

Jagged 603

In the North Sea, on the battleship Bavaria, the flagship of the German Navy, Admiral Reinhard Scheer frowned tightly. However, when he saw the huge warships riding the wind and waves on the sea, his brows stretched.

According to the information received, the US fleet left its home port and entered the Atlantic Ocean. When it was impossible to judge the intentions of the Americans, the German Navy was very vigilant. In order to avoid being attacked, the main fleet of the German Navy left the military port and entered the North Sea, preparing to go deep into the Atlantic Ocean to deal with all possible problems. If the Americans really want to intervene in this war, the German Navy doesn't mind killing them by the way. After all, in the face of the powerful German navy, the strength of the U.S. Navy is nothing at all.

The powerful warships of the German Navy are undoubtedly a guarantee of their strength. This made the German Navy not at all afraid of whether the U.S. Navy would join the war.

"General, an urgent telegram from General Lübeck!" The adjutant reported to Admiral Reinhardt Scheer.

Admiral Reinhard Scheer frowned after reading the telegram.

"The American battleship is flying the British naval flag. What's going on?" Admiral Reinhardt Scheer couldn't figure out why. However, no matter what. The battle has already begun.

"The Americans and the British must have colluded secretly. It seems that they want to catch us off guard. Fortunately, we have the relevant information and reacted in advance. Otherwise, we will be in big trouble." Lieutenant General Hipper said.

Admiral Reinhardt Scheer nodded: "Send a telegram to General Spee and ask him to rescue General Lübeck and the others with all his strength! Regardless of whether there is any conspiracy in it, the Imperial Navy can only do so in this battle." We must win, we cannot lose. As for the Americans, after we win this naval battle, we will have plenty of means to deal with them!"

"Yes, General." Lieutenant General Hipper nodded.

"In addition, report this news to the country! His Majesty the Emperor and His Excellency the Marshal must also be paying attention, so don't make them wait." Admiral Reinhard Scheer said.

"Hmm!" Lieutenant General Hipper was noncommittal.

At the same time, Admiral Reinhardt Scheer also issued an order for the fleet to speed up. Originally, the fleet was cruising at a speed of 12 knots. However, now that the battle has begun, it is natural to rush to the battlefield as soon as possible. Under the command of Admiral Reinhard Scheer, the speed of the fleet accelerated to 20 knots. In this case, it only takes one day for them to reach the sea area where the incident occurred.

Berlin, Imperial Palace, the office of Emperor Qin Tian.

The Minister of the Imperial Navy, Marshal Earl Tirpitz, and the Minister of the Imperial Army and Chief of the General Staff von Falkenhain joined hands to seek an audience.

"Your Majesty, the navy has already exchanged fire with the enemy. However, it is not sure whether they are Americans or British. We can be sure that the warship belongs to the Americans. However, after the battle broke out, the flag was replaced by the British St. George's." flag!" said Marshal Count Tirpitz, frowning.

"Your Majesty, this must be a conspiracy. The Americans and the British have colluded. Even if the Americans have no guts to get directly involved in the war, they undoubtedly gave the British great support. Otherwise, those warships It is impossible to fly the British navy flag." Von Falkenhain also said.

"I will ask the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to send a note to the United States. If they want to get involved in the war, this is of course not a good thing for the empire. However, the empire is not afraid of them!" Qin Tian said.

"Your Majesty, I always think that the Americans have no courage to join the war at this time. After all, we have already gained an absolute advantage in this war. Even victory in this war is inevitable. The United States Even if people join the war, they can't change the result. Therefore, as long as the leaders of the Americans don't have problems with their heads, they won't join the war." Von Falkenhain said.

Qin Tian nodded: "Yes, but from the standpoint of the Americans, they undoubtedly hope that the empire will lose this war. No matter how bad it is, the empire will have to pay a greater price in this war. So , They will spare no effort to support the British. I think those warships should fly the flag of the British Navy for this reason. The US government transferred those warships to the British. They even directly let American sailors participate in this war , but in the name of the British."

"Damn Yankee!" Marshal Earl Tirpitz couldn't help cursing.

"The intentions of the Americans are undoubtedly extremely sinister. But for the empire, there is no other way now. Even if we know the purpose of the Americans, we cannot declare war on them. After all, it is best for us to end the war as soon as possible. Favorable!" Qin Tian said.

Marshal Earl Tirpitz and Marshal von Falkenhain both nodded. They naturally knew the current situation. If the war continues to drag on, it will cause great losses to Germany.

"We can only record what the Americans have done for the time being. If there is a chance in the future, let them pay for it!" said Marshal Earl Tirpitz.

"The most important thing now is that we have to win this naval battle. Only in this way can the American conspiracy be smashed. Let the Americans know that the trap they have painstakingly set is only to increase the results of the Imperial Navy. That's all." Qin Tian said.

"Yes, Your Majesty. General Reinhardt Scheer has already responded. The other warships of the Breakthrough Fleet will immediately go to the sea area where the incident occurred for reinforcements. The main force of the High Seas Fleet is also on its way to the actual incident location." It is estimated that we will be able to arrive tomorrow. At that time, the Imperial Navy will directly defeat the Americans and the British with its powerful strength!" Marshal Earl Tirpitz said.

Qin Tian nodded, he was very assured of the strength of the Imperial Navy. It can be said that even if the Americans and the British are tied together, they are now unable to confront the empire in terms of navy. The final victory will definitely belong to the empire.

In the Atlantic Ocean, Lieutenant Admiral Spee, commander of the Imperial Navy's High Seas Fleet, also knew that the situation was critical after receiving an order from Admiral Reinhard Scheer, and ordered the fleet to quickly approach the fleet led by Rear Admiral Lübeck. The other nine battlecruisers rushed to the battle area at a speed of up to 25 knots.
