

Jagged 61

Chapter 61: swept the world

June 1906, Berlin, Linden Avenue, the headquarters building of the Deutsche Welfare Lottery.

People passing by here suddenly discovered that the wall of this building was suddenly covered with black canvas. Many people don't understand why this happens. Someone was very curious about this and went to ask what was going on. However, the result is that everything will be announced soon.

On June 18th, when people passed by here again, they found that the black canvas had disappeared. In its place was a giant poster. The poster is divided into two parts, the left part is a handsome young man, riding on a mighty motorcycle, giving people the feeling, not to mention how handsome he is. On the left part, there is a blond beauty riding a small motorcycle. The motorcycle is exquisite and cute. After it is painted with red paint, few women can resist such a temptation.

"God! What is that? A motorcycle? How can there be such a handsome motorcycle!" A young man stared at the poster dumbfounded, and he seemed to be going stupid. The only thing he wanted to do was probably Buy one of these motorcycles today.

"My God! It's so beautiful and cute. Does anyone know where the motorcycle on the poster is sold? I must buy one." A young lady also exclaimed.

Many people stopped because of this poster, and there was a lot of discussion about it. Everyone has never seen a motorcycle with this shape before, and they were all shocked.

The same poster is not only in Berlin. Almost all major cities in Germany have such posters. The lottery tickets of the two motorcycles of Daimler AG were also listed in the betting stations of the German Welfare Lottery Company in various places, so that these two motorcycles were known to all Germans in the first place.

At the same time, Daimler also purchased a large space in major newspapers for publicity. The newspaper not only introduced the performance of the two motorcycles, but also introduced the sales time.

"Oh my god! How can it be possible that it won't go on sale until a month later? I've already been conquered, and I want to own it now!" A young man scratched his hair, very annoyed.

"Damn the manufacturer, can't they be faster? Don't they know that they will go to * if they tantalize people like this!" A young girl cursed through gritted teeth.

Daimler's two motorcycles, although not yet on the market, are already well known throughout Germany. Many people who have the desire to buy are counting their fingers to live, looking forward to the early launch of these two motorcycles.

It took Daimler a month to buy or rent stores in major cities in Germany to sell their motorcycles and future cars. At the same time, it also provides maintenance services for these motorcycles and cars. And this is the prototype of the 4S shop of later generations.

On July 18, the first batch of 20,000 motorcycles of Daimler AG was put into the market, 10,000 motorcycles for men and 10,000 motorcycles for ladies. The prices of the two motorcycles are 1,500 marks and 1,000 marks respectively. Such a price, in terms of current prices, is undoubtedly very expensive. It takes about two years' salary for an ordinary worker to buy one. But even so, it can't stop their desire to buy.

"God! How expensive?" A young man complained.

"Idiot, of course the price is not cheap for such a mighty motorcycle. If you don't buy it, get out of the way and don't block the way in front!" said a big man in the back.

"Who said I won't buy it? I'm just complaining. Everyone wants to buy such a good motorcycle. If you don't buy it now, you don't know when you will go next time." The young man muttered. He is not an idiot either, knowing that Daimler's motorcycles will definitely be snapped up once they go on the market. If you don't seize this opportunity now, it will be even more difficult to buy in the future.

Sure enough, the 20,000 motorcycles that went on the market this time were all sold out within a day. This not only shocked the executives of Daimler, but also shocked the other motorcycle manufacturers. ground jaw. They never thought that such an expensive Daimler motorcycle would be sold so well. You know, when they learned the price of Daimler motorcycles, they asserted that these two motorcycles would not be sold at all. However, reality gave them a slap in the face.

Those who were also shocked were those who were hesitating. After all, such an expensive price is not a small amount for many people. But just when they were hesitating, they were all sold out. While they were shocked, they also regretted it very much. Many people complain that they are not decisive enough. If they can make up their minds to buy immediately, they will not miss this opportunity. The next time I want to buy, I don't know how long I will have to wait. Of course, I don't know how many people began to write to Daimler, asking them to put in the next batch of motorcycles as soon as possible to satisfy everyone's desire to buy.

"His Royal Highness, it is too unbelievable. A total of 20,000 motorcycles were sold out in one day. When did the purchasing power of the German people become so strong!" The next day, Paul Dai Muller rushed to Berlin in person to report the sales situation to Qin Tian. You know, the entire Daimler company was shocked by this sales speed.

"Mr. Daimler, this is only the beginning. With the free advertising of those who have bought our motorcycles, our motorcycles will soon be popular all over Germany, Europe, and the world. When the time comes, orders will flow to Daimler like snowflakes. Are you and the company all ready?" Qin Tian asked calmly, as if he was not shocked by the sales figures.

"Your Highness, the whole company is ready. After deducting the 20,000 motorcycles sold, we still have 20,000 motorcycles in stock. After expanding the production scale, we can sell 40,000 motorcycles every month in the future. a motorcycle," said Paul Daimler. In his view, this is already an extremely high output. When the factory was expanded, it was Qin Tian who insisted on upgrading to such a production scale. Otherwise, the monthly production of 20,000 vehicles may be the limit.

"Is the monthly production of 40,000 vehicles really enough? Maybe even the demand in Europe can't be met." Qin Tian couldn't help but shook his head.

Chapter 62: military motorcycle

The sales of the two motorcycles produced by Daimler can no longer be described as hot. The second batch of 20,000 motorcycles also sold out within a day. The German people love these two motorcycles very much. Especially young people are proud to own these two motorcycles.

This also made Daimler's stores in various places always line up long after the sale date, and many people even started queuing up the night before in order to be able to buy it. Even if Daimler puts 40,000 motorcycles on the market every month, it took three months to ease the situation. But even so, Daimler's motorcycle sales are very good.

Other motor vehicle manufacturers have also begun to enter this field. However, Daimler took the lead in registering a lot of shape patents, so that other companies can only redesign, which not only wastes a lot of time, but also produces products that cannot satisfy consumers. compete with Daimler.

Other countries in Europe have also set off a wave of buying by these two motorcycles. It's just that Daimler can't even meet Germany's domestic needs, let alone open up foreign markets. In order to ensure the impact on foreign markets, Qin Tian decided to allocate 5,000 vehicles from the monthly production to the markets of Britain, France and the United States. There is no doubt that the two motorcycles of Daimler have also achieved great success in these countries. However, the number is too small. For everyone's strong demand, thousands of motorcycles are like a drop in the bucket.

Under such circumstances, Daimler had to further increase production, hoping to meet market demand as soon as possible. Of course, it is also to seize more markets as soon as possible. The most popular products in the market are the ones that are most likely to follow suit. Even if the imitation products are not as good as the original products, it is still a big attraction for those who have been unable to buy them for a long time.

And Qin Tian's attention has long been absent from Daimler's civilian motorcycles. When civilian motorcycle sales were booming, Daimler's research and development department developed a military heavy motorcycle according to Qin Tian's request. There are a total of two rounds and three rounds. The first batch of ten of these two military motorcycles arrived in Berlin at the end of August.

On September 2, Qin Tian was in a military camp outside Berlin. Qin Tian invited the main military leaders to watch the performance of these two heavy military motorcycles. He hopes to take this opportunity to get orders from the military. Of course, I also hope that the combat effectiveness of the troops can be further improved as a result.

Chief of the General Staff Moltke, Minister of War von Falkenhain, Minister of the Navy Marshal Count Tirpitz, Deputy Chief of the General Staff General Waldsee, Army Generals Kluck, Bilow, General Howson and Ma General Witts attended this event.

With Qin Tian's great success in business, he already has a very high social status. Coupled with his support for army building, he is also very respected in the military. Of course, this is primarily a naval aspect. Since the army has almost never received Qin Tian's support, his support in the army is relatively weak. Some army generals even complained because of this, thinking that Qin Tian, like William II, valued the navy and despised the army. But this didn't stop them from looking forward to Qin Tian. If Qin Tian can support the army as much as he supports the navy, then the army can also get a lot of benefits. It is precisely because of this that everyone is so respectful of Qin Tian's invitation.

It can be said that in many places, Qin Tian's influence has even surpassed that of Crown Prince William. If it weren't for the glamorous coat of the Crown Prince, Crown Prince William would have no way to compare with Qin Tian.

"Thank you very much for coming to watch our motorcycle show this time, and hope that our products can satisfy you." Qin Tian smiled.

"His Royal Highness, the motorcycles launched by your Daimler company have set off a frenzy of buying all over the country and even the whole of Europe. I have to admit that those two motorcycles are classics. My son and daughter, both They each bought one. If I were twenty years younger, I would be like those boys and spend all my money to snap up one." War Minister von Falkenhain said with a smile.

"Your Excellency has praised you. It is our honor to satisfy Your Excellency." Qin Tian replied with a smile.

"His Royal Highness, please start, we have other affairs, it is impossible to waste too much time here." Xiao Maoqi urged.

"I'm sorry, Chief of the General Staff, the performance will start soon." Qin Tian could tell that Maoqi was a little impatient. It can be said that among these people, Xiao Maoqi's attitude towards Qin Tian is relatively indifferent. However, Qin Tian can also understand, he knows that Little Mao Qi and Crown Prince William rarely have a close relationship, and he can be called a die-hard supporter of Crown Prince William. When Crown Prince William was hostile to Qin Tian, Xiao Maoqi naturally wouldn't have a good look towards Qin Tian.

Soon, the performance began. First up were ten two-wheeled motorcycles. Twenty heavily armed soldiers drove on the playground on these ten motorcycles. Even with a load of more than two hundred kilograms, these motorcycles still perform very well.

"Generals, the maximum speed of these motorcycles on the road can reach 90 kilometers per hour. They can also drive on dirt roads, but the speed will be affected to a certain extent. Even on grasslands without roads, they can continue. This makes it have limited off-road capabilities. If our army is equipped with such motorcycles, the marching speed will be greatly improved." Qin Tian introduced to everyone.

"Your Highness, when the troops are fighting, there will be no roads on the battlefield, and the terrain is not flat at all. Therefore, it is difficult to apply such a motorcycle to the battlefield." Mo Qi shook his head.

"Your Excellency, Chief of the General Staff, when our troops advance, they often advance along roads. Using motorcycles can greatly increase the speed of advance." Qin Tian explained.

"In my opinion, this point is not very useful. It is impossible for our troops to advance hundreds of kilometers a day on the battlefield." Little Maoqi shook his head.

"Your Excellency, Chief of the General Staff, I think our reconnaissance troops can be equipped with such military motorcycles, which will allow them to detect the enemy's situation faster and report to their superiors." Von Falkenhain interjected.

Chapter 63: Deliberately targeting (seeking collection)

"Your Highness, let's make a decision after watching the performances of other motorcycles!" General Waldzer, the deputy chief of staff, suggested. In fact, he came out to smooth things over.

The other generals also agreed. None of the people present were fools, so they could see that Mao Qi was indifferent to Qin Tian. What's more, Xiao Moqi didn't want the army to purchase military motorcycles produced by Qin Tian's factories at all. Although the performance of these military motorcycles is very good, if equipped, it will play a certain role in improving the combat effectiveness of the army.

From this, it can be seen that Xiao Maoqi is an extremely selfish person, who only does things according to his own preferences, and does not consider whether it will be useful to the country at all. In addition, his character is stubborn and conceited, self-righteous, always thinking that he is the most outstanding military strategist in the world, and everyone else is nothing more than that, and he only wants to make a more brilliant career than his uncle Mao Qi.

Old Moltke, as the former chief of staff of the German Army, led the Prussian army, defeated many powerful countries, helped William I unify Germany, and established an immortal feat. Such feats have always inspired little Mao Qi.

But it is a pity that little Mao Qikong has such an ambition, but he has no such ability at all. With his eyes above the top, he revised the combat plan left by his predecessor, General Schlieffen, before the start of the First World War. As a result, the German army failed to make a breakthrough on the Western Front at the beginning of the war, and fell into a stalemate. Lost the war. Although, in another time and space, the responsibility for Germany's loss of the war cannot be completely attributed to Little Maoqi. But it is undeniable that he does bear an inescapable responsibility for this.

General Schlieffen saw the disadvantages of Germany, so when formulating the battle plan, he wanted to defeat France first at the beginning of the war. Only in this way can Germany avoid consuming all its strength in the two-front battle and thus losing the war. However, after Xiao Moqi took over, he self-righteously revised the Schlieffen plan, which made General Schlieffen's combat plan impossible to realize.

Qin Tian didn't like Little Maoqi either. If it wasn't for his close relationship with William II and the lingering shadow of his predecessors, it would be impossible for him to become the chief of the general staff. Of course, even if he didn't like it, Qin Tian could only accept it. Even if he is a prince, he has no right to decide whether a military giant like the chief of staff will stay or stay. Not to mention him, even Crown Prince William does not have the qualifications. Even William II, if he wanted to replace the chief of staff, he might have to seek the opinions of many parties. Otherwise, once a rebound is triggered, the consequences will be disastrous.

"Everyone, the next one will be a three-wheeled motorcycle!" Qin Tian also took advantage of this step to get down, and stopped arguing with Xiao Maoqi. After all, the current him, even if he knows that Little Mao Qi is deliberately targeting him, there is nothing he can do.

Little Maoqi glanced at Qin Tian, then looked at the playground, without saying anything. Although he doesn't like Qin Tian, he has to admit that Qin Tian's ability is very good, much better than Crown Prince William's.

Soon, a row of three-wheeled motorcycles appeared. After these generals saw those motorcycles, they couldn't help but widen their eyes. Because, on the sidecar of the three-wheeled motorcycle, an MG08 heavy machine gun was erected impressively.

Under the gaze of everyone, these three-wheeled motorcycles started shooting while driving.

"Da da da!" These MG08 heavy machine guns began to shoot wildly. The dense bullets roared and flew forward.

"My God! These three-wheeled motorcycles can still be used in combination with heavy machine guns? They can also fire while moving." Von Falkenhain exclaimed.

Even Xiao Moqi could not help but shrink his eyes slightly.

"Everyone, we use the combination of heavy machine guns and three-wheeled motorcycles, which undoubtedly forms a fast-moving firepower point. On the battlefield, this will undoubtedly play a great role. Of course, if the traffic on the battlefield The conditions are very bad, and if there is no dirt road, its performance will be greatly restricted. However, if it is to chase the enemy along the road, it will undoubtedly produce excellent results." Qin Tian introduced to everyone.

"Once we dispatch a team composed of such motorcycles while chasing the enemy, I think it will be a disaster for our enemy!" General Waldsee also praised.

"Yes, General. It is definitely a feat to move a heavy machine gun to a three-wheeled motorcycle. Not only can it play a role on the frontal battlefield, but it can also have a great effect in the controlled area. You know, After the main force of our army advances, there will always be some guys hiding underground like mice, against us. They attack our transportation and supply lines, and even attack hospitals. These three-wheeled motorcycles can quickly move our The troops arrived where they are needed and attacked those enemies." Another German general also said.

The generals of the German Army are very optimistic about this three-wheeled motorcycle. They all believe that this is very helpful to improve the combat effectiveness of the German Army.

"Everyone, is this motorcycle satisfactory to everyone? However, I have to be honest with everyone. The MG08 heavy machine gun is too heavy. With cooling water, it is 68 kilograms in total. Such a weight is for a three-wheeled motorcycle. As far as the sidecar is concerned, it will generate great pressure. At the same time, it will also affect the performance of the motorcycle. It would be better if the weight of the heavy machine gun can be reduced a little more." Qin Tian said to everyone.

Qin Tian's behavior of telling everyone the truth without conspiracy, won the praise of the generals. After all, if Qin Tian concealed this, it would be difficult for them to know. However, Qin Tian chose to tell the truth. This point is really not easy.

"Your Royal Highness, you are a very beautiful city, and we are moved by it. I think the army needs this motorcycle." Von Falkenhain said.

It's just that von Falkenhain nodded, it's not up to him, it needs little Maoqi to also nod.

So, everyone's eyes were on Little Mao Qi.

However, almost everyone believed that, as the chief of the general staff, Xiao Moqi should not refuse to purchase this motorcycle. After all, this motorcycle has excellent performance and is also very applicable. Xiao Maoqi has no reason and should not refuse to purchase it. Otherwise, he would be too incompetent as chief of staff.

Chapter 64: army favor

Xiao Maoqi knew that he had to find a suitable reason to reject Qin Tian. Otherwise, he would not be able to explain to everyone, and it would also arouse other people's doubts. Once it reached the ears of William II, the consequences were even more serious.

William II would never want his chief of staff to be a person who abolished public affairs for personal reasons. I don't even want him to do things that harm the interests of the German Empire in order to please Crown Prince William. However, Xiao Maoqi knew that Qin Tian's influence could not be further expanded. The navy has completely turned to Qin Tian. If the army also fell to Qin Tian, the position of Crown Prince William might really be in jeopardy.

"Your Highness, this is indeed a very good product. However, the army simply has no money to purchase it. The current situation is getting more and more tense, and Germany's position makes us have to beware of threats from both sides. Therefore, the army must strengthen its military equipment. And the military expenditure is only a little. Almost every year, the military expenditure is not enough. Therefore, we have no money to purchase these motorcycles at all." Xiao Maoqi said regretfully .

Although, this reason is a bit lame. However, it has to be admitted that this is a reasonable reason. Lack of money has become a problem for the entire German military. The annual military expenditure is only a little, and if you want to improve the combat effectiveness of the troops, you can only find ways from other places. The life of the navy is a little easier now. The loans from the royal family and Qin Tian have enabled them to have enough financial resources to build the warships they need. However, the Army is different.

Little Maoqi glanced at Qin Tian's expression and laughed in his heart. He wished that Qin Tian would be deflated, this would be very helpful in combating Qin Tian's influence. Although, Xiao Maoqi also has to admit that with Qin Tian's ability, if he has the opportunity to inherit the German throne, he may do better than Crown Prince William. This is a great thing for the people of Germany and even the whole of Germany . Just, for him personally, I am afraid it is not so wonderful. After all, from the very beginning, he was clearly on the side of Crown Prince William. Even if you want to change the court now, it's too late. Therefore, he can only go one way to the dark.

"His Royal Highness, if possible, I hope that His Highness can donate a batch of motorcycles to the army. After all, His Highness donated a battleship to the Navy, and that is a big guy worth 50 million marks! Your Highness can't favor one over another. "Little Maoqi continued to run.

Qin Tian donated a battleship to the navy, although for ordinary people, this is a secret. However, for these military leaders, this is not a secret. The reason why Xiao Maoqi said this was undoubtedly to arouse the dissatisfaction in the hearts of the army generals. After all, we have the German army at the same time. Why do the emperor and princes support the navy with all their strength, but ignore their army? This is too unfair.

"Damn it, what did this old guy do? Why does he always get along with me? I didn't offend him?" Qin Tian also felt the hostility of little Maoqi, so he was a little confused, so he didn't know why little Maoqi would Always do that to him. Everything Qin Tian did was to enhance Germany's military strength and ensure that Germany would have a better chance of winning in future wars.

Qin Tian knew that these senior descendants of the army must not be dissatisfied with him. In that case, it will be a major threat to him in the future. Regardless of whether he has a chance to replace Crown Prince William, these generals had better not be offended.

"Your Excellency, Chief of the General Staff, of course I will not favor one over another. I am also full of respect for the Army of the German Empire. The German Empire's unification and its current international status are inseparable from the strength of the Army. Since the Army is now If the funds are difficult, then I am personally willing to donate 10,000 two-wheeled military motorcycles and 10,000 three-wheeled military motorcycles to the army. According to the value, the 20,000 motorcycles already exceed 50 million marks. However , this donation must be kept secret. Otherwise, if it is leaked, it will have a great adverse effect on my overseas business." Qin Tian said with a smile.

Donating motorcycles worth 50 million marks to the army is nothing to the wealthy Qin Tian. Qin Tian himself is willing to donate these things to the army. However, what made him dissatisfied was Xiao Moqi's attitude. Qin Tian will cooperate with the army a lot in the future, and he doesn't want to be stopped by Xiao Maoqi in the future.

In terms of the size of the German Army and the large-scale military expansion after the outbreak of the war, 20,000 motorcycles are simply not enough, and more will be purchased. In addition, Qin Tian also wants to produce military trucks, armored vehicles and tanks in the future. He can't let him donate all these for free! In that case, wouldn't he be dead?

Little Maoqi was also stunned by Qin Tian's words. It was worth 50 million marks, and he donated it without blinking an eye. This made Little Maoqi twitch his mouth: "This guy is too rich, right?" , 50 million marks were donated without hesitation. Sure enough, as others have said, in the business field, he is definitely a genius."

"Papa papa!"

The generals of the army clapped their hands and applauded at this moment. They were very satisfied with Qin Tian's generosity. Even those who were dissatisfied with Qin Tian's strong support for the navy are now convinced.

"Thank you, Your Royal Highness, for your support of the army!" von Falkenhain thanked.

"As the prince of the German Empire, this is what I should do. What I want to tell you is that both the army and the navy are important military forces of the empire. In my eyes, there is no priority. I support The navy is because the navy faces a powerful enemy. And the army, we are already number one in the world!" Qin Tian continued.

Qin Tian's words made the generals of the army very satisfied. The German Army has long had their series of victories showing how powerful their combat effectiveness is. No. 1 in the world is definitely well-deserved. However, Qin Tian said this in front of them, which still made them feel very honorable. Everyone looked at Qin Tian with kindness in their eyes. Many people couldn't help but compare Qin Tian with Crown Prince William. In the final result, it was obvious that Qin Tian was much better in all aspects, and the two sides were not even comparable at all.

Chapter 65: I see

"Thank you, Your Highness, for your generosity! If the army's military expenditure is a little more relaxed in the future, we may purchase more motorcycles." Little Moqi tried hard to force a smile on his face. But no matter how he looked, he was smiling on the surface.

Qin Tian nodded, and didn't say anything more. He knew that little Maoqi was just talking on the scene. It would be very difficult for the army to buy things from his companies, especially when Mao Qi continued to be the chief of staff.

An activity to sell motorcycles to the army turned into an activity to donate a large number of motorcycles to the army, which made Qin Tian very speechless. However, he was able to spend 50 million marks to make most of the army's main generals change their views on him. Qin Tian thought that the money spent was not a loss. In many cases, even if you spend money, you may not achieve such an effect.

After Qin Tian and the army reached an agreement, the activity ended. Little Maoqi took the lead to say goodbye and leave. However, the moment he turned around, the fake smile on his face disappeared completely, replaced by a gloomy face.

"It seems that His Royal Highness Prince Oscar is really an ambitious person. He is such a good military at no cost, obviously he wants to get the support of the military, so as to shake the throne of Crown Prince William! Crown Prince William seems to be as stable as Mount Tai Can the throne remain stable under the impact of Prince Oscar?" Xiao Maoqi thought secretly.

However, Little Maoqi soon felt that the throne of Crown Prince William, which seemed stable, was actually already crumbling. William II has become increasingly dissatisfied with Crown Prince William, thinking that Crown Prince William is like mud that cannot support the wall. In all fairness, Crown Prince William is still outstanding. However, compared with Qin Tian, the evildoer, the gap is not even a little bit.

"His Royal Highness, thank you for your support to the Army." Von Falkenhain held Qin Tian's hand, his face full of gratitude. As the Minister of War, you can imagine the pressure on him when the military expenditure is not enough. If there were a few more people like Qin Tian who were willing to donate generously for the military power of the empire, his life would undoubtedly be much easier.

"Your Excellency, you are too serious, this is what I should do!" Qin Tian was still very humble.

Von Falkenhain patted Qin Tian on the shoulder, then left, feeling in his heart: "It would be great if His Royal Highness Prince Oscar is His Majesty's eldest son!"

Obviously, von Falkenhain felt sorry for Qin Tian. In his opinion, Qin Tian is obviously more suitable to inherit the empire than Crown Prince William. Because, once Qin Tian inherits the empire, the empire will develop even stronger. However, it would be hard to say if Crown Prince William inherited the empire. Unfortunately, it is almost impossible for Qin Tian to replace Crown Prince William.

The other generals of the army also left one after another. They all had smiles on their faces, shook hands with Qin Tian, and said words of thanks. From their eyes, Qin Tian felt their sincerity. In addition, he also felt something else. For example, sorry. Of course he knew what these generals were lamenting. However, there was nothing he could do about it.

Marshal Earl Tirpitz was the last person to leave, and when he left, he invited Qin Tian to ride in a car with him. Qin Tian knew that Marshal Earl Tirpitz had something to say to him.

Qin Tian strongly supports the development of the navy, and this also brings great rewards. At least Marshal Earl Tirpitz, the head of the navy, is very optimistic about him. Of course, many people were dissatisfied with this approach of Marshal Earl Tirpitz. It's just that Marshal Earl Tirpitz didn't take it to heart at all. Outsiders didn't know how much Qin Tian supported the navy, and Marshal Earl Tirpitz didn't want to pay attention to their words.

"Your Highness, you did a very good job today. I am very grateful for your strong support for the navy. However, many people have opinions on this. The guys in the army are also very unbalanced. However, after After what happened today, they should feel much better." Marshal Earl Tirpitz said with a smile.

Although Qin Tian donated 50 million mark motorcycles to the army, Marshal Earl Tirpitz didn't feel any imbalance in his heart. After all, Qin Tian's support for the navy is undoubtedly much greater. Not to mention a "Helgoland-class" battleship, even a low-interest loan of 100 million marks per year is also a huge help. Otherwise, the German Navy would have no way to launch advanced warships like dumplings. Not to mention, because of Qin Tian's influence, William II also agreed to provide the navy with a loan of 100 million marks every year from the wealth of the royal family.

"Your Excellency Marshal, the navy is very important in future wars, but so is the army. After the navy defeats the enemy, it still needs to rely on the army to occupy the enemy's territory. After all, our warships can't go ashore, right? So , I also value the army very much. However, our army is already very strong, and the enemies we face are not as strong as those faced by the navy." Qin Tian shook his head. He didn't want the German army to be crippled like the British. The British navy is the most powerful in the world, but the British pocket army is not flattering. Qin Tian hopes that the German army, like the navy, has the strongest power in the world.

Marshal Earl Tirpitz nodded in satisfaction, agreeing with Qin Tian's point of view. The enemies of the German Navy are too strong, and their debts are too great. In order to catch up, it is necessary to increase investment. Relatively speaking, the pressure is a little less. However, this does not mean that the Army is not important.

"Your Highness, do you feel the hostility towards you from that little Moltke?" asked Marshal Count Tirpitz.

Qin Tian nodded: "That's right, the Chief of Staff seems to be deliberately targeting me today. I don't seem to have offended him, right?"

"Your Highness, sometimes it's a sin to be too dazzling alone! Your Highness is like this now. The outstanding talent shown by His Highness has already made someone feel threatened. And Xiao Maoqi naturally doesn't want the worst. The situation happened. That's why he jumped out and wanted to contain His Highness. However, it seems that he has not been able to succeed." Marshal Earl Tirpitz raised the corner of his mouth slightly.

"Your Excellency Marshal, you mean that this was ordered by His Royal Highness Crown Prince William?" Qin Tian frowned.

Chapter 66: Desperate (for collection)

Tirpitz shook his head: "This time, it is not necessarily that Crown Prince William instructed Moltke to do this, and he does not have the ability. But Moltke and Crown Prince William are well known. And you now, It has already posed a huge threat to Crown Prince William's status. Whether you admit it or not, the fact is true. At least, Crown Prince William thinks so. So, in the future, Crown Prince William will definitely continue to trouble you."

Qin Tian nodded, he was not surprised that Crown Prince William targeted him. He had already expected this. However, Xiao Maoqi's attitude was so obvious, which was a bit beyond his expectation.

"Your Highness, I have some news for you. Your Majesty has complained more than once that His Royal Highness is too paranoid, narrow-minded, and limited in ability. I'm afraid he won't be able to rule the empire well," Tirpitz said.

"The problem is so serious?" Qin Tian couldn't help being taken aback. Although, he already knew that William II was becoming more and more dissatisfied with what Crown Prince William did. But I didn't expect that William II would complain like this. This undoubtedly shows that William II's patience with Crown Prince William has almost reached its limit. Otherwise, with William II's love for the eldest son, Crown Prince William, such a thing would never have happened.

"Your Highness, the reason for this is due to you!" Tirpitz sighed.

"Your Excellency, Marshal, what does this mean?" Qin Tian deliberately pretended to be stupid. Even though he is full of longing for the throne, he will never admit it until the dust settles. Otherwise, not only would there be no hope for the throne, but maybe he would suffer disaster.

"Because His Highness the Prince's performance is too outstanding and dazzling. And this is in stark contrast to Crown Prince William. Crown Prince William only knows to use his own status and identity to dictate and meddle in state affairs. But in fact, what Nothing can be done. It is really hard to imagine what kind of development direction such a person will lead the empire once he becomes the emperor of the empire." Marshal Earl Tirpitz shook his head.

Qin Tian was deeply convinced of Tirpitz's views on Crown Prince William. Of course, it can't really be recognized on the surface.

"Your Excellency Marshal, His Highness the Crown Prince is indeed too eager for success, which makes him unable to succeed in many issues." Qin Tian said.

Marshal Earl Tirpitz nodded: "Your Highness, if Your Majesty is willing to make you the crown prince, what will you do?"

"Your Majesty, the laws of the empire will not allow such a thing to happen." Qin Tian shook his head. This may be the biggest difference between the East and the West. The crown prince of the Eastern Empire is completely determined by the emperor. Western countries, however, must follow the law. The law of succession to the throne is not a show.

"Indeed, such a situation is very unlikely to happen. However, in the end, it depends on the will of His Majesty the Emperor. If His Majesty is determined to replace the crown prince, then everything is possible. If there is, then For one day, the navy will fully support His Royal Highness, because I firmly believe that only His Royal Highness can lead the Navy and lead the German Empire to a glorious victory." Marshal Count Tirpitz said solemnly.

The expression on Qin Tian's face also became serious. He knew that Marshal Earl Tirpitz was expressing his attitude. Unless there is no problem with Crown Prince William, once William II wants to change the crown prince, he can get the support of the navy.

"Your Excellency Marshal, it is impossible to say that you don't want to be the crown prince. However, I know that it is very difficult. Therefore, the most important thing right now is to do our own thing well. Leave other things to God! If I really have that chance, of course I will do my part." Qin Tian said.

Marshal Earl Tirpitz nodded and said no more.

When Qin Tian and Marshal Earl Tirpitz returned to Berlin, the chief of the general staff, Maoqi, went straight to Potsdam. In a farm on the outskirts of Potsdam, Little Moltke met Crown Prince William here. This farm is the estate of the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg Schwerin. After the marriage of Crown Prince William and Cecilia, the farm has been assigned to Cecilia's name.

"Your Excellency, Chief of Staff, you are here. Please sit down and try this glass of wine produced by the manor itself. Although it is not as good as the red wine produced by the old winery in Bordeaux, France, it is also unique." Crown Prince William said face smile.

Seeing Crown Prince William's appearance like this, Xiao Maoqi couldn't help shaking his head in his heart, and at the same time had some doubts, whether he chose to support Crown Prince William, whether it was right or wrong. This crown prince is devoted to pleasure. Although he has great ambitions, he has great ambitions and few talents. Apart from having the slight advantage of having the eldest son of the royal family, there is no way to compare with Prince Oscar in other places. In this comparison, Prince Oscar is undoubtedly the most suitable candidate for crown prince.

It's just that Little Mao Qi knows that he has no way to get off the ship. After offending Qin Tian, even if he wanted to change his position, he might not be able to be reused. But for a person like Xiao Maoqi, once he lost his power, it would be more uncomfortable than killing him. Therefore, for his own status and the power in his hands, he has no other choice but to support Crown Prince William.

"His Royal Highness, are you still in the mood to drink? The current situation is very bad. His Royal Highness Prince Oscar decided to donate motorcycles worth 50 million marks to the Army, which greatly satisfied the generals of the Army. His attitude has also undergone a drastic change. Once Prince Oscar increases his investment in the army, I am afraid that those guys will soon fall to him. In addition, the navy has already completely fallen to Prince Oscar. Then, Your Highness There is no chance of winning at all." Xiao Moqi said with a serious face.

"What? How did this happen! Damn it, what the * is Oscar trying to do? He has won over the navy, and he is also trying his best to win over the army." Crown Prince William suddenly became furious. The smile on his face had completely disappeared, replaced by a ferocious face.

"His Royal Highness, the current situation is very critical. If you continue like this, just hand over the throne to Prince Oscar!" After Xiao Moqi finished speaking, he turned and left.

"Bastard!" Crown Prince William was furious, and the wine bottle in his hand fell to the ground and shattered. The scarlet wine stained the floor red.

"Oscar, you asked for death yourself, you forced me, don't blame me!" Crown Prince William drank the wine in his hand in one gulp, a ruthless look flashed in his eyes.

Chapter 67: assassinate

Crown Prince William's patience with Qin Tian has also reached its limit. He regards the throne as his own possession, his own taboo, and absolutely does not allow others to take the throne away. If someone dared to do that, he would use all means to retaliate, even kill him. Even if that person is his own brother.

"Oscar, even though you are my younger brother, you have developed ambitions that you shouldn't have. The throne belongs to me, and you cannot take it away. Since you want to take my throne away, then you obviously didn't take my throne away. As an older brother, I naturally don't need to be lenient." Crown Prince William came up with this lame reason to convince himself. In fact, it was just that he thought that Qin Tian wanted to get his hands on his throne, so he wanted to kill his own brother.

Crown Prince William quickly wrote a letter, and then asked his confidants to send it to Mecklenburg Schwerin and hand it over to his father-in-law Friedrich Franz III. I hope that Friedrich Franz III can send someone to kill Qin Tian. Once Qin Tian died, then naturally no one could compete with him. And his throne is naturally impregnable. As for the other younger brothers, Crown Prince William didn't care at all.

"Oscar must die this time. Only after he dies will my father not teach me a lesson. Only in this way can my throne be stabilized." Crown Prince William said secretly. After repeating this a few times, the hesitation on his face had completely disappeared, replaced by a look of determination. In order to keep his throne, he already regarded Qin Tian as someone who must be killed.

"By the way, Oscar still has so much property. It would be even better if those properties could be taken back after his death. With that money, I can give the navy more money to build warships, and give the army more money. I will be equipped with more advanced weapons. At that time, they will definitely support me wholeheartedly. In future wars, I will definitely defeat the British, French, and Russians, and become a more outstanding emperor than William the Great Yes!" Crown Prince William seemed to be immersed in his own imagination, thinking that he was God, and everything would obey his will.

Crown Prince William was full of jealousy for Qin Tian's possession of so much wealth. Of course he thought about how to arrange it if he could have so much wealth. As for how to earn more wealth, he didn't think about it.

Qin Tian had absolutely no knowledge of what Crown Prince William had done. Although he knew that Crown Prince William was very dissatisfied with him, he did not expect that Crown Prince William would take a desperate approach. After all, this is Germany and Wilhelm II is still alive. With William II's control over the country, there will never be a situation where the crown prince buys murder to assassinate the rest of the princes. If such a thing really happened, it would undoubtedly be a scandal for the entire royal family, and the Hohenzollern family would become the laughing stock of the entire Europe and be ridiculed for a hundred years.

Qin Tian thought that even if Crown Prince William was very upset with him, there was nothing he could do about it. After all, everything he did was aimed at strengthening Germany's military so that it could win future wars. More importantly, William II nodded and acquiesced to all of this. Even King William II acquiesced to Qin Tian's actions, so what else can Crown Prince William say?

When Friedrich Franz III received the letter from Crown Prince William, it was already the night of the second day. When Friedrich Franz III read the entire letter, he locked himself in the office.

As the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg Schwerin, Friedrich Franz III was undoubtedly an important member of the upper class in Germany. Marrying his daughter to Crown Prince William means that the status of their family will rise in the future. After all, when Crown Prince William succeeds to the throne and becomes the emperor of the German Empire, he will be able to further strive for more benefits for the family by relying on his father and daughter.

However, everything that was originally conceived now has problems. Qin Tian's sudden rise made Crown Prince William's position somewhat awkward. Although the status of the crown prince makes him still the heir to the throne among the princes. However, the brilliance of Crown Prince William has been completely covered by Qin Tian. Especially in Qin Tianzai who has a huge amount of wealth in his hands, but he didn't indulge in sensuality, but used it to invest in other industries, and even to support the development of the army. This made Qin Tian gain the favor of the military. At the same time, this also poses a direct threat to the status of Crown Prince William.

"Alas! I thought that Cecilia's marriage to Crown Prince William would bring us huge benefits. But now it seems that the risk is too great!" Friedrich Franz III sighed.

Crown Prince William's request really made Friedrich Franz III feel embarrassed. But if they refuse, it will not only make Crown Prince William resentful towards them, but also make their previous investment in Crown Prince William be in vain. Such consequences are also unbearable.

Friedrich Franz III hesitated for a long time before making a decision. He decided to send someone to assassinate Qin Tian. He naively thought that as long as he did it a little more secretly, he would be safe. Even if they are finally revealed, it will be difficult to track them down.

Time passed little by little, and autumn entered in a blink of an eye. In autumn in Germany, the climate is cool. Qin Tian's work was finally free. After the layout of several industries has been completed, he just needs to wait for these companies to grow into towering trees in their respective industries. All this takes time. Once these enterprises really grow up, Qin Tian will own the top industrial group in Germany and even the world.

On October 24th, Qin Tian and Karl left the building of the Deutsche Welfare Lottery Company. Ready to drive back to Potsdam. While waiting for the driver to drive over, a young man walked over with a map.

"Hello, sir. I am a first-time visitor to Berlin. May I ask how to get from here to the Brandenburg Gate?" the young man asked as he walked.

Qin Tian was about to answer, but suddenly his heart tightened, and the hairs all over his body stood on end, as if a catastrophe was imminent. This feeling made Qin Tian immediately take a step back.

And Karl beside Qin Tian also noticed Qin Tian's abnormality.

Then they noticed that the young man who came up to them and asked for directions was actually holding a pistol in his hand under the map.

Chapter 68: survived

"His Royal Highness, get out of the way!" Carl von Jonalet shouted loudly.

Qin Tian also dodged to the side subconsciously, but it was still too late.

"Go to hell, Your Highness!" The killer spat out a few words and pulled the trigger of the pistol.

"Boom!"

When the gunshot rang out, Qin Tian only felt that someone had punched him hard in the stomach, and a sharp pain hit him, causing him to fall backwards involuntarily. At the same time, consciousness began to leave his body.

"Am I going to die? I'm not reconciled!" Qin Tian shouted loudly in his heart. However, no sound came out of his mouth at all.

Indeed, if Qin Tian died now, he would be very unwilling. It was hard to get a chance to be reborn. It would be too unworthy if he died before he could change history with his own strength! After dying this time, is there any chance of rebirth? Qin Tian was not sure at all. To be able to be reborn once, this is already a great thing that is unique in a million!

"Your Highness, Your Highness, how are you doing?" Karl von Jonaret didn't care about chasing the escaped killer, and ran to Qin Tian's side with a panicked expression.

"Come quickly! Your Highness has been shot. Send your Highness to the hospital!" Carl von Jonalet shouted loudly.

The people in the Deutsche Welfare Lottery Company also ran out. After discovering this situation, they immediately sent a car to take Qin Tian to the hospital. After the hospital knew Qin Tian's identity, they didn't dare to neglect, and immediately organized doctors to rescue him.

"No matter what method you use, you must find a way to save His Highness!" Carl von Jonneret yelled frantically, his handsome face had become a little ferocious.

"Yes, Mr. Jonalet, we will definitely do our best. However, please don't hinder our work any longer. Otherwise, if we delay the rescue of His Highness, then it is none of our business." The dean said with a cold face Said.

"I'm sorry, Dean." Carl von Jonareit immediately woke up.

Afterwards, Carl von Jonareit immediately sent someone to ask his father to notify William II, and also sent someone to strengthen the hospital's defenses to prevent criminals from taking advantage of it again.

When the news that Qin Tian was assassinated and was being rescued reached William II, he was holding an imperial meeting. When Essen von Jonareit broke into the office and walked towards him with a serious face, Kaiser Wilhelm II immediately realized that something big had happened.

"Essen, what's the matter? What happened?" William II asked.

"Your Majesty, His Royal Highness Prince Oscar was assassinated. The murderer shot him, and he is currently being rescued in the hospital!" Essen von Jonalet said.

"What? What kind of good thing is this, who did it?" William II was furious. How dare you openly assassinate the prince of the German Empire in Berlin?

Marshal Earl Tirpitz, Minister of War von Falkenhain, Prime Minister Bernhard von Bülow and others were shocked. Such a bad incident has not happened in Germany for a long time. Especially since this is Berlin, the capital of Germany, it should be the place with the best security in Germany.

Crown Prince William was also present. After hearing the news, although he looked very angry on the surface, there was a flash of excitement in his eyes.

"Great, Friedrich Fletcher III finally made a move. It would be great if Oscar could be eliminated in one fell swoop." Crown Prince William thought secretly.

Once Qin Tian died, there would be no threat to him anymore. Even if William II found out about him, he probably wouldn't really do anything to him. After all, it would undoubtedly be very inappropriate to deal with a crown prince for the sake of a dead ordinary prince.

As for Qin Tian's wealth, I am afraid that it will all belong to the royal family in the end. As the crown prince of the empire, Crown Prince William can naturally enjoy a share of it. When he succeeds to the throne and becomes the emperor of the empire, he can dispose of the wealth at will.

It can be said that it is precisely because of this that Crown Prince William has nothing to fear.

Little Mao Qi also attended this imperial meeting, and when he heard the news of Qin Tian's assassination, his heart immediately tightened. He knew that this must have been done by Crown Prince William. Crown Prince William dared to send someone to assassinate the Youth League, which he did not expect. However, this did not make Xiao Moqi agree. The last time he reminded Crown Prince William, he hoped that Crown Prince William would cheer up and spend his time dealing with state affairs, so that William II would change his view of him. But I didn't expect that Crown Prince William would take such a short-term approach directly.

Although, in the history of various royal families in Europe, it is not uncommon to kill one's own brother in order to compete for the throne. But from an emotional point of view, it is undoubtedly difficult to accept. No one wants the object of their allegiance to be an alien.

"Mr. Jonalet, how is your Highness? Is your life in danger?" Marshal Earl Tirpitz asked anxiously.

Marshal Earl Tirpitz already regarded Qin Tian as a nobleman of the navy. Without Qin Tian, it would be impossible for the German navy to maintain its rapid development. Qin Tian also promised to provide a loan of 100 million marks to the Navy every year. Once something happened to Qin Tian, the loan would naturally come to nothing.

"It's not clear yet, the hospital is undergoing rescue." Essen von Jonalet said.

"Let the hospital ensure the safety of Oscar. In addition, inform the Berlin Police Department and let them find a way to arrest the killer immediately. When did the law and order in Berlin become like this. If the current director can't do it well, I don't care. Do you mind changing someone else!" William II looked angry. His own son was assassinated, and his life and death are still uncertain. Any father will probably be angry because of this!

"Yes, Your Majesty." Essen von Jonalet nodded.

The imperial meeting ended prematurely. Afterwards, William II ordered the secret forces under the control of the royal family to also start investigating this matter. It was imperative to catch the killer and find out who was behind the scenes. William II made up his mind that no matter who did it, he would definitely make him pay the price.

In the hospital, Qin Tian's operation has been completed, and the bullet has been taken out. The rest depends on whether Qin Tian can survive. After all, the current medical conditions are limited, and infections and complications are inevitable. If you are unlucky, you will probably die.

However, Qin Tian is naturally not unlucky. After two days in a coma, he finally woke up. After the doctor examined Qin Tian again, he confirmed that Qin Tian had passed the danger of his life for the time being.

Chapter 69: The Emperor's Wrath (for collection)

"Oscar, my child, how are you feeling?" Queen Victoria looked concerned. As Qin Tian's mother, she didn't like Qin Tian at first. Like William II, she loves her eldest son Crown Prince William more. However, as Qin Tian's performance became more and more outstanding, and he did not forget to give her some gifts from time to time, her impression of Qin Tian also changed greatly.

"Mother, I feel much better, but the wound still hurts, and I have no strength." Qin Tian's face was a little pale, which was the sequelae caused by excessive blood loss. After being shot, he bled a lot.

"Oscar, you are a man, you are good. Scars are medals on a man. How can a real man not have a few scars?" William II said.

It was already the second day after Qin Tian woke up, and William II and Queen Victoria came to see him. Their identities determined that they could not stay in the hospital all the time like the parents of ordinary people.

Qin Tian smiled wryly and shook his head: "Father, I hope that this scar was left on the battlefield, instead of suffering a despicable and shameless assassination like now!"

Qin Tian was also very angry when he was assassinated and almost lost his life. At this point, anyone facing such a situation will probably be angry!

After waking up, Qin Tian was also secretly thinking about who sent the killer to assassinate him. After much deliberation, Crown Prince William was the most suspected. However, in the absence of evidence, he could not express his suspicions. Otherwise, if you doubt the crown prince, you will be gossiped.

However, what happened this time also reminded Qin Tian that he must be cautious in the future. He is now worth hundreds of millions, and he is no longer an ordinary person. More and more people are being offended. I don't know how many people wanted his life. If you don't pay attention, you deserve to be assassinated and lose your life.

"Oscar, did you offend someone? Otherwise, how could they treat you like this? If you let me know who did it, I will never let him go!" Queen Victoria looked angry.

A trace of anger also flashed in William II's eyes. Obviously, he already knew what was going on. However, he did not intend to tell Qin Tian the truth. Although, this may be somewhat unfair to Qin Tian. However, for the stability of the empire and the peace of the royal family, he had to do this. Besides, even though he is the emperor, he is still a person after all. As long as you are human, you will have your own preferences and prejudices.

For Crown Prince William, William II was indeed very disappointed. However, if he really made up his mind to replace Crown Prince William's succession to the throne, he still couldn't do it. After all, that is his carefully cultivated son, and he hopes that he can inherit the entire empire. If he gave up now, wouldn't that mean that his training methods over the years were all wrong? For William II, this was somewhat unacceptable.

"Oscar, you can rest at ease and recuperate. Let the people below do the work. Now, you just need to stay in the hospital obediently. When your condition stabilizes, we will take you back to the palace." William Second said.

"Okay, Father. However, I think the conditions here are good, so it's better to stay here." Qin Tian refused.

"So be it!" William II did not insist.

When William II and Queen Victoria left the ward, the smile on Qin Tian's face disappeared completely. From William II's reply just now, he guessed what was going on. Obviously, William II already knew who did it, but William II seemed to want to hide it. This undoubtedly shows that his guess is completely correct. And William II's choice undoubtedly made Qin Tian very disappointed.

"It seems that in such a situation, Crown Prince William is more important to him!" Qin Tian murmured.

After William II returned to the palace, he immediately summoned Essen von Jonneret.

"Essen, is there any definite evidence that all this was ordered by the Crown Prince?" William II asked.

"Yes, Your Majesty. The killer has already confessed. He was sent by Grand Duke Friedrich Franz III of Mecklenburg Schwerin to assassinate Prince Oscar." Essen von Jonalet said.

King William II's face suddenly became gloomy, as if dripping water. Although Essen von Jonareit did not say so. But of course he knew what it meant. Friedrich Franz III, that is the father-in-law of Crown Prince William. He would send someone to assassinate Qin Tian, of course because Qin Tian's rise endangered the status of Crown Prince William.

Although, William II had to admit that he did have the idea of replacing the crown prince because of Qin Tian's excellence. However, he has been indecisive. He never expected that Crown Prince William would attack Qin Tianxia because of this, which made him unacceptable.

"They are brothers! How did Prince become what he is now?" William II was a little sad.

"Your Majesty, perhaps this was not the order of His Royal Highness the Crown Prince, but maybe it was Lieutenant General Friedrich Franz III's decision? After all, Prince Oscar's performance is really outstanding. Friedrich Franz Lanz III was afraid that Prince Oscar would replace Crown Prince William, so he did such a thing." Essen von Jonareit said.

It's just that his explanation is so far-fetched. William II also knew that Essen von Jonareit was just trying to comfort him. The actual situation is already very obvious.

"Essen, send someone to collect the illegal evidence of Friedrich Franz III. This time, I will replace the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg Schwerin with someone else." William II looked murderous.

As an emperor, majesty is absolutely unchallenged. If you dare to assassinate his son, you have to be prepared for revenge.

"Yes, Your Majesty." Essen von Jonalet nodded.

"As for Crown Prince William, let him come to see me immediately." William II said.

"Okay, Your Majesty." Essen von Jonareit knew that William II probably planned to give Crown Prince William another chance this time. He couldn't help feeling a little pity in his heart. It would be great if William II could directly ask for the removal of Crown Prince William's right of succession and Qin Tian as Crown Prince. But it is a pity that William II still couldn't make this determination.

Chapter 70: Bloody Throne

"Father, what can you do for me?" Crown Prince William smiled.

After Qin Tian was assassinated, his mood improved a lot. Although, he was somewhat regretful that he was not able to kill Qin Tian in one fell swoop.

But he believes that there will be opportunities in the future. After all, it is impossible for Qin Tian's luck to be so good all the time.

As for the situation this time, he also believes that he will not be traced to him. After all, this was not directly ordered by him. Even if Friedrich Franz III was tracked down, he would not be confessed.

"Prince, do you know about Oscar?" William II asked coldly.

"Father, I was also very sad when I heard the news of Oscar's assassination. That murderer is really abominable. He dared to assassinate an important member of the royal family. It is a heinous crime. Father can definitely sentence him to death to avenge Oscar!" Crown Prince William looked bitter and bitter.

Seeing such a situation, King William II couldn't help shaking his head. He knew that Crown Prince William didn't intend to admit it.

"Prince, do you know who is really behind the scenes?" William II asked.

"The man behind the scenes? Who is it? Could it be Oscar's competitors? After all, Oscar owns many companies, and it is understandable that he would offend some competitors." Crown Prince William pretended to be stupid. Anyway, he made up his mind and would not admit that he ordered the assassination. He is not a fool. If a crown prince really did such a thing, according to the law, it is entirely possible to be removed from the succession to the throne. Everything that Crown Prince William did was to preserve his right to inherit the throne, which was undoubtedly the most important thing to him.

"Prince, according to what we have learned, the killer was sent by Friedrich Franz III. Do you have anything to say about this?" William II asked.

Crown Prince William's eyes suddenly flashed a flash of panic. He did not expect that in such a short period of time, he had already tracked down

Friedrich Franz III. Doesn't this show that William II already knew the truth about the entire assassination?

"What should I do? The emperor already knows, what should I do? Should I confess to him? Then what will he think of me? Will my right to inherit the throne be lost?" Crown Prince William became a little flustered.

However, he then made up his mind that he would never admit it. Otherwise, the consequences will be unpredictable. Anyway, as long as he firmly insisted that he didn't know about this matter, and then pushed everything to Friedrich Franz III, then there would be no problem.

"Father, could this be a misunderstanding? How could Grand Duke Franz III do such a thing? I think there must be some misunderstanding." Crown Prince William said.

King William II looked at Crown Prince William and couldn't help but become a little disappointed.

"Prince, you really let me down. At this moment, are you still unwilling to admit it? The killer who assassinated Oscar was clearly instructed by you to Friedrich Franz III." William II looked angry.

"Father, no, I don't know about this, it has nothing to do with me!" Crown Prince William immediately denied it.

Suddenly, the atmosphere froze a bit. William II believed that Crown Prince William was behind the scenes, but Crown Prince William denied it. Although, William II knew that his guess was correct. If Friedrich Franz III was to be arrested and interrogated, he would definitely get the result he wanted. However, the whole world will know that it will cause trouble. This will undoubtedly make the German Empire and the Hohenzollern family the laughing stock of the world. And this is undoubtedly what William II did not want to see.

After a while, William II said: "Prince, it doesn't matter if you don't admit it. I think we all know what's going on. In order to maintain the image of the royal family and ensure the peace of Germany, I'm not going to pursue it any further."

Hearing what William II said, Crown Prince William breathed a sigh of relief. He thought he had made the right bet.

"Starting tomorrow, you will move to the palace in Potsdam! Without my order, you must not leave there!" William II continued.

Crown Prince William suddenly felt a basin of cold water pouring down his head, freezing his heart.

"Father, are you going to put me under house arrest? No, you can't do this. You can't deprive me of my freedom. I am the Crown Prince of the German Empire!" Crown Prince William yelled.

"You should reflect on it there, and when I feel that you have truly reflected on it, I will let you return to Berlin. During this period, your position as crown prince will not be deprived, and no one will announce it to the outside world." William II said.

"No, father, you can't treat me like this. I'm your favorite son!" Crown Prince William pleaded.

However, William II was unmoved. This time, Crown Prince William really let him down.

"Essen, send His Highness the Crown Prince back!" William II ordered with a cold face.

"Yes, Your Majesty!" Essen von Jonalet nodded.

Immediately, two palace guards took Crown Prince William out of William II's office. During this period, Crown Prince William yelled like a rascal. But even this could not change William II's decision.

When Qin Tian got the news in the hospital, he immediately felt much happier. It seemed that his wound didn't hurt so much anymore.

"Congratulations, Your Highness. Although Your Majesty has not abolished Crown Prince William's succession to the throne, this undoubtedly shows that His Majesty's patience has reached its limit." Carl von Jonalet smiled.

Qin Tian shook his head: "This is not what I want. Because of this, I almost lost my life!"

If he were to exchange his own life for the right to inherit the throne, Qin Tian would not be willing. My life is gone, even if I have the right to inherit, so what?

However, what happened this time allowed Qin Tian to see clearly the bloodshed in the royal family. For the succession to the throne, brothers will also turn against each other because of this. Even, they will kill each other. Qin Tian, who was born in the East, has a deeper understanding of this. After all, among the royal families in the east, fighting for the throne was more * than this.

"The throne is full of blood. If you are not ruthless, you will not be an emperor at all. This is the same regardless of the East and the West. Next time, I will never be ruthless or soft, and I will never let others point a gun at me. Me!" Qin Tian secretly made up his mind.