminals of the island government and military.

Hideki Tojo, Moto Sugiyama, Shigetaro Shimada, Sami Nagano and others were all tried. Senior military officials of these island countries are all prosecuted for war crimes and crimes against humanity.

The judge's final sentence is the death penalty.

Although there are dozens of high-ranking officials from the government and military of these island countries. When they were judged, they all shouted that they were not guilty. However, he couldn't resist at all.

A large number of gallows have been erected in the park. After the judge read the letter of approval, these war criminals were sent to the gallows, hung up one by one, and ended their lives.

The final judge is undoubtedly Emperor Hirohito.

After Emperor Hirohito appeared on the stage, countless islanders chanted his slogans, trying to break away from the German guards and rescue the emperor. However, it was blocked by the German army.

At this moment, Emperor Hirohito no longer looked aloof, but had a look of horror on his face.

He is thin and thin, and looks timid. After stripping off the halo of the emperor, he is nothing but a middle-aged man with no merit.

The judge read Hirohito's crimes. Hirohito couldn't understand German, but he knew that it must not be a good thing, so he kept chanting his innocence.

"I am the emperor, I am not guilty, you can't judge me!" In order to survive, Hirohito is also fighting.

The people in Yoyogi Park also shouted that the emperor was innocent. Some people even wanted to storm the trial court and rescue Emperor Hirohito. However, in the face of the German bayonets, there were no people who really dared to act.

"I declare that Hirohito will be hanged for war crimes and crimes against humanity, and will be executed immediately!" the judge said loudly.

The German soldiers who were like wolves and tigers immediately dragged Emperor Hirohito to the gallows. Hirohito struggled crazily as if he knew that his life was about to come to an end. However, it didn't work at all.

Soon, Hirohito was hanged on the gallows.

"Kill the Germans, save the Emperor!" At this time, someone was agitating among the crowd. Countless islanders chanted slogans and charged the German defenses.

But these German soldiers will not let them go on like this.

There was a sound of the bolt being pulled, which scared the islanders enough.

"They dare not shoot!" Someone shouted.

This seemed to give these islanders courage, and they launched an attack again.

"boom!"

Gunshots sounded, and an islander was shot and fell to the ground.

Immediately afterwards, a large number of German troops opened fire.

"Bang! Bang! Da da da!" Rifles and machine guns fired one after another. A large number of islanders fell in a pool of blood.

Helicopters also flew over the park and began firing rockets and machine guns. Countless islanders were slaughtered. The rest of the people were also ordered, and they fled in all directions. After all, these islanders are nothing but civilians. Facing the iron-blooded suppression of the German army, they simply did not have the courage to resist.

At this time, Emperor Hirohito had stopped struggling and made no sound.

After the trial, the spiritual beliefs of the islanders seemed to have collapsed. They seemed to accept their fate, and attacks on the German army rarely happened. The entire island country is under the control of the German army.

Regarding the disposal of the island country, the German government decided to impose military control on the island country after research. The entire island country is divided into five military areas. Managed by the German Army. As for whether the island country will be established again in the future, it depends on Germany's subsequent choices.

The war has come to this point, it can be regarded as an end.

On December 20, 1941, on Christmas Eve, Kaiser Qin Tian held a grand military rank promotion ceremony in the Imperial Palace.

Reich Minister of War and Chief of the General Staff Manstein was promoted to Reich Marshal.

Imperial Navy Minister Raeder was promoted to Imperial Marshal.

Imperial Air Minister Albert Kesselring was promoted to Marshal of the Empire.

Guderian, Rommel, Bromberg, Lütjens, Edward Milch and others were also promoted to the ranks of Imperial Marshals.

There are also a large number of generals who have been promoted to marshals of the Imperial Army.

At one time, a total of 12 marshals were promoted to marshals of the empire. There are also dozens of generals who have been promoted to marshals of the imperial army.

As for other promotions, there are many.

The soldiers of the empire, with one victory after another, made the empire win the war. Then, of course, the empire will not be stingy in giving them more honors.

As the victor of this world war, Germany once again consolidated its dominance. Not only has the territory been further expanded, but the colony has also stabilized.

In order to control the world, although the German army disarmed after the war, the remaining army, navy and air force are still the most powerful army in the world. At the same time, there are also a large number of military bases around the world for German troops to station. So that the German army can maintain its overseas interests, and when the interests of the German Empire are damaged, it can send troops to attack as soon as possible.

On several continents in the world except Antarctica, there are German colonies and military bases. There are not only German military bases, but also German warships cruising in the oceans all over the earth. It can be said that at this time, Germany has truly achieved the global military, and the whole world is under the control of Germany.

In 1946, Emperor Qin Tian abdicated and passed the throne to Crown Prince Friedrich. After a busy life, start enjoying the rest of your life.

The End