

Jagged 675

Calais, Imperial Army Command against Britain. Qin Tian and the generals of the imperial army and navy all gathered here. The Imperial General Staff has already drawn up a battle plan for fighting against Britain. After Qin Tian arrived in Calais, the General Staff just took this opportunity to report this battle plan to Qin Tian.

The troops involved in the battle against Britain mainly include the Imperial Army's 1st Army, 2nd Army, 3rd Army and 8th Army. These group armies can be described as the most powerful group armies in the German Army. If the four armies add up, the total strength has exceeded one million people.

The reason why these group armies were sent to attack the United Kingdom has only one purpose, that is, in the battle against the United Kingdom, Germany must win. It is undoubtedly safer to dispatch these elite group armies.

"Your Majesty, the Imperial Army will dispatch four armies to fight against the United Kingdom. The main force of the Imperial Navy's High Seas Fleet and the Marine Corps will also be fully involved in this battle. It is estimated that the total number of troops invested will reach 150. Thousands of people!" said Marshal von Falkenhain.

Qin Tian nodded his head. This time the battle against Britain can be regarded as involving the most elite troops of the empire.

"In this battle against Britain, the most difficult part is nothing more than the landing operations. The General Staff plans to conduct landing operations in Ramsgate, Folkestone and East Bent respectively. The Imperial Army The 1st Army, 2nd Army, and 3rd Army will land at these landing points with the assistance of the Marine Corps. The 8th Army of the Imperial Army will, with the assistance of the Marine Corps, Enmouth landed and attacked London from the south, attacking the flank of the main British army.

After the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Armies have drawn the main body of the British Army to the southeast, the 8th Army attacking the flanks of the main body will give us the opportunity to wipe out the main body of the British Army in the southeast. As long as this battle plan can be completed, the follow-up battle will be relatively easier. "Marshal von Falkenhain continued.

Although the UK is small in size, it has many towns. If they competed with the British city by city and fought street battles, even if the German Army won the final victory, its own losses would not be too small. If the main force of the British Army can be wiped out in the southeast of England, it will be very difficult for the British to hold London or other big cities.

Qin Tian also believed that when the three main armies of the German Army landed in the southeast of England, it would put great pressure on the British Army. Their main force will definitely gather in this area. The task of the 8th Army is to copy the back route of the main force of the British Army. The probability of success of this battle plan is still very high.

"After completing this battle plan, several main armies of the Imperial Army will march towards London. As the capital of the United Kingdom, the British will definitely hold on to London desperately. If the four armies can further wipe out the vital forces of the British Army in London If so, then we will be able to wipe out at least half or more of the British Army. In the next battle, the Imperial Army will be able to defeat the British more easily. Of course, there is another result, that is, the Imperial Army won. After that, will the British continue to persist? Perhaps, they will surrender to the empire." Marshal von Falkenhain continued.

"After the empire took London, some people may surrender. However, I believe that there will also be a large number of people who will persist in fighting the empire. Churchill is undoubtedly that kind of person. He is a persevering man, will not stop their resistance just because the capital falls. Even if we occupy the entire territory of Britain, their resistance will not stop." Qin Tian said.

Marshal von Falkenhain and Marshal Earl Tirpitz couldn't help frowning. This seems to be a little different from what they expected before! Originally they thought that as long as London was taken, the British would surrender. In this case, the war will be over. Next, Germany only needs to be on the negotiating table and get what it wants.

"Your Majesty, do we really need to send troops to occupy the entire territory of Britain?" Marshal Earl Tirpitz asked. In that case, the combat mission will undoubtedly be even more difficult.

Qin Tian smiled and shook his head: "After taking London, there will definitely be some British people who recognize the status quo and surrender to us. At that time, we can naturally support this part to form a new government. Peaceful negotiations can also be made with the As for Churchill, it would be the best if he could be eliminated on the British battlefield. Even if he fled to other places, it would at most cause some minor troubles for the empire. The empire won this battle. Victory in the war is already a certainty."

"Yes, Your Majesty." All the generals replied.

"In the battle against Britain, one thing must be paid attention to. That is, the British Empire has been the world hegemony for hundreds of years, and they have collected a lot of wealth from all over the world. Now, those wealth are stored in various places of the British royal family. Inside the secret warehouse. I hope that we can get the wealth after we attack the British mainland. Otherwise, once Churchill and other people who are hostile to the empire take away the wealth, the empire will be in trouble." Qin Tian said.

"Yes, Your Majesty." Marshal von Falkenhain nodded. He has already made up his mind that after landing in the British mainland, he will conduct a carpet search.

"The imperial navy must strengthen the blockade against the UK. Once the British find that they cannot hold on to the mainland, they will definitely flee. Judging from the current situation, Canada is undoubtedly the first choice for the British to escape. Therefore, if the navy wants to prevent the British from fleeing to Canada as much as possible. The method is to prevent the British from fleeing to Canada as much as possible. When necessary, they can directly sink their ships. Even King George V, if he cannot be captured, kill him! Those gold and other treasures, Do the same. If the empire can't get it, I'd rather they sink to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean!" Qin Tian continued.

"Yes, Your Majesty." Admiral Reinhard Scheer, commander of the High Seas Fleet, replied.

"Okay, everyone, let's do it like this. Everyone continue to prepare for landing in the UK. I hope that the battle can be over before Christmas this year!" Qin Tian said with a smile.